[Docket No. TB-99-07]

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Interim final rule with request for comments.

SUMMARY: The Agricultural Marketing Service is amending the regulations governing the mandatory inspection of tobacco by adding the term "purchaser" to specifically include in the regulatory text this segment of the industry from attempting to influence, impeding, or discussing any matter relating to grading while the tobacco inspectors are grading tobacco on the auction warehouse floor, and removing the language allowing the producer to discuss the grading of their tobacco with the inspector at the time grading is being performed. This rule will incorporate recommendations made by the Flue-Cured Tobacco Advisory Committee, the Five-State Flue-Cured Tobacco Committee, and industry representatives that clarification of this regulation is necessary to eliminate interference, distraction, and outside influence on the grading of tobacco. These amendments will revise the regulation to better eliminate interference, distraction, and outside influence on the grading of tobacco.

DATES: Effective September 28, 1999; comments received by November 26, 1999 will be considered prior to issuance of a final rule.

ADDRESSES: Send comments to John P. Duncan III, Deputy Administrator, Tobacco Programs, Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS), United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), Room 502 Annex Building, P.O. Box

96456, Washington, DC 20090-6456; or Fax: (202) 205-0235. Comments will be made available for public inspection at this location during regular business hours.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: John P. Duncan III, Deputy Administrator, Tobacco Programs, AMS, USDA, Room 502 Annex Building, P.O. Box 96456, Washington, DC 20090-6456; telephone: (202) 205-0567, Fax: (202) 205-0235.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This rule is amending the regulations governing the mandatory inspection of tobacco pursuant to the provisions of the Tobacco Inspection Act (49 Stat. 741, 7 U.S.C. 511 et seq.).

The Department has received recommendations from all segments of the tobacco industry, the Flue-Cured Tobacco Advisory Committee, and the Five-State Flue-Cured Tobacco Committee that changes to the regulation in subpart B, section 29.81(a), Interference with inspectors, is necessary to better eliminate interference, distraction, and outside influence on the grading of tobacco.

The current regulation specifies that, no person, including the owner, producer, warehouseman, agent, or employee thereof shall attempt to influence, impede, or discuss any matter relating to grading while the tobacco inspectors are grading tobacco on the auction warehouse floor. The regulatory change will not allow any member of the industry, including tobacco purchasers, to discuss any matter pertaining to grading while the tobacco inspectors are grading tobacco on the auction warehouse floor. This action also will remove language allowing a producer to discuss the grading of their tobacco with the inspector at the time grading is performed. While producers will be allowed to be present when their tobacco is being graded, they cannot discuss the grade or attempt to influence or intimidate the inspector during the performance of grading duties. This will not preclude the producer from appealing the decision of the inspector after a grade has been assigned.

Accordingly, this rule will add the term "purchaser" to include this segment of the industry from attempting to influence, impeding, or discussing any matter relating to grading while the tobacco inspectors are grading tobacco on the auction warehouse floor, and the language allowing the producer to discuss the grading of their tobacco with the inspector at the time grading is being performed will be removed. This action will incorporate recommendations made by industry representatives, the Flue-Cured Tobacco Advisory Committee, and the Five-State Flue-Cured Tobacco Committee that no one be allowed to discuss any matter while tobacco grading activities are being performed on the auction warehouse floor.

This rule has been determined to be "not significant" for purposes of Executive Order 12866, and therefore, has not been reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget.

This rule has been reviewed under Executive Order 12866, Civil Justice Reform. This action is not intended to have retroactive effect. This rule will not preempt any State or local laws, regulations, or policies, unless they present an irreconcilable conflict with this rule. There are no administrative procedures which must be exhausted prior to any judicial challenge to the provisions of this rule.

Additionally, in conformance with the provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), full consideration has been given to the potential economic impact upon small business. All tobacco warehouses and producers fall within the confines of "small business" which are defined by the Small Business Administration (13 CFR 121.601) as those having annual receipts of less than $500,000 and small agricultural service firms are defined as those whose annual receipts are less than $3,500,000. There are approximately 190 tobacco warehouses and approximately 30,000 producers and most warehouses and producers may be classified as small entities. The Agricultural Marketing Service has determined that this action will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. This rule amends the regulations governing the mandatory inspection of tobacco by (1) Adding to the terms "purchaser" to specifically include in the regulatory text this segment of the industry from attempting to influence, impeding, or discussing any matter relating to grading while tobacco inspectors are grading tobacco on the auction floor and (2) removing language allowing a producer from discussing grading of their tobacco with the inspector at the time grading is being performed. Specifying the term "purchaser" in the text of the regulation merely identifies a segment of the industry already prohibited from these actions. Further, removal of language allowing producers to discuss with inspectors their tobacco, would have minimal impact on producers since producers would not be precluded from appealing the decision of an inspector after a grade had been assigned.

It is hereby found and determined upon good cause that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice prior to putting this rule into effect and that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date of this rule until 30 days after publication in the Federal Register because: (1) The 1999 flue-cured marketing season is currently underway and this action is needed, as soon as possible, to provide clarification when it is allowable for someone to communicate with the grading personnel while they are performing their duties; and (2) this interim final rule provides a 60-day comment period, and all comments timely received will be considered prior to finalization of this rule.

Lists of Subject in 7 CFR Part 29

Administrative practice and procedure, Advisory committees, Government publications, Imports, Pesticides and pests, Reporting and recordkeeping requirements, Tobacco.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, 7 CFR Part 29 is amended as follows:

PART 29—TOBACCO INSPECTION

Subpart B—Regulations

1. The authority citation for Part 29, subpart B continues to read as follows:

Authority: 7 U.S.C. 511m and 511r.

2. In § 29.81, paragraph (a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 29.81 Interference with inspectors.

(a) No person, including the owner, producer, warehouseman, agent, or employee thereof shall attempt, in any manner, to influence an inspector with respect to the grade designation of tobacco, or impede, in any manner, an inspector while the inspector is in the process of grading tobacco on the warehouse auction floor, or ask any question or discuss any matter pertaining to the grading of tobacco while the inspector is grading any tobacco on the warehouse auction floor. While inspectors are engaged in grading the day's sale, all requests for information concerning the grade designation on or requests to review the grade of any lot of tobacco shall be made only to the head grader or to the market supervisor grader.

[Docket No. FV99-905-4 IFR]

Oranges, Grapefruit, Tangerines, and Tangelos Grown in Florida; Modification of Procedures for Limiting the Volume of Small Red Seedless Grapefruit

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Interim final rule and request for written comments.

SUMMARY: This interim final rule modifies procedures used in limiting the volume of small red seedless grapefruit currently prescribed under the marketing order for oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, and tangelos grown in Florida. The marketing order is administered locally by the Citrus Administrative Committee (committee). The changes will help the committee better monitor handler compliance with any percentage size regulations in effect. The rule changes handler reporting requirements on shipments of size 48 and/or 56 red seedless grapefruit to standardize and assure continuity of reporting. Provisions on new handlers also are added to assure equitable application of the percentage size regulation to new and established handlers. These modifications are expected to help the committee better administer the percentage size regulations, when such regulations are effective.

DATES: Effective September 28, 1999; comments received by October 27, 1999 will be considered prior to issuance of a final rule.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This interim final rule is issued under Marketing Agreement No. 84 and Marketing Order No. 905, both as amended (7 CFR part 905), regulating the handling of oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, and tangelos grown in Florida, hereinafter referred to as the "order." The marketing agreement and order are effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674), hereinafter referred to as the "Act."

The Department of Agriculture (Department) is issuing this rule in conformance with Executive Order 12866.

This rule has been reviewed under Executive Order 12988, Civil Justice Reform. This rule is not intended to have retroactive effect, and will not preempt any State or local laws, regulations, or policies, unless they present an irreconcilable conflict with this rule.

The Act provides that administrative proceedings must be exhausted before parties may file suit in court. Under section 608c(15)(A) of the Act, any handler subject to an order may file with the Secretary a petition stating that the order, any provision of the order, or any obligation imposed in connection with the order is not in accordance with law and request a modification of the order or to be exempted therefrom. A handler is afforded the opportunity for a hearing on the petition. After the hearing the Secretary would rule on the petition. The Act provides that the district court of the United States in any district in which the handler is an inhabitant, or has his or her principal place of business, has jurisdiction to review the Secretary's ruling on the petition, provided an action is filed not later than 20 days after the date of the entry of the ruling.

Section 905.52 of the order provides authority to limit shipments of any grade or size, or both, of any variety of Florida citrus. Such limitations may restrict the shipment of a portion of a specified grade or size of a variety.

Section 905.153 of the regulations provides procedures for limiting the volume of small red seedless grapefruit entering the fresh market. Under the procedures, the committee may recommend that only a certain percentage of size 48 ($3\frac{9}{16}$ minimum diameter in inches) and/or size 56 ($3\frac{5}{16}$ minimum diameter in inches) red seedless grapefruit be made available for shipment into fresh market channels for any week or weeks during the regulation period. The regulation period is 11 weeks long and begins the third Monday in September. Under such a limitation, the quantity of sizes 48 and/or 56 red seedless grapefruit that may be shipped by a handler during a regulated week is calculated using the recommended percentage. By taking the recommended weekly percentage times the average weekly volume of red seedless grapefruit handled by such handler in the previous five seasons, handlers can calculate the volume of sizes 48 and/or 56 they may ship in a regulated week. Provisions also are included in paragraph (a) for handlers with less than five previous seasons of shipments and new handlers with no record of shipments. The committee performs the specified calculations when regulation is established by the Secretary for a given week, and provides the calculations to each handler.

Section 905.153 contains a variety of provisions designed to provide handlers with some marketing flexibility. Paragraphs (d) and (e) of that section provide allowances for overshipments, loans, and transfers of allotment. These allowances allow handlers the opportunity to supply their markets while limiting the impact of small sizes on a weekly basis.

Pursuant to paragraph (d) of § 905.153, during any week for which the Secretary fixes the percentage of sizes 48 and/or 56 red seedless grapefruit, any handler can handle an amount of sizes 48 and/or 56 red seedless grapefruit not to exceed 110 percent of their allotment for that week. The quantity of overshipments (the amount shipped in excess of a handler's weekly allotment) is deducted from the handler's allotment for the following week.

If handlers fail to use their entire allotments in a given week, the amounts undershipped cannot be carried forward to the following week. However, pursuant to paragraph (e) of § 905.153, a handler to whom an allotment has been issued can lend or transfer all or part of such allotment (excluding the overshipment allowance) to another handler. In the event of a loan, each party, prior to the completion of the loan agreement, notifies the committee of the proposed loan and date of repayment. If a transfer of allotment is desired, each party promptly notifies the committee so that proper adjustments of the records can be made. In each case, the committee confirms in writing all such transactions prior to the following week. Under these provisions, the committee can act on behalf of handlers wanting to arrange allotment loans or participate in the transfer of allotment.

The committee computes each handler's allotment by multiplying the handler's average week by the percentage established by regulation for that week. The committee notifies each handler prior to that particular week of the quantity of sizes 48 and 56 red seedless grapefruit such handler could handle during a particular week, making the necessary adjustments for overshipments and loan repayments.

This interim final rule modifies reporting procedures in paragraphs (d) and (e) of § 905.153, and adds a new paragraph (f) on new handler participation. The changes were recommended unanimously by the committee at its meeting on April 6, 1999.

This interim final rule does not establish any volume regulation. A proposed rule to establish volume regulation during the 1999–2000 season was published in the Federal Register on August 26, 1999 (64 FR 46603). The period for the receipt of written comments on that proposal ends September 10, 1999.

The changes implemented by this rule are intended to standardize and foster uniformity of reporting, help the committee better monitor compliance with any percentage size regulations in effect, and improve overall administration of the program. The provisions on "new handler" registration are intended to ensure that the shipment calculations for such handlers are correct and that the shipment allotments are appropriately applied.

This action revises paragraph (d) of § 905.153 to require handlers to report red seedless grapefruit shipments to interstate and export markets by day for each regulation week. The report is required to be completed and received by the committee no later than 2 p.m. of the business day following the shipments. The committee now obtains shipment information from daily manifest reports from the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services' Fruit and Vegetable Division, but the information needs to be reformatted by the committee for use in checking handler compliance with the weekly percentage size regulation, and in arranging loans or transfers of excess allotments among handlers. This has been costly and time consuming for the committee.

When percentage size regulations were applied last season, most handlers voluntarily supplied (electronically or by fax) the committee with daily shipment information on their size 48 and/or 56 size red seedless grapefruit. This helped the committee expedite the compilation and dissemination of shipment information on the small-sized red seedless grapefruit. The more timely information helped the handlers make marketing plans to service their customers better, and enabled the committee to verify handler compliance in a more timely and less burdensome manner.

The information provided by handlers shipping 48 and/or 56 size red seedless grapefruit is maintained by them as part of their regular business operations so the burden in supplying this information has been minimal. Thus, the addition of this reporting requirement to the procedures in § 905.153(d) merely standardizes the collection of information which handlers maintain as part of their regular business operations. The report will ensure that the daily shipment information is received in the same format from all handlers shipping 48 and/or 56 size red seedless grapefruit.

Paragraph (e) of § 905.153 specifies, among other things, that each handler party to a transfer or loan of any or all of their shipping allotment (excluding the overshipment allowance) shall promptly notify the committee so the proper adjustment of records may be made. To provide uniformity in reporting and help the committee confirm such transactions prior to the following week to the handlers involved, the committee recommended that the notification be made no later than noon on the Wednesday following the regulation week.

With a precise reporting deadline, the committee will be able to adjust its records in a more timely manner and more easily confirm the transactions in writing to the handlers involved prior to the following week. It will also be able to do a more effective job when acting on behalf of handlers in arranging allotment loans or transfers. This change will not be unduly burdensome on handlers because most are already filing their reports by the specified deadline.

The committee also recommended precluding sales agents of handlers from filing weekly cumulative handler reports on transfers or loans for all of the handlers they represent, rather than reports for each handler involved in such transactions. The current provisions require individual reports to be filed and the individual handlers involved are required to certify that the information on the reports submitted to the committee is accurate. Thus, no change in § 905.153 is needed to require sales agents to submit individual handler reports on such transactions for each of the participating handlers for which they act as sales agents.

A new paragraph (f) will be added to § 905.153 covering new handler registration. The new paragraph specifies that new handlers without a shipment history shall register with the committee for their red seedless grapefruit allotments prior to the regulation period. On a form provided by the committee, each new handler will indicate its name, address, telephone and fax number, its Florida citrus dealer's license number, the packinghouse registration number issued by the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services' Fruit and Vegetable Division, and the physical location of the packinghouse where the red seedless grapefruit will be prepared for market. New handler registrations will allow the committee to place the handler on its mailing list to assure that the handler receives needed information.

The addition of these registration procedures for new handlers will assure that these handlers receive the shipment allocations to which they are entitled during the regulation period, and help the committee with its handler audits and compliance checks.

In accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. Chapter 35), the information collection requirements that are contained in this rule have been previously approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and have been assigned OMB No. 0581-0094. Also, pursuant to requirements set forth in the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA), AMS has considered the economic impact of this action on small entities. Accordingly, AMS has prepared this initial regulatory flexibility analysis.

The purpose of the RFA is to fit regulatory actions to the scale of business subject to such actions in order that small businesses will not be unduly or disproportionately burdened. Marketing orders issued pursuant to the Act, and rules issued thereunder, are unique in that they are brought about through group action of essentially small entities acting on their own behalf. Thus, both statutes have small entity orientation and compatibility.

There are approximately 80 grapefruit handlers subject to regulation under the order and approximately 11,000 growers of citrus in the regulated area. Small agricultural service firms, which includes handlers, have been defined by the Small Business Administration (SBA) as those having annual receipts of less than $5,000,000, and small agricultural producers are defined as those having annual receipts of less than $500,000 (13 CFR 121.601).

Based on industry and committee data, the average annual f.o.b. price for fresh Florida red grapefruit during the 1998-99 season was around \$7.20 per $\frac{4}{5}$ bushel carton, and total fresh shipments for the 1998-99 season are estimated at 14.6 million cartons of red grapefruit. Approximately 20 percent of all handlers handled 60 percent of Florida grapefruit shipments. In addition, many of these handlers ship other citrus fruit and products which are not included in committee data but would contribute further to handler receipts. Using the average f.o.b. price, about 80 percent of grapefruit handlers could be considered small businesses under SBA's definition, and about 20 percent of the handlers could be considered large businesses. The majority of Florida grapefruit handlers and growers may be classified as small entities.

Section 905.52 of the order provides authority to limit shipments of any grade or size, or both, of any variety of Florida citrus. Such limitations may restrict the shipment of a portion of a specified grade or size of a variety.

Section 905.153 of the regulations provides procedures for limiting the volume of small red seedless grapefruit entering the fresh market. Under the procedures, the committee may recommend that only a certain percentage of size 48 ($\frac{3}{16}$ minimum diameter in inches) and/or size 56 ($\frac{3}{16}$ minimum diameter in inches) red seedless grapefruit be made available for shipment into fresh market channels for any week or weeks during the regulation period. The regulation period is 11 weeks long and begins the third Monday in September. Under such a limitation, the quantity of sizes 48 and/or 56 red seedless grapefruit that may be shipped by a handler during a regulated week is calculated using the recommended percentage. By taking the recommended weekly percentage times the average weekly volume of red seedless grapefruit handled by such handler in the previous five seasons, handlers can calculate the volume of sizes 48 and/or 56 they may ship in a regulated week. Provisions also are included in paragraph (a) for handlers with less than five previous seasons of shipments and new handlers with no record of shipments. The committee staff performs the specified calculations when regulation is established by the Secretary for a given week, and provides the calculations to each handler.

Section 905.153 contains a variety of provisions designed to provide handlers with some marketing flexibility. Paragraphs (d) and (e) of that section provide allowances for overshipments, loans, and transfers of allotment. These allowances allow handlers the opportunity to supply their markets while limiting the impact of small sizes on a weekly basis.

Pursuant to paragraph (d) of § 905.153, during any week for which the Secretary fixes the percentage of sizes 48 and/or 56 red seedless grapefruit, any handler can handle an amount of sizes 48 and/or 56 red seedless grapefruit not to exceed 110 percent of their allotment for that week. The quantity of overshipments (the amount shipped in excess of a handler's weekly allotment) is deducted from the handler's allotment for the following week.

If handlers fail to use their entire allotments in a given week, the amounts undershipped cannot be carried forward to the following week. However, pursuant to paragraph (e) of § 905.153 a handler to whom an allotment has been issued can lend or transfer all or part of such allotment (excluding the over shipment allowance) to another handler. In the event of a loan, each party, prior to the completion of the loan agreement, notifies the committee of the proposed loan and date of repayment. If a transfer of allotment is desired, each party promptly notifies the committee so that proper adjustments of the records can be made. In each case, the committee confirms in writing all such transactions prior to the following week. Under these provisions, the committee can act on behalf of handlers wanting to arrange allotment loans or participate in the transfer of allotment.

The committee computes each handler's allotment by multiplying the handler's average week by the percentage established by regulation for that week. The committee notifies each handler prior to that particular week of the quantity of sizes 48 and 56 red seedless grapefruit such handler could handle during a particular week, making the necessary adjustments for overshipments and loan repayments.

This interim final rule modifies reporting procedures in paragraphs (d) and (e) of § 905.153, and adds a new paragraph (f) on new handler participation. The changes were recommended unanimously by the committee at its meeting on April 6, 1999.

This interim final rule does not establish any volume regulation. A proposed rule to establish volume regulation during the 1999–2000 season was published in the Federal Register on August 26, 1999 (64 FR 46603). The period for the receipt of written comments on that proposal ends September 10, 1999.

The changes implemented by this rule are intended to standardize and foster uniformity of reporting, help the committee better monitor compliance with any percentage size regulations in effect, and improve overall administration of the program. The provisions on "new handler" registration are intended to ensure that new handlers receive shipment allotments, that the shipment calculations for such handlers are correct, and that the shipment allotments are appropriately applied.

This action revises paragraph (d) of § 905.153 to require handlers to report red seedless grapefruit shipments to interstate and export markets by day for each regulation week. The report is required to be completed and received by the committee no later than 2 p.m. of the business day following the shipments. The committee now obtains shipment information from daily manifest reports from the Florida Department of Agriculture's Division of Fruit and Vegetable, but the information needs to be reformatted by the committee for use in checking handler compliance with the weekly percentage size regulation, and in arranging loans or transfers of excess allotment among handlers. This has proven to be costly and time consuming for the committee.

When percentage size regulations were applied last season, most handlers voluntarily supplied (electronically or by fax) the committee daily shipment information on their size 48 and/or 56 size red seedless grapefruit to help the committee expedite the compilation and dissemination of shipment information on the small-sized red seedless grapefruit. The more timely information helped the handlers make marketing plans, and enabled the committee to verify handler compliance in a more timely and less burdensome manner.

The information provided by handlers shipping 48 and/or 56 size red seedless grapefruit is maintained by them as part of their regular business operations so the burden in supplying this information has been minimal. Thus, the addition of this reporting requirement to the procedures in § 905.153(d) merely standardizes the collection of information which handlers maintain as part of their regular business operations.

Paragraph (e) of § 905.153 specifies, among other things, that each handler party to a transfer or loan of any or all of their shipping allotment (excluding the over shipment allowance) shall promptly notify the committee so the proper adjustment of records may be made. To provide uniformity in reporting and help the committee confirm such transactions prior to the following week to the handlers involved, the committee recommended that the notification be made no later than noon on the Wednesday following the regulation week.

With a precise reporting deadline, the committee will be able to adjust its records in a more timely manner and more easily confirm the transactions in writing to the handlers involved prior to the following week. It will also be able to do a more effective job when acting on behalf of handlers in arranging allotment loans or transfers. This change will not be unduly burdensome on handlers because most are already filing their reports by the specified deadline.

The committee also recommended precluding sales agents of handlers from filing weekly cumulative handler reports on transfers or loans for all of the handlers they represent, rather than reports for each handler involved in such transactions. The current provisions require individual reports to be filed and the individual handlers involved are required to certify that the information on the reports submitted to the committee is accurate. Thus, no change is required to the procedures in § 905.153 to require sales agents to report information on an individual handler basis.

Regarding the provisions on new handler registration, a new paragraph (f) will be added to § 905.153. The new paragraph specifies that new handlers without a shipment history shall register for their red seedless grapefruit allotments prior to the regulation period. On a form provided by the committee, each new handler will indicate its name, address, telephone and fax number, its Florida citrus dealer's license number, the packinghouse registration number issued by the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services' Fruit and Vegetable Division, and the physical location of the packinghouse where the red seedless grapefruit will be prepared for market.

The addition of these registration procedures for new handlers will assure that these handlers receive the shipment allocations to which they are entitled during the regulation period, and help the committee with its handler audits and compliance checks.

Handlers will be required to submit a form to the committee on their daily shipments of size 48 and/or 56 red seedless grapefruit, and new handlers also will have to submit a registration form to ship fruit pursuant to any allotment percentage established by the Secretary. The rule will increase the reporting burden on approximately 80 handlers of red seedless grapefruit who will take about 0.05 of an hour to complete each report regarding allotment loans or transfers, and shipments. New handlers without a record of shipments registering with the committee will take about 0.03 of an hour to complete the "new handler" registration form. The information collection requirements contained in § 905.153 have been approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. Chapter 35) and assigned OMB number 0581–0094.

The committee considers the changes made by this rule the most viable ways to improve the percentage size volume regulation procedures.

As with all Federal marketing order programs, reports and forms are periodically reviewed to reduce information requirements and duplication by industry and public sectors. The Department has not identified any relevant Federal rules that duplicate, overlap or conflict with this proposed rule. However, red seedless grapefruit must meet the requirements as specified in the U.S. Standards for Grades of Florida Grapefruit (7 CFR 51.750 through 51.784) issued under the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (7 U.S.C. 1621 through 1627).

In addition, the committee's meeting was widely publicized throughout the citrus industry and all interested persons were invited to attend the meeting and participate in committee deliberations on all issues. Like all committee meetings, the April 6, 1999, meeting was a public meeting and all entities, both large and small, were able to express views on this issue. Interested persons are invited to submit information on the regulatory and informational impacts of this action on small businesses.

A small business guide on complying with fruit, vegetable, and specialty crop marketing agreements and orders may be viewed at the following web site: <http://www.ams.usda.gov/fv/moab/.html>. Any questions about the compliance guide should be sent to Jay Guerber at the previously mentioned address in the FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT section.

After consideration of all relevant material presented, including the information and recommendations submitted by the committee and other available information, it is hereby found that this rule, as hereinafter set forth, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act.

This rule invites comments on changes to the percentage size regulation procedures under the Florida citrus marketing order. Any comments received will be considered before this rule is finalized.

Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 553, it is also found and determined upon good cause that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice prior to putting this rule into effect, and that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date of this rule until 30 days after publication in the Federal Register because: (1) This rule needs to be in place as soon as possible since any percentage size regulation implemented for the current season would begin on September 20 and all handlers planning to ship size 48 and 56 red seedless grapefruit need to plan accordingly; (2) the industry has been discussing this issue for some time, and the committee has kept the industry well informed; (3) the changes made have been widely discussed at various industry and association meetings; and (4) all written comments timely received will be considered before a final determination is made on this matter.

List of Subjects in 7 CFR Part 905

Grapefruit, Marketing agreements, Oranges, Reporting and recordkeeping requirements, Tangelos, Tangerines.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, 7 CFR part 905 is amended as follows:

PART 905—ORANGES, GRAPEFRUIT, TANGERINES, AND TANGELOS GROWN IN FLORIDA

1. The authority citation for 7 CFR Part 905 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 7 U.S.C. 601–674.

§ 905.153 [Amended]

2. In § 905.153, paragraphs (d) and (e) are revised and a new paragraph (f) is added to read as follows:

§ 905.153 Procedure for determining handlers' permitted quantities of red seedless grapefruit when a portion of sizes 48 and 56 of such variety is restricted.

(d) During any regulation week for which the Secretary has fixed the percentage of sizes 48 and 56 red seedless grapefruit, any person who has received an allotment may handle, in addition to their total allotment available, an amount of size 48 and 56 red seedless grapefruit up to 10 percent greater than their allotment. The quantity of the overshipment shall be deducted from the handler's allotment for the following week. Overshipments will not be allowed during week 11. If the handler fails to use his or her entire allotment, the undershipment is not carried forward to the following week. Each handler shipping size 48 and/or 56 red seedless grapefruit during the regulation period shall complete and submit to the committee, no later than 2 p.m. of the business day following the shipment, a report of red seedless grapefruit shipments by day for each regulation week.

(e) Any handler may transfer or loan any or all of their shipping allotment (excluding the overshipment allowance) of size 48 and 56 red seedless grapefruit to any other handler. Each handler party to such transfer or loan shall no later than noon on the Wednesday following the regulation week notify the committee so the proper adjustment of records may be made. In each case, the committee shall confirm in writing all such transactions, prior to the following week, to the handlers involved. The committee may act on behalf of handlers wanting to arrange allotment loans or participate in the transfer of allotments.

(f) New handlers with no record of shipments planning to ship red seedless grapefruit covered by any percentage size regulation shall register with the committee prior to the regulation period so their allotments can be properly calculated. Each new handler shall provide on a form furnished by the committee their Florida citrus fruit dealer's license number, their Florida Department of Agriculture and

Consumer Services' Fruit and Vegetable Division packinghouse registration number, and the physical location of the packinghouse where the red seedless grapefruit is to be prepared for market. The committee shall notify any new handlers of their allotments prior to the regulation period.

SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

20 CFR Parts 404 and 416

RIN 0960–AF07

Administrative Review Process; Prehearing Proceedings and Decisions by Attorney Advisors; Extension of Expiration Dates

AGENCY: Social Security Administration.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: These final rules extend the time period set out in our regulations during which attorney advisors in our Office of Hearings and Appeals (OHA) may conduct certain prehearing proceedings. When the documentary record developed as a result of these proceedings warrants, they may issue decisions that are wholly favorable to the parties to the hearing in claims for Social Security or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits based on disability. We are extending the date at which these rules will no longer be effective from April 1, 2000, until April 2, 2001. We are making no other changes to the substance of the rules.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 27, 1999.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Lynn Hollway, Office of Disability and Income Security Programs, Social Security Administration, 6401 Security Boulevard, Baltimore, MD 21235–6401, (410) 966–0167 for information about these rules. For information on eligibility or claiming benefits, call our national toll-free number, 1–800–772–1213.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On June 30, 1995, in an action undertaken to reduce the record numbers of requests for an administrative law judge (ALJ) hearing pending in our OHA hearing offices, we published final rules in the Federal Register (60 FR 34126) that authorize OHA's attorney advisors to conduct certain prehearing proceedings. If a decision that is wholly favorable to the parties to the hearing may be issued at the completion of these proceedings, they may issue such a decision. These regulations, which are codified at 20 CFR § 404.942 and 416.1442, included a provision stating that the rules would no longer be effective on June 30, 1997, unless the Commissioner of Social Security extended the expiration date of the provisions by publication of a final rule in the Federal Register. We subsequently published final rules in the Federal Register on June 30, 1997 (62 FR 35073), June 30, 1998 (63 FR 35515), and March 22, 1999 (64 FR 13677) extending the date on which §§ 404.942 and 416.1442 would no longer be effective to July 1, 1998, to April 1, 1999, and then to April 1, 2000.

In order to continue to maximize our ability to meet our hearings production goals, we have decided to extend the date on which these rules will no longer be effective from April 1, 2000, to April 2, 2001. These final rules amend the sunset provisions in §§ 404.942 and 416.1442, which expressly provide for extending the expiration date of those sections. In both sections, we are extending the provisions authorizing prehearing proceedings and decisions by attorney advisors, so that such actions will no longer be effective on April 2, 2001. For the reasons explained below, we will not extend these rules beyond April 2, 2001. We are removing from the regulations the provision allowing us to further extend the rules.

The authorization for attorney advisors to conduct certain prehearing proceedings and to issue a wholly favorable decision arising from those proceedings was established as a temporary measure, and accordingly included a sunset provision. We used this authority to maximize our ability to meet our hearings production goals while we developed a comprehensive plan to improve the hearings process. The comprehensive plan is now ready to be implemented.

We published the plan, called the "Hearings Process Improvement Initiative" (SSA Pub. No. 01-016) in August 1999. The Report is available on SSA's website at www.ssa.gov, or by calling the Process Action Team at (410) 966-3972. Implementation of the plan will begin in 10 States in January 2000. By early 2001, the new procedures covered under the plan will be put into effect in all hearings offices across the country.

As a result, we are establishing a definite date when the authorization for attorney advisors to conduct certain prehearing proceedings and to issue a wholly favorable decision will end—no later than April 2, 2001. We expect the plan, once fully implemented, to result in an overall 21% reduction in processing time for hearings, a 16% increase in productivity per workyear and better service to the public.

The attorney advisor procedure has contributed significantly in raising the number of dispositions of hearings cases we have been able to achieve. Last year, attorney advisors were responsible for disposing of 41,109 hearings. Therefore, we believe it is in the public interest to continue the procedure, subject to the sunset provision, until the Hearings Process Improvement Initiative is fully in place. We will begin phasing out the use of the attorney advisor procedure as implementation occurs, beginning in January 2000, and will cease using the procedure before April 2, 2001.

Regulatory Procedures

Pursuant to section 702(a)(5) of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 902(a)(5), SSA follows the Administrative Procedure Act (APA) rulemaking procedures specified in 5 U.S.C. 553 in the development of its regulations. The APA provides exceptions to its notice and public comment procedures when an agency finds there is good cause for dispensing with such procedures on the basis that they are impracticable, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest. We have determined that, under 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B), good cause exists for dispensing with the notice and public comment procedures in this case. Good cause exists because these rules only extend the date on which the regulatory provisions concerning prehearing proceedings and decisions by attorney advisors will no longer be effective. We believe these rules make no substantive change to those provisions. The current regulations expressly provide that the provisions may be extended. Therefore, opportunity for prior comment is unnecessary, and we are issuing these regulations as final rules.

Executive Order 12866

We have consulted with the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and determined that these rules do not meet the criteria for a significant regulatory action under Executive Order 12866. Thus, the rules are not subject to OMB review.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

We certify that these rules will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities because they affect only individuals. Therefore, a regulatory flexibility analysis as provided in the Regulatory Flexibility Act, as amended, is not required.

Paperwork Reduction Act

These rules impose no reporting or recordkeeping requirements which need to be cleared by OMB.

UNITED STATES INFORMATION AGENCY

22 CFR Part 514

Exchange Visitor Program

AGENCY: United States Information Agency.

ACTION: Interim final rule.

SUMMARY: The Agency is issuing regulation on the adoption of a fee sufficient for it to recover the full cost of its administrative processing of requests by program participants for an extension, change of category, or reinstatement of their program status. The Agency is also issuing regulation on the adoption of fees to recoup the cost of its administrative processing of requests for program designation and non-routine requests for the Form IAP-66 submitted by designated sponsors on an urgent or expedited basis.

EFFECTIVE DATES: This interim rule is effective January 1, 2000. The specified fee will be assessed for all extension, change of category, reinstatement, or program designation requests and non-routine requests for the Form IAP-66 post-marked after January 1, 2000. Written comments regarding this interim rule must be submitted on or before November 30, 1999.

ADDRESSES: Written comments should be submitted to: Public Comment Clerk, Office of General Counsel, United States Information Agency, 301 4th Street SW, Washington, DC 20547.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Sally Lawrence, Branch Chief, Program Designation Branch, Exchange Visitor Program Services, 301 4th Street, SW, Washington, DC 20547; telephone (202) 401-9800.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Pursuant to the provisions of the Fulbright-Hays Act of 1961 (Pub. L. 87-256) the Agency administers the Exchange Visitor Program by facilitating the entry of over 200,000 program participants each year. The Exchange Visitor Program is a component of the public diplomacy efforts of the United States Government and fosters mutual understanding and peaceful relations between the United States and other countries through educational and cultural exchange activities. Program participants enter the United States in nonimmigrant J-visa status pursuant to sponsorship by an Agency-designated sponsoring organization.

Program participants are admitted into the United States to pursue specific program objectives such as training, undergraduate and post-graduate study, and medical residency programs. In order to maintain valid program status and thereby valid non-immigrant status, it is often necessary for program participants to request an extension of their program, a change of category for continued program participation, or reinstatement to valid program status. An organization that wishes to conduct and oversee an exchange visitor program and thereby obtain administrative authority to sponsor a non-immigrant alien's entry into the United States for the purpose of participation in such exchange program must request a designation from the Agency to do so.

Based upon the statutory and administrative authorities set forth below, the Agency has determined that its review of requests for an extension of program, change of category participation, or reinstatement to program status confers a specific benefit to the requesting individual. In similar fashion, a request for Agency designation as an exchange visitor program sponsor confers a specific benefit upon the requesting organization. Accordingly, a fee sufficient to recoup the costs of conferring these specific benefits is appropriate.

Legislative Authority

The Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act of 1998 (Pub. L. 105-119) authorizes the Agency to collect fees related to its provision of Exchange Visitor Program services. Specifically, this appropriations statute authorizes the Agency to charge a fee and recycle such monies by providing “* * * That not to exceed $6,000,000, to remain available until expended, may be credited to this appropriation from fees or other payments received from or in connection with English teaching, library, motion pictures, and publication programs as authorized by section 810 of such Act of 1948 (22 U.S.C. 1475e) and, notwithstanding any other law, fees from educational advising and counseling, and exchange visitor program services * * *.”

In adopting a fee for exchange visitor program services provided to the public, the Agency is also guided by the provisions of the Independent Offices Appropriations Act of 1952 (Pub. L. 82-137), 31 U.S.C. 9701. This statute permits an agency to prescribe regulations establishing the charge for a service or thing of value provided by the agency. Such regulations so adopted are subject to policies prescribed by the President. The statute directs that any charge adopted shall be (i) fair; and (ii) based on the costs to the Government, the value of the service to the recipient, the public policy or interest served, and other relevant facts. The Agency has determined that an application to the Agency for a waiver recommendation is a request for a service within the meaning of these statutes that confers a specific benefit upon an identifiable beneficiary. Further, the Agency also relies upon the decisions in Auyda, Inc. v. Attorney General, 661 F. Supp. 33 (1987); and Engine Manufacturers Association v. E.P.A., 20 F.3d 1177 (1994) in adopting a fee for the review of such applications.

Finally, the Agency's adoption and implementation of a fee for review of requests for extensions, change of category, reinstatement, or program designation will be subject to the provisions of the Chief Financial Officers Act of 1990 (Pub. L. 101-576.) Section 205(a)(8) of this Act requires the Agency's Chief Financial Officer to “review, on a biennial basis, the fee, royalties, rents, and other charges imposed by the agency for services and things of value it provides, and make recommendations on revising those charges to reflect costs incurred by it in providing those services and things of value.” (31 U.S.C. 902(a)(8))

Office of Management and Budget
Circular No. A-25

Pursuant to Circular No. A-25, The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has established the Federal policy governing fees assessed for Government services and for the sale or use of Government goods or resources. OMB Circular No. A-25 sets forth the general policy that a “user charge * * * will be assessed against each identifiable recipient for special benefits derived from Federal activities beyond those received by the general public." To determine whether a "special benefit" has accrued, Circular No. A-25 offers the following guidance:

"For example, a special benefit will be considered to accrue and a user charge will be imposed when a Government service: (a) (E)nable the beneficiary to obtain more immediate or substantial gains or values (which may or may not be measurable in monetary terms) than those that accrue to the general public (e.g., receiving a patent, insurance, or guarantee provision, or a license to carry on a specific activity or business or various kinds of public land use); or (b) (P)rovide business stability or contributes to public confidence in the business activity of the beneficiary (e.g., insuring deposits in commercial banks); or (c) (I)s performed at the request of or for the convenience of the recipient, and is beyond the services regularly received by other members of the same industry or group or by the general public (e.g., receiving a passport, visa, airman's certificate, or a Customs inspection after regular duty hours.)" (OMB Circular A-25, section 6.a.(a))

In calculating the amount of the fee to be charged for the Agency's review of a request for extension, change of category, reinstatement, or program designation, the Agency will rely upon the guidance set forth in OMB Circular A-25. Agencies are directed to recoup the "full cost" of providing a service or specific benefit. Full cost is defined as including all direct and indirect costs to any part of the Federal Government of providing a good, resource, or service. These costs include, but are not limited to, an appropriate share of:

(a) Direct and indirect personnel costs, including salaries and fringe benefits such as medical insurance and retirement. Retirement costs should include all (funded or unfunded) accrued costs not covered by employee contributions as specified in Circular No. A-11.

(b) Physical overhead, consulting, and other indirect costs including material and supply costs, utilities, insurance, travel, and rents or imputed rents on land, buildings, and equipment. If imputed rental costs are applied, they should include:

(i) Depreciation of structures and equipment, based on official Internal Revenue Service depreciation guidelines unless better estimates are available; and

(ii) An annual rate of return (equal to the average long-term Treasury bond rate) on land, structures, equipment and other capital resources used.

(c) The management and supervisory costs.

(d) The costs of enforcement, collection, research, establishment of standards, and regulation, including any required environmental statements.

(e) Full cost shall be determined or estimated from the best available records of the agency, and new cost accounting systems need not be established solely for this purpose.

(OMB Circular A-25 Section 6.d)

Circular A-25 further directs the federal agencies to adopt user charges by promulgating regulations, to ensure that proper internal control systems and appropriate audit standards are in place, and to review user charges biennially to ensure adjustment of such charges to reflect unanticipated changes in costs or market values.

Fee Calculation

Having determined that imposition of a user fee for Agency review of extension, change of category, reinstatement, or program designation requests is a lawful exercise of Agency authority, the amount of such fees must be calculated. In calculating the amount of these fees, the Agency is guided by the provisions of OMB Circular No. A-25, User Charges and the Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board of Federal Financial Accounting Standards No. 4: Managerial Cost Accounting Concepts and Standards for the Federal Government. These standards direct that an agency identify and recoup the full cost of providing a benefit or service. Full cost is defined to mean both the direct and indirect costs of providing said service or benefit. The Agency's organizational structure facilitates the calculation of the full cost associated with its review of requests for extension, change of category, reinstatement, or program designation as performance of these functions are centralized in the Agency's Office of General Counsel, Program Designation Branch (Program Designation.)

The Program Designation Branch is headed by a branch chief who supervises seven program officers, two program assistants and two support staff. These eleven employees process some 786 requests for extensions, change of category, and reinstatement and 126 requests for program designation each year. This processing is broken down along subject matter lines with each officer responsible for specific areas of program participation with the program assistants providing necessary support services. In addition, the Program Designation Branch receives general management oversight from the Agency's General Counsel and Deputy General Counsel and legal oversight and assistance from an Agency Assistant General Counsel.

In processing extension, change of category, reinstatement, and program designation requests, the Program Designation Branch unit is required to perform the following tasks:

Receive extension, change of category, reinstatement, and program designation requests, which includes the tasks of receiving, opening, sorting, and screening applications;

Record fee, which includes, in cooperation with the Agency's Management Bureau, the task of receipting fees, reconciling registers, preparing and making deposits, and recording information into program and financial systems;

Input request data, which includes the tasks of entering data from requests into program systems, verifying data, and printing system data;

Manage records, which includes the tasks of creating files; connecting requested information and documents with request files; pulling, storing, and moving files; and archiving inactive files;

Adjudicate request, which includes the tasks of distributing workload; reviewing, examining, and adjudicating applications; making and recording adjudicative decisions; requesting and reviewing additional information as needed; and consulting with supervisors and legal counsel on non-routine adjudications;

Prepare outgoing correspondence, which includes the tasks of preparing decision letters, copying, logging, filing, faxing, and mailing;

Respond to inquiries, which includes the tasks of receiving and responding to inquiries on the status of an extension, change of category, reinstatement, or program designation request. These inquiries may be from applicants, legal representatives, or members of Congress and are received by both telephone and in writing.

The Agency has examined the number of man-hours devoted to the performance of these activities and has determined that 135% of one full time equivalent position at the program officer and 100% of one full time equivalent position at the program assistant level is allocable to the processing of extension, change of category, and reinstatement requests. This same analysis reveals that 70% of one full time equivalent position at the program officer and program assistant level is also allocable to the processing of program designation requests. Further, this analysis reveals that 127.5% of a full time equivalent position at the program staff assistant level is required to fill "expedited" or "urgent" requests for the Form IAP-66 submitted by designated sponsors. Through application of FASAB Federal financial standards No. 4: Managerial Cost Accounting Concepts and Standards for the Federal Government, the Agency has identified $146,336 in direct costs arising from salary and benefits and an additional $9,180 in allocable indirect costs attributable to the processing of extension, change of category, and reinstatement requests. Based upon direct and indirect costs of $155,516 and 786 extension, change of category, and reinstatement requests per year, the Agency has determined that the per unit cost of processing such requests is $198 and adopts this amount as the fee to be collected for the future processing of extension, change of category, and reinstatement requests. The Agency has also identified that $92,402 in direct costs from salary and benefits and $5,760 in allocable indirect costs are allocable to its processing of program designation requests. Based upon direct and indirect costs of $98,162 and 126 requests for program designation, the agency has determined that the per unit cost of processing a program designation request is $779 and adopts this amount as the fee to be collected for future processing of program designation requests. Finally, the agency has examined the number of man-hours devoted to the processing of non-routine "expedited" or "urgent" requests for the Form IAP-66 and has determined that 127.5% of one full time equivalent position at the program staff assistant level is allocable to the processing of such requests. The Agency has determined that $57,775 in direct costs from salary and benefits and $4,950 in indirect costs are allocable to the processing of non-routine "expedited" or "urgent" requests for the Form IAP-66 submitted by designated sponsors. Based upon direct and indirect costs of $62,725 and 1,461 such requests, the Agency has determined that the per unit cost of processing a non-routine request for the Form IAP-66 is $43 and adopts this amount as the fee to be collected for future processing of non-routine requests for the Form IAP-66 submitted by designated sponsors. All fees are non-refundable.

Public Comment

The Agency invites comments from the public on this interim final rule notwithstanding the fact that it is under no legal requirement to do so. The designation of exchange visitor sponsors and the administration of the Exchange Visitor Program are deemed to be foreign affairs functions of the United States Government. The Administrative Procedures Act, 5 U.S.C. 553(a)(1)(1989) specifically exempts such functions from the rulemaking requirements of the Act.

The Agency will accept comments regarding this rule until November 30, 1999. In accordance with 5 U.S.C. 605(b), the Agency certifies that this rule does not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. This rule is not considered to be a major rule within the meaning of section 1(b) of E.O. 12291, nor does it have federalism implications warranting the preparation of a Federalism Assessment in accordance with E.O. 12612. This rule is not a major rule as defined by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Act of 1996 nor is it considered an economically significant regulatory action as defined by E.O. 12866. This rule does not impose any new reporting or record keeping requirements.

Hard Cider; Postponement of Labeling Compliance Date (97-2523)

ACTION: Temporary rule (Treasury decision).

SUMMARY: This temporary rule postpones the mandatory date for the labeling of hard cider. In the Proposed Rules section of this Federal Register, ATF is also issuing a notice of proposed rulemaking inviting comments on proposed changes to the label requirements for hard cider for a 60-day period following the publication of the notice.

DATES: Effective date: This document is effective retroactive to February 17, 1999.

Compliance date: Compliance with the hard cider labeling requirements in 27 CFR 4.21 and 24.257 is not mandatory until September 27, 2000.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Marjorie D. Ruhf, Regulations Division, 650 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20226; (202) 927-8230; or mdruhfh@atfhq.atf.treas.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On August 21, 1998, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF) issued a temporary rule to implement various sections of the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997, Public Law 105-34 ("the Act"). Section 908 of the Act amended the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (IRC) to create a new excise tax category for hard cider. The temporary rule, T.D. ATF-398 (63 FR 44779) included rules for labeling hard cider. On the same day, ATF issued a notice of proposed rulemaking, Notice No. 859 (63 FR 44819), inviting comments on this temporary rule for a 60 day period. In response to requests from the industry, ATF reopened the comment period for an additional 30 days on November 6, 1998, by Notice No. 869 (63 FR 59921).

ATF received 45 comments in response to these notices. Two comments addressed the issue of semi-generic wine designations (also covered in the temporary rule and notices), and all the rest concerned the hard cider rules. All the comments will be discussed in a future final rule, but ATF has identified one area, labeling of hard cider, where comments indicate the temporary rule as originally issued imposes an unintended and unnecessary burden. By this document, we are postponing the compliance date for the hard cider labeling rules (originally February 17, 1999), so that we can develop alternative labeling rules. The temporary rule and the specific comments are discussed in detail in the notice of proposed rulemaking published in this issue of the Federal Register.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) relating to a final regulatory flexibility analysis do not apply to this rule because the agency was not required to publish a general notice of proposed rulemaking under 5 U.S.C. 553 or any other law. Pursuant to 26 U.S.C. 7805(f), this temporary rule will be submitted to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration for comment on its impact on small business.

Executive Order 12866

It has been determined that this rule is not a significant regulatory action as defined by Executive Order 12866. Therefore, a regulatory assessment is not required.

Paperwork Reduction Act

The provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3507) and its implementing regulations, 5 CFR part 1320, do not apply to this final rule because no new collection of information is contained in this Treasury decision.

Administrative Procedure Act

This document merely defers a compliance date for labeling rules for hard cider while ATF considers alternative labeling requirements. In view of the immediate need to inform the industry of this action, it is found to be impracticable to issue this Treasury decision with notice and public procedure under 5 U.S.C. 553(b), or subject to the effective date limitation in section 553(d).

Drafting Information: The principal author of this document is Marjorie Ruhf, of the Regulations Division, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

RIN 2115-AA97

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Temporary final rule.

SUMMARY: The Coast Guard is establishing two temporary security zones in the waters of the East River, New York. This action is necessary to protect the Port of New York/New Jersey, President Clinton, and approximately 80 visiting Heads of State, against terrorism, sabotage or other subversive acts and incidents of a similar nature during the President's visit to New York City and the United Nations General Assembly meeting. This action is intended to restrict vessel traffic in a portion of the East River.

DATES: This rule is effective from 9 a.m. on Monday, September 20, 1999, until 7 p.m. on Friday, October 1, 1999.

ADDRESSES: Documents as indicated in this preamble are available for inspection or copying at Coast Guard Activities New York, 212 Coast Guard Drive, room 205, Staten Island, New York 10305, between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Federal holidays. The telephone number is (718) 354-4193.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Lieutenant J. Lopez, Waterways Oversight Branch, Coast Guard Activities New York (718) 354-4193.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Regulatory History

Pursuant to 5 U.S.C 553, a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) was not published for this regulation. Good cause exists for not publishing an NPRM and for making this regulation effective less than 30 days after Federal Register publication. Due to the date that specific information on the President's visit to New York City and Secret Service requirements for the United Nations General Assembly meeting were made available to the Coast Guard, there was insufficient time to draft and publish an NPRM and publish the final rule 30 days before its effective date. Any delay encountered in this regulation's effective date would be contrary to the public interest as immediate action is needed to protect the Port of New York/New Jersey, the President, and visiting Heads of State.

Background and Purpose

These security zones, requested by the United States Secret Service, are needed to ensure the security of the Port of New York/New Jersey, the President, and visiting Heads of State, while attending the annual United Nations General Assembly meeting in midtown Manhattan, New York. The General Assembly meeting will be held at the United Nations building on East 43rd Street. There is a significant national security interest in protecting the President and safeguarding the international relations of the United States and the visiting Heads of State. These security zones will safeguard the Port of New York/New Jersey, the President, and visiting Heads of State during the United Nations General Assembly meeting against terrorism, sabotage or other subversive acts and incidents of a similar nature. These security zones provide for an exclusion area during the General Assembly meeting. These zones include all waters of the East River within the following boundaries (all nautical positions are based on North American Datum of 1983):

Security Zone A

All waters of the East River bound by the following points: 40°44'37"N, 073°58'16.5"W (the base of East 35th Street Manhattan), then east to 40°44'34.5"N, 073°58'10.5"W (approximately 175 yards offshore of Manhattan), then northeasterly to 40°45'29"N, 073°57'26.5"W (approximately 125 yards offshore of Manhattan at the Queensboro Bridge), then northwesterly to 40°45'31"N, 073°57'30.5"W (Manhattan shoreline at the Queensboro Bridge), then southerly to the starting point at 40°44'37"N, 073°58'16.5"W. This security zone is in effect from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. each day from Monday, September 20, 1999, through Saturday, September 25, 1999, and from Monday, September 27, 1999, through Friday, October 1, 1999. The security zone prevents vessels from transiting a portion of the East River. Marine traffic will still be able to transit through the eastern 100 yards of the western channel of the East River and through the entire eastern channel of the East River during this security zone.

Security Zone B

All waters of the East river north of a line drawn from approximate position 40°44'37"N, 073°58'16.5"W, at the base of East 35th Street in Manhattan, to approximate position 40°44'23"N, 073°57'44.5"W at Hunters Point in Long Island City, and south of the Queensboro Bridge. This security zone is in effect from 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m., and from 12:30 p.m. until 3:30 p.m., on Tuesday, September 21, 1999. Marine traffic will not be able to transit through this portion of the East River during this time while the President is addressing the United Nations General Assembly because the zone extends bank to bank and there are no alternate routes available in the river to go around the zone.

These security zones have been narrowly tailored, in consultation with the United States Secret Service and the maritime industry to impose the least impact on maritime interests yet provide the level of security deemed necessary. Entry into or movement within these security zones is prohibited unless authorized by the Coast Guard Captain of the Port, New York. Public notifications will be made prior to the event via facsimile, marine information broadcasts, and the Local Notice to Mariners.

Regulatory Evaluation

This final rule is not a significant regulatory action under section 3(f) of Executive Order 12866 and does not require an assessment of potential costs and benefits under section 6(a) (3) of that Order. It has not been reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget under that Order. It is not significant under the regulatory policies and procedures of the Department of Transportation (DOT) (44 FR 11040; February 26, 1979). The Coast Guard expects the economic impact of this final rule to be so minimal that a full Regulatory Evaluation under paragraph 10e of the regulatory policies and procedures of DOT is unnecessary. Although this regulation prevents traffic from transiting the security zone areas, the effect of this regulation will not be significant for several reasons. The minimal time that vessels will be prohibited from entering the zones, and the limited recreational traffic in the area. Marine traffic will still be able to transit to the east of the security zone except from 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m., and from 12:30 p.m. until 3:30 p.m., on Tuesday, September 21, 1999. Extensive advance notifications will be made to the maritime community via facsimile, marine information broadcasts, and the Local Notice to Mariners.

Small Entities

Under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), the Coast Guard considered whether this final rule will have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. "Small entities" include small businesses, not-for-profit organizations that are independently owned and operated and are not dominant in their fields, and governmental jurisdictions with populations of less than 50,000.

For reasons discussed in the Regulatory Evaluation above, the Coast Guard certifies under section 605(b) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) that this final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Collection of Information

This final rule does not provide for a collection of information under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

Federalism

The Coast Guard has analyzed this final rule under the principles and criteria contained in Executive Order 12612 and has determined that this final rule does not have sufficient implications for federalism to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

Unfunded Mandates

Title II of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (UMRA) [Pub. L. 104-4, 109 Stat. 48] requires Federal agencies to assess the effects of certain regulatory actions on State, local, and tribal governments, and the private sector. UMRA requires a written statement of economic and regulatory alternatives for rules that contain Federal mandates. A Federal mandate is a new or additional enforceable duty imposed on any State, local, or tribal government, or the private sector. If any Federal mandate causes those entities to spend, in the aggregate, $100 million or more in any one year, the UMRA analysis is required. This final rule does not impose Federal mandates on any State, local, or tribal governments, or the private sector.

Environment

The Coast Guard considered the environmental impact of this final rule and concluded that under figure 2-1, paragraph 34(g), of Commandant Instruction M16475.1C, this final rule is categorically excluded from further environmental documentation. A "Categorical Exclusion Determination" is available in the docket for inspection or copying where indicated under ADDRESSES.

Coast Guard

[COTP Los Angeles-Long Beach, CA; 99-005]

RIN 2115-AA97

Safety Zone; Santa Barbara Channel, CA

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Temporary final rule; request for comments.

SUMMARY: The Coast Guard is extending the effective period of an existing temporary Safety Zone in the navigable waters of the United States around the Stearns Wharf pier complex located in Santa Barbara, California. This safety zone is necessary to ensure the safety of the public during the demolition and reconstruction of the pier and will be in effect from 12 p.m. (PST) on August 31, 1999 to 12 p.m. on October 31, 1999. Entry into, transit through, or anchoring within this safety zone is prohibited unless authorized by the Captain of the Port.

DATES: This rule is effective from 12 p.m. (PST) on August 31, 1999, until 12 p.m. on October 31, 1999. If the need for this safety zone terminates before October 31, 1999, the Captain of the Port will cease enforcement of this safety zone and will announce that fact via Broadcast Notice to Mariners. Comments should be received by October 15, 1999.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be mailed to Commanding Officer, Coast Guard Marine Safety Office Los Angeles-Long Beach, 165 N. Pico Avenue, Long Beach, CA 90802. Comments received will be available for inspection and copying in the Port Safety Division of Coast Guard Marine Safety Office Los Angeles-Long Beach from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, except federal holidays.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Lieutenant Yuri V. Graves, Marine Safety Detachment Santa Barbara, 111 Harbor Way, Santa Barbara, CA 93109; (805) 962-7430.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Regulatory Information

In accordance with 5 U.S.C. 553, there is good cause why a notice of proposed rule making (NPRM) was not published for this regulation and good cause exists for making it effective less than 30 days after Federal Register publication. Publishing a NPRM and delaying the effective date would be contrary to the public interest since the details concerning the construction of the pier and the completion date were not known until a date fewer than 30 days prior to the continuation of the construction.

Although this rule is published as a temporary final rule without prior notice, an opportunity for public comment is desirable to ensure the rule is both reasonable and workable. Accordingly, persons wishing to comment may do so by submitting written comments to the office listed in ADDRESSES in this preamble. Comments must be received by October 15, 1999. Those providing comments should identify the docket number for the regulation (COTP Los Angeles-Long Beach 99-005) and also include their name, address, and reason(s) for each comment presented. Based upon the comments received, the regulation may be changed.

The Coast Guard plans no public meeting. Persons may request a public meeting by writing the Marine Safety Office Los Angeles-Long Beach at the address listed in ADDRESSES in this preamble.

Discussion of Regulation

A prior temporary final rule was promulgated imposing an identical safety zone for the period December 9, 1998 through March 31, 1999 (64 FR 8001), and then was extended for the period March 31, 1999 through August 31, 1999 (64 FR 18814). The Coast Guard has recently been notified that the pier demolition and reconstruction project will not be completed as originally scheduled. It is thus necessary to extend the effective period of the safety zone through October 31, 1999. Due to the continuing need for the safety zone, a new safety zone and public comment period has been established.

This safety zone is necessary to safeguard all personnel and property during the extensive repairs and reconstruction of Stearns Wharf. The activities surrounding the demolition and construction pose a direct threat to the safety of surrounding vessels, persons, and property, and create an imminent navigational hazard. This safety zone is necessary to prevent spectators, recreational and commercial craft from the hazards associated with the reconstruction. Persons and vessels are prohibited from entering into, transiting through, or anchoring within the safety zone unless authorized by the Captain of the Port Los Angeles-Long Beach or a designated representative.

Regulatory Evaluation

This temporary regulation is not a significant regulatory action under section 3(f) of Executive Order 12866 and does not require an assessment of potential costs and benefits under section 6(a)(3) of that order. It has been exempted from review by the Office of Management and Budget under that order. It is not significant under the regulatory policies and procedures of the Department of Transportation (44 FR 11040; February 26, 1979). The Coast Guard expects the economic impact of this regulation to be so minimal that a full Regulatory Evaluation under Paragraph 10(e) of the regulatory policies and procedures of the Department of Transportation is unnecessary.

Collection of Information

This regulation contains no collection of information requirements under the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

Small Entities

Under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), the Coast Guard must consider whether this rule will have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. "Small entities" may include small businesses and not-for-profit organizations that are not dominant in their respective fields, and governmental jurisdictions with populations less than 50,000. For the same reasons set forth in the above Regulatory Evaluation, the Coast Guard certifies under 5 U.S.C. 605(b) that this rule is not expected to have a significant economic impact on any substantial number of entities, regardless of their size.

Assistance for Small Entities

In accordance with § 213(a) of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996 (Pub. L. 104-121), the Coast Guard wants to assist small entities in understanding this rule so that they can better evaluate its effects on them and participate in the rulemaking process. If your small business or organization is affected by this rule and you have questions concerning its provisions or options for compliance, please contact Lieutenant Yuri V. Graves, Coast Guard Marine Safety Detachment, Santa Barbara, CA, at (805) 962-7430.

Federalism

The Coast Guard has analyzed this regulation under the principles and criteria contained in Executive Order 12612, and has determined that this rule does not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

Environmental Assessment

The Coast Guard has considered the environmental impact of this temporary regulation and concluded that under Chapter 2.B.2. of Commandant Instruction M16475.1C, Figure 2-1, paragraph (34)(g), it will have no significant environmental impact and it is categorically excluded from further environmental documentation. A Categorical Exclusion Determination and an Environmental Analysis checklist is available for inspection and copying and the docket is to be maintained at the address listed in ADDRESSES in the preamble.

Unfunded Mandates

Under the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-4), the Coast Guard must consider whether this rule will result in an annual expenditure by state, local, and tribal governments, in the aggregate of $100 million (adjusted annually for inflation). If so, the Act requires that a reasonable number of regulatory alternatives be considered, and that from those alternatives, the least costly, most cost-effective, or least burdensome alternative that achieves the objective of the rule be selected.

No state, local, or tribal government entities will be affected by this rule, so this rule will not result in annual or aggregate costs of $100 million or more. Therefore, the Coast Guard is exempt from any further regulatory requirements under the Unfunded Mandates Act.

Other Executive Orders on the Regulatory Process

In addition to the statutes and Executive Orders already addressed in this preamble, the Coast Guard considered the following executive orders in developing this Interim Rule and reached the following conclusions:

E.O. 12630, Governmental Actions and Interference with Constitutionally Protected Property Rights. This Rule will not effect a taking of private property or otherwise have taking implications under this Order.

E.O. 12875, Enhancing the Intergovernmental Partnership. This Rule will not impose, on any State, local, or tribal government, a mandate that is not required by statute and that is not funded by the Federal government.

E.O. 12988, Civil Justice Reform. This Rule meets applicable standards in section 3(a) and 3(b)(2) of this Order to minimize litigation, eliminate ambiguity, and reduce burden.

E.O. 13045, Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks. This Rule is not an economically significant rule and does not concern an environmental risk to safety disproportionately affecting children.

Regulation

§ 165.T11-066 Safety Zone: Santa Barbara Channel, CA.

(a) Location. The following area is established as a safety zone: all navigable waters falling within a rectangular box extending 100 feet from the outer limits of all sides of Stearns Wharf, beginning at the seaward end of the wharf and extending back along the wharf 600 feet towards shore. For reference purposes, the seaward end of the wharf is located at 34°24'30" N, longitude: 119°41'10" W.

Veterans Education: Montgomery GI Bill—Active Duty; Administrative Error

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This document amends the educational assistance and education benefit regulations of the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). The amendment clarifies these provisions by stating that when VA, the Department of Defense (DOD), or the Department of Transportation (DOT) makes an administrative error or error in judgment that is the sole cause of an erroneous award under the Montgomery GI Bill—Active Duty, VA must reduce or terminate the award effective the date of last payment.

DATES: Effective Date: September 27, 1999.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: William G. Susling, Jr., Education Advisor, Education Service, Veterans Benefits Administration, 202-273-7187.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This document amends the educational assistance and education benefit regulations. VA, DOD, and DOT may occasionally make an administrative error or error in judgment that causes an overpayment of educational assistance under the Montgomery GI Bill—Active Duty (MGIB). Currently, 38 CFR 21.7135(v) provides that when an administrative error or error in judgment results in an erroneous award of educational assistance under the MGIB, the award will be reduced or terminated effective the date of last payment. This document clarifies these provisions by stating that the regulations cover administrative errors or errors in judgment made by VA, DOD, or DOT when the error is the sole cause of the erroneous award. This interprets statutory authority at 38 U.S.C. 5112(b) and 5113.

Administrative Procedure Act

This document sets forth interpretive provisions. Accordingly, there is a basis for dispensing with notice-and-comment and a delayed effective date under 5 U.S.C. 553.

Executive Order 12866

This final rule has been reviewed by OMB under Executive Order 12866.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Secretary of Veterans Affairs hereby certifies that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities as they are defined in the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601-612. This rule will affect individuals, but it will not affect small entities. Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 605(b), this rule, therefore, is exempt from the initial and final regulatory flexibility analyses requirements of sections 603 and 604.

II. Background and Statutory Findings

In the Federal Register of August 17, 1998 (63 FR 43937) (FRL-6018-2), EPA issued a notice pursuant to section 408 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FFDCA), 21 U.S.C. 346a as amended by the Food Quality Protection Act of 1996 (FQPA) (Public Law 104-170) announcing the filing of a pesticide petition (PP) for tolerances by Novartis Crop Protection, Inc. This notice included a summary of the petition prepared by Novartis Crop Protection, Inc. the registrant. An amendment to the notice of filing was published in the Federal Register of August 26, 1999 (64 FR 46680) which revised proposed tolerance levels and added the metabolite CGA-321113. No comments were received in response to the amendment.

The petition requested that 40 CFR 180 be amended by establishing a tolerance for combined residues of the fungicide trifloxystrobin and the free form of its acid metabolite CGA-321113, in or on bananas at 0.10 parts per million (ppm), cucurbit vegetables at 0.50 ppm, grapes at 2.0 ppm, raisins at 5.0 ppm, peanuts at 0.05 ppm, peanut hay at 4.0 ppm, pome fruit at 0.50 ppm, wet apple pomace at 5.0 ppm, milk at 0.02 ppm, and meat, fat and meat by products of cattle, goats, hogs, horses and sheep at 0.05 ppm.

Section 408(b)(2)(A)(i) of the FFDCA allows EPA to establish a tolerance (the legal limit for a pesticide chemical residue in or on a food) only if EPA determines that the tolerance is "safe." Section 408(b)(2)(A)(ii) defines "safe" to mean that "there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result from aggregate exposure to the pesticide chemical residue, including all anticipated dietary exposures and all other exposures for which there is reliable information." This includes exposure through drinking water and in residential settings, but does not include occupational exposure. Section 408(b)(2)(C) requires EPA to give special consideration to exposure of infants and children to the pesticide chemical residue in establishing a tolerance and to "ensure that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result to infants and children from aggregate exposure to the pesticide chemical residue...."

EPA performs a number of analyses to determine the risks from aggregate exposure to pesticide residues. For further discussion of the regulatory requirements of section 408 and a complete description of the risk assessment process, see the final rule on Bifenthrin Pesticide Tolerances (62 FR 62961, November 26, 1997) (FRL-5754-7).

III. Aggregate Risk Assessment and Determination of Safety

Consistent with section 408(b)(2)(D), EPA has reviewed the available scientific data and other relevant information in support of this action. EPA has sufficient data to assess the hazards of trifloxystrobin and to make a determination on aggregate exposure, consistent with section 408(b)(2), for a tolerance for combined residues of trifloxystrobin and the free form of its acid metabolite CGA-321113 on bananas at 0.10 parts per million (ppm), cucurbit vegetables at 0.50 ppm, grapes at 2.0 ppm, raisins at 5.0 ppm, peanuts at 0.05 ppm, peanut hay at 4.0 ppm, pome fruit at 0.50 ppm, wet apple pomace at 5.0 ppm, milk at 0.02 ppm, and meat, fat and meat by products of cattle, goats, hogs, horses and sheep at 0.05 ppm. EPA's assessment of the dietary exposures and risks associated with establishing the tolerance follows.

A. Toxicological Profile

EPA has evaluated the available toxicity data and considered its validity, completeness, and reliability as well as the relationship of the results of the studies to human risk. EPA has also considered available information concerning the variability of the sensitivities of major identifiable subgroups of consumers, including infants and children. The results of toxicity studies for trifloxystrobin are listed below:

1. Subchronic-Feeding Study—Rat. The No Observed Adverse Effects Level (NOAEL) was 500 ppm (30.6–32.8 mg/kg/day). Decreased body weight, hypertrophy of hepatocytes and pancreatic atrophy were observed at the Lowest Observed Adverse Effects Level (LOAEL) of 2,000 ppm (127–133 mg/kg/day).

B. Toxicological Endpoints

The following endpoints were used in the the risk assessments for trifloxystrobin.

1. Acute toxicity—Developmental Toxicity Study—Rabbits. The developmental NOAEL was 250 mg/kg/day. The endpoint was an increase in fetal incidence of fused sternebrae #3 and #4 at a LOAEL of 500 mg/kg/day. The uncertainty factor (UF) was 100 based on intra species and interspecies variation. The acute reference dose (RfD) was 2.5 mg/kg/day; the acute population adjusted dose (aPAD) was 2.5 mg/kg/day. In the study selected, the developmental effects were presumed to occur after a single exposure since this is an in utero effect it is applicable only to the population subgroup, females 13+ years.

2. Short- and intermediate-term toxicity—28-Day Dermal Toxicity Study—Rats. The systemic NOAEL was 100 mg/kg/day. The endpoint was an increase in liver and kidney weights at a LOAEL of 1,000 mg/kg/day.

3. Long-term toxicity. Long-term dermal exposure is not expected based on the proposed use pattern. Therefore, a long term dermal risk assessment was not performed.

4. Chronic toxicity—Chronic Toxicity Study—Dogs. The NOAEL was 5 mg/kg/day. The endpoint was an increased incidence of clinical signs, increased mean liver weight and hepatocellular hypertrophy at a LOAEL of 50 mg/kg/day. The UF was 100 for intraspecies and intraspecies variation. The chronic RfD was 0.05 mg/kg/day; the chronic PAD was 0.05 mg/kg/day. The chronic toxicity study in dogs was chosen for the chronic dietary risk assessment because the study is chronic and the systemic NOAEL is lower than that in the chronic rat study. Also, the toxic effects observed were seen in the chronic rat study and the multi-generation reproduction study in rats.

5. Carcinogenicity. Trifloxystrobin has been classified as a “not likely human carcinogen”.

C. Exposures and Risks

1. From food and feed uses. Tolerances are being established for the combined residues of trifloxystrobin and the free form of its acid metabolite CGA-321113 on the following commodities: bananas at 0.10 parts per million (ppm), cucurbit vegetables at 0.50 ppm, grapes at 2.0 ppm, raisins at 5.0 ppm, peanuts at 0.05 ppm, peanut hay at 4.0 ppm, wet apple pomace at 5.0 ppm, pome fruit at 0.50 ppm, milk at 0.02 ppm, and meat, fat and meat by products of cattle, goats, hogs, horses and sheep at 0.05 ppm. Risk assessments were conducted by EPA to assess dietary exposures as follows:

i. Acute exposure and risk. Acute dietary risk assessments are performed for a food-use pesticide if a toxicological study has indicated the possibility of an effect of concern occurring as a result of a 1-day or single exposure. The Dietary Exposure Evaluation Model (DEEM) detailed acute analysis estimates the distribution of single exposures for the overall U.S. population and certain subgroups. For this assessment, the only population subgroup of concern for acute dietary risk is Females 13 years and older. The analysis evaluates individual food consumption as reported by respondents in the USDA 1989–1992 Continuing Survey of Food Intake by Individuals (CSFII) and accumulates exposure to the chemical for each commodity. Each analysis assumes uniform distribution of trifloxystrobin in the commodity supply. In conducting the acute dietary risk assessment, the Agency made highly conservative assumptions. One hundred percent of proposed crops are assumed to be treated with trifloxystrobin, and this is expected to result in an overestimate of dietary risk. Therefore, this acute dietary (food only) risk assessment should be viewed as a highly conservative risk estimate. Further refinement using anticipated residues or percent of crop treated data in conjunction with a Monte Carlo analysis would result in a lower dietary exposure estimate. In the DEEM acute analysis the proposed tolerances for combined residues of trifloxystrobin and CGA-321113 utilized 1% of the aPAD for females 13 + years old, nursing.

ii. Chronic exposure and risk. In conducting the chronic dietary risk assessment, the Agency made highly conservative assumptions which resulted in an overestimate of human dietary exposure. One hundred percent of proposed crops are assumed to be treated with trifloxystrobin, and this is expected to result in an overestimate of dietary risk. Therefore, this chronic dietary (food only) risk assessment should be viewed as a highly conservative risk estimate. Further refinement using anticipated residues or percent of crop treated data would result in a lower dietary exposure estimate. Thus, in making a safety determination for these tolerances, EPA takes into account this highly conservative exposure assessment. The Agency is generally concerned with chronic exposures that exceed 100% of the chronic PAD (cPAD) or chronic RfD. The proposed trifloxystrobin tolerances were used to calculate the exposure and risk estimate. The percentages cPAD utilized were 17% for non-nursing infants, 16% for children 1–6 years old, 14% for all infants (<1 year), and 9% or lower for other population subgroups.

iii. Cancer Dietary Risk from Food Sources. Trifloxystrobin was classified as a “not likely human carcinogen.” Therefore, a cancer risk assessment was not conducted.

2. From drinking water. EPA does not have monitoring data available to perform a quantitative drinking water risk assessment for trifloxystrobin and the free form of its acid metabolite. In the absence of reliable, available monitoring data, EPA uses models to estimate concentrations of pesticides in ground and surface water. Drinking water estimates for the parent, trifloxystrobin, plus the free form of its acid metabolite CGA–321113, were generated by the SCI-GROW model. Conservative assumptions were built into the ground water scenario used by the Screening Concentration in Ground Water (SCI-GROW) model, such as assuming shallow ground water, coarse soils and high levels of irrigation. The estimate from SCI-GROW represents an upper bound on the concentration of trifloxystrobin in ground waters as a result of agricultural use.

The estimate for the parent, trifloxystrobin, using the SCI-GROW model is 0.006 part per billion (ppb). For the primary metabolite CGA–321113, the estimated value is 4.9 ppb. For risk assessment purposes, EPA used the estimates for the primary metabolite (and not a sum of parent plus metabolite) because the SCI-GROW model assumes 100% conversion from parent to CGA–321113.

Estimates of concentrations of trifloxystrobin and its metabolite in surface water were made using the generic expected environmental concentration (GEENEC) model. The peak estimate for the parent, trifloxystrobin, using the GEENEC model, ranges from 5.29 to 5.56 ppb. The 56-day average for the parent ranges from 0.64 to 2.97. For the primary metabolite, the peak estimate is 47.98 ppb, and the 56-day average estimate is 47.31 ppb. For risk assessment purposes, EPA used the estimates for the primary metabolite (and not a sum of parent plus metabolite) because the GEENEC model assumes 100% conversion from parent to CGA–321113.

A Drinking Water Level of Comparison (DWLOC) is a theoretical upper limit of a pesticide's concentration in drinking water in light of total aggregate exposure to that pesticide in food and through residential uses. A DWLOC will vary depending on the toxic endpoint, consumption and body weight. Different populations will have different DWLOCs. EPA uses DWLOCs internally in the risk assessment process as a surrogate measure of potential exposure associated with pesticide exposure through drinking water. In the absence of monitoring data for pesticides, the DWLOC is used as a point of comparison against conservative model estimates of potential pesticide concentration in water. DWLOC values are not regulatory standards for drinking water. EPA has calculated DWLOCs for acute and chronic (non-cancer) exposure to trifloxystrobin and the primary metabolite CGA–321113 for the U.S. population and selected subgroups.

The DWLOC for acute risk is 72,600 µg/l for females 13+ years (nursing). The DWLOCs for chronic exposure are 1,680 µg/l for the U.S. population, 420 µg/l for non-nursing infants and 1,380 µg/l for females 13+ years (nursing). The estimated concentrations of trifloxystrobin in ground water, 4.9 µg/l and surface water, 47.98 µg/l, are less than the DWLOCs as a contribution to acute and chronic exposure. The estimated concentrations of trifloxystrobin and its primary metabolite in ground and surface water are considered conservative estimates. Therefore, EPA concludes with reasonable certainty that residues of trifloxystrobin in food and drinking water would not result in an unacceptable estimate of acute or chronic (non-cancer) aggregate human health risk.

3. From non-dietary exposure. Trifloxystrobin, is proposed for use on the following residential non-food sites: turfgrass and ornamentals. There are no homeowner uses of trifloxystrobin proposed, but residential lawns are listed on the label as sites which may be treated by a professional pesticide applicator. Therefore, risk assessments (dermal and oral) were conducted for adults and children who may be exposed to trifloxystrobin after application by a professional pesticide applicator. Short and intermediate-term post-application residential risk estimates do not exceed EPA's level of concern, Margins Of Exposure (MOE) range from 430 to 15 million. Acute and chronic aggregate risk (food plus water) estimates do not exceed EPA's level of concern. Short- and intermediate-term aggregate risk estimates also do not exceed EPA's level of concern.

4. Cumulative exposure to substances with common mechanism of toxicity.

Section 408(b)(2)(D)(v) requires that, when considering whether to establish, modify, or revoke a tolerance, the Agency consider “available information” concerning the cumulative effects of a particular pesticide's residues and “other substances that have a common mechanism of toxicity.” Trifloxystrobin belongs to a new class of fungicides, the MAEs (beta-methoxyacryl esters), which are synthetic analogs of strobilurin A, an antifungal secondary metabolite of the fungus Strobilurus tenacellus. Trifloxystrobin works by interfering with respiration in plant pathogenic fungi. The site of action of strobilurin compounds is located in the mitochondrial respiration pathway between cytochromes b and c1 at the level of the hydroquinone binding site. As a result of this mode of action, trifloxystrobin is a potent inhibitor of fungal spore germination and mycelial growth. Trifloxystrobin can be referred to more specifically as an oximinooacetate.

EPA does not have, at this time, available data to determine whether trifloxystrobin has a common mechanism of toxicity with other substances or how to include this pesticide in a cumulative risk assessment. Unlike other pesticides for which EPA has followed a cumulative risk approach based on a common mechanism of toxicity, trifloxystrobin does not appear to produce a toxic metabolite produced by other substances. For the purposes of this tolerance action, therefore, EPA has not assumed that trifloxystrobin has a common mechanism of toxicity with other substances. For information regarding EPA efforts to determine which chemicals have a common mechanism of toxicity and to evaluate the cumulative effects of such chemicals, see the final rule for Bifenthrin Pesticide Tolerances (62 FR 62961, November 26, 1997).

5. Endocrine disrupter effects. EPA is required to develop a screening program to determine whether certain substances (including all pesticides and inert) “may have an effect in humans that is similar to an effect produced by a naturally occurring estrogen, or such other endocrine effect...” The Agency is currently working with interested stakeholders, including other government agencies, public interest groups, industry and research scientists in developing a screening and testing program and a priority setting scheme to implement this program.

D. Aggregate Risks and Determination of Safety for U.S. Population

1. Acute risk. To calculate acute aggregate risk, high-end exposures from food and drinking water sources are compared to the acute PAD. Exposure to trifloxystrobin residues and the free form of its acid metabolite, CGA-321113 in food will occupy no more than 1% of the acute PAD for females 13+ years old (nursing). Acute dietary risk was calculated for females 13+ years old because the endpoint upon which the acute PAD is based is on developmental effects. Residue levels used for food-source dietary risk assessments were very conservative: proposed tolerance levels were used, and 100% crop treated was assumed, with no refinements. Acute dietary exposure estimates were calculated for the 95th percentile. Estimated drinking water levels were calculated using drinking water models (SCI-GROW and GENEEC), and the values are considered overestimates due to the conservative assumptions built into the models. Estimated concentrations of trifloxystrobin residues in surface and ground water are lower than EPA's DWLOCs. Therefore, EPA does not expect acute aggregate risk to trifloxystrobin residues from acute food and drinking water sources to exceed EPA's level of concern for acute aggregate risk.

2. Chronic risk. Exposure to trifloxystrobin and the free form of its acid metabolite, CGA-321113 residues in food will occupy no more than 7% of the chronic PAD for adult population subgroups (females 13+/nursing) and no more than 17% of the chronic PAD for infant/children subgroups (highest subgroup: non-nursing infants). Residue levels used for food-source dietary risk assessments were not refined and did not incorporate percent of crop treated. Estimated concentrations of trifloxystrobin residues in surface and ground water are lower than EPA's DWLOCs. Estimated drinking water levels were calculated using drinking water models, and the values are considered overestimates due to the conservative assumptions built into the models. Chronic residential exposure of trifloxystrobin is not expected. EPA does not expect chronic aggregate risk to trifloxystrobin residues from food, water and residential sources to exceed EPA's level of concern for chronic aggregate risk.

3. Short-term risk. To calculate short-term aggregate risk, high-end residential risk (oral) is combined with chronic food and drinking water risks. Since trifloxystrobin causes the same toxic effects but different NOAELs were found across different routes, risks for food, drinking water and residential exposure paths are combined to estimate short-term risk. Based on EPA's short-term aggregate risk calculation, EPA does not expect short-term aggregate risk to trifloxystrobin residues from food, water and residential sources to exceed EPA's level of concern for short-term aggregate risk.

4. Intermediate-term risk. To calculate intermediate-term aggregate risk, high-end residential risk (oral) are combined with chronic food and drinking water risks. Since trifloxystrobin causes the same toxic effects but different NOAELs were found across different routes, risks for food, drinking water and residential exposure paths are combined to estimate intermediate-term risk. Based on EPA's intermediate term aggregate risk calculation, EPA does not expect intermediate-term aggregate risk to trifloxystrobin residues from food, water and residential sources to exceed the EPA's level of concern for intermediate-term aggregate risk.

5. Aggregate cancer risk for U.S. population. Not applicable. There is no evidence of carcinogenicity.

6. Determination of safety. Based on these risk assessments, EPA concludes that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result from aggregate exposure to residues.

E. Aggregate Risks and Determination of Safety for Infants and Children

1. Safety factor for infants and children. On June 21, 1999, the FQPA Safety Factor Committee determined the 10x safety factor for the protection of infants and children should be removed. The Committee's rationale for removing the FQPA Safety Factor is as follows:

i. The toxicology database is complete for FQPA assessment.

ii. There is no indication of increased susceptibility of rat or rabbits to trifloxystrobin. In the developmental and reproductive toxicity studies, effects in the fetuses/offspring were observed only at or above treatment levels which resulted in evidence of parental toxicity;

iii. It was determined that a developmental neurotoxicity study in rats is not required.

iv. The exposure assessments will not underestimate the potential dietary (food and drinking water) or nondietary exposures for infants and children from the use of trifloxystrobin.

IV. Other Considerations

A. Metabolism in Plants and Animals

For plants. EPA determined that the qualitative nature of the residue in plants is adequately understood for fruits, fruiting vegetables, cucurbit vegetables and peanuts, based on acceptable studies conducted on apples, cucumbers, peanuts, and a supplementary study on wheat. EPA concluded that additional metabolism studies would be needed to support possible future uses. It was further determined that the total toxic residues of concern for plants, both for regulatory and risk assessment purposes, is trifloxystrobin and the free form of its acid metabolite CGA-321113.

For animals. The EPA determined that the qualitative nature of the residue in animals is adequately understood based on acceptable studies conducted in goats and laying hens. It was determined that the total toxic residues for animals, both for regulatory and risk assessment purposes, is trifloxystrobin and the free form of its acid metabolite CGA-321113. Additionally, the liver contribution for metabolite L7a (taurine conjugate of trifloxystrobin) is to be included for risk assessment purposes, assuming equal toxicity as trifloxystrobin.

B. Analytical Enforcement Methodology

The GC/NPD method AG-659A is proposed for tolerance enforcement purposes for residues of trifloxystrobin and the free form of its acid metabolite CGA-321113 in plant and animal matrices. Method validation recoveries indicate that this method adequately recovers residues of trifloxystrobin and CGA-321113, usually with a limit of quantitation (LOQ) of 0.02 ppm. A variant (AG-659) of the method has been independently validated. A method validation trial of AG-659A has been requested of EPA for trifloxystrobin and the free form of its acid metabolite, CGA-321113. In the interim, based on its pre-trial review, EPA has provisionally concluded that method 659A appears to be suitable for tolerance enforcement.

C. Magnitude of Residue

1. Crop field trials. The field trials were adequate in number, geographically representative, and reasonably reflected the proposed use patterns. In all cases, the tolerances EPA recommended were for combined residues of trifloxystrobin and the free form of its acid metabolite CGA-321113.

i. Bananas. EPA recommended for a 0.1 ppm tolerance for whole bananas.

ii. Cucurbit vegetables. EPA recommended for a 0.5 ppm tolerance.

iii. Grapes. EPA recommended for a 2.0 ppm tolerance.

iv. Peanuts. EPA recommended for a tolerance of 0.05 ppm (based on LOQs) for peanuts and 4.0 ppm for peanut hay.

v. Pome fruits. EPA recommended for a 0.5 ppm tolerance.

2. Processed commodities. In all cases, the tolerances EPA recommended were for combined residues of trifloxystrobin and the free form of its acid metabolite CGA-321113.

i. Grape processed commodities. No concentration of residues occurred in grape juice; no tolerance is required. Residues concentrated in raisins in one of two studies; based on the positive study, EPA recommended a 5.0 ppm tolerance.

ii. Peanut processed commodities. Residues did not concentrate in meal or refined oil; no tolerances are required.

iii. Apple processed commodities. Residues did not concentrate in juice; no tolerance is required. Residues concentrated in wet pomace; based on the highest average field trial (HAFT) value and the average concentration factor, EPA recommended a tolerance of 5.0 ppm.

3. Residues in poultry and eggs. Based on the poultry metabolism study, EPA concluded that finite residues of trifloxystrobin are not expected in poultry commodities. Thus, poultry feeding data and tolerances for poultry commodities are not required at this time.

4. Residues in meat and milk. A dairy cattle feeding study was conducted at levels equivalent to 2, 6, and 20 ppm in the diet (mg/kg diet on a dry weight basis). Because the highest feeding level was only 3–4x the calculated maximum theoretical dietary burden (6.2 ppm, beef cattle; 4.9 ppm, dairy cattle) and because residues of trifloxystrobin and the acid metabolite CGA-321113 were detected in fat at this feeding level, EPA concluded that animal commodity tolerances were needed. Based on LOQs each for parent and CGA-321113 of 0.01 ppm for milk and 0.02 ppm for other animal commodities, EPA recommended for a 0.02 ppm LOQ tolerance for combined residues of trifloxystrobin and the free form of its acid metabolite CGA-321113 in milk and a 0.05 ppm combined residue tolerance for the meat, fat and meat byproducts of cattle, goats, hogs, horses and sheep. For risk assessment purposes only, 0.1 ppm trifloxystrobin-equivalent residue is used for liver. This value is based on the sum of the liver contribution of metabolite L7a (estimated at ca 0.05 ppm trifloxystrobin equivalent, adjusted to a 1x feeding level from the goat metabolism study, TFMP-¹⁴C label) plus that of the recommended 0.05 ppm tolerance for the combined residues of trifloxystrobin and CGA-321113 in meat byproducts.

D. International Residue Limits

There are no Codex, Canadian, or Mexican maximum residue limits (MRLs) established for trifloxystrobin. Harmonization is thus not an issue at this time.

E. Rotational Crop Restrictions

An acceptable confined rotational crop study was submitted. The predominant metabolite, trifluoroacetic acid, is not of concern at the (≤ 0.2 ppm) levels reported. Quantifiable residues (≥ 0.02 ppm) of trifloxystrobin and CGA-321113 are not expected in/on crops rotated at a 30-day plantback interval. Proposed plantback restrictions for the Flint™ 50WDG label (immediate plantback of any crop listed on the label; 30-day plantback of all other crops) and the Stratego twin-pack label (immediate plantback of peanuts; 30–105 day plantback of other crops, to accommodate the propiconazole co-active ingredient in the product) are adequate for trifloxystrobin uses. No rotational crop tolerances must be proposed at this time.

V. Conclusion

Therefore, tolerances are established EPA for combined residues of trifloxystrobin and the free form of its acid metabolite CGA-321113 in/on bananas at 0.10 ppm, cucurbit vegetables at 0.50 ppm, grapes at 2.0 ppm, raisins at 5.0 ppm, peanuts at 0.05 ppm, peanut hay at 4.0 ppm, pome fruit at 0.50 ppm, wet apple pomace at 5.0 ppm, milk at 0.02 ppm, and meat, fat and meat by products of cattle, goats, hogs, horses and sheep at 0.05 ppm. There are no U.S. registrations for trifloxystrobin on bananas.

VI. Objections and Hearing Requests

Under section 408(g) of the FFDCA, as amended by the FQPA, any person may file an objection to any aspect of this regulation and may also request a hearing on those objections. The EPA procedural regulations which govern the submission of objections and requests for hearings appear in 40 CFR part 178. Although the procedures in those regulations require some modification to reflect the amendments made to the FFDCA by the FQPA of 1996, EPA will continue to use those procedures, with appropriate adjustments, until the necessary modifications can be made. The new section 408(g) provides essentially the same process for persons to “object” to a regulation for an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance issued by EPA under new section 408(d), as was provided in the old FFDCA sections 408 and 409. However, the period for filing objections is now 60 days, rather than 30 days.

You may also submit an electronic copy of your request at many Federal Depository Libraries.

B. When Will the Agency Grant a Request for a Hearing?

A request for a hearing will be granted if the Administrator determines that the material submitted shows the following: There is a genuine and substantial issue of fact; there is a reasonable possibility that available evidence identified by the requestor would, if established EPA, resolve one or more of such issues in favor of the requestor, taking into account uncontested claims or facts to the contrary; and resolution of the factual issue(s) in the manner sought by the requestor would be adequate to justify the action requested (40 CFR 178.32).

VII. Regulatory Assessment Requirements

This final rule establishes tolerances under section 408(d) of the FFDCA in response to a petition submitted to the Agency. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has exempted these types of actions from review under Executive Order 12866, entitled Regulatory Planning and Review (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993). This final rule does not contain any information collections subject to OMB approval under the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA), 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., or impose any enforceable duty or contain any unfunded mandate as described under Title II of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (UMRA) (Public Law 104-4). Nor does it require prior consultation with State, local, and tribal government officials as specified by Executive Order 12875, entitled Enhancing the Intergovernmental Partnership (58 FR 58093, October 28, 1993) and Executive Order 13084, entitled Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments (63 FR 27655, May 19, 1998), or special consideration of environmental justice related issues under Executive Order 12898, entitled Federal Actions to Address Environmental Justice in Minority Populations and Low-Income Populations (59 FR 7629, February 16, 1994), or require OMB review in accordance with Executive Order 13045, entitled Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997). The Agency has determined that this action will not have a substantial direct effect on States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 12612, entitled Federalism (52 FR 41685, October 30, 1987). This action directly regulates growers, food processors, food handlers and food retailers, not States. This action does not alter the relationships or distribution of power and responsibilities established by Congress in the preemption provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, 21 U.S.C. 346a(b)(4). This action does not involve any technical standards that would require Agency consideration of voluntary consensus standards pursuant to section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (NTTAA), Public Law 104-113, section 12(d) (15 U.S.C. 272 note). In addition, since tolerances and exemptions that are established by EPA on the basis of a petition under FFDCA section 408(d), such as the tolerances in this final rule, do not require the issuance of a proposed rule, the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) do not apply.

VIII. Submission to Congress and the Comptroller General

The Congressional Review Act, 5 U.S.C. 801 et seq., as added by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, generally provides that before a rule may take effect, the agency promulgating the rule must submit a rule report, which includes a copy of the rule, to each House of the Congress and to the Comptroller General of the United States. EPA will submit a report containing this rule and other required information to the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representatives, and the Comptroller General of the United States prior to publication of this rule in the Federal Register. This rule is not a "major rule" as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804(2).

[HCFA-1876-F]

RIN 0938-AH61

Medicare Program; Revision to Accrual Basis of Accounting Policy

AGENCY: Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA), HHS.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: Medicare policy provides that payroll taxes that a provider becomes obligated to remit to governmental agencies are included in allowable costs only in the cost reporting period in which payment (upon which the payroll taxes are based) is actually made to an employee. Therefore, for payroll accrued in 1 year but not paid until the next year, the associated payroll taxes are not an allowable cost until the next year. This final rule provides for an exception when payment would be made to the employee in the current year but for the fact the regularly scheduled payment date is after the end of the year. In that case, the rule requires allowance in the current year of accrued taxes on payroll that is accrued through the end of the year but not paid until the beginning of the next year, thus allowing accrued taxes on end-of-the year payroll in the same year that the accrual of the payroll itself is allowed. The effect of this rule is not on the allowability of cost but rather only on the timing of payment; that is, the cost of payroll taxes on end-of-the-year payroll is allowable in the current period rather than in the following period.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

Generally, under the Medicare program, health care providers who are not subject to a prospective payment or other non cost based payment system are paid for the reasonable costs of covered services furnished to Medicare beneficiaries. Notable exceptions to payment on a reasonable cost basis are for inpatient hospital services furnished in acute care hospitals (section 1886(d) of the Social Security Act (the Act)) and for inpatient services furnished by skilled nursing facilities for cost reporting periods beginning on or after July 1, 1998 (section 1888(e) of the Act). Additionally, there are other limited services not paid on a reasonable cost basis, to which Medicare policy concerning accrued costs, including the revision in this final rule, does not apply.

Section 1861(v)(1)(A) of the Act defines reasonable cost and provides that reasonable cost shall be determined in accordance with implementing regulations. Section 413.24 establishes the methods to be used and the adequacy of data needed to determine reasonable costs for various types or classes of institutions, agencies, and services. Section 413.24(a) requires providers receiving payment on the basis of reasonable cost to maintain financial records and statistical data sufficient for the proper determination of costs payable under the program and for verification of costs by qualified auditors. The cost data are required to be based on an approved method of cost finding and on the accrual basis of accounting. Section 413.24(b)(2) provides that under the accrual basis of accounting, revenue is reported in the period in which it is earned, regardless of when it is collected, and expenses are reported in the period in which they are incurred, regardless of when they are paid.

Section 413.100 provides for special treatment of certain accrued costs, including Federal Insurance Contribution Act (FICA) and other payroll taxes claimed by providers on their cost reports. Before this final rule, § 413.100(c)(2)(vi) provided, without exception, that a provider's share of FICA and other payroll taxes that the provider becomes obligated to remit to governmental agencies is included in allowable costs only during the cost reporting period in which payment (upon which the payroll taxes are based) is actually made to the employee. When an employee is paid by a provider as part of a provider payroll, whether the payment is for time worked during the payroll period or for benefits (for example, vacation benefits) earned in an earlier period, the provider's share of FICA and other payroll taxes is an allowable cost during the cost reporting period in which payment is made to the employee. The policy is based on the fact that a provider becomes obligated to governmental agencies for payroll taxes only at the time that the salary or benefits, upon which the payroll taxes are based, are actually paid to the provider's employee. Further, until the salary or benefits are actually paid, it cannot be known for certain whether there will be a payroll tax or taxes, what the amount of the tax(es) will be, or whether a particular employee will be liable for the tax(es).

II. Provisions of the Proposed Rule

On May 18, 1998, we published in the Federal Register (63 FR 27251) a proposed rule that would revise regulations governing the FICA and other payroll taxes. We proposed to revise § 413.100(c)(2)(vi) to make one exception to the general rule. We proposed to provide that if payment would be made to an employee during a cost reporting period but for the fact that the regularly scheduled payment date is after the end of the period, costs of accrued payroll taxes related to the portion of payroll accrued through the end of the period, but paid to the employee after the beginning of the new period, are allowable costs in the year of accrual, subject to the liquidation requirements specified in the regulations (§ 413.100(c)(2)(i)). Under the proposed rule, accrued taxes on end-of-the-year payroll would be allowed in the same year that the accrual of the payroll itself is allowed, just as Medicare, in other than end-of-the-year payroll situations, allows accrued taxes on payroll in the same year that the accrual of the payroll is allowed. The proposal was based on the notion that the insignificant amount of time passing between the accrual of the end-of-the-year payroll and the payment of the payroll in the following year does not give rise to the same concerns described in section I. above.

We also proposed to change the example in § 413.100(c)(2)(vi) to emphasize, as discussed above, that payroll taxes applicable to benefits accrued, such as vacation benefits, are not allowable until the period in which the employee uses the benefits, that is, takes the vacation. Finally, we proposed to change payroll tax from singular to plural throughout the section to clarify that there can be more than one payroll tax.

III. Comments on the Proposed Rule

We received one letter of comment that favored the proposed rule. The commenter supported the proposal noting that the proposed policy matched revenues and expenses consistent with generally accepted accounting principles and normal business practice.

IV. Provision of the Final Rule

Based on our position that the proposed rule published May 18, 1998 would implement an appropriate exception to the current policy in § 413.100(c)(2)(vi), and in the light of the fact that the comment received supported our proposal, we are adopting the proposed rule as final.

V. Regulatory Impact Analysis

We have examined the impact of this rule as required by Executive Order 12866. Executive Order 12866 directs agencies to assess all costs and benefits of available regulatory alternatives and, when regulation is necessary, to select regulatory approaches that maximize net benefits (including potential economic, environmental, public health and safety effects; distributive impacts; and equity). This final rule, which permits allowance of accrued taxes on end-of-the-year payroll in the same year that the accrual of the payroll itself is allowed, does not make any significant changes in program payments. The final rule is limited in nature, as it affects only accrued payroll taxes for payroll accrued at the end of one cost reporting period that is not actually paid to employees until the beginning of the next period. Furthermore, in this situation, the effect of the final rule is only on the timing of payment; that is, it does not allow an additional cost of payroll taxes but rather allows the cost in the current period instead of in the following period. The final rule should not involve changes in provider accounting systems and, in fact, will free providers or intermediaries from making cost report adjustments, under the current policy, to postpone reimbursement of the cost on the current cost report to the subsequent cost report. We do not expect any significant costs or savings due to this change.

We have also examined the impact of the final rule as required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) (Public Law No. 96-354), and by section 1102(b) of the Act. The RFA requires agencies to analyze options for regulatory relief for small businesses. For purposes of the RFA, most hospitals, and most other providers, physicians, and health care suppliers are small entities, either by nonprofit status or by having revenues of $5 million or less annually. In addition, section 1102(b) of the Act requires us to prepare a regulatory impact analysis if a rule may have a significant impact on the operations of a substantial number of small rural hospitals. Such an analysis must conform to the provisions of section 604 of the RFA. For purposes of section 1102(b) of the Act, we define a small rural hospital as a hospital that is located outside of a Metropolitan Statistical Area and has fewer than 50 beds.

We are not preparing analyses for either the RFA or section 1102(b) of the Act since we have determined, and we certify, that this final rule will not result in a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities and will not have a significant impact on the operations of a substantial number of small rural hospitals.

In accordance with the provisions of Executive Order 12866, this final rule was reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget.

We have reviewed this final rule under the threshold criteria of Executive Order 13132, Federalism, published in the Federal Register on August 10, 1999 (64 FR 43255). We have determined that it does not significantly affect the rights, roles, and responsibilities of States.

Total Annual Burden: 18,050 hours.

Respondents: Businesses or other for-profit.

Estimated costs per respondent: $0.

Needs and Uses: The Commission, in compliance with section 251(b)(3) of the 1996 Act, clarifies and affirms rules in this Order to further Congress' goals of preventing unfair LEC practices in relation to nondiscriminatory access to telephone numbers, operator services, directory assistance, and directory listings. Our clarification and particularization of the obligations imposed on carriers by section 251(b)(3) is necessary to achieve Congress' goals in relation to nondiscriminatory access. This approach should reduce confusion and potential controversy with minimal burdens on carriers and new entrants, many of whom are small businesses.

Synopsis

The Commission promulgated rules pursuant to section 251(b)(3) of the Act in the Local Competition Second Report and Order. In the Second Order on Reconsideration, first, the Commission affirms its requirements that LECs offer access to telephone numbers, operator services, directory assistance, and directory listings that is equal to the access that the LEC provides to itself and that the providing LEC shall continue to bear the burden of proof that it is offering nondiscriminatory access. Second, the Commission affirms its requirement that each LEC provide access to adjunct features related to the provision of operator services and directory assistance services, and precludes LECs from negotiating exclusive contracts with third party vendors of such adjunct features that would prevent competing providers from negotiating licensing agreements with the vendors for access to their services. Third, the Commission declines to change its branding requirements concerning LECs' obligations to rebrand the traffic of interconnecting carriers and resellers, and, further, reaffirms that the benefits of this obligation are to be extended to all "competing providers of telephone exchange service and telephone toll service," including resellers. The Commission concludes that any failure to rebrand the competitor's traffic is presumptively discriminatory and that the burden will be on the providing LEC to demonstrate that it is technically infeasible for it to arrange its network architecture to allow it to brand competitor's traffic. Fourth, the Commission clarifies that, upon request, a LEC shall provide access to its directory assistance services, including directory assistance databases, and to its directory listings in any format the competing provider specifies, if the LEC's internal systems can accommodate that format. In addition, LECs must supply updates to the requesting LEC in the same manner as the original transfer and at the same time that it provides updates to itself. Finally, the Commission deletes as redundant its definition of "directory listings," and concludes that names and addresses of subscribers with unlisted information must be shared among LECs.

Regulatory Flexibility Certification

As required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the Order contains a Supplemental Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis which is set forth in an Appendix to the Order. A brief description of the analysis follows. Pursuant to section 604 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the Commission performed a comprehensive analysis of the Order with regard to small entities. This analysis includes: (1) A succinct statement of the need for, and objectives of, the Commission's decisions in the Order; (2) a summary of the significant issues raised by the public comments in response to the initial regulatory flexibility analysis, a summary of the Commission's assessment of these issues, and a statement of any changes made in the Order as a result of the comments; (3) a description of and an estimate of the number of small entities to which the Order will apply; (4) a description of the projected reporting, recordkeeping and other compliance requirements of the Order, including an estimate of the classes of small entities which will be subject to the requirement and the type of professional skills necessary for compliance with the requirement; (5) a description of the steps the Commission has taken to minimize the significant economic impact on small entities consistent with the stated objectives of applicable statutes, including a statement of the factual, policy, and legal reasons for selecting the alternative adopted in the Order and why each one of the other significant alternatives to each of the Commission's decisions which affect small entities was rejected.

Rule Changes

For the reasons discussed in the preamble, the Federal Communications Commission amends Part 51 of the Code of Federal Regulations to read as follows:

PART 51—INTERCONNECTION

1. The authority citation for Part 51 continues to read as follows:

Authority: Sections 1–5, 7, 201–05, 207–09, 218, 225–27, 251–54, 271, 332, 48 Stat. 1070, as amended, 1077; 47 U.S.C. 151–155, 154, 157, 201–05, 207–09, 218, 225–27, 251–54, 271, 332, unless otherwise noted.

2. Revise § 51.217(c)(3) to read as follows:

§ 51.217 Nondiscriminatory access: telephone numbers, operator services, directory assistance services, and directory listings.

(c) * * *
(3) Directory assistance services and directory listings—(i) Access to directory assistance. A LEC shall permit competing providers to have access to its directory assistance services, including directory assistance databases, so that any customer of a competing provider can obtain directory listings, except as provided in paragraph (c)(3)(iv) of this section, on a nondiscriminatory basis, notwithstanding the identity of the customer's local service provider, or the identity of the provider for the customer whose listing is requested. A LEC must supply access to directory assistance in the manner specified by the competing provider, including transfer of the LECs' directory assistance databases in readily accessible magnetic tape, electronic or other convenient format, as provided in paragraph (c)(3)(iii) of this section. Updates to the directory assistance database shall be made in the same format as the initial transfer (unless the requesting LEC requests otherwise), and shall be performed in a timely manner, taking no longer than those made to the providing LEC's own database. A LEC shall accept the listings of those customers served by competing providers for inclusion in its directory assistance/operator services databases.

(ii) Access to directory listings. A LEC that compiles directory listings shall share directory listings with competing providers in the manner specified by the competing provider, including readily accessible tape or electronic formats, as provided in paragraph (c)(3)(iii) of this section. Such data shall be provided in a timely fashion.

(iii) Format. A LEC shall provide access to its directory assistance services, including directory assistance databases, and to its directory listings in any format the competing provider specifies, if the LEC's internal systems can accommodate that format.

(A) If a LEC's internal systems do not permit it provide directory assistance or directory listings in the format the specified by the competing provider, the LEC shall:

(1) Within thirty days of receiving the request, inform the competing provider that the requested format cannot be accommodated and tell the requesting provider which formats can be accommodated; and

(2) Provide the requested directory assistance or directory listings in the format the competing provider chooses from among the available formats.

(B) [Reserved]

(iv) Unlisted numbers. A LEC shall not provide access to unlisted telephone numbers, or other information that its customer has asked the LEC not to make available, with the exception of customer name and address. The LEC shall ensure that access is permitted to the same directory information, including customer name and address, that is available to its own directory assistance customers.

(v) Adjuncts to services. Operator services and directory assistance services must be made available to competing providers in their entirety, including access to any adjunct features (e.g., rating tables or customer information databases) necessary to allow competing providers full use of these services.

Hazardous Materials Regulations: Editorial Corrections and Clarifications

AGENCY: Research and Special Programs Administration (RSPA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This final rule corrects editorial errors, makes minor regulatory changes, and in response to requests for clarification, improves the clarity of certain provisions in the Hazardous Materials Regulations (HMR). The intended effect of this rule is to enhance the accuracy and reduce misunderstandings of the HMR. The amendments contained in this rule are minor editorial changes and do not impose new requirements.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 1, 1999.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Michael G. Stevens, Office of Hazardous Materials Standards, (202) 366-8553, Research and Special Programs Administration, U.S. Department of Transportation, 400 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, DC 20590-0001.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Background

RSPA annually reviews the HMR to identify errors which may confuse readers. Inaccuracies corrected in this final rule include typographical errors, incorrect references to other rules and regulations in the CFR, inconsistent use of terminology, and misstatements of certain regulatory requirements. In response to inquiries RSPA received concerning the clarity of particular requirements specified in the HMR, certain other changes are made to reduce uncertainties.

Because these amendments do not impose new requirements, notice and public procedure are unnecessary. In addition, making these amendments effective without the customary 30-day delay following publication will allow the changes to appear in the next revision of 49 CFR.

The following is a section-by-section summary of the amendments made under this final rule. It does not discuss all minor editorial corrections (e.g., typographical, capitalization and punctuation errors), changes to legal authority citations and certain other minor adjustments to enhance the clarity of the HMR.

Section-by-Section ReviewPart 107Section 107.14*

Paragraph (a)(1) is revised to update operating hours of RSPA's hazardous materials telephone information line and to provide the correct internet address for the Hazardous Materials Safety website.

Section 107.117

In paragraph (d)(4), the telephone number for emergency exemption processing under the Federal Railroad Administration is updated.

Part 171*Section 171.6*

In paragraph (b)(2), the table of OMB control numbers is revised to reflect current control numbers, report titles, and affected sections for collections of information.

Section 171.7

The International Organization for Standardization (ISO) entry "ISO 780-1985(E), Packaging Pictorial Marking and Handling of Goods", is removed for simplification of the regulations. Package orientation arrows, as illustrated in § 172.312, need only to conform pictorially to the ISO standard. Because the illustration shown in § 172.312 and the ISO standard are identical, reference to the standard is unnecessary.

Section 171.8

In the definition for "hazardous substance", a reference in paragraph (3)(i) to the requirements for determining whether a mixture of radionuclides exceeds the reportable quantity (RQ) is corrected to read "paragraph 7 of Appendix A to § 172.101".

Section 171.14

Paragraph (c), as amended in a final rule published October 1, 1998 (Docket HM-189O; 63 FR 52844), is revised to correct the inadvertent removal of the authorization to offer and transport liquid hazardous materials in non-specification fiber drums after October 1, 1999. This authorization remains valid until funds are authorized by Congress to be appropriated to carry out chapter 51 of title 49, United States Code (related to transportation of hazardous materials). Paragraph (c)(2) containing an expired compliance date is removed.

Part 172*Section 172.101*

Minor changes are made to three proper shipping names. The entry "2-Bromopropanes", UN2344, PG II, is revised to read "Bromopropanes" for consistency with the PG III entry and the UN Recommendations. In the entry "Dichlorofluoromethane or Refrigerant gas R212", UN1029, "R212" is revised to read "R21" to correct a printing error. The entry "2-ethylbutyl acetate", UN1177, is revised to read "ethylbutyl acetate" for consistency with the UN Recommendations. Stocks of preprinted shipping papers and package markings showing these old proper shipping names may be continued in use for a period up to one-year from the effective date of this final rule, as currently provided by § 172.101(l).

For the entry "Nitrogen dioxide, see Dinitrogen tetroxide", UN1067, the wording "Nitrogen dioxide" is corrected from italicized to Roman type. The use of either name is acceptable as a proper shipping name.

For the entry "Nitrous oxide, refrigerated liquid, UN2201", in column (6), the label code "2.2" is revised to read "2.2, 5.1". This revision aligns the entry with the UN Recommendations. Currently, § 172.402(f) requires any Division 2.2 material that also meets the definition for an oxidizing gas to be labeled OXIDIZER.

For the entry "Organic peroxide type C, liquid", UN3103, in column (6), the "5.1" label code is revised to read "5.2" to correct a typographical error. The division number for the material, in column 3, is correctly shown as "5.2".

For the entries, "Paint or Paint related material", UN3066, Packing groups II and III, in column (8B), the reference "202" and "203" respectively are removed and the reference "173" is added in their place. The packagings prescribed in § 173.173 are the same as those prescribed in §§ 173.202 and 173.203.

For the entry "Sulfur, 4.1, UN1350", Special provision N20 is removed. Special provision N20 authorizes the use of a 5M1 non-bulk multi-wall paper bag; whereas, sulfur is not regulated when packaged in non-bulk packagings. In addition, for the entries "Sulfur, 4.1, UN1350" and "Sulfur, 9, NA1350", Special provision A1 is removed. Special provision A1 prohibits non-bulk single packagings on passenger aircraft.

For the entry "Uranyl nitrate hexahydrate solution", UN2980, the packaging exception reference in column 8A, "421, 425", is corrected to read "421, 427". The packaging exceptions for low specific activity (LSA) radioactive materials were moved from § 173.425 to § 173.427 in a final rule published September 28, 1995 (60 FR 50307).

Appendix A to Section 172.101

The second footnote following Table 2, identified as “EEE+”, is corrected to read “+”.

The third and fourth footnotes following Table 2, identified as “” and “*” respectively, are revised to correctly reference paragraph 7 of this appendix, which describes a method for determining the reportable quantities for radionuclide mixtures or solutions.

Section 172.102

In paragraph (c)(3), the second sentence of Special Provision B7 is revised to clarify that the requirement applies to multi-unit tank car tanks only.

In paragraph (c)(5), the following changes are made: Special Provision N20 is removed. Special Provision N71, which is applicable only to the entries “Paint” and “Paint related material”, is redundant with the packaging requirements prescribed in § 173.173 and, therefore, is removed.

In paragraph (c)(7), Special Provision T38, the last sentence containing an expired compliance date is removed.

Section 172.312

In paragraph (a)(2), the reference to ISO Standard 780–1985 is removed. Referencing this ISO standard is unnecessary because the package orientation arrows shown in the standard are depicted illustratively in this section.

Section 172.400

In paragraph (b), in column 1 of the table, the entry “7 (empty packages, see § 173.427) is corrected to read “7 (empty packages, see § 173.428)”. The requirements for empty radioactive packages were moved to § 173.428 in a final rule published September 28, 1995 (60 FR 50307).

Part 173

Section 173.52

In paragraph (b), in the first column of Table 1, the fifth and sixth entries for compatibility groups E and F, in the parenthetical expression, the wording “flammable liquid gel” is corrected to read “flammable liquid or gel”.

Section 173.57

In paragraph (a), the introductory text is revised to update the description of the UN Recommendations on the Transport of Dangerous Goods, Manual of Tests and Criteria, and to correct a punctuation error.

Section 173.62

In paragraph (a), the reference to paragraph “(e)” is corrected to read paragraph “(d)”. In addition, in the Table of Packing Methods in paragraph (c), the entries “133” and “137” are revised to correct a format printing error.

Section 173.121

In the table in paragraph (a), the last two entries in column 3 are corrected by adding the appropriate temperature in Celsius.

Section 173.150

In paragraph (c), a grammatical error is corrected to clarify shipping paper exceptions do not apply to ORM–D materials offered for transportation and transported by aircraft.

Section 173.197

Paragraph (b) containing an expired compliance date is removed. The paragraph designation “(a)” is removed from the introductory text and paragraphs (1) through (7) are redesignated as paragraphs (a) through (g) respectively.

Section 173.314

In the third sentence in paragraph (e), the word “monomethylamine” is corrected to read “methylamine anhydrous”.

Section 173.315

In the paragraph (a) table, the entry for “Liquefied petroleum gas” is revised to reference new note 26 in column 4. This note is added to alert readers that LPG is authorized for transportation in non-specification cargo tanks subject to the conditions prescribed in the current paragraph (k) of this section.

Section 173.318

In paragraph (a)(3)(i), the reference “§ 176.76(h)(1)” is corrected to reference the cryogenic liquids requirements in § 176.76(g).

Section 173.410

In paragraph (h), the semicolon at the end of the sentence is replaced with a period.

Section 173.428

The introductory paragraph is editorially revised to correct a misconception that empty radioactive materials packagings are excepted from labeling. As prescribed in paragraph (d) of this section, the “Empty” label is required to be affixed to the packaging.

Section 173.469

In the formula in paragraph (a)(4)(i), the expression “ 1.3 ± 10^{-4} ” is corrected to read “ 1.3×10^{-4} ”.

Part 174

Section 174.85

In the explanatory notes following the table in paragraph (d), in the line entry which begins with “Group 3”, the wording “PG I” after the wording “2.3” is removed. Compressed gases are not assigned to packing groups.

Part 175

Section 175.700

Paragraph (a)(1) is removed and the remaining paragraphs are renumbered. Packages requiring a Radioactive Yellow-II label do not have a transport index exceeding 1.0; therefore, this paragraph is unnecessary.

Part 178

Section 178.61

In paragraph (f)(2), the reference to “paragraph (m)” is corrected to read “paragraph (j)”.

Section 178.245–4

Paragraph (e) is revised to correctly reference the definition of a “container” in the Coast Guard regulations at § 450.3(a)(2), not § 450.3(a)(3).

Section 178.803

The table is revised to correct the footnote applicable to the hydrostatic testing of metal intermediate bulk containers (IBC) intended to contain liquids or solids loaded or discharged under pressure.

Part 179

Section 179.15

Paragraph (f)(1) is amended to remove an obsolete compliance date and to correct the wording “tank pressure” to read “tank test pressure”.

Section 179.300–15

Paragraph (a) is revised to remove a reference to § 179.302. This section appears in the HMR as “reserved”.

Section 179.400–8

In paragraph (d), a reference to “§ 179.100–23(a)(1)” is revised to read “§ 179.16(c)”. Section 179.100–23 was removed from the HMR in a final rule published June 5, 1996 (Docket HM–216; 61 FR 28666).

Regulatory Analyses and Notices*A. Executive Order 12866 and DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures*

This final rule is not considered a significant regulatory action under section 3(f) of Executive Order 12866 and, therefore, was not subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget. This rule is not significant according to the Regulatory Policies and Procedures of the Department of Transportation (44 FR 11034). Because of the minimal economic impact of this rule, preparation of a regulatory impact analysis or a regulatory evaluation is not warranted.

B. Executive Order 12612

This final rule has been analyzed in accordance with the principles and criteria in Executive Order 12612 ("Federalism"). Federal hazardous material transportation law, (49 U.S.C. 5101–5127) contains express preemption provisions at 49 U.S.C. 5125.

RSPA is not aware of any State, local, or Indian tribe requirements that would be preempted by correcting editorial errors and making minor regulatory changes. This final rule does not have sufficient federalism impacts to warrant the preparation of a federalism assessment.

C. Executive Order 13084

This rule has been analyzed in accordance with the principles and criteria contained in Executive Order 13084 ("Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments"). Because this rule would not significantly or uniquely affect the communities of the Indian tribal governments, the funding and consultation requirements of this Executive Order do not apply.

D. Regulatory Flexibility Act

I certify that this final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. This rule makes minor editorial changes which will not impose any new requirements on persons subject to the HMR; thus, there are no direct or indirect adverse economic impacts for small units of government, businesses or other organizations.

E. Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995

This rule does not impose unfunded mandates under the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995. It does not result in costs of $100 million or more to either State, local, or tribal governments, in the aggregate, or to the private sector, and is the least burdensome alternative that achieves the objective of the rule.

F. Impact on Business Processes and Computer Systems (Year 2000)

Many computers that use two digits to keep track of dates may, on January 1, 2000, recognize "double zero" not as 2000 but as 1900. The Year 2000 problem could cause computers to stop running or to start generating erroneous data. The Year 2000 problem poses a threat to the global economy in which Americans live and work. With the help of the President's Council on Year 2000 conversion, Federal agencies are reaching out to increase awareness of the problem and to offer support. We do not want to impose new requirements that would mandate business process changes when the resources necessary to implement those requirements would otherwise be applied to the Year 2000 problem.

This final rule does not impose business process changes or require modification to computer systems. Because the final rule does not affect organizations' ability to respond to the Year 2000 problem, we do not intend to delay the effectiveness of the requirements in the final rule.

G. Paperwork Reduction Act

There are no new information collection requirements in this final rule.

H. Regulation Identifier Number (RIN)

A regulation identifier number (RIN) is assigned to each regulatory action listed in the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations. The Regulatory Information Service Center publishes the Unified Agenda in April and October of each year. The RIN number contained in the heading of this document can be used to cross-reference this action with the Unified Agenda.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATIONNational Highway Traffic Safety Administration*49 CFR Part 575

[Docket No. NHTSA–99–6019]

Consumer Information Regulations; Uniform Tire Quality Grading Standards

ACTION: Response to Petitions for Reconsideration, Technical Amendment; Final Rule.

SUMMARY: On May 24, 1999, NHTSA published a final rule rescinding the requirement that passenger car manufacturers provide general Uniform Tire Quality Grading Standards (UTQGS) information to purchasers and potential purchasers at the point of sale of new motor vehicles, requiring instead that such information be included in owner's manuals. In addition, the rule removed the requirement that motor vehicle manufacturers supply copies of UTQGS information to the agency. In response to two petitions for reconsideration of that final rule, NHTSA is staying the requirement for the inclusion of UTQGS information into the owner's manual for one year until September 1, 2000. The agency is also clarifying an intended change in the May 24, 1999 final rule.

DATES: This rule is effective September 27, 1999, except Sections 575.6(a)(3) and 575.104(d)(1)(iv) are effective from September 27, 1999, through August 31, 2000. Sections 575.6(a)(1) and 575.104(d)(1)(iii) published May 24, 1999 (64 FR 27921) are stayed effective September 27, 1999 until September 1, 2000. Optional early compliance with those amendments is permitted.

Petitions for Reconsideration:

Petitions for reconsideration must be received not later than 45 calendar days after publication in the Federal Register.

ADDRESSES: Petitions for Reconsideration should refer to the docket and notice number of this final rule and be submitted to: Administrator, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, 400 Seventh Street, SW, Washington, DC 20590.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For technical issues, Mr. P.L. Moore, Safety Standards Engineer, Office of Planning and Consumer Programs, Safety Performance Standards, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, 400 Seventh Street, SW, Washington, DC 20590; Telephone (202) 366–5222.

For legal issues: Mr. Stephen Wood, Attorney, Office of the Chief Counsel, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, 400 Seventh Street, SW, Washington, DC 20590; Telephone (202) 366–2992.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On May 24, 1999, NHTSA published a final rule rescinding the requirement that passenger car manufacturers provide general Uniform Tire Quality Grading Standards (UTQGS) information to purchasers and potential purchasers at the point of sale of new motor vehicles, requiring instead that such information be included in owner's manuals. In addition, the rule removed the requirement that motor vehicle manufacturers supply copies of UTQGS information to the agency, and removed a number of obsolete definitions. Finally, the rule amended the exclusion of tires with nominal rim diameters of 10–12 inches from the UTQGS to now exclude tires with nominal rim diameters of 12 inches or less.

The agency received two petitions for reconsideration: one from the Alliance of Automobile Manufacturers (the Alliance) and one from Volkswagen of America, Inc. Both petitions asked for an extension of the effective date to include UTQGS information into the owner's manual because a substantial number of owner's manuals have already been printed for the MY 2000 vehicles and the publication of the final rule on May 24, 1999 did not provide enough lead time to meet the published effective date of September 1, 1999.

The petition from the Alliance also asked that the words “each manufacturer of motor vehicles” be deleted from Section 575.6 paragraphs (c) and (d)(2).

The agency agrees that there might not have been sufficient leadtime to make the changes to the owner's manual for MY 2000 since some manufacturers have already printed the owners manuals for MY 2000 vehicles. Because manufacturers generally print all the owner's manuals for each model year at one time, we are staying the requirements for one year to September 1, 2000. Because this rule is not being published until after the September 1, 1999 effective date, NHTSA is staying the amended sections in the May 24, 1999 final rule which deal with the owner's manual. NHTSA is also republishing (with new section numbers) the original language of these sections. This will continue the requirements in effect prior to the May 24, 1999 final rule until the new effective date. However, optional early compliance with the new owner's manual requirements is permitted. Should a manufacturer not opt for early compliance, then existing requirements remain in effect.

With regard to 49 CFR 575.6(c), the agency is not making the requested change. This paragraph specifies requirements for providing “information specified in Subpart B of this part that is applicable to each of the vehicles.” Since the changes made in the May 24 final rule to § 575.104(d)(1)(B)(ii) made the requirement that information be provided to prospective purchasers no longer applicable to vehicle manufacturers, 49 CFR § 575.6(c) does not impose any requirements relative to this information on vehicle manufacturers.

With regard to the requested changes to 49 CFR 575.6(d)(2), NHTSA acknowledges that the May 24 final rule did not change the regulatory text to reflect the decision that manufacturers need not submit the UTQGS information to NHTSA. However, this section applies to requirements in addition to those in 49 CFR 575.104. Therefore, NHTSA cannot simply delete the phrase “each manufacturer of motor vehicles” as the petitioner requested. However, NHTSA is amending that section to implement the intended change.

Rulemaking Analyses and NoticesA. Executive Order 12866 and DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures

This document was not reviewed under Executive Order 12866, Regulatory Planning and Review. NHTSA has analyzed the impact of this rulemaking action and has determined that it is not “significant” under DOT's regulatory policies and procedures. This final rule delays the effective date for manufacturers of vehicles equipped with passenger car tires to include UTQGS information in the owner's manual. As noted in the May 24 final rule, NHTSA believes that the cost of adding UTQGS information to owner's manuals, which vehicle manufacturers are already required to provide, will be minimal and in any case, less than the cost of preparing and providing separate UTQGS information at new vehicle dealerships. Many vehicle manufacturers already include UTQGS information in their owner's manuals. Providing greater lead time should only serve to further minimize any costs. NHTSA believes, therefore, that implementation of this rulemaking action will result in an undetermined net overall cost savings to vehicle manufacturers. The agency believes, however, that any net cost savings will be minimal, therefore not warranting preparation of a full regulatory evaluation.

B. Regulatory Flexibility Act

NHTSA has considered the impacts of this rule under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601, et seq.). I hereby certify that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. As explained above, NHTSA believes this rule will have minimal economic impact.

C. Executive Order 12612 (Federalism)

NHTSA has analyzed this rule in accordance with the principles and criteria contained in E.O. 12612, and has determined that this rule will not have significant federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

D. National Environmental Policy Act

NHTSA has also analyzed this rule under the National Environmental Policy Act and determined that implementation of this rulemaking action will not have any significant impact on the quality of the human environment.

E. Paperwork Reduction Act

The provisions of this final rule requiring manufacturers to provide information in owners' manuals explaining the UTQGS tire quality grades for the benefit of consumers are considered to be third party information collection requirements as defined by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) in 5 CFR part 1320. The information collection requirement for 49 CFR part 575 have been submitted to and approved by OMB pursuant to the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act, 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq. This collection of information authority has been assigned control numbers 2127—0049 for part 575, excluding the UTQGS; and 2127—0519, Uniform Tire Quality Grading Standards, 49 CFR 575.104, and has been approved for use through September 30, 2001.

F. Civil Justice Reform

This rule will not have any retroactive effect. Under 49 U.S.C. 30103, whenever a Federal motor vehicle safety standard is in effect, a State may not adopt or maintain a safety standard applicable to the same aspect of performance which is not identical to the Federal standard, except to the extent that the state requirement imposes a higher level of performance and applies only to vehicles procured for the State's use. 49 U.S.C. 30161 sets forth a procedure for judicial review of final rules establishing, amending or revoking Federal motor vehicle safety standards. That section does not require submission of a petition for reconsideration or other administrative proceedings before parties may file suit in court.

G. Executive Order 13045

Executive Order 13045 (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997) applies to any rule that: (1) is determined to be "economically significant" as defined under E.O. 12866, and (2) concerns an environmental, health or safety risk that NHTSA has reason to believe may have a disproportionate effect on children. If the regulatory action meets both criteria, we must evaluate the environmental health or safety effects of the planned rule on children, and explain why the planned regulation is preferable to other potentially effective and reasonably feasible alternatives considered by us.

This rule is not subject to the Executive Order because it is not economically significant as defined in E.O. 12866, and does not have a disproportionate effect on children.

H. Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

The Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-4) requires agencies to prepare a written assessment of the cost, benefits and other effects of proposed or final rules that include a Federal mandate likely to result in the expenditure by state, local, or tribal governments, in the aggregate, or by the private sector, of more than $100 million annually. This final rule does not meet the definition of Federal mandate because this rule involves very little, if any, additional cost to vehicle or tire manufacturers and in no case will annual expenditures exceed the $100 million threshold.

List of Subjects in 49 CFR Part 575

Consumer protection, Labeling, Motor vehicle safety, Motor vehicles, Rubber and rubber products, Tires.

In consideration of the foregoing, 49 CFR part 575 is amended as follows:

PART 575—CONSUMER INFORMATION REGULATIONS

1. The authority citation for part 575 continues to read:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 322, 30111, 30115, 30117, and 30116; delegation of authority at 49 CFR 1.50.

2. Section 575.6 is amended by revising paragraph (d)(2) and by adding paragraph (a)(3) to read as follows:

§ 575.6 Requirements.

(a) * * *

(3) For vehicles manufactured prior to September 1, 2000, at the time a motor vehicle is delivered to the first purchaser for purposes other than resale, the manufacturer of that vehicle shall provide the purchaser, in writing and in the English language, the information specified in §§ 575.103 and 575.104 of this part that is applicable to that vehicle and its tires. The document provided with a vehicle may contain more than one table, but the document must either clearly and unconditionally indicate which of the tables apply to the vehicle with which it is provided, or contain a statement on its cover referring the reader to the vehicle certification label for specific information concerning which of the tables apply to that vehicle. If the manufacturer chooses option (a)(2) of this section, the vehicle certification label shall include such specific information.

Example 1. Manufacturer X furnishes a document containing several tables, which apply to various groups of vehicles that it produces. The document contains the following notation on its front page: "The information that applies to this vehicle is contained in Table 5." The notation satisfies the requirement.

Example 2. Manufacturer Y furnishes a document containing several tables as in Example 1, with the following notation on its front page: Information applies as follows:

Model P, 6-cylinder engine—Table 1.

Model P, 8-cylinder engine—Table 2.

Model Q—Table 3.

This notation does not satisfy the requirement, since it is conditioned on the model or the equipment of the vehicle with which the document is furnished, and therefore additional information is required to select the proper table.

* * * * *

(2)(i) In the case of § 575.104, each brand name owner of tires, and each manufacturer of tires for which there is no brand name owner shall submit to the Administrator 2 copies of the information specified in Subpart B of this part that is applicable to the tires offered for sale, at least 30 days before it is first provided for examination by prospective purchasers pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

(ii) In the case of all other sections of Subpart B of this Part as they apply to post-introduction changes in information submitted for the current model year, each manufacturer of motor vehicles, each brand name owner of tires, and each manufacturer of tires for which there is no brand name owner shall submit to the Administrator 2 copies of the information specified in Subpart B of this part that is applicable to the vehicles or tires offered for sale, at least 30 days before it is first provided for examination by prospective purchasers pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

3. Section 575.104 is amended by adding paragraph (d)(1)(iv) to read as follows:

§ 575.104 Uniform tire quality grading standards.

(1) * * *

(iv) In the case of information required in accordance with § 575.6(a) to be furnished to the first purchaser of a new motor vehicle, each manufacturer of motor vehicles shall, as part of the required information, list all possible grades for traction and temperature resistance and restate verbatim the explanation for each performance area specified in Figure 2 to this section. The information need not be in the format of Figure 2 to this section, but it must contain a statement referring the reader to the tire sidewall for the specific tire grades for the tires with which the vehicle is equipped.

List of Nonconforming Vehicles Decided To Be Eligible for Importation

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This document revises the list of vehicles not originally manufactured to conform to the Federal motor vehicle safety standards that NHTSA has decided to be eligible for importation. This list is contained in an appendix to the agency's regulations that prescribe procedures for import eligibility decisions. The revised list includes all vehicles that NHTSA has decided to be eligible for importation since October 1, 1998. NHTSA is required by statute to publish this list annually in the Federal Register.

DATES: Effective: September 27, 1999.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

George Entwistle, Office of Vehicle Safety Compliance, NHTSA (202-366-5306).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Under 49 U.S.C. 30141(a)(1)(A), a motor vehicle that was not originally manufactured to conform to all applicable Federal motor vehicle safety standards shall be refused admission into the United States unless NHTSA has decided that the motor vehicle is substantially similar to a motor vehicle originally manufactured for importation into and sale in the United States, certified under 49 U.S.C. 30115, and of the same model year as the model of the motor vehicle to be compared, and is capable of being readily altered to conform to all applicable Federal motor vehicle safety standards. Where there is no substantially similar U.S.-certified motor vehicle, 49 U.S.C. 30141(a)(1)(B) permits a nonconforming motor vehicle to be admitted into the United States if its safety features comply with, or are capable of being altered to comply with, all applicable Federal motor vehicle safety standards based on destructive test data or such other evidence as the Secretary of Transportation decides to be adequate.

Under 49 U.S.C. 30141(a)(1), import eligibility decisions may be made "on the initiative of the Secretary of Transportation or on petition of a manufacturer or importer registered under (49 U.S.C. 30141(c))." The Secretary's authority to make these decisions has been delegated to NHTSA. The agency publishes notice of eligibility decisions as they are made.

Under 49 U.S.C. 30141(b)(2), a list of all vehicles for which import eligibility decisions have been made must be published annually in the Federal Register. On October 1, 1996, NHTSA added the list as an appendix to 49 CFR part 593, the regulations that establish procedures for import eligibility decisions (61 FR 51242). As described in the notice, NHTSA took that action to ensure that the list is more widely disseminated to government personnel who oversee vehicle imports and to interested members of the public. See 61 FR 51242-43. In the notice, NHTSA expressed its intention to annually revise the list as published in the appendix to include any additional vehicles decided by the agency to be eligible for importation since the list was last published. See 61 FR 51243. The agency stated that issuance of the document announcing these revisions will fulfill the annual publication requirements of 49 U.S.C. 30141(b)(2). Ibid.

Rulemaking Analyses and Notices

1. Executive Order 12866 (Federal Regulatory Planning and Review) and DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures

This rulemaking action was not reviewed under E.O. 12866. NHTSA has analyzed this rulemaking action and determined that it is not "significant" within the meaning of the Department of Transportation's regulatory policies and procedures.

2. Regulatory Flexibility Act

In accordance with the Regulatory Flexibility Act, NHTSA has evaluated the effects of this action on small entities. Based upon this evaluation, I certify that the revisions resulting from this rulemaking will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Accordingly, the agency has not prepared a regulatory flexibility analysis.

Because this rulemaking does not impose any regulatory requirements, but merely furnishes information by revising the list in the Code of Federal Regulations of vehicles for which import eligibility decisions have been made, it has no economic impact.

3. Executive Order 12612 (Federalism)

This action has been analyzed in accordance with the principles and criteria contained in Executive Order 12612, and it has been determined that this rule does not have sufficient Federalism implications to warrant preparation of a Federalism Assessment. No State laws will be affected.

4. National Environmental Policy Act

The agency has considered the environmental implications of this rule in accordance with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 and determined that it will not significantly affect the human environment.

5. Paperwork Reduction Act

In accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, Pub. L. 96-511, the agency notes that there are no information collection requirements associated with this rulemaking action.

6. Civil Justice Reform

This rule does not have any retroactive effect. It does not repeal or modify any existing Federal regulations. A petition for reconsideration or other administrative proceeding will not be a prerequisite to an action seeking judicial review of this rule. This rule does not preempt the states from adopting laws or regulations on the same subject, except that it will preempt a state regulation that is in actual conflict with the Federal regulation or makes compliance with the Federal regulation impossible or interferes with the implementation of the Federal statute.

7. Notice and Comment

NHTSA finds that prior notice and opportunity for comment are unnecessary under 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(3)(B) because this action does not impose any regulatory requirements, but merely revises the list of vehicles not originally manufactured to conform to the Federal motor vehicle safety standards that NHTSA has decided to be eligible for importation into the United States to include all vehicles for which such decisions have been made since October 1, 1998.

In addition, so that the list of vehicles for which import eligibility decisions have been made may be included in the next edition of 49 CFR parts 400 to 999, which is due for revision on October 1, 1999, good cause exists to dispense with the requirement in 5 U.S.C. 553(d) for the effective date of the rule to be delayed for at least 30 days following its publication.

List of Subjects in 49 CFR Part 593

Imports, Motor vehicle safety, Motor vehicles.

In consideration of the foregoing, part 593 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Determinations that a vehicle not originally manufactured to conform to the Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards is eligible for importation, is amended as follows:

PART 593—[AMENDED]

1. The authority citation for part 593 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 322 and 30141(b); delegation of authority at 49 CFR 1.50.

2. Appendix A to part 593 is revised to read as follows:

Appendix A to Part 593—List of Vehicles Determined To Be Eligible for Importation

Each vehicle on the following list is preceded by a vehicle eligibility number. The importer of a vehicle admissible under any eligibility decision must enter that number on the HS-7 Declaration Form accompanying entry to indicate that the vehicle is eligible for importation.

“VSA” eligibility numbers are assigned to all vehicles that are decided to be eligible for importation on the initiative of the Administrator under § 593.8.

“VSP” eligibility numbers are assigned to vehicles that are decided to be eligible under § 593.7(f), based on a petition from a manufacturer or registered importer submitted under Sec. 593.5(a)(1), which establishes that a substantially similar U.S.-certified vehicle exists.

“VCP” eligibility numbers are assigned to vehicles that are decided to be eligible under § 593.7(f), based on a petition from a manufacturer or registered importer submitted under § 593.5(a)(2), which establishes that the vehicle has safety features that comply with, or are capable of being altered to comply with, all applicable Federal motor vehicle safety standards.

Vehicles for which eligibility decisions have been made are listed alphabetically by make, with the exception of Mercedes-Benz vehicles, which appear at the end of the list. Eligible models within each make are listed numerically by “VSA,” “VSP,” or “VCP” number.

All hyphens used in the Model Year column mean “through” (for example, “1973–1989” means “1973 through 1989”).

The initials “MC” used in the Manufacturer column mean “motorcycle.”

AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Commerce.

ACTION: Notification of waiver of annual Federal summer flounder recreational measures.

SUMMARY: NMFS announces a determination by the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission (Commission) of conservation equivalent state management measures for the recreational summer flounder fishery. Regulations governing the summer flounder fishery require publication of this notification to waive the annual Federal summer flounder recreational measures and to advise vessel permit holders of the equivalent recreational measures approved by the Commission for each state involved. The intent of this action is to conserve summer flounder, while providing the states the ability to tailor their regulations to the fisheries within their respective states.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Paul H. Jones, Fishery Policy Analyst, (978) 281–9273.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Regulations governing the summer flounder fishery are found at 50 CFR part 648. Interim regulations are in effect for the period September 9, 1999, through March 9, 2000. (See the correction to 50 CFR part 648, Fisheries of the Northeastern United States; Summer Flounder, Scup, and Black Sea Bass Fisheries; Recreational Measures for the 1999 Fisheries published elsewhere in this issue.) These regulations allow states to implement, on an annual basis, recreational measures that conserve summer flounder to the same extent as the annual Federal measures specified under § 648.100(c) to achieve the recreational harvest limit. The Summer Flounder Technical Committee of the Commission makes a determination of equivalency annually for any state proposing alternative recreational measures. Any state may implement conservation equivalent measures without a determination of equivalency by the Summer Flounder Technical Committee review, if the state uses the state-specific tables provided by the Commission and maintains a 15-inch (38-cm) or greater total length minimum fish size.

Once a state receives a determination of equivalency from the Summer Flounder Technical Committee or a state implements conservation equivalent measures contained in the state-specific table provided by the Commission, the Commission is required to recommend to the Administrator, Northeast Region (Regional Administrator) that a notification be published in the Federal Register to waive the annual Federal recreational summer flounder measures and to notify vessel permit holders of the equivalent recreational measures approved by the Commission for each state involved.

The Regional Administrator received a determination from the Commission on July 12, 1999, stating that all states included in the Summer Flounder, Scup, and Black Sea Bass Interstate Fishery Management Plan have implemented conservation equivalent recreational management measures using a combination of fish sizes, possession limits, and closed seasons that achieve the required 40-percent reduction in fishing effort for 1999. Therefore, effective 0001 hours, September 27, 1999, through December 31, 1999, the annual Federal recreational summer flounder management measures are waived and the following conservation equivalent recreational measures are approved for each state affected.

	Minimum Size inches (See note)	Possession Limit/ Person	Open Season
Massachusetts	15	8-fish	May 29-Sept.11
Rhode Island	15	8-fish	May 29-Sept.11

Virginia	16	8-fish	Aug.1-July 24
North Carolina	15	8-fish	Jan.1-Dec.31

Note: Metric equivalents are 16 in = 41 cm, 15.5 in = 39 cm, and 15 in = 38 cm.

Vessels fishing in the EEZ are subject to the regulations of the state where the vessel is registered or homeported or where the fish are landed, whichever is more restrictive.

Fisheries of the Northeastern United States; Summer Flounder, Scup, and Black Sea Bass Fisheries; Recreational Measures for the 1999 Fisheries; Correction

AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Commerce.

ACTION: Correction.

SUMMARY: This document contains corrections to the effective dates of the recreational measures for the 1999 fisheries that was published on September 9, 1999, and adds an appropriate justification for the change in date in the Classification section.

DATES: Effective September 9, 1999.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

NMFS published a final rule and interim provisions for the 1999 recreational fisheries for summer flounder, scup, and black sea bass in the Federal Register on September 9, 1999 (64 FR 48965). The rule delayed the effectiveness of the conservation equivalent measures for the summer flounder fishery (§ 648.107) until October 12, 1999. However, the states have already complied with the requirements of the section and the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission has certified that the states have implemented conservation equivalent measures. Delaying the effectiveness of this regulation would preclude the states from tailoring their regulations to meet the needs of their individual fisheries and potentially place unnecessary restrictions on fishermen.

Corrections

In FR Doc. 99-23444, published in the Federal Register issue of September 9,

DATES: Effective September 9, 1999.

On page 48966, in column 2, under the heading, "Classification," in the second paragraph, insert between the third and fourth sentences, the following:

A 30-day delay in the effective date of the conservation equivalent measures for the summer flounder fishery would reduce the flexibility of the states to tailor their fisheries for the most effective management and could place unnecessary restrictions on fishermen.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On August 21, 1998, ATF issued a temporary rule, T.D. ATF-398 (63 FR 44779), to implement various sections of the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997, Public Law 105-34 ("the Act"). On the same day, ATF issued a notice of proposed rulemaking, Notice No. 859 (63 FR 44819), inviting comments on this temporary rule for a 60 day period. In response to requests from the industry, ATF reopened the comment period for an additional 30 days on November 6, 1998, by Notice No. 869 (63 FR 59921).

ATF's Temporary Rule on Labeling of Hard Cider

Section 908 of the Act amended the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (IRC) to create a new excise tax category for hard cider. The temporary rule, T.D. ATF-398, implemented this section, including establishing temporary rules for labeling hard cider. We changed both the IRC and the Federal Alcohol Administration (FAA) Act labeling rules. We explained the changes this way:

Since the term "hard cider" now has tax significance, no wine may be designated as "hard cider" unless it conforms to the definition of hard cider in § 24.10 and is eligible for the tax category of hard cider. The reference to cider in the FAA [Act] labeling regulations at § 4.21(e)(5) is amended to show that the term "hard cider" is reserved for use in wine eligible for the tax category of hard cider. A new § 24.257(a)(3)(iv) has been added to the IRC wine labeling requirements for wine under 7 percent alcohol by volume to show that wine eligible for the tax category of hard cider will be marked "hard cider" rather than simply "wine" under that section.

We set a compliance date of February 17, 1999, for this change, to allow time for producers to change labels to conform with the temporary rule.

Basis of Our Temporary Rule

ATF (as a delegate of the Secretary of the Treasury) has general authority to issue labeling regulations under the IRC, 26 U.S.C 5368(b), which states,

Wine shall be removed in such containers * * * bearing such marks and labels, evidencing compliance with this chapter, as the Secretary may by regulations prescribe.

We also have authority under the FAA Act, 27 U.S.C. 205(e), to prescribe regulations that insure that alcohol beverages are labeled or marked to " * * * provide the consumer with adequate information as to the identity and quality of the products. * * * "

When the new wine tax category was created and named "hard cider," we revised the IRC labeling provisions to allow hard cider to be labeled as such without further indication that it is taxed as a wine. Before that amendment, wines with less than 7 percent alcohol by volume had to be marked with the word "wine" and an appropriate modifier to identify the tax class. We also amended the FAA Act labeling regulations to provide that no product could be called "hard cider" if it was not eligible for the tax category of "hard cider." Before the amendment, the FAA Act regulations had allowed the use of the term "cider" for apple wines in certain circumstances. The term "hard cider" was not addressed.

In short, we required the phrase "hard cider" on containers of wine eligible for the hard cider tax rate and prohibited its use elsewhere. We believed this would evidence compliance with tax law and provide the consumer with adequate information as to the identity of the product.

Public Comments on the Temporary Rule

We received 48 comments in response to the temporary rule and the notice of proposed rulemaking. Two comments addressed the issue of semi-generic wine designations (also covered in the temporary rule and notice), and all the rest concerned the hard cider rules. All the comments will be discussed in a future final rule. In this document, we will discuss only the comments concerning labeling of hard cider. Based on comments we received, we find the temporary rule as originally issued imposes an unintended and unnecessary burden.

Comments on Labeling of Ciders Not Eligible for the New Tax Rate

Producers who make ciders that are not eligible for the new tax rate, but who have been using the term "hard cider" to describe their product, wrote to ask us to change our temporary labeling regulations. Their products include apple wines containing 7 percent or more alcohol by volume, ciders that contain less than 7 percent alcohol by volume with other fruit flavors, and ciders that contain 50 percent or less apple juice. Under the temporary rule, each of these products is excluded from the definition of cider, and therefore is not entitled to use the name "hard cider" on labels. The producers and other interested persons submitted the following comments:

Senators Patrick J. Leahy and James M. Jeffords of Vermont, the principal authors of the provision that reduced the tax on "hard cider," wrote to ATF to express concern at ATF's interpretation of the statute. They said:

Prohibiting producers from using this term if their cider contains more than seven percent alcohol runs counter to this common understanding of the term. Further the change is somewhat anomalous; ciders with more than seven percent are, by most people's thinking, even "harder" than those products that you will allow to be labeled as "hard cider." The rule change will cause consumer confusion, and could well affect sales of the affected products. We urge that you not adopt this proposed rule.

Richard G. Burge of Wyder's Cider noted that they will be "prohibited from calling [their] products 'hard cider', which will be reserved for the handful of apple only fermented ciders that comply. However, Wyder's ciders have been accepted by the discriminating consumer and industry professional alike as a high quality cider alternative to the heavier English styles. Our number two ranking in the California cider market attests to this fact and to the fine quality of the product and its legitimacy as a hard cider. We fail to understand how it is that our hard ciders will not only be unable to enjoy the lower tax rate, but will also be completely shut out of the very product category that we helped to establish. * * * We believe the rules should promote the category, not choke it, and at the very least should allow non-conforming producers to sell their products as hard cider."

Mr. Edward C. Metcalfe, founder and former owner of North River Winery in Vermont, wrote to give historical information on hard cider. He said, "even in the earliest days of cider making, sugar, molasses or other sweetener was often added to raise the alcohol content to give the product more kick and to help it keep better under crude storage conditions. The 'harder' a cider was, the higher the alcohol content. These traditional hard ciders have been made for many years, often with an alcohol content as high as 12%-14%." Mr. Metcalfe expressed concern that "the new labeling requirements would make some current commercial products unsaleable." He enclosed labels from the North River winery, which makes a cider that is 9% alcohol by volume under the brand name "Metcalfe's Hard Cider," a brand name that would be prohibited under the new rules.

The current owners of North River Winery, Annmary T. Block-Reed and Clyde A. Reed, also submitted comments on the history of the term "hard cider" and noted our regulations "would be denying what has been commonly agreed to as the understanding of hard cider for generations, all over the world." They further noted the regulations, as written, would impose a financial hardship, since they are a small winery and would need to replace several years' supply of labels.

Finally, several consumers wrote to express concern about ATF's rules for labeling hard cider. One consumer wrote that "changing the definition of the words 'hard cider' to only mean ciders which are under 7% alcohol would be misleading to consumers and would cause widespread confusion in the marketplace." Another said "I believe that the general public would not be served well in changing the words 'hard cider' to mean something other than their traditional meaning."

Comments on Labeling Cider Eligible for the New Tax Rate

Producers of wines eligible for the hard cider tax rate stated they prefer to use a phrase like "apple cider" or "draft cider" in their marketing:

Brian t of Black isesas Fagan Cider Co, L.L.C. asked a question in his comment: "Our product label currently says 'Goldfinch Cider'. Does it have to say 'Goldfinch Hard Cider' as the main product name designation, or can we retain 'Goldfinch Cider' and note 'hard cider' elsewhere on the label?"

Paul Thorpe of E&J Gallo Winery ("Gallo") commented that the regulations should be amended to allow designation of products in the hard cider category "by an equivalent phrase, such as 'hard apple cider' or 'hard draft cider.'" "Gallo further suggested that we state a minimum standard for location and legibility of this required information. Gallo suggested" on the label in legible type and lettering no smaller than 2 millimeters in height." They noted this requirement would be consistent with the general requirements for mandatory information under the FAA Act regulations for labeling of wine and beer.

Stephen Swift of Matthew Clark Brands, Ltd., makers of Blackthorn Fermented Cider, noted they have been describing their product as "fermented cider" on labels and in advertising for over 12 years. He said the term "hard cider" "implies that the product is distilled (as in hard liquor)."

Roger Daniels of Green Mountain Cidery, makers of Woodchuck Draft Cider, advocated that ATF should take the following positions: "(a) that there are no new regulatory standards or restrictions on the use of the labeling designation 'hard cider,'" (b) that there are no new regulatory standards or restrictions with respect to container or packaging sizes for "hard cider," and (c) that the FAA Act regulations do not apply to "hard cider."

Discussion of Comments

When we drafted the hard cider labeling sections of the temporary rule, we did not intend to cause a hardship for the industry or consumers. We intended to maintain the current system of identifying the tax class of wine by information on the label. The function of ATF's marking requirement is to insure proper identification of the wine for tax purposes, and to inform consumers of the identity of the product. From the comments, we see that the term "hard cider" has broader meaning in the industry and among consumers than the definition given in the regulations.

In light of these comments, we reviewed our need for tax identification on the labels of wines. Although much of our work takes place on wine premises where supplemental information is available to establish the tax rate of a given lot of wine, we believe there are times when we must be able to tell the tax rate from looking at the label alone. For example, we use this information in processing disaster loss claims, conducting market sampling, and verifying import and export documentation. Therefore, we will maintain the requirement that the label must contain sufficient information to establish the tax rate, but we request comments on ways to provide this information with the greatest flexibility for the industry.

We note there is some confusion in the industry on whether the wine labeling rules and standards of fill in 27 CFR part 4 apply to hard cider less than 7 percent alcohol by volume. They do not. The rules in part 4 implement the FAA Act, and apply only to wine which contains "not less than 7 percent and not more than 24 percent of alcohol by volume." That is why hard cider under 7% alcohol by volume is exempt from ATF's label approval requirements and metric standards of fill. Instead, wine under 7 percent alcohol is subject to Food and Drug Administration labeling rules. However, ATF has some wine labeling jurisdiction under the IRC, which applies to all beverage wine containing 0.5 percent or more alcohol by volume. The IRC wine labeling rules are in 27 CFR part 24. These rules do apply to hard cider under 7 percent alcohol by volume.

New Proposed Rule

In this document, we are proposing alternative labeling rules and requesting public comments. In the Rules section of this issue of the Federal Register, we are publishing a Treasury decision postponing the compliance date for the hard cider labeling rules (originally February 17, 1999).

First, we propose to remove the amendment we made to § 4.21(e)(5) of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act wine labeling regulations. Part 4 only applies to wines that contain 7%–24% alcohol by volume. As amended, that section prohibited the use of the term "hard cider" on any wine with 7% or more alcohol by volume. We intended to avoid confusion between these higher alcohol wines and wines in the new hard cider tax class by this prohibition. After reviewing the comments, we find this precaution unnecessary. We believe the required statement of the alcohol content will distinguish the product from other products properly identified as "hard cider" under the IRC. Since the hard cider tax rate is limited to wines under 7% alcohol by volume, it will be clear that a product with, say, a 9% alcohol content is not "hard cider" within the meaning of the IRC.

Second, we are proposing to amend the IRC marking requirements in part 24. When the new tax class of hard cider was established, we amended the labeling rules to substitute the phrase "hard cider" for the word "wine" to identify the tax class. On IRC wine labels, no single item of information gives the tax class. On conventional wines, the word "wine" and the alcohol content (modified by the word "carbonated" or "sparkling" if either applies) identify the tax class.

For products under 7% alcohol by volume, we want to differentiate between ciders which are eligible for the hard cider tax rate and those which are taxable as still wine containing not more than 14% alcohol by volume. Some producers have marketed eligible products as "draft cider," "fermented cider" or "apple cider" and do not wish to use the term "hard cider" on labels. Some producers have marketed mixed-fruit ciders or low-alcohol ciders that are otherwise excluded from the current definition of hard cider under the name "hard cider" and do not wish to rename their products.

To address these concerns, we propose several changes to 27 CFR 24.257. First, we propose to adopt the minimum and maximum type size requirements of 27 CFR 4.38. Several commenters asked about the minimum size for required information under the IRC, because the part 24 regulations are silent on this point. We propose to use the FAA Act type size requirements because they are already in use by the wine industry for higher alcohol products. We do not specify placement of information required in § 24.257, and we do not propose to add any placement requirement as part of this rulemaking. Products with 7 percent or more alcohol by volume will still be subject to the FAA Act rules covering placement.

We propose to remove the requirement that the word "wine" or the words "carbonated wine" must be "part of the brand name or in a phrase in direct conjunction with the brand name." Information on the kind of wine may be anywhere on the label. We also propose to add some alternative labeling terms to reflect the industry practice of calling products "cider" instead of wine on these labels. In our proposed regulation, we do not require or restrict the use of words such as "draft", "fermented" or "hard" to identify products in the tax class of hard cider. We propose, where the words on the label leave doubt as to the tax class, cider makers must include a reference to the tax class by section of the law. For example, the temporary rule has a requirement that hard cider must contain more than 50 percent apple juice. If a cider contains less than 50 percent apple juice, it is taxed as a still wine under 14 percent alcohol by volume, but it may still be called cider. In order to make it clear that this cider is taxed at $1.07 instead of $0.226, we propose to require that the label show "tax class 5041(b)(1) IRC" or an equivalent phrase. This wording is adapted from 27 CFR 25.242, on marking nontaxable cereal beverages. We request industry and consumer suggestions for the best way to show this information on the container. We also request suggestions for other ways to differentiate between ciders eligible for the hard cider tax rate and those which belong in other tax categories without restricting the use of the name "hard cider."

Paperwork Reduction Act

The regulatory sections we propose to amend by this notice contain collections of information which were previously approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). Although we propose amending these sections, the changes are not substantive or material.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) relating to a final regulatory flexibility analysis do not apply to this proposed rule because the agency was not required to publish a general notice of proposed rulemaking under 5 U.S.C. 553 or any other law. Pursuant to 26 U.S.C. 7805(f), ATF will send a copy of this proposed rule to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration for comment on its impact on small business.

Executive Order 12866

It has been determined that this proposed rule is not a significant regulatory action as defined by Executive Order 12866. Therefore, a regulatory assessment is not required.

Public Participation

ATF requests comments on the proposed regulations from all interested persons. We specifically request comments on the clarity of the proposed rule and how it may be made easier to understand.

Par. 3. The authority citation for 27 CFR part 24 continues to read as follows:

Par. 4. Section 24.257 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 24.257 Labeling wine containers.

(a) The proprietor must label each bottle or other container of beverage wine prior to removal for consumption or sale. The minimum type size for information required by this section is: 2 millimeters for containers of more than 187 milliliters and 1 millimeter for containers of 187 milliliters or less. The maximum type size for alcohol content statements is 3 millimeters unless the container is larger than 5 liters. The label must be securely affixed and show:

(1) The name and address of the wine premises where bottled or packed;
(2) The brand name, if different from above;

(3) The alcohol content as percent by volume or the alcohol content stated in accordance with 27 CFR part 4. For wine with less than 7 percent alcohol by volume stated on the label there is allowed an alcohol content tolerance of plus or minus .75 percent by volume; and

(4) The kind of wine, shown as follows:

(i) If the wine contains 7 percent or more alcohol by volume and must have label approval under 27 CFR part 4, the kind of wine is the class, type, or other designation provided in that part.

(ii) If the wine has an exemption from label approval or contains less than 7 percent alcohol by volume, an adequate statement of composition may be used instead of the class and type in 27 CFR part 4. The statement of composition must include enough information to identify the tax class when viewed with the alcohol content. First, the wine should be identified by the word "wine," "mead," "sake," "cider" or "perry," as applicable. If the wine contains more than 0.392 grams of carbon dioxide per 100 milliliters, the word "sparkling" or "carbonated," as applicable, must be included in the statement of composition. If the statement of composition leaves doubt as to the tax class of the wine, the wine must be marked "tax class 5041(b)(1) IRC" or an equivalent phrase. For example, a still wine marked "wine" showing an alcohol content of 16 percent alcohol by volume would be considered as adequately marked to identify its tax class as 5041(b)(2). A wine marked "hard cider" showing an alcohol content of 9 percent by volume would be considered as adequately marked to identify its tax class as 5041(b)(1). However, a wine with an alcohol content under 7 percent marked

"hard cider" and the alcohol content would not be adequately marked to identify its tax class, so the tax class must be shown.

(5) The net content of the container unless the net content is permanently marked on the container as provided in 27 CFR part 4.

Approval and Promulgation of Air Quality Implementation Plans; Massachusetts: Enhanced Motor Vehicle Inspection and Maintenance Program

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Proposed rule.

This revision establishes and requires the implementation of a statewide enhanced motor vehicle inspection and maintenance program (I/M). The intended effect of this action is to propose approval of a program which meets the EPA requirements for I/M. This action is being taken under the Clean Air Act, 42 U.S.C. 7401, et seq. (CAA).

DATES: Comments must be received on or before October 27, 1999. Public comments on this document are requested and will be considered before taking final action on this SIP revision.

ADDRESSES: Comments may be mailed to Susan E. Studlien, Deputy Director, Office of Ecosystem Protection (Mail Code-CAA), United States Environmental Protection Agency, Region I, One Congress St., Suite 1100, Boston, MA 02114-2023 and Division of Air Quality Control, Department of Environmental Protection, One Winter Street, 8th Floor, Boston, MA 02108. Copies of the documents relevant to this action are available for public inspection by appointment during normal business hours at the U.S. EPA, One Congress Street, Boston MA 02114-2023.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On May 14, 1999 Massachusetts submitted a SIP revision for a motor vehicle I/M program. This submittal is a supplement to an I/M plan originally submitted on March 27, 1997 to meet the requirements of the Clean Air Act and the National Highway Systems Designation Act (NHSDA). Although the original NHSDA SIP submittal was disapproved on November 15, 1997, because the state failed to start up the program, elements of the 1997 submittal are still in effect as a matter of Massachusetts law and the Commonwealth is now relying on certain of those previously adopted measures as well as the newly submitted plan to meet EPA's I/M requirements.

I. Background

This action is being taken under the authority of section 110 and 182 of the CAA. EPA believes that proposing this action now under section 110 of the CAA is appropriate because this submittal includes adopted regulations to implement the program, a signed contract to start the program on October 1, 1999, and a description of all elements of the program. The deficiencies delineated below are plans and written procedures which must be developed and delivered by the contractor. For the purposes of this program, "startup" is defined as a fully operational program which has begun regular, mandatory inspections and repairs, using the final test strategy and covering each of a state's required areas. Given the fact that the contract was not signed until late January 1999, and the magnitude of the Massachusetts program, it is not reasonable to expect startup before October 1, 1999.

EPA believes it is reasonable to propose approval and commence public comment now on the Massachusetts I/M program based on the combination of the authorizing statute and regulations plus a signed contract providing for actual implementation of the program. The contract represents a legally binding commitment to implement an approvable program that the public can evaluate as the basis for this proposal. As discussed further below, EPA will not grant final approval to the program until it has commenced operation and all the program elements discussed in the notice are completely documented as provided in the contract. However, issuing this proposal today will allow EPA to complete the public comment process so that we can proceed to final approval of the program once operation has commenced.

II. EPA's Analysis of Massachusetts's Submittal

On May 14, 1999, Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) submitted a revision to its SIP for an enhanced I/M program. This submittal is a revision to the March 27, 1997 I/M submittal. The revision consists of enabling legislation, Chapter 210 of The Acts of 1997, that will allow the Commonwealth to implement the I/M program, adopted regulations, and other required elements, including a signed contract for operating the program statewide, as described more fully below.

The program calls for biennial transient testing in test-and-repair or test-only facilities, however, most facilities are expected to be test-and-repair. The test equipment will be NYTEST (New York State) specifications connected to a contractor operated central computer. The program evaluation year is 2002. Massachusetts will have a systems contractor operating the central computer network and database. This contractor will have the ability to disconnect facilities which are conducting improper testing. The Commonwealth believes that having numerous dynamometers in the field in test-and-repair facilities available for diagnostic work and repair confirmation will significantly improve the quality of repairs and emission reductions from the program.

Massachusetts will rely heavily on a systems contractor to run the central computer system, monitor all emission testing facilities, conduct audits and take action to correct problems. The contractor will also conduct a public awareness program, develop much of the documentation and prepare many of the reports needed for the program. A contract, hereafter referred to as the contract, was signed with Keating Technologies on January 28, 1999 to be the systems contractor for the program for seven years. References in this notice to the contract will generally be to Articles or Schedules in the Scope of Services signed on January 28, 1999 that is part of the contract. Massachusetts will start transient emission testing as required in the contract on October 1, 1999. Massachusetts regulations call for IM240 testing with NYTEST equipment which has been determined to give equivalent emission reductions to IM240 based on information submitted by NY state.

Based upon EPA's review of Massachusetts' submittal, EPA believes the Commonwealth has complied with many aspects of the CAA and the I/M Rule. For those sections of the I/M Rule or of the CAA identified below with which the Commonwealth has not yet fully complied, the Commonwealth must correct those elements before EPA takes final action on the plan. The elements required are documentation and plan elements which must be developed and submitted by the contractor. In the alternative, if Massachusetts fails to submit corrections for the program elements described below, or fails to start the program on time, as discussed above, EPA proposes to issue a limited approval and limited disapproval of the I/M Plan. This would approve the program for its effect in strengthening the SIP but disapprove it for purposes of meeting the CAA I/M requirements. Final action on the I/M SIP is expected to be in the Fall of 1999.

Applicability—40 CFR 51.350

Sections 182(c)(3) and 184(b)(1)(A) of the Act and 40 CFR 51.350(a) require all states in the Ozone Transport Region (OTR) which contain Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs) or parts thereof with a population of 100,000 or more to implement an enhanced I/M program. Massachusetts is part of the OTR and contains the following MSAs or parts thereof with a population of 100,000 or more: Boston-Lawrence-Salem, MA-NH CMSA, Providence-Pawtucket-Fall River, RI-MA CMSA, New Bedford, MSA, Springfield, MSA and Worcester, MSA.

The Western Massachusetts ozone nonattainment area is classified as a serious ozone nonattainment area and is also required to implement an enhanced I/M program per section 182(c)(3) of the CAA and 40 CFR 51.350(a)(2). In addition, Boston is a maintenance area for carbon monoxide (CO). A basic I/M program is already included as a permanent and enforceable measure in the approved maintenance plan, 61 FR 2918 (January 30, 1996). An enhanced I/M program is included as a contingency measure of the plan.

Under the requirements of the Clean Air Act, all counties in Massachusetts would be subject to I/M program requirements. The Massachusetts I/M regulation requires that the enhanced I/M program be implemented statewide. In the Commonwealth's submittal, the Massachusetts I/M legislative authority in M.G.L. c.111, section 142M provides the legal authority to establish a statewide enhanced program. This part of the submittal meets the requirements of this section as set forth in the federal I/M rule and is part of the basis for this proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

The federal I/M rule requires that the state program not terminate until it is no longer necessary. EPA interprets the federal rule as stating that a SIP which does not sunset prior to the attainment deadline for each applicable area satisfies this requirement. The Massachusetts submittal does not address the length of time the program will be in effect. The program must continue past the attainment dates for all applicable nonattainment areas in Massachusetts. In the absence of a sunset date, EPA interprets the SIP submittal as requiring the I/M program to continue indefinitely, and proposes to approve the program on this basis. Once approved, this unlimited term of the program will be federally enforceable as a requirement of the SIP.

Enhanced I/M Performance Standard—40 CFR 51.351

The enhanced I/M program must be designed and implemented to meet or exceed a minimum performance standard, which is expressed as emission levels in area-wide average grams per mile (gpm) for certain pollutants. The performance standard shall be established using local characteristics, such as vehicle age mix and local fuel controls, and the following model I/M program parameters: network type, start date, test frequency, model year, vehicle type coverage, exhaust emission test type, emission standards, emission control device inspection, evaporative system function checks, stringency, waiver rate, compliance rate and evaluation date. The emission levels achieved by the state's program design shall be calculated using the most current version, at the time of submittal, of the EPA mobile source emission factor model. At the time of the Massachusetts submittal the most current version was MOBILE5ah. Areas shall meet the performance standard for the pollutants which cause them to be subject to enhanced I/M requirements. In the case of ozone nonattainment areas or areas in the Ozone Transport Region, the performance standard must be met for both nitrogen oxides (NO_x) and hydrocarbons (HC). As required in the maintenance plan for carbon monoxide, the basic performance standard must be met for CO. This Massachusetts submittal must meet the enhanced I/M performance standard for HC and NO_x throughout the state and meet the basic standard for CO in the Boston area. The program also meets the enhanced performance standard for CO which could be used as a contingency measure if needed.

The 15% rate of progress (ROP) plan and the 9% ROP plan that Massachusetts is currently required to implement for ozone are being proposed for approval elsewhere in today's Federal Register. This allows the Commonwealth to meet the low enhanced I/M performance standard at a minimum rather than the high enhanced performance standard provided EPA proceeds to final action on those proposals. EPA intends to take final approval action on the 15% and 9% plans simultaneously with its final approval of the I/M program.

The Massachusetts submittal includes the following program design parameters:

Network type—Hybrid (test only credit claim)
Start date—1999
Test frequency—biennial
Model year/vehicle type coverage—1984+, light and heavy duty, gasoline Exhaust emission test type—transient
Emission standards—1.2 HC, 20.0 CO, 2.5 NO_x
Emission control device check—yes
Evaporative system function checks—81+
Stringency (pre-1981 failure rate)—N/A Waiver rate—1%
Compliance rate—96%
Evaluation date(s)—2002

Massachusetts has submitted modeling demonstrations using the EPA computer model MOBILE5ah showing that the enhanced performance standard reductions will be met in 2002. This demonstration assumed a 96% compliance rate, 1% waiver rate, and IM 240 credits. The 1% waiver rate is supported by a description of a program which would not allow waivers for high emitters but only for marginal emitters and only after repairs have been done. This estimate is acceptable to EPA.

The Commonwealth's modeling shows that the program meets the "low enhanced I/M performance standard" for HC, NO_x, and CO by 2002. This part of the submittal meets the requirements of this section as set forth in the federal I/M rule and is part of the basis for proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Network Type and Program Evaluation—40 CFR 51.353

The enhanced program shall include an ongoing evaluation to quantify the emission reduction benefits of the program, and to determine if the program is meeting the requirements of the Act and the federal I/M regulation. The SIP shall include details on the program evaluation and shall include a schedule for submittal of biennial evaluation reports, data from a state monitored or administered mass emission test of at least 0.1% of the vehicles subject to inspection each year, description of the sampling methodology, the data collection and analysis system and the legal authority enabling the evaluation program.

The Commonwealth has designed a hybrid network. Massachusetts has committed to meet the program evaluation requirements in the SIP submittal but failed to provide a detailed description of this part of the program. The contract in Article XXVII(E) requires development of a program evaluation plan to be developed in concert with the Commonwealth to meet the requirements of the CAA. The contract conditions this program element on the Commonwealth making additional funds available for developing a program evaluation plan. This element must be corrected through development of a program evaluation plan that meets the requirements of section 51.353 and the element must be fully funded prior to final action on the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Adequate Tools and Resources—40 CFR 51.354

The federal regulation requires the Commonwealth to demonstrate that adequate funding of the program is available. A portion of the test fee or separately assessed per vehicle fee shall be collected, placed in a dedicated fund and used to finance the program. Alternative funding approaches are acceptable if it is demonstrated that the funding can be maintained. Reliance on funding from the state or local General Fund is not acceptable unless doing otherwise would be a violation of the state's constitution. The SIP shall include a detailed budget plan which describes the source of funds for personnel, program administration, program enforcement, and purchase of equipment. The SIP shall also detail the number of personnel dedicated to the quality assurance program, data analysis, program administration, enforcement, public education and assistance and other necessary functions.

The Commonwealth has provided for a dedicated fund (M.G.L. c.10, section 61) to provide the resources needed to implement the program. A portion of the fee goes to the contractor ($4.85) and part of it goes to the state ($2.49) to support the program. The Commonwealth submitted a breakdown of funds and FTE's for the Registry of Motor Vehicles (RMV) and DEP to operate the program in the May 14, 1999 Response to Comments submitted as part of the SIP revision. These resources along with the contractor resources appear to be adequate to meet these needs. This part of the submittal meets the requirements of this section as set forth in the federal I/M rule and is part of the basis for proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Test Frequency and Convenience—40 CFR 51.355

The enhanced I/M performance standard assumes an annual test frequency; however, other schedules may be approved if the performance standard is achieved. The SIP shall describe the test year selection scheme, how the test frequency is integrated into the enforcement process and shall include the legal authority, regulations or contract provisions to implement and enforce the test frequency. The program shall be designed to provide convenient service to the motorist by ensuring short wait times, short driving distances and regular testing hours.

The Massachusetts program will provide biennial testing in a hybrid network. The primarily test-and-repair structure is expected to provide customer convenience. The contractor has criteria to meet to provide convenient locations throughout the state. Legal authority is provided in M.G.L. c.111, section 142M, and the Massachusetts regulations at 310 CMR 60.02(4) Scheduling of Emissions Inspections. This part of the submittal meets the requirements of this section as set forth in the federal I/M rule and is part of the basis for proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Vehicle Coverage—40 CFR 51.356

The performance standard for enhanced I/M programs assumes coverage of all 1968 and later model year light duty vehicles and light duty trucks up to 8,500 pounds GVWR, and includes vehicles operating on all fuel types. Other levels of coverage may be approved if the necessary emission reductions are achieved. Vehicles registered or required to be registered within the I/M program area boundaries and fleets primarily operated within the I/M program area boundaries and belonging to the covered model years and vehicle classes comprise the subject vehicles. Fleets may be officially inspected outside of the normal I/M program test facilities, if such alternatives are approved by the program administration, but shall be subject to the same test requirements using the same quality control standards as non-fleet vehicles and shall be inspected in the same type of test network as other vehicles in the state, according to the requirements of 40 CFR 51.353(a).

The federal I/M regulation requires that the SIP shall include the legal authority or rule necessary to implement and enforce the vehicle coverage requirement, a detailed description of the number and types of vehicles to be covered by the program and a plan for how those vehicles are to be identified, including vehicles that are routinely operated in the area but may not be registered in the area, and a description of any special exemptions, including the percentage and number of vehicles to be impacted by the exemption. Such exemptions shall be accounted for in the emissions reduction analysis.

The Commonwealth program proposes to test 1984 and newer light and heavy duty gasoline vehicles. The mobile modeling contains a model year profile provided by the state for the Massachusetts vehicles included in the program. Legal authority is provided in M.G.L. c.111, section 142M, and the Massachusetts regulations at 310 CMR 60.02(3). Exemptions have been addressed in the modeling. This part of the submittal meets the requirements of this section as set forth in the federal I/M rule and is part of the basis for proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Federally owned vehicles operated in Massachusetts are required to meet the same requirements as Massachusetts registered vehicles. EPA is not requiring states to implement section 40 CFR 51.356(a)(4) dealing with federal installations within I/M areas at this time. The Department of Justice has recommended to EPA that this regulation be revised since it appears to grant states authority to regulate federal installations in circumstances where the federal government has not waived sovereign immunity. It would not be appropriate to require compliance with this regulation if it is not constitutionally authorized. EPA will be revising this provision in the future and will review state I/M SIPs with respect to this issue when this new rule is final. EPA is not proposing approval or disapproval of the specific requirements which apply to federal facilities at this time.

Test Procedures and Standards—40 CFR 51.357

Written test procedures and pass/fail standards shall be established and followed for each model year and vehicle type included in the program. Test procedures and standards are detailed in 40 CFR 51.357 and in the EPA documents entitled "High-Tech I/M Test Procedures, Emission Standards, Quality Control Requirements, and Equipment Specifications," EPA-AA-EPSPD-IM-93-1, dated April 1994 and "Acceleration Simulation Mode Test Procedures, Emission Standards, Quality Control Requirements, and Equipment Specifications," EPA-AA-RSPD-IM-96-2, dated July 1996. The federal I/M regulation also requires vehicles that have been altered from their original certified configuration (i.e. engine or fuel switching) to be subject to the requirements of section 51.357(d).

Massachusetts will use an IM240 test with NYTEST equipment but detailed test procedure has not been submitted by the State. The contractor is required to develop inspection protocols for all test procedures. This element must be corrected through development of protocols that meet the requirements of section 51.357 prior to final action on the Massachusetts SIP.

Test Equipment—40 CFR 51.358

Computerized test systems are required for performing any measurement on subject vehicles. The federal I/M regulation requires that the state SIP submittal include written technical specifications for all test equipment used in the program. The specifications shall describe the emission analysis process, the necessary test equipment, the required features, and written acceptance testing criteria and procedures.

Although the Massachusetts submittal does not contain the written technical specifications for test equipment to be used in the program, it does state in the May 14, 1999 Response to Comments that the NYTEST system will be used. The contractor is required in Article XXVI of the contract to develop equipment specifications and acceptance testing criteria. This element must be corrected through the development of specifications and criteria that meet the requirements of section 51.358 prior to final action on the Massachusetts SIP.

Quality Control—40 CFR 51.359

Quality control measures shall insure that emission measurement equipment is calibrated and maintained properly, and that inspection, calibration records, and control charts are accurately created, recorded and maintained.

The Massachusetts submittal does not include provisions which describe and establish quality control measures for the emission measurement equipment, and record keeping requirements. The contractor is required in Schedule 10 and Articles IV, XXVI and XXVII to develop plans to address these areas. This element must be corrected through development of quality control plans that meet the requirements of section 51.359 prior to final action on this submittal.

Waivers and Compliance Via Diagnostic Inspection—40 CFR 51.360

The federal I/M regulation allows for the issuance of a waiver, which is a form of compliance with the program requirements that allows a motorist to comply without meeting the applicable test standards. For enhanced I/M programs, an expenditure of at least $450 in repairs, adjusted annually to reflect the change in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) as compared to the CPI for 1989, is required in order to qualify for a waiver. Waivers can only be issued after a vehicle has failed a retest performed after all qualifying repairs have been made. Any available warranty coverage must be used to obtain repairs before expenditures can be counted toward the cost limit. Tampering related repairs shall not be applied toward the cost limit. Repairs must be appropriate to the cause of the test failure. Repairs for 1980 and newer model year vehicles must be performed by a recognized repair technician. The federal regulation allows for compliance via a diagnostic inspection after failing a retest on emissions and requires quality control of waiver issuance. The SIP must set a maximum waiver rate and must describe corrective action that would be taken if the waiver rate exceeds that committed to in the SIP.

Massachusetts has chosen to allow cost waivers and compliance via diagnostic inspection. The Commonwealth waiver procedure as set forth at 310 CMR 60.02(11) provides for waivers of vehicles up to five years old after spending $400, five up to 10 year old vehicles after spending $300 and for vehicles ten years old and older $200. Only repairs performed by a registered repair technician can be credited toward a waiver. The Commonwealth regulation establishes a program which accomplishes the same end as the EPA program, which is to get very high emitting vehicles off the road. The Massachusetts waiver regulation provides that if the vehicle is not within five times the standard for the first two years, no waiver will be issued. After the first two years, this drops to three times the standard. 310 CMR 60.02(11)(c)(2). The Commonwealth estimates that this program will allow no more than the equivalent of a 1% waiver rate. This element of the submittal is part of the basis for proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Motorist Compliance Enforcement—40 CFR 51.361

The federal regulation requires that compliance shall be ensured through the denial of motor vehicle registration in enhanced I/M programs unless an exception for use of an existing alternative is approved. An enhanced I/M area may use either sticker-based enforcement programs or computer-matching programs if either of these programs were used in the existing program, which was operating prior to passage of the 1990 Clean Air Act Amendments, and it can be demonstrated that the alternative has been more effective than registration denial. The SIP shall provide information concerning the enforcement process, legal authority to implement and enforce the program, and a commitment to a compliance rate to be used for modeling purposes and to be maintained in practice.

The Commonwealth is planning on utilizing a sticker system for visible evidence of compliance, but registration will be suspended or not renewed for noncompliance as specified in 310 CMR 60.02(16) Enforcement and 540 CMR 4.07(4). The data base will be maintained by the contractor and tied in with the Registry of Motor Vehicles database. The Commonwealth has specified a 96% compliance rate to be monitored in practice. This part of the submittal meets the requirements of this section as set forth in the federal I/M rule and is part of the basis for proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Motorist Compliance Enforcement Program Oversight—40 CFR 51.362

The federal I/M regulation requires that the enforcement program shall be audited regularly and shall follow effective program management practices, including adjustments to improve operation when necessary. The SIP shall include quality control and quality assurance procedures to be used to insure the effective overall performance of the enforcement system. An information management system shall be established which will characterize, evaluate and enforce the program.

The contract Schedule 5, Database Plan details the coordination of data between the workstation and ALARS (the Registry database) to enforce, audit and evaluate this requirement. The details of this element of the program are addressed in the scope of services, evaluation, and management portions of the contract. This part of the submittal meets the requirements of this section as set forth in the federal I/M rule and is part of the basis for proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Quality Assurance—40 CFR 51.363

An ongoing quality assurance program shall be implemented to discover, correct and prevent fraud, waste, and abuse in the program. The program shall include covert and overt performance audits of the inspectors, audits of station and inspector records, equipment audits, and formal training of all state I/M enforcement officials and auditors. A description of the quality assurance program which includes written procedure manuals on the above discussed items must be submitted as part of the SIP.

The quality assurance program is included as part of Schedule 7 of the Contract to be supplied which is designed to meet the auditing requirements of the federal I/M rule. Written procedures have not yet been developed and are required to be developed by the Contractor. This is an element which the Commonwealth must correct through development of a quality assurance program meeting the requirements of section 51.363 prior to final action on this submittal.

Enforcement Against Contractors, Stations and Inspectors—40 CFR 51.364

Enforcement against licensed stations, contractors and inspectors shall include swift, sure, effective, and consistent penalties for violation of program requirements. The federal I/M regulation requires the establishment of minimum penalties for violations of program rules and procedures which can be imposed against stations, contractors and inspectors. The legal authority for establishing and imposing penalties, civil fines, license suspensions and revocations must be included in the SIP. State quality assurance officials shall have the authority to temporarily suspend station and/or inspector licenses immediately upon finding a violation that directly affects emission reduction benefits, unless constitutionally prohibited. An official opinion explaining any state constitutional impediments to immediate suspension authority must be included in the submittal. The SIP shall describe the administrative and judicial procedures and responsibilities relevant to the enforcement process, including which agencies, courts and jurisdictions are involved, who will prosecute and adjudicate cases and the resources and sources of those resources which will support this function.

Regulation 310 CMR 60.02(16) and 540 CMR 4.08 provide for enforcement against stations and inspectors. The Registrar can enforce these regulations after a hearing with a 14 day notice required. There is an appeal board within the Registry structure to which appeals of the Registrar's or Commissioners decisions can be made. Sufficient resources have been provided to enforce the program and are addressed in the resources section. The contractor may disconnect inspection stations from the computer system without a prior hearing if there is a problem with calibration or if the station is suspected of conducting improper inspections. The contract terms provide for penalties against the contractor. In addition M.G.L. c. 111, section 142M(f) provides for fines and civil penalties of up to $25,000 per day or imprisonment for up to a year for falsely issuing or denying an inspection sticker or tampering with any emissions control device. This part of the submittal meets the requirements of this section as set forth in the federal I/M rule and is part of the basis for proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Data Collection—40 CFR 51.365

Accurate data collection is essential to the management, evaluation and enforcement of an I/M program. The federal I/M regulation requires data to be gathered on each individual test conducted and on the results of the quality control checks of test equipment required under 40 CFR 51.359.

The Massachusetts SIP provides a commitment to meet all of the data collection requirements and has listed all the required data which will be collected in Schedule 5 of the Contract. Data collection for quality control is addressed in Article IV(E) and Schedule 7 of the contract. This part of the submittal meets the requirements of this section as set forth in the federal I/M rule and is part of the basis for proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Data Analysis and Reporting—40 CFR 51.366

Data analysis and reporting are required to allow for monitoring and evaluation of the program by the state and EPA. The federal I/M regulation requires annual reports to be submitted which provide information and statistics and summarize activities performed for each of the following programs: testing, quality assurance, quality control and enforcement. These reports are to be submitted by July and shall provide statistics for the period of January to December of the previous year. A biennial report shall be submitted to EPA which addresses changes in program design, regulations, legal authority, program procedures and any weaknesses in the program found during the two year period and how these problems will be or were corrected.

The Massachusetts data analysis and reporting procedures are required in many parts of the contract including the Scope of Services and Schedule 5 Database Plan. In the May 14, 1999 Response to Comments, the Commonwealth reiterated its commitment to meet these requirements for both annual and biennial reporting. This part of the submittal meets the requirements of this section as set forth in the federal I/M rule and is part of the basis for proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Inspector Training and Licensing or Certification—40 CFR 51.367

The federal I/M regulation requires all inspectors to be formally trained and licensed or certified to perform inspections.

The Massachusetts proposed regulation at 310 CMR 60.02(14) requires training and certification of inspectors. Article XXVII(C) requires the contractor to train and test up to 4000 inspectors with the appropriate curriculum as specified in the federal I/M rule. This part of the submittal meets the requirements of this section as set forth in the federal I/M rule and is part of the basis for proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Public Information and Consumer Protection—40 CFR 51.368

The federal I/M regulation requires the SIP to include public information and consumer protection programs.

The Massachusetts SIP submittal contains a detailed public awareness plan in Schedule 9 of the Contract. This part of the submittal meets the requirements of this section as set forth in the federal I/M rule and is part of the basis for proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Improving Repair Effectiveness—40 CFR 51.369

Effective repairs are the key to achieving program goals. The federal regulation requires states to take steps to ensure that the capability exists in the repair industry to repair vehicles. The SIP must include a description of the technical assistance program to be implemented, a description of the procedures and criteria to be used in meeting the performance monitoring requirements required in the federal regulation, and a description of the repair technician training resources available in the community.

Article XXVII(L) of the contract provides for adequate training, technical assistance and performance monitoring of mechanics. This part of the submittal meets the requirements of this section as set forth in the federal I/M rule and is part of the basis for proposed approval of the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

Compliance With Recall Notices—40 CFR 51.370

The federal regulation requires the states to establish methods to ensure that vehicles that are subject to enhanced I/M and are included in a emission related recall receive the required repairs prior to completing the emission test and/or renewing the vehicle registration.

EPA will adopt regulations to require submittal of this information by manufacturers to develop a database to support this requirement. This part of the I/M rule will be reevaluated after EPA adopts the needed rule.

On-Road Testing—40 CFR 51.371

On-road testing is required in enhanced I/M areas. The use of either remote sensing devices (RSD) or roadside pullovers including tailpipe emission testing can be used to meet the federal regulations. The program must include on-road testing of 0.5% of the subject fleet or 20,000 vehicles, whichever is less, in the nonattainment area or the I/M program area. Motorists that have passed an emission test and are found to be high emitters as a result of an on-road test shall be required to pass an out-of-cycle test.

The Massachusetts SIP submittal describes an on-road testing program in Article XXVII(F) of the Contract which meets the testing requirements of the federal I/M rule. DEP and RMV are authorized to use on-road testing for "inspection and enforcement purposes." M.G.L. c. 111, section 142M(c). In addition, a statute governing the RMV provides that it is illegal to permit to escape from a motor vehicle smoke or pollutants in such amounts or at such levels as may violate motor vehicle air pollution control regulations, including the I/M program authorized in chapter 111 of the Massachusetts General Laws. M.G.L. c. 90, section 16. Motor vehicles can be immediately removed from the road for violation of this section. As a matter of courtesy, the state can issue a repair ticket which requires repair of the vehicle and passing a reinspection (out-of-cycle test) of the vehicle within a specified number of days. In addition, on August 20, 1999, EPA proposed in the Federal Register at 64 FR 45491 additional flexibility for I/M programs. One of these proposed revisions would allow approval of on-road testing programs not having mandated off-cycle testing for high emitting vehicles. The Massachusetts program would also meet this revised requirement if it is finalized prior to final action on the Massachusetts I/M SIP. Generally the RSD program elements would be approvable, but for a condition included in Article XXVII(F)(1) of the Contract. The condition provides that if the parties cannot agree on a price for remote sensing services, all or a portion of the RSD services may be eliminated. The parties must reach an agreement on RSD pricing that provides for a program consistent with EPA's requirements prior to final action on the Massachusetts I/M SIP.

State Implementation Plan Submissions/Implementation Deadlines—40 CFR 51.372–51.373

The Massachusetts program provides for mandatory testing to begin on October 1, 1999 in accordance with the terms of the Contract Schedule 6. EPA believes that this date, is as soon as practicable for Massachusetts given the current stage of development of the Commonwealths program.

III. Discussion for Rulemaking Action

In order for EPA to approve the Massachusetts I/M SIP, the state must submit approvable plans for the following elements of the SIP prior to final EPA action on this submittal. These elements are: Network Type and Program Evaluation—40 CFR 51.353, Test Procedures and Standards—40 CFR 51.357, Test Equipment—40 CFR 51.358, Quality Control—40 CFR 51.359, Quality Assurance—40 CFR 51.363, and On-road Testing—40 CFR 51.371.

EPA expects that the Commonwealth will, by October 1, 1999, submit the required elements as identified in this document and also startup the program. If the Commonwealth does not submit the required elements and startup the I/M program by October 1, 1999, EPA proposes in the alternative to issue a limited approval and limited disapproval of the program. This would approve the program for its effect in strengthening the SIP but disapprove it for purposes of meeting the CAA I/M requirements.

EPA is soliciting public comments on the issues discussed in this notice or on other relevant matters. These comments will be considered before taking final action. Interested parties may participate in the Federal rulemaking procedure by submitting written comments to the EPA Regional office listed in the ADDRESSES section of this document.

IV. Proposed Action

EPA is proposing to approve this revision to the Massachusetts SIP for an enhanced I/M program. EPA will not take final action on this submittal until after the date Massachusetts is scheduled to start the I/M program and submit the items listed above which are required work outputs of the contract. If Massachusetts fails, EPA will instead issue a limited approval and limited disapproval of the program.

Nothing in this action should be construed as permitting or allowing or establishing a precedent for any future request for revision to any state implementation plan. Each request for revision to the state implementation plan shall be considered separately in light of specific technical, economic, and environmental factors and in relation to relevant statutory and regulatory requirements.

V. Administrative Requirements

A. Executive Order 12866

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has exempted this regulatory action from Executive Order (E.O.) 12866, entitled "Regulatory Planning and Review."

The action has been classified as a Table 3 action for signature by the Regional Administrator under the procedures published in the Federal Register on January 19, 1989 (54 FR 2214–2225), as revised by a July 10, 1995 memorandum from Mary Nichols, Assistant Administrator for Air and Radiation.

B. Executive Orders on Federalism

Under E.O. 12875, EPA may not issue a regulation that is not required by statute and that creates a mandate upon a state, local, or tribal government, unless the Federal government provides the funds necessary to pay the direct compliance costs incurred by those governments, or EPA consults with those governments. If EPA complies by consulting, Executive Order 12875 requires EPA to provide to the Office of Management and Budget a description of the extent of EPA's prior consultation with representatives of affected state, local, and tribal governments, the nature of their concerns, copies of written communications from the governments, and a statement supporting the need to issue the regulation. In addition, E.O. 12875 requires EPA to develop an effective process permitting elected officials and other representatives of state, local, and tribal governments "to provide meaningful and timely input in the development of regulatory proposals containing significant unfunded mandates."

Today's rule does not create a mandate on state, local or tribal governments. The rule does not impose any enforceable duties on these entities. Accordingly, the requirements of section 1(a) of E.O. 12875 do not apply to this rule.

On August 4, 1999, President Clinton issued a new executive order on federalism, Executive Order 13132, (64 FR 43255 (August 10, 1999)), which will take effect on November 2, 1999. In the interim, the current Executive Order 12612, (52 FR 41685 (October 30, 1987)), on federalism still applies. This rule will not have a substantial direct effect on States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 12612. The rule affects only 1 State, and does not alter the relationship or the distribution of power and responsibilities established in the Clean Air Act.

C. Executive Order 13045

Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997), applies to any rule that: (1) is determined to be "economically significant" as defined under E.O. 12866, and (2) concerns an environmental health or safety risk that EPA has reason to believe may have a disproportionate effect on children. If the regulatory action meets both criteria, the Agency must evaluate the environmental health or safety effects of the planned rule on children, and explain why the planned regulation is preferable to other potentially effective and reasonably feasible alternatives considered by the Agency.

This rule is not subject to E.O. 13045 because it is not economically significant within the meaning of EO 12866 and it does not involve decisions intended to mitigate environmental health or safety risks.

D. Executive Order 13084

Under E.O. 13084, EPA may not issue a regulation that is not required by statute, that significantly affects or uniquely affects the communities of Indian tribal governments, and that imposes substantial direct compliance costs on those communities, unless the Federal government provides the funds necessary to pay the direct compliance costs incurred by the tribal governments, or EPA consults with those governments. If EPA complies by consulting, Executive Order 13084 requires EPA to provide to the Office of Management and Budget, in a separately identified section of the preamble to the rule, a description of the extent of EPA's prior consultation with representatives of affected tribal governments, a summary of the nature of their concerns, and a statement supporting the need to issue the regulation. In addition, Executive Order 13084 requires EPA to develop an effective process permitting elected officials and other representatives of Indian tribal governments "to provide meaningful and timely input in the development of regulatory policies on matters that significantly or uniquely affect their communities."

Today's rule does not significantly or uniquely affect the communities of Indian tribal governments. This action does not involve or impose any requirements that affect Indian Tribes. Accordingly, the requirements of section 3(b) of E.O. 13084 do not apply to this rule.

E. Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) generally requires an agency to conduct a regulatory flexibility analysis of any rule subject to notice and comment rulemaking requirements unless the agency certifies that the rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Small entities include small businesses, small not-for-profit enterprises, and small governmental jurisdictions. This proposed rule will not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities because SIP approvals under section 110 and subchapter I, part D of the Clean Air Act do not create any new requirements but simply approve requirements that the State is already imposing. Therefore, because the Federal SIP approval does not create any new requirements, I certify that this action will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

F. Unfunded Mandates

Under sections 202 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 ("Unfunded Mandates Act"), signed into law on March 22, 1995, EPA must prepare a budgetary impact statement to accompany any proposed or final rule that includes a Federal mandate that may result in estimated costs to State, local, or tribal governments in the aggregate; or to the private sector, of $100 million or more. Under section 205, EPA must select the most cost-effective and least burdensome alternative that achieves the objectives of the rule and is consistent with statutory requirements. Section 203 requires EPA to establish a plan for informing and advising any small governments that may be significantly or uniquely impacted by the rule.

EPA has determined that the approval action proposed does not include a Federal mandate that may result in estimated costs of $100 million or more to either State, local, or tribal governments in the aggregate, or to the private sector. This Federal action approves pre-existing requirements under State or local law, and imposes no new requirements. Accordingly, no additional costs to State, local, or tribal governments, or to the private sector, result from this action.

A. What Action is EPA Taking Today?

EPA is proposing approval of rate-of-progress (ROP) emission reduction plans submitted by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for the Springfield serious ozone nonattainment area as revisions to the Commonwealth's SIP. The ROP plans document how Massachusetts complied with the provisions of sections 182 (b)(1) and (c)(2) of the Federal Clean Air Act (the Act). These sections of the Act require states containing certain ozone nonattainment areas to develop strategies to reduce emissions of the pollutants that react to form ground level ozone.

B. Why Was Massachusetts Required To Reduce Its Emissions of Ozone Forming Pollutants?

Massachusetts was required to develop plans to reduce ozone precursor emissions because it contains a serious ozone nonattainment area. A final rule published by EPA on November 6, 1991 (56 FR 56694) designated four counties in the western part of the State a serious ozone nonattainment area. The four counties included are Berkshire, Franklin, Hampden, and Hampshire counties, and the area is referred to as the Springfield, Massachusetts serious ozone nonattainment area. Sections 182 (b)(1) and (c)(2) of the Act require that serious ozone nonattainment areas develop ROP plans to reduce ozone forming pollutant emissions in the nonattainment area.

As stated above, two provisions of the Act make achieving these emission reductions necessary. Under section 182(b)(1), Massachusetts needed to develop a plan to reduce volatile organic compound (VOC) emissions by 15 percent by 1996. These plans are referred to as "15 percent ROP" plans. Requirements in section 182(c)(2) of the Act instruct Massachusetts to achieve additional emission reductions. These additional reductions must lower ozone precursor emissions (VOC or nitrogen oxides) by 9 percent by 1999. These plans are referred to as "post 1996 ROP" plans.

C. Which Specific Air Pollutants Are Targeted by the Commonwealth's Plan?

The Commonwealth's plans are geared toward reducing emissions of VOCs and nitrogen oxides (NO_x). These compounds react in the presence of heat and sunlight to form ozone, which is a primary ingredient of smog.

D. What Are the Sources of These Pollutants?

VOCs are emitted from a variety of sources, including motor vehicles, a variety of consumer and commercial products such as paints and solvents, chemical plants, gasoline stations, and other industrial sources. NO_x is emitted from motor vehicles, power plants, and other sources that burn fossil fuels.

E. What Harmful Effects Can These Pollutants Produce?

VOCs and NO_x react in the atmosphere to form ozone, the prime ingredient of smog in our cities and many rural areas of the country. Though it occurs naturally at elevated levels in our atmosphere, at ground level it is the prime ingredient of smog. When inhaled, even at very low levels, ozone can:

- Cause acute respiratory problems;
- Aggravate asthma;
- Cause significant temporary decreases in lung capacity in some healthy adults;
- Cause inflammation of lung tissue;
- Lead to hospital admissions and emergency room visits; and
- Impair the body's immune system defenses.

F. Should I Be Concerned if I Live Near an Industry That Emits a Significant Amount of These Pollutants?

Industrial facilities that emit large amounts of these pollutants are monitored by the Commonwealth's environmental agency, the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP). Many facilities are required to emit air pollutants through tall stacks to ensure that high concentrations of pollutants do not exist at ground level. Permits issued to these facilities include information on which pollutants are being released, how much may be released, and what steps the source's owner or operator is taking to reduce pollution. The Massachusetts DEP makes permit applications and permits readily available to the public for review. You can contact the Massachusetts DEP for more information about air pollution emitted by industrial facilities in your neighborhood.

G. To What Degree Do the Commonwealth's Plans Reduce Emissions?

By 1999, the Commonwealth's plans will reduce VOC emissions in the Springfield area by 20 percent and NO_x emissions by 8 percent compared to 1990 emission levels.

H. Why Didn't EPA Approve the Commonwealth's Prior Versions of These Plans?

EPA proposed to approve a prior version of the Massachusetts 15 percent plan submitted to EPA in 1997 (see July 14, 1997 Federal Register, 62 FR 37527). EPA did not grant final approval because the Commonwealth did not meet the conditions EPA listed in that proposal. Specifically, the Commonwealth did not meet its commitment to begin an automobile emission "inspection and maintenance" (I/M) program. EPA did not propose action on the Commonwealth's post 1996 ROP plan in the July 14, 1999 document.

On April 1, 1999, June 25, 1999, and September 9, 1999, Massachusetts submitted revisions to its 15 percent and post 1996 ROP plans (the "revised ROP plans".) These revisions contain a new start-up date for the Commonwealth's automobile I/M program, and revised emission reduction estimates for this program.

I. How Will the Commonwealth Achieve These Emission Reductions?

The Commonwealth will achieve emission reductions using essentially the same control strategy outlined in a previous submittal that was dated March 31, 1997. EPA's July 14, 1997 proposed approval of that version of the Massachusetts 15 percent plan noted that EPA had not approved the Commonwealth's VOC reasonably available control technology (RACT) rules, but would by the time final approval was granted to the 15 percent plan. EPA approved the referenced Massachusetts VOC RACT rules in a document published in the Federal Register on September 3, 1999 (64 FR 48297).

One notable difference between the Commonwealth's prior 15 percent ROP plan and the revised ROP plans is the amount of emission reductions claimed from the I/M program. Massachusetts still assumes emission reductions from its I/M program, but over a much shorter time-frame due to the anticipated October 1, 1999 start date. The 15 percent plan submitted by the Commonwealth in 1997 had assumed that the I/M program would begin no later than January 1, 1998.

EPA is also proposing approval of the Massachusetts I/M program in the proposed rules section of today's Federal Register. EPA notes that there are minor differences between the characteristics of the I/M program submitted by the Commonwealth and the parameters of the I/M program that Massachusetts used to determine emission reduction credit for its ROP plans. The primary difference is that the State's I/M SIP includes provisions for a remote sensing program. This characteristic was not accounted for when the State determined emission reductions from I/M for use in its ROP plans. Inclusion of the new remote sensing program in the Commonwealth's I/M strategy slightly lowers the amount of emission reductions that I/M will achieve. However, the DEP has supplied documentation that illustrates this impact is minimal, particularly in light of the small amount of emission reduction credit claimed due to the October 1, 1999 projected start date. EPA agrees with Massachusetts' assessment that the remote sensing program will not hinder the Commonwealth's ability to meet its ROP emission targets.

As mentioned above, the Massachusetts ROP plans contain a demonstration that the amount of emission reductions required of 15 percent and post-96 plans can be achieved despite lessening the emission reductions attributable to the I/M program. The Commonwealth accomplished this primarily by changing the way that emission increases due to growth were determined, and by considering November 15, 1999 the evaluation date for achievement of the overall required reduction. The Commonwealth's revised growth estimates are based upon 1996 emission estimates, calculated using the same emission estimation procedures as the base year emissions, projected to 1999. This methodology should yield a more accurate projection of 1999 emission levels than the prior estimates, which were projected from the 1990 base year.

EPA's July 14, 1997 proposed approval of the Massachusetts 15 percent ROP plan outlines the control strategy used by the Commonwealth to generate emission reductions for that plan. Since the EPA's July 14, 1997 document only dealt with the Massachusetts 15 percent plan, that notice does not describe measures included in the Commonwealth's post-1996 plan. The Massachusetts post-1996 plan is described below.

Massachusetts used the appropriate EPA guidance to calculate the 1999 VOC and NO_x emission target levels, and the amount of reductions needed to achieve its emission target levels. Table 1 illustrates the steps used by Massachusetts to derive its 1999 emission target levels for VOC and NO_x. The ROP plans indicate that 1999 projected, controlled emissions are below the target levels for the Springfield nonattainment area.

1990 Base Year Inventory	436	115
Rate-of Progress Inventory (biogenics and non-reactives subtracted)	153	115
non-creditable reductions ¹	13	10
Calculate required reduction (State will use 2% VOC and 7% NO _x for 1996 to 1999 ROP)	2%*153=3	7%*115=8
Calculate Total Expected Reductions (sum of FMVCP and required 9% reduction.) ²	6	18
Set Target Level for 1999 ³	115	97
Incorporate growth and controls to determine 1999 emission levels	115	97

² For VOC, 10 of the 13 tpsd non-creditable FMVCP reduction occurs between 1990 and 1996, and is accounted for in the determination of the State's 1996 emission target level.

The Commonwealth's post-1996 control strategy matches the control strategy described in the EPA's July 14, 1997 proposed approval of the Massachusetts 15 percent plan, and also includes emission reductions from the

NO_x RACT

Massachusetts has adopted a NO_x RACT regulation, the citation for which is 310 Code of Massachusetts Regulations 7.19. The regulation applies to facilities with potential emissions of 50 tons per year or greater. Facilities covered by the rule needed to comply by May 31, 1995. Massachusetts submitted the rule to EPA on July 15, 1994, as a revision to the Commonwealth's SIP. EPA approved the Commonwealth's NO_x RACT rule on September 2, 1999 (64 FR 48095). The rule will reduce NO_x emissions from point sources by 6 tons per day in the Springfield area.

Federal Non-Road Standards

In the July 3, 1995 Federal Register (60 FR 34581), EPA promulgated the first phase of the regulations to control emissions from new non-road spark-ignition engines. The regulation is found at 40 CFR part 90, and is titled, "Control of Emissions From Non-road Spark-Ignition Engines." EPA has determined that the first phase of the new non-road standards will cause a reduction of VOC emissions of 23.9 percent by 1999. Massachusetts applied this reduction percentage to its non-road inventory. The sale of reformulated gasoline in Massachusetts also reduces non-road emissions in the Commonwealth. The combined effect of reformulated gasoline and the new non-road standards will lower non-road VOC emissions by 7 tpsd in the Springfield area.

TABLE 2.—SUMMARY OF EMISSION REDUCTIONS: SPRINGFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS SERIOUS OZONE NONATTAINMENT AREA [tons/day]

Point Source RACT	5	6
Auto Refinishing	2	0
Commercial and Consumer Products	1	0
Architectural Coatings	1	0
On-road Control Measures: Reformulated gas, I/M, Tier 1, CA-LEV, Stage II	23	16
Non-road Control Measures: Reformulated gas, federal non-road engine standards	7	(2 tpsd increase)

The Massachusetts ROP plans demonstrate that the VOC and NO_x emission reductions from the control strategy will achieve sufficient emission reductions to lower 1999 emission levels below the target levels calculated for each pollutant.

EPA believes that the Commonwealth's analysis of the reductions that its adopted control measures will achieve is generally valid. Some uncertainty exists in the amount of emission reductions that are occurring from the Massachusetts stage II gasoline vapor recovery regulation.⁴ But any shortfall in emissions reductions from that program that might occur due to poor rule effectiveness will be more than compensated for by excess emissions reductions from the reformulated gasoline (RFG) program. EPA's survey of the actual content of RFG in the Commonwealth indicates that the program is consistently achieving greater VOC emissions reductions than required under the RFG program.

J. The Commonwealth Was Supposed To Achieve a Portion of These Emission Reductions by 1996, and the Remainder by 1999. Has That Happened?

Although Massachusetts did not reduce its hydrocarbon emissions by 15 percent by November 15, 1996, the Commonwealth has shown that all of the emission reductions required of 15 percent plans by 1996, and post-1996 plans by 1999, will occur by November 15, 1999. EPA believes it can approve both of these plans for the reasons provided below.

It is not possible for Massachusetts to demonstrate a 15 percent emission reduction by November 15, 1996, as that date has passed. Once a statutory deadline has passed and has not been replaced by a later one, the deadline then becomes "as soon as possible." Delaney v. EPA, 898 F.2d 687, 691 (9th Cir. 1990). EPA has interpreted this requirement to be "as soon as practicable."

The EPA examined other potentially available SIP measures to determine if they were practicable for the Springfield nonattainment area, and if they would meaningfully accelerate the date by which the area achieves emission reductions. EPA believes that the Commonwealth's SIP submittal contains the appropriate measures. The rationale for this determination is that although several area source measures exist which the Commonwealth could implement, these measures would not achieve the same level of emission reductions expected from the Commonwealth's I/M program, and additionally, would not meaningfully accelerate the achievement of the required reductions, as the Commonwealth would have to go through its rule adoption process to implement these measures. Therefore, EPA believes that the ROP plans for the Springfield area as resubmitted to EPA on April 1, 1999, June 25, 1999, and September 9, 1999, meet the as soon as practicable requirement.

EPA has determined that it will approve Massachusetts' ROP plans if these plans demonstrate that by November 15, 1999, ozone precursor emissions are lowered by 24 percent. A 24 percent emission reduction represents the combined total emission reduction that the 15 percent and post-96 ROP plans must achieve by November 15, 1999. Under section 182(c)(2)(C) of the act, NO_x emission reductions can only be used after November 15, 1996, and therefore can only represent 9 percent of the 24 percent reduction required by November 15, 1999. EPA believes it is appropriate to approve the plans because although the 15 percent plan portion of the emission reduction did not occur on time, the Massachusetts' plan accomplishes the required amount of emission reductions as soon as is practicable. Ultimately the overall environmental benefit required of sections 182(b) and (c)(2) of the Act will be achieved if ozone precursor emissions are 24 percent lower than baseline levels by November 15, 1999.

⁴ There is evidence that suggests Massachusetts stage II rule may not be as effective as DEP has assumed. Recent DEP and EPA inspections have revealed substantial noncompliance at service stations across the Commonwealth. In its July 27, 1998 one hour ozone attainment demonstration submittal, Massachusetts committed to address this poor compliance rate for its Stage II program by modifying the regulation to enhance the compliance assurance mechanisms designed into the rule. When EPA acts on the attainment demonstration, we will evaluate whether Massachusetts has adequately addressed these compliance issues.

K. Why Is EPA Approving a Plan That Only Covers the Western Part of the State?

A plan is not needed for the Eastern Massachusetts serious area because that area recently met the one-hour National Ambient Air Quality Standard (NAAQS) for ozone. This determination is based upon three years of complete, quality assured ambient air monitoring data for the years 1996–98 that demonstrate that the one hour ozone NAAQS has been attained in this area. On the basis of this determination, EPA is also determining that certain ROP and attainment demonstration requirements, along with certain other related requirements, of part D of Title 1 of the Clean Air Act are not applicable to this area for so long as the area continues to attain the one hour ozone NAAQS. The Springfield nonattainment area in western Massachusetts continues to monitor violations of the one hour ozone standard, and therefore continues to be subject to ROP requirements.

L. Have These Emission Reductions Improved Air Quality in Massachusetts?

Ozone levels have decreased in the Springfield area during the 1990's, due in part to emission reductions achieved by the Commonwealth's plans. Pollution control measures implemented by States upwind of Massachusetts have also helped ozone levels decline in this area of the State.

M. Massachusetts Is Downwind of Many Large Metropolitan Areas. Do Pollutants Emitted in Other States Affect Air Quality in Massachusetts?

The pollutants that form ground level ozone can be transported hundreds of miles, and so pollutants emitted in other States can adversely impact air quality in Massachusetts. Air pollution emitted from sources in Massachusetts contributes to the Commonwealth's air quality problems, and can also negatively impact air quality in areas downwind of Massachusetts. Air quality modeling performed by the New England States and by the Ozone Transport Assessment Group (OTAG) indicates that ozone levels in Massachusetts are highest when winds are from the south-west, which supports the conclusion that air quality in the Commonwealth is negatively impacted by the large metropolitan areas downwind of the state.

N. EPA Recently Required 22 Eastern States, Including Massachusetts, To Develop Plans That Will Significantly Reduce Nitrogen Oxide Emissions. Given That Requirement, Why Is Approval of These Plans Needed?

The rate-of-progress plans prepared by Massachusetts and other states with ozone nonattainment areas have helped lower ozone levels. Approval of these plans by EPA, and the pollution control measures associated with them, will ensure that improvements made in air quality are maintained. Additionally, approval of the regulations associated with them make the rules enforceable by EPA.

Despite the emission reductions achieved through implementation of rate-of-progress plans, many areas of the country still do not meet the one hour ozone standard. The modeling done by the OTAG for the eastern half of the United States indicates that the long distance transport of nitrogen oxides across state borders will prevent many areas from attaining this standard by relying solely on emission reductions from within their borders. The NO_x SIP call, which was published as a final rule on October 27, 1998 (63 FR 57356), will require large NO_x emission reductions across the eastern half of the United States. However, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia ordered on May 26, 1999 that the EPA suspend implementation of the NO_x SIP call pending consideration of a lawsuit that has challenged its requirements. In any case, these ROP plans are required by the CAA. Combined with the NO_x emission reductions EPA hopes to achieve in up-wind states, these ROP plans should assure progress toward attaining the one hour ozone standard.

O. Has Massachusetts Met its Contingency Measure Obligation?

Ozone nonattainment areas classified as serious or above must submit to the EPA, pursuant to sections 172(c)(9) and 182(c)(9) of the Act, contingency measures to be implemented if an area misses an ozone SIP milestone or does not attain the national ambient air quality standard by the applicable date.

On September 9, 1999, the Commonwealth submitted an amendment to its ROP plan for Western Massachusetts. The amendment included revised 1999 NO_x emission estimates that were higher than the Commonwealth's prior submittal, and is essence erased the NO_x emission reduction surplus the State had previously forecast. Since Massachusetts had intended to use the surplus NO_x reductions to meet its contingency obligation, the September 9, 1999 amended submittal from Massachusetts no longer contains a contingency plan. The Commonwealth's September 9, 1999 submittal contains a commitment to submit a revised contingency plan shortly, and indicates that phase II of the reformulated gasoline program is likely to be cited as the control measure that will achieve the necessary reductions. EPA agrees that this control measure is likely to provide the necessary reductions, and will take action on the Commonwealth's contingency plan after it is revised and submitted as a SIP revision.

P. Are Conformity Budgets Contained in These Plans?

Section 176(c) of the Act, and 40 CFR 51.452(b) of the Federal transportation conformity rule require states to establish motor vehicle emissions budgets in any control strategy SIP that is submitted for attainment and maintenance of the NAAQS. Massachusetts will use these budgets to determine whether proposed projects that attract traffic will "conform" to the emissions assumptions in the SIP.

The Commonwealth's revised ROP plans contain motor vehicle emission budgets for the year 1999. However, the Massachusetts DEP submitted an ozone attainment demonstration plan to EPA in 1998 that contains mobile source emission budgets for Western Massachusetts for 2003. Since the year 2003 budgets are more restrictive, cover a time frame later than the ROP plans (which include the current transportation analyses milestone years), and are based on the attainment plan, these 2003 VOC and NO_x budgets take precedence over motor vehicle emission budgets for earlier years. The specific 2003 budgets for the Springfield area are 23.770 tpsd for VOC, and 49.110 tpsd for NO_x.

EPA's review of this material indicates that the Commonwealth has met the ROP requirements of the Act. EPA is proposing to approve the ROP plans that Massachusetts submitted as a SIP revision on April 1, 1999 and June 25, 1999. EPA is soliciting public comments on the issues discussed in this notice or on other relevant matters. These comments will be considered before taking final action. Interested parties may participate in the Federal rulemaking procedure by submitting written comments to the EPA Regional office listed in the ADDRESSES section of this document.

II. Proposed Action

EPA is proposing to approve the rate-of-progress SIP revision submitted by Massachusetts on April 1, 1999 and June 25, 1999 as a revision to the SIP.

EPA is soliciting public comments on the issues discussed in this proposal or on other relevant matters. These comments will be considered before EPA takes final action. Interested parties may participate in the Federal rulemaking procedure by submitting written comments to the EPA Regional office listed in the ADDRESSES section of this action.

EPA is proposing approval of the Massachusetts I/M program elsewhere in today's Federal Register. EPA intends to publish final rules for the ROP and I/M SIPs simultaneously at the completion of the public comment period, unless persuaded by comments that final approval of either of these actions is inappropriate.

Nothing in this action should be construed as permitting or allowing or establishing a precedent for any future request for revision to any State implementation plan. Each request for revision to the State implementation plan shall be considered separately in light of specific technical, economic, and environmental factors and in relation to relevant statutory and regulatory requirements.

III. Administrative Requirements

A. Executive Order 12866

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has exempted this regulatory action from Executive Order (E.O.) 12866, entitled "Regulatory Planning and Review."

B. Executive Orders on Federalism

Under E.O. 12875, EPA may not issue a regulation that is not required by statute and that creates a mandate upon a state, local, or tribal government, unless the Federal government provides the funds necessary to pay the direct compliance costs incurred by those governments, or EPA consults with those governments. If EPA complies by consulting, Executive Order 12875 requires EPA to provide to the Office of Management and Budget a description of the extent of EPA's prior consultation with representatives of affected state, local, and tribal governments, the nature of their concerns, copies of written communications from the governments, and a statement supporting the need to issue the regulation. In addition, E.O. 12875 requires EPA to develop an effective process permitting elected officials and other representatives of state, local, and tribal governments "to provide meaningful and timely input in the development of regulatory proposals containing significant unfunded mandates."

Today's rule does not create a mandate on state, local or tribal governments. The rule does not impose any new enforceable duties on these entities. Accordingly, the requirements of section 1(a) of E.O. 12875 do not apply to this rule.

On August 4, 1999, President Clinton issued a new executive order on federalism, Executive Order 13132, (64 FR 43255 (August 10, 1999)), which will take effect on November 2, 1999. In the interim, the current Executive Order 12612, (52 FR 41685 (October 30, 1987)), on federalism still applies. This rule will not have a substantial direct effect on States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 12612. The rule affects only Massachusetts, and does not alter the relationship or the distribution of power established in the Clean Air Act.

C. Executive Order 13045

Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997), applies to any rule that: (1) is determined to be "economically significant" as defined under E.O. 12866, and (2) concerns an environmental health or safety risk that EPA has reason to believe may have a disproportionate effect on children. If the regulatory action meets both criteria, the Agency must evaluate the environmental health or safety effects of the planned rule on children, and explain why the planned regulation is preferable to other potentially effective and reasonably feasible alternatives considered by the Agency.

This rule is not subject to E.O. 13045 because it is not "economically significant" as defined under E.O. 12866, and it implements a previously promulgated health or safety-based Federal standard.

D. Executive Order 13084

Under E.O. 13084, EPA may not issue a regulation that is not required by statute, that significantly affects or uniquely affects the communities of Indian tribal governments, and that imposes substantial direct compliance costs on those communities, unless the Federal government provides the funds necessary to pay the direct compliance costs incurred by the tribal governments, or EPA consults with those governments. If EPA complies by consulting, Executive Order 13084 requires EPA to provide to the Office of Management and Budget, in a separately identified section of the preamble to the rule, a description of the extent of EPA's prior consultation with representatives of affected tribal governments, a summary of the nature of their concerns, and a statement supporting the need to issue the regulation. In addition, Executive Order 13084 requires EPA to develop an effective process permitting elected officials and other representatives of Indian tribal governments "to provide meaningful and timely input in the development of regulatory policies on matters that significantly or uniquely affect their communities."

Today's rule does not significantly or uniquely affect the communities of Indian tribal governments. This action does not involve or impose any requirements that affect Indian Tribes. Accordingly, the requirements of section 3(b) of E.O. 13084 do not apply to this rule.

E. Regulatory Flexibility

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) generally requires an agency to conduct a regulatory flexibility analysis of any rule subject to notice and comment rulemaking requirements unless the agency certifies that the rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Small entities include small businesses, small not-for-profit enterprises, and small governmental jurisdictions. This proposed rule will not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities because approvals of SIP submittals under section 110 and subchapter I, part D of the Clean Air Act do not create any new requirements but simply approve requirements that the state is already imposing. Therefore, because the Federal SIP approval does not impose any new requirements, I certify that this action will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Moreover, due to the nature of the Federal-State relationship under the Clean Air Act, preparation of flexibility analysis would constitute Federal inquiry into the economic reasonableness of state action. The Clean Air Act forbids EPA to base its actions concerning SIPs on such grounds. Union Electric Co., v. U.S. EPA, 427 U.S. 246, 255-66 (1976); 42 U.S.C. 7410(a)(2).

F. Unfunded Mandates

Under section 202 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 ("Unfunded Mandates Act"), signed into law on March 22, 1995, EPA must prepare a budgetary impact statement to accompany any proposed or final rule that includes a Federal mandate that may result in estimated costs to State, local, or tribal governments in the aggregate; or to the private sector, of $100 million or more. Under section 205, EPA must select the most cost-effective and least burdensome alternative that achieves the objectives of the rule and is consistent with statutory requirements. Section 203 requires EPA to establish a plan for informing and advising any small governments that may be significantly or uniquely impacted by the rule.

EPA has determined that the approval action proposed does not include a Federal mandate that may result in estimated costs of $100 million or more to either State, local, or tribal governments in the aggregate, or to the private sector. This Federal action approves pre-existing requirements under State or local law, and imposes no new requirements. Accordingly, no additional costs to State, local, or tribal governments, or to the private sector, result from this action.

Type of Request: Extension of a currently approved collection.

Burden: 650 hours.

Average Time Per Response: Ranges between 1 and 4 hours depending on the requirement.

The Department of Commerce (DOC) has submitted to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for clearance the following proposal for collection of information under provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. Chapter 35).

Agency: Bureau of Export Administration (BXA).

Title: Chemical Weapons Convention (Notifications, Annual Reports, and End-User Certificates).

OMB Approval Number: 0694-0117.

Type of Request: Extension of a currently approved collection.

Burden: 176 hours.

Average Time Per Response: 30 minutes each.

Number of Respondents: 134 (multiple responses).

Needs and Uses: The Chemical Weapons Convention (CWC) is a multilateral arms control treaty that seeks to achieve an international ban on chemical weapons. The U.S. is under obligation by this treaty to impose certain trade controls since the CWC prohibits the use, development, production, acquisition, stockpiling, retention, and direct or indirect transfer of chemical weapons. Under the Treaty, States Parties may only export Schedule 1 chemicals to other States Parties, must provide advance notification of exports of any quantity of Schedule 1 chemicals, and must submit annual reports of exports of such chemicals during the previous calendar year. The Convention also requires that prior to the export of Schedule 2 or Schedule 3 chemicals to a non-States Party, the exporter must obtain an End-Use Certificate issued by the government of the importing country. This information is used to ensure that export transactions are in compliance with obligations under the Convention and is shared, as appropriate, with the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons.

Affected Public: Businesses or other for-profit organizations, not-for-profit institutions.

Respondent's Obligation: Mandatory.

DOC has submitted to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for clearance the following proposal for collection of information under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. chapter 35).

Agency: U.S. Census Bureau.

Title: Company Organization Survey.

Form Number(s): NC-9901.

Agency Approval Number: 0607-0444.

Type of Request: Revision of a currently approved collection.

Burden: 140,000 hours.

Number of Respondents: 90,000.

Avg Hours Per Response: 1 hour and 33 minutes.

Needs and Uses: The Census Bureau conducts the annual Company Organization Survey (COS) in order to update and maintain a central, multipurpose business register, known as the Standard Statistical Establishment List (SSEL). In particular, the COS supplies critical information to the SSEL concerning the establishment composition, organizational structure, and operating characteristics of multiestablishment enterprises. The SSEL serves two fundamental purposes:

First and most important, it provides sampling populations and enumeration lists for the Census Bureau's economic surveys and censuses, and it serves as an integral part of the statistical foundation underlying those programs.

Second, it provides establishment data that serve as the basis for the annual County Business Patterns (CBP) statistical series.

The COS is typically conducted as a detailed inquiry sent to a sample of multiestablishment companies. In years ending in 2 & 7, the COS is conducted in conjunction with the economic censuses and is sent to the universe of multiestablishment companies but requests much less detailed information. This is done to coordinate the COS with the quinquennial economic census and minimize burden for both collections. This request is for clearance of the 1999–2001 COS collections which will take place in a non-census environment. The information collection form is largely unchanged from previous years except for our plan to pilot certain questions in the 2000–2001 COS. We will include a question on the number of leased employees working in the company and evaluate an alternative method for collecting the inventory of Federal Identification Numbers (EINs) belonging to the company. These additional questions will be directed to less than 500 companies.

Affected Public: Businesses or other for-profit organizations, farms, not-for-profit institutions, State, local or Tribal governments.

Frequency: Annually.

Respondent's Obligation: Mandatory.

Legal Authority: Title 13 USC, Sections 182, 195, 224, & 225.

Written comments and recommendations for the proposed information collection should be sent within 30 days of publication of this notice to Linda Hutton, OMB Desk Officer, room 10201, New Executive Office Building, Washington, DC 20503.

Agency: U.S. Census Bureau.

Title: 2000 Panel of the Survey of Income and Program Participation, Core and Wave 1 Topical Modules.

Form Number(s): SIPP–20105(L) Director's Letter, SIPP/CAP Automated Survey Instrument.

Agency Approval Number: None.

Type of Request: New collection.

Burden: 25,467 hours.

Number of Respondents: 26,250.

Avg Hours Per Response: 30 minutes.

Needs and Uses: The Census Bureau conducts the Survey of Income and Program Participation (SIPP) to collect information from a sample of households concerning the distribution of income received directly as money or indirectly as in-kind benefits. SIPP data are used by economic policymakers, the Congress, state and local governments, and Federal agencies that administer social welfare and transfer payment programs such as the Department of Health and Human Services, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the Department of Agriculture.

The SIPP is a longitudinal survey, in that households in the panel are interviewed at 4-month intervals or waves over the life of the panel. The duration of a panel is typically 3 to 4 years. The length of the 2000 SIPP Panel is subject to the approval of budget initiatives but is currently scheduled for one year and will include three waves of interviews.

The survey is molded around a central core of labor force and income questions, health insurance questions, and questions concerning government program participation that remain fixed throughout the life of the panel. The core questions are asked at Wave 1 and are updated during subsequent interviews. The core is supplemented with additional questions or topical modules designed to answer specific needs.

This request is for clearance of the core survey questions and topical modules to be asked during Wave 1 of the 2000 SIPP Panel. The topical modules for Wave 1 are: Reciprocity History and Employment History. Wave 1 interviews will be conducted from February through May 2000.

Additionally, a reinterview for quality control purposes will be conducted with a small sub-sample of respondents throughout the life of the panel. We also seek approval to use the Wave 1 survey instrument as part of an experimental panel designed to deliver an improved and less burdensome instrument for use in the 2004 SIPP Panel. Testing of monetary incentives to encourage non-respondents is planned for all waves of the 2000 SIPP Panel.

Affected Public: Individuals or households.

Frequency: Every 4 months.

Respondent's Obligation: Voluntary.

Legal Authority: Title 13 USC, Section 182.

International Trade Administration

[C-508-605]

Preliminary Results of Full Sunset Review: Industrial Phosphoric Acid From Israel

AGENCY: Import Administration, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

ACTION: Notice of preliminary results of full sunset review: industrial phosphoric acid from Israel.

SUMMARY: On March 1, 1999, the Department of Commerce ("the Department") initiated a sunset review of the countervailing duty order on industrial phosphoric acid from Israel (64 FR 9970) pursuant to section 751(c) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended ("the Act"). On the basis of the notices of intent to participate and adequate substantive responses filed on behalf of the domestic and respondent interested parties, the Department is conducting a full (240 day) review. In conducting this sunset review, the Department preliminarily finds that termination of the countervailing duty order would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of a countervailable subsidy.

The net countervailable subsidy and the nature of the subsidy are identified in the "Preliminary Results of Review" section of this notice.

EFFECTIVE DATE: September 27, 1999.

Statute and Regulations

This review was conducted pursuant to sections 751(c) and 752 of the Act. The Department's procedures for the conduct of sunset reviews are set forth in Procedures for Conducting Five-year ("Sunset") Reviews of Antidumping and Countervailing Duty Orders, 63 FR 13516 (March 20, 1998) ("Sunset Regulations") and 19 CFR Part 351(1998) in general. Guidance on methodological or analytical issues relevant to the Department's conduct of sunset reviews is set forth in the Department's Policy Bulletin 98:3—Policies Regarding the Conduct of Five-year ("Sunset") Reviews of Antidumping and Countervailing Duty Orders; Policy Bulletin, 63 FR 18871 (April 16, 1998) ("Sunset Policy Bulletin").

Scope

This order covers shipments of Israeli industrial phosphoric acid ("IPA"). The subject merchandise was originally classifiable under item number 416.30 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated ("TSUSA"); currently, it is classifiable under item number 2809.20.00 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States ("HTSUS"). Although the TSUSA and HTSUS item numbers are provided for convenience and customs purposes, the written description remains dispositive.

This review covers all producers and exporters of industrial phosphoric acid from Israel.

History of the Order

The Department published its final affirmative countervailing duty determination on industrial phosphoric acid from Israel in the Federal Register on July 7, 1987 (52 FR 25447) and issued the countervailing duty order on August 19, 1987 (52 FR 31057). The Department found the following programs to confer subsidies:

- (1) Encouragement of Capital Investments Law Grants
- (2) Long-Term Industrial Development Loans
- (3) Bank of Israel Export Production, Shipment, and Import-for Export Fund Loans
- (4) Exchange Rate Risk Insurance Scheme
- (5) Encouragement of Research and Development Law Grants

The Department determined the estimated net subsidy to be 19.46 percent for Haifa Chemicals Ltd. ("Haifa") and 6.02 percent for all other producers and exporters of IPA from Israel. In this case, the Government of Israel ("GOI") provided to eligible exporters preferential short-term financing in local and foreign currencies through the Bank of Israel Export Production, Shipment, and Import-for Export Fund Loans programs. However, the Department verified that, since 1985, the loans under these funds were provided only in foreign currencies and were no longer at preferential terms. In cases in which program-wide changes have occurred prior to a preliminary determination and where the changes are verifiable, the Department's practice is to adjust the duty deposit rate to correspond to the eventual duty liability. Accordingly, the Department did not include the BOI export loan benefits in the duty deposit rate, for which the final results were 15.11 for Haifa and 5.36 percent for all others.¹

The Department has conducted the following administrative reviews since the issuance of the order:

In the first administrative review (56 FR 2751), the Department determined that Israeli producers of IPA benefitted from the following countervailable subsidy programs: (1) Encouragement of Capital Investments Law ("ECIL") Grants; (2) Long-Term Industrial Development ("LTID") Loans; (3) the Exchange Rate Risk Insurance Scheme ("ERIS"); and (4) Encouragement of Research and Development Law ("EIRD") Grants. The Department continued to find net subsidies from ECIL and ERIS Grants, and LTID Loans in the administrative reviews from 1988 through 1991.²

In the 1992 period of review, the Department found benefits flowing from (1) ECIL Grants, (2) LTID Loans, and (3) EIRD Grants; in 1993, the programs (1) ECIL Grants, (2) LTID Loans, and (3) ERIS, were found to confer subsidies (61 FR 28841).

In the administrative reviews of periods after 1993,³ the Department found no further benefits from the ERIS; however, continued net subsidies were found under the ECIL Grants program and the resumption of net subsidies under the EIRD program. In 1999, the Department completed its administrative review (64 FR 2879) for the 1996 period of review, and again, net subsidies were found under the ECIL and EIRD Grants programs. Additionally, the Department found net subsidies from two new programs: the Infrastructure and Environmental Grants programs (id.).

Background

On March 1, 1999, the Department published a notice of initiation of a sunset review of the countervailing duty order on IPA from Israel (64 FR 9970), pursuant to section 751(c) of the Act. The Department received a Notice of Intent to Participate on the behalf of domestic producers Albright and Wilson Americas Inc. ("A&W"), FMC Corporation ("FMC"), and Solutia Inc. ("Solutia") (hereinafter, collectively "domestic interested parties") and respondent interested parties, the Government of Israel ("GOI") and Rotem Amfert Negeve Ltd. ("Rotem"), an exporter of industrial phosphoric acid, on March 15, 1999, within the deadline specified in section 351.218(d)(1)(i) of the Sunset Regulations. The domestic interested parties claimed interested party status under sections 771(9)(C) of the Act, as domestic producers of IPA. The GOI is an interested party pursuant to section 771(9)(B) of the Act as the government of a country in which IPA is produced and exported; Rotem is an interested party pursuant to section 771(9)(A) of the Act as a foreign producer and exporter of subject merchandise.

The GOI has participated in every segment of the proceeding before the Department related to the subject merchandise. Rotem, the 1992 successor to Negev Phosphates Ltd. ("Negev"),⁴ the initial respondent interested party, has participated in every administrative review after 1990.

Of the domestic interested parties, FMC and Monsanto Company ("Monsanto") were the petitioners in the original countervailing duty investigation,⁵ and they requested and participated in each administrative review through 1994. A&W joined with FMC in requesting and participating in each review thereafter.

We received adequate substantive responses from the domestic and respondent interested parties on March 31, 1999, within the 30-day deadline specified in the Sunset Regulations under section 351.218(d)(3)(i). As a result, pursuant to 19 CFR 351.218(e)(2), the Department determined to conduct a full review.

In accordance with 751(c)(5)(C)(v) of the Act, the Department may treat a review as extraordinarily complicated if it is a review of a transition order (i.e., an order in effect on January 1, 1995). Therefore, on June 21, 1999, the Department determined that the sunset review of the countervailing duty order on IPA from Israel is extraordinarily complicated, and extended the time limit for completion of the final results of this review until not later than January 25, 2000, in accordance with section 751(c)(5)(B) of the Act.⁶

Determination

In accordance with section 751(c)(1) of the Act, the Department is conducting this review to determine whether termination of the countervailing duty order would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of a countervailable subsidy. Section 752(b) of the Act provides that, in making this determination, the Department shall consider the net countervailable subsidy determined in the investigation and subsequent reviews, and whether any change in the program which gave rise to the net countervailable subsidy has occurred and is likely to affect that net countervailable subsidy. Pursuant to section 752(b)(3) of the Act, the Department shall provide to the International Trade Commission ("the Commission") the net countervailable subsidy likely to prevail if the order is revoked. In addition, consistent with section 752(a)(6), the Department shall provide to the Commission information concerning the nature of the subsidy and whether it is a subsidy described in Article 3 or Article 6.1 of the 1994 WTO Agreement on Subsidies and Countervailing Measures ("Subsidies Agreement").

The Department's preliminary determinations concerning continuation or recurrence of a countervailable subsidy, the net countervailable subsidy likely to prevail if the order is revoked, and nature of the subsidy are discussed below. In addition, parties' comments with respect to each of these issues are addressed within the respective sections.

Continuation or Recurrence of a Countervailable Subsidy

Drawing on the guidance provided in the legislative history accompanying the Uruguay Round Agreements Act ("URAA"), specifically the SAA, H.R. Doc. No. 103-316, vol. 1 (1994), the House Report, H.R. Rep. No. 103-826, pt. 1 (1994), and the Senate Report, S. Rep. No. 103-412 (1994), the Department issued its Sunset Policy Bulletin providing guidance on methodological and analytical issues, including the basis for likelihood determinations. The Department clarified that determinations of likelihood will be made on an order-wide basis (see section III.A.2 of the Sunset Policy Bulletin). Additionally, the Department normally will determine that revocation of a countervailing duty order is likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of a countervailable subsidy where (a) a subsidy program continues, (b) a subsidy program has been only temporarily suspended, or (c) a subsidy program has been only partially terminated (see section III.A.3.a of the Sunset Policy Bulletin). Exceptions to this policy are provided where a company has a long record of not using a program (see section III.A.3.b of the Sunset Policy Bulletin).

Interested Party Comments

The domestic interested parties assert that the history of the order and the nature and extent of the subsidies show that revocation of the countervailing duty order on IPA from Israel will result in the continuation or recurrence of a countervailable subsidy. They assert that, in the last ten years following the issuance of the order, Rotem has continued to receive significant benefits under a variety of countervailable subsidy programs (see March 31, 1999 Substantive Response of domestic interested parties at 12). As noted earlier, in the 1996 administrative review, the Infrastructure and Environmental Grant programs were two new programs found to confer subsidies on Israeli producers of IPA.

The GOI and Rotem (Negev) do not argue that there is no likelihood that revocation of the order will lead to continuation of a countervailable subsidy. Rather, they argue that revocation of the countervailing duty order will have no effect on the U.S. producers of industrial phosphoric acid (see March 31, 1999 Substantive Response of respondent interested parties at 3-5).

In their rebuttal comments the domestic interested parties argue that the respondents failed to address the question of likelihood and, therefore, the Department should conduct an expedited review on the basis of facts available and find that revocation of the countervailing duty order would result in continuation of a countervailable subsidy.⁷

Department's Determination

Although the Department found that the Exchange Rate Risk Insurance Scheme was terminated and provides no current benefits,⁸ and that the Long-Term Industrial Development Loans Program was not used during the 1996 review period (64 FR 2879 (January 19, 1999)), the Department did find evidence of programs that continued to confer countervailable subsidies on Israeli producers of IPA. The programs include the Encouragement of Capital Investments Law and the Encouragement of Industrial Research and Development Grants. In addition, the Department found new programs determined to confer subsidies: the Infrastructure Grant Program and the Environmental Grant Program. Therefore, it is reasonable to assume that these programs continue to exist and are utilized. Pursuant to the SAA at 888, the Department concludes that continuation of these programs are highly probative of the likelihood of continuation or recurrence of countervailable subsidies.⁹

Net Countervailable Subsidy

In the Sunset Policy Bulletin, the Department stated that, consistent with the SAA and House Report, the Department normally will select a rate from the investigation as the net countervailable subsidy likely to prevail if the order is revoked, because that is the only calculated rate that reflects the behavior of exporters and foreign governments without the discipline of an order or suspension agreement in place. The Department noted that this rate may not be the most appropriate rate if, for example, the rate was derived from subsidy programs which were found in subsequent reviews to be terminated, there has been a program-wide change, or the rate ignores a program found to be countervailable in a subsequent administrative review.¹⁰

Interested Party Comments

The domestic interested parties assert that the Department should use the net subsidy rates determined in the original investigation as the rates likely to prevail if the countervailing duty order were revoked. As noted above, the net subsidy rate determined in the original investigation was 19.46 percent for Haifa, and 6.02 percent for all other imports of IPA from Israel. The domestic interested parties argue that the original duty deposit rate of 15.11 percent is appropriate for Haifa in light of its lack of cooperation and the Department's authority to use an adverse inference (see March 31 Substantive Response of domestic interested parties at 19). Further, the domestic interested parties suggest that the Department could use for Rotem the 12.11 percent rate from the 1990 review, since it indicates that subsidies have been and can be made available to Israeli producers (id.). However, the domestic interested parties argue that the Department should not adopt for Rotem any rate lower than 5.89 percent, the rate determined by the Department in the administrative review of the 1996 period (id.).

The respondent interested parties assert that the countervailing duty rate that is likely to prevail is the current rate of 5.89 percent or less. They note that, in the last several reviews, the Department has determined that (1) Rotem has been the only exporter of the subject merchandise to the United States and that (2) there is only one subsidy program providing benefits to Rotem's production of the subject merchandise: the Encouragement of Capital Investment Law (ECIL) program, under which Rotem received infrastructure grants, some of which have been found to benefit subject merchandise (see March 31, 1999 Substantive Response of respondent interested parties at 7). Of the 5.89 percent subsidy found in the last review, 5.58 percent of that amount was from ECIL grants (id.).

The respondent interested parties argue that ECIL grants are domestic subsidies not contingent upon exports or exporting, and therefore, do not provide an incentive to export (id.). Further, since they are non-recurring grants, under the Department's grant methodology, grants given in earlier years provide diminishing benefits throughout the benefit stream, and benefits afforded by these grants cannot increase if the countervailing duty order is eliminated. Moreover, the respondent interested parties argue that the subsidy from the grants has further diminished as a result of a series of privatizations of Rotem (id.).

Respondent interested parties assert that higher subsidy findings for Rotem's IPA were the result of the Department's finding that another program, the Exchange Rate Risk Insurance Program provided substantial export subsidies to Rotem. They argue that, since the latter program has been terminated, it should not be considered in the Department's determination of the countervailing duty rate that is likely to prevail (see April 8, 1999 Substantive Response of respondent interested parties). With respect to the Long-term Industrial Development Loans, the respondent interested parties note that this program provides no residual benefits (id. at 9). Further, the respondent interested parties argue, the Encouragement of Research and Development Grants, and Infrastructure and Environmental Grants were found to provide very minimal subsidies (id.).

The respondent interested parties assert that if the Department uses the rate from the original determination, the starting point should be the deposit rate of 5.36 percent adjusted for terminated programs. Likewise, with respect to Haifa Chemicals, Ltd., the respondent interested parties argue that the original deposit rate of 15.11 percent for Haifa should be adjusted for terminated programs (id. at 11).

In their rebuttal comments, the domestic interested parties disagree with the respondent interested parties' argument that Department should adjust the rates from the original investigation downward by subtracting the amount of the subsidy arising from the now-terminated Exchange Rate Risk Insurance Program.¹¹ The domestic interested parties argue that, if the Department were to exercise its discretion to adjust the net original net subsidy rates, then, in the interest of accuracy, the Department would also have to adjust for every change to every program found to provide a subsidy in the original investigation. Moreover, if the Department determines an adjusted rate, then actions, such as grant and loan deferrals, could be taken temporarily to lower that rate in order to have an impact on a scheduled or pending review.¹²

In their rebuttal comments, the respondent interested parties reiterate that the Department should use the original deposit rate as the starting point for determining the rate likely to prevail. They argue that, in determining the rate for Haifa, the Department should subtract from the original rate of 15.11 percent 8.87 percent represented by the Exchange Rate Risk Insurance Scheme, a program that has been terminated and provides no current benefits.¹³ Thus, the deposit rate should be 6.24 percent. Further, the respondent interested parties argue that, on account of the termination of the Exchange Rate Risk Insurance Scheme, the Department should also adjust Rotem's original deposit rate. As such, 4.78 percent representing ERIS's benefits should be deducted from the original margin of 5.36 for all others, with a result of 0.58. However, respondent interested parties acknowledge that this rate is untenable in light of the most administrative review for the 1996 period, and that the Department should provide to the Commission the rate of 5.89, the rate from this review.¹⁴

Department's Determination

Consistent with the SAA and House Report, the Department normally will select a rate from the investigation as the net countervailable subsidy likely to prevail if the order is revoked, because that is the only calculated rate that reflects the behavior of exporters and foreign governments without the discipline of an order or suspension agreement in place. In some instances, however, the rate from the original investigation may not be the most appropriate rate if, for example, the rate was derived from subsidy programs which were found in subsequent reviews to be terminated, there has been a program-wide change, or the rate ignores a program found to be countervailable in a subsequent administrative review.¹⁵

As noted above, since the issuance of the order, the Department has determined that the Exchange Rate Risk Insurance Scheme was terminated (61 FR 28841, 28844 (June 6, 1996)). Furthermore, in the 1996 period of review, the Department determined that two new programs, the Infrastructure Grant Program and the Environmental Grant Program, confer countervailable subsidies on Rotem.¹⁶ Therefore, consistent with section III.B.3 of the Sunset Policy Bulletin, the Department preliminarily determines that the rate from the original investigation is not probative of the net countervailable subsidy rate likely to prevail if the order were revoked.

Sections III.B.3.a and III.B.3.c of the Sunset Policy Bulletin provide that the Department may adjust the net countervailable subsidy where the Department has conducted an administrative review of the order and found that a program was terminated with no residual benefits and no likelihood of reinstatement, or where the Department found a new countervailable program. Additionally, section III.B.3.d of the Sunset Policy Bulletin provides that where the Department has conducted an administrative review of an order and determined to increase the net countervailable subsidy rate for any reason, the Department may adjust the net countervailable subsidy rate determined in the original investigation to reflect the increase of the rate.

The Department agrees with respondent interested parties that the deposit rates from the original investigation should be adjusted to reflect that, after 1993, the Exchange Rate Risk Insurance Scheme was terminated without residual benefits after 1993. Therefore, we are subtracting the rate from the investigation for this program. Additionally, the rates should be adjusted to reflect the identification of two new countervailable programs: the Infrastructure Grant Program and the Environmental Grant Program. Therefore, we are adding the rates from these programs as first identified in the 1996 review (64 FR 2879).

Finally, we agree with the interested parties that the countervailable subsidy rate from the Encouragement of Capital Investments Law Grants program has significantly increased since the original investigation. Over the life of this order, there has been a consistent pattern of increased usage of the grants provided under this program. Because of the continued increase in usage of this program, despite the existence of the order, we preliminarily determine that the rate for this program from the original investigation should be adjusted to reflect this increased usage of the program. Therefore, we are adding to the original investigation rate the rate from this program, as found in the 1996 review (id.). As a result, the Department preliminarily determines that the net countervailable subsidies that would be likely to prevail in the event of revocation of the order are 10.93 percent for Haifa and 5.97 percent for all others, including Rotem (see September 21, 1999, Memorandum to File Regarding Calculation of the Net Countervailable Subsidy).

Nature of the Subsidy

In the Sunset Policy Bulletin, the Department states that, consistent with section 752(a)(6) of the Act, the Department will provide to the Commission information concerning the nature of the subsidy, and whether the subsidy is a subsidy described in Article 3 or Article 6.1 of the Subsidies Agreement. The domestic and respondent interested parties did not address this issue in their substantive responses of March 31, 1999.

Because the receipt of benefit under the Bank of Israel Export Loans program is contingent on exports, this program falls within the definition of an export subsidy under Article 3.1(a) of the Subsidies Agreement. The remaining programs, although not falling within the definition of an export subsidy under Article 3.1(a) of the Subsidies Agreement, could be found to be inconsistent with Article 6 if the net countervailable subsidy exceeds five percent, as measured in accordance with Annex IV of the Subsidies Agreement. The Department, however, has no information with which to make such a calculation, nor do we believe it appropriate to attempt such a calculation in the course of a sunset review. Rather, we are providing the Commission with the following program descriptions.

The Encouragement of Capital Investments Law (ECIL) Grants. In the 1987 original investigation, the Department found that Negev Phosphates, Ltd. ("Negev") and Haifa Chemicals, Ltd. received countervailable subsidies from this program, the benefits of which depend on the geographic location of the eligible enterprises. ECIL Grants were found to confer subsidies in each subsequent administrative review.

Long-Term Industrial Development ("LTID") Loans. Funded by the GOI, this program enabled approved enterprises in a number of diverse industries to obtain LTID Loans. Like ECIL grants, these loans are project-specific and the interest rates charged on these loans depend on the Development Zone location of the borrower. The Department found LTID Loans to confer subsidies in the administrative reviews for the periods 1988 through 1993.

Exchange Rate Risk Insurance Scheme ("ERIS"). Operated by the Israeli Foreign Trade Risk Insurance Corporation ("IFTRIC"), ERIS insures exporters against losses which result when the rate of inflation exceeds the rate of devaluation and the new Israeli shekel value of an exporter's foreign currency receivable does not rise enough to cover increases in local costs. The ERIS is optional and open to any exporter willing to pay a premium to IFTRIC. The Department determined that subsidies from this program were terminated in 1993.¹⁷

Encouragement of Research and Development Law ("EIRD") Grants. Israeli manufacturers, producers or exporters of IPA may benefit from research and development grants under this program. With the exception of the 1988, 1989 and 1991 administrative reviews, the Department found the EIRD Law Grants to be countervailable in each yearly review since the issuance of the order.

Infrastructure Grant Program. In the administrative review of the 1996 period, the Department found that this program enables the GOI to establish new industrial areas by partially reimbursing companies for their costs of developing the infrastructure in certain geographical zones.

Environmental Grant Program. Additionally, in the 1996 administrative review, the Department found that the GOI administers this countervailable subsidy program to provide for companies financial assistance for the adaptation of existing industrial facilities to new environmental requirements.

Preliminary Results of Review

As a result of this review, the Department finds that revocation of the countervailing duty order would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of a countervailable subsidy at the rates listed below:

Manufacturer/exporter	Margin (percent)
Haifa, Ltd	10.93
All Others	5.97

[Certificate of Review No. 89-00015]

International Trade Administration

Export Trade Certificate of Review

AGENCY: International Trade Administration, Commerce.

ACTION: Notice of Initiation of Process to Revoke Export Trade.

SUMMARY: The Secretary of Commerce issued an export trade certificate of review to Airborne Business Cargo, Inc. ("ABCI"). Because this certificate holder has failed to file an annual report as required by law, the Department is initiating proceedings to revoke the certificate. This notice summarizes the notification letter sent to ABCI.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Morton Schnabel, Director, Office of Exports Trading Company Affairs, International Trade Administration, (202) 482-5131. This is not a toll-free number.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Title III of the Export Trading Company Act of 1982 ("the Act") (15 U.S.C. 4011-21) authorizes the Secretary of Commerce to issue export trade certificates of review. The regulations implementing Title III ("the Regulations") are found at 15 CFR part 325. Pursuant to this authority, a certificate of review was issued on December 12, 1989 to ABCI.

A certificate holder is required by law (Section 308 of the Act, 15 U.S.C. 4018) to submit to the Department of Commerce annual reports that update financial and other information relating to business activities covered by its certificate. The annual report is due within 45 days after the anniversary date of the issuance of the certificate of review (Sections 325.14 (a) and (b) of the Regulations). Failure to submit a complete annual report may be the basis for revocation. (Sections 325.10(a) and 325.14(c) of the Regulations).

The Department of Commerce sent to ABCI on December 2, 1998, a letter containing annual report questions with a reminder that its annual report was due on January 26, 1999. Additional reminders were sent on February 10, 1999, and on March 17, 1999. The Department has received no written response to any of these letters.

On September 21, 1999, and in accordance with section 325.10(c)(1) of the Regulations, a letter was sent by certified mail to notify ABCI that the Department was formally initiating the process to revoke its certificate. The letter stated that this action is being taken because of the certificate holder's failure to file an annual report.

In accordance with Section 325.10(c)(2) of the Regulations, each certificate holder has thirty days from the day after its receipt of the notification letter in which to respond. The certificate holder is deemed to have received this letter as of the date on which this notice is published in the Federal Register. For good cause shown, the Department of Commerce can, at its discretion, grant a thirty-day extension for a response.

If the certificate holder decides to respond, it must specifically address the Department's statement in the notification letter that it has failed to file an annual report. It should state in detail why the facts, conduct, or circumstances described in the notification letter are not true, or if they are, why they do not warrant revoking the certificate. If the certificate holder does not respond within the specified period, it will be considered an admission of the statements contained in the notification letter (Section 325.10(c)(2) of the Regulations).

If the answer demonstrates that the material facts are in dispute, the Department of Commerce and the Department of Justice shall, upon request, meet informally with the certificate holder. Either Department may require the certificate holder to provide the documents or information that are necessary to support its contentions (Section 325.10(c)(3) of the Regulations).

The Department shall publish a notice in the Federal Register of the revocation or modification or a decision not to revoke or modify (Section 325.10(c)(4) of the Regulations). If there is a determination to revoke a certificate, any person aggrieved by such final decision may appeal to an appropriate U.S. district court within 30 days from the date on which the Department's final determination is published in the Federal Register (Sections 325.10(c)(4) and 325.11 of the Regulations).

Dated: September 21, 1999.

Authority to take listed species is subject to conditions set forth in the permits. Modifications are issued in accordance with and are subject to the ESA and NMFS regulations governing listed fish and wildlife permits (50 CFR parts 222-226).

Those individuals requesting a hearing on the application listed in this notice should set out the specific reasons why a hearing on the application would be appropriate (see ADDRESSES). The holding of such hearings is at the discretion of the Assistant Administrator for Fisheries, NOAA. All statements and opinions contained in the permit action summary are those of the applicant and do not necessarily reflect the views of NMFS.

Species Covered in This Notice

The following species and evolutionarily significant units (ESU's) are covered in this notice:

Chinook salmon (Oncorhynchus tshawytscha): Lower Columbia River (LCR), Snake River (SnR) spring/summer, SnR fall, Upper Columbia River (UCR) spring.

Statement in Support of Request for Consultations Under Section 204 of the Agricultural Act of 1956

Glass Fiber Fabric—Category 622

Import Situation and Conclusion

U.S. imports of glass fiber fabric, Category 622, from Belarus surged to 6,480,552 square meters during the year ending May 1999, over 14 times the 456,093 square meters imported during the year ending May 1998. During the first five months of 1999, Belarus shipped 4,864,218 square meters, nearly 20 times the January-May 1998 level and over two and a half times the total calendar year 1998 level. In 1999, Belarus became the second largest supplier of glass fiber fabric to the United States, accounting for 10 percent of total Category 622 imports. In calendar year 1997, Belarus was the seventh largest supplier and accounted for less than one percent of total Category 622 imports. Imports from Belarus were 1.3 percent of U.S. production of Category 622 in year ending March 1999 and only 0.1 percent in 1997.

U.S. imports of glass fiber fabric, Category 622, from Belarus entered the U.S. at an average landed duty-paid value of $0.81 per square meter during the first five months of 1999, 23 percent below the average landed duty-paid value for all glass fiber fabric imports into the U.S., and 39 percent below the average U.S. producers' price for glass fiber fabrics.

The sharp and substantial increase of low-valued Category 622 imports from Belarus threatens to cause disruption to the U.S. glass fiber fabric market and industry.

U.S. Production, Import Penetration, and Market Share

U.S. production of glass fiber fabric, Category 622, fell to 388,849,000 square meters in 1998, 6 percent below the 1997 production level. Production continued downward in 1999, falling to 92,555,000 square meters during January-March 1999, 16 percent below the first quarter 1998 level. Imports of category 622 increased to 54,741,000 square meters in 1998, 15 percent above the 1997 level, and reached 65,657,000 square meters for the year ending May 1999, 38 percent higher than the level of imports for the same period a year earlier. Imports surged in 1999, increasing 52 percent during January-

May 1999 from the January-May 1998 level.

The ratio of imports to domestic production increased from 11 percent in 1997 to 14 percent in 1998 and reached 20 percent in the first quarter of 1999. The domestic manufacturers' share of the U.S. market for glass fiber fabrics fell two percentage points in 1998, dropping from 89 percent in 1997 to 87 percent in 1998 and fell an additional 4 percentage points to 83 percent in the first quarter 1999.

First, the Improvement Act added civil penalty authority to the GHSA and FFA, which previously contained only criminal penalties. 15 U.S.C. §§ 1264(c) and 1194(e). Second, the Improvement Act increased the maximum civil penalty amounts applicable to civil penalties under the CPSA, and set the same maximum amounts for the newly-created FHSA and FFA civil penalties. 15 U.S.C. §§ 2069(a), 1264(c)(1), and 1194(e)(1)/ civil penalty amounts periodically for inflation:

(B) Not later than December 1, 1994, and December 1 of each fifth calendar year thereafter, the Commission shall prescribe and publish in the Federal Register a schedule of maximum authorized penalties that shall apply for violations that occur after January 1 of the year immediately following such publication.

(C) The schedule of maximum authorized penalties shall be prescribed by increasing each of the amounts referred to in paragraph 91) by the cost-of-living adjustment for the preceding five years. Any increase determined under the preceding sentence shall be rounded to—

(iv) In the case of penalties greater than $200,000, the nearest multiple of $25,000.

(D) For purposes of this subsection:

(i) The term "Consumer Price Index" means the Consumer Price Index for all-urban consumers, published by the Department of Labor.

(ii) The term "cost-of-living adjustment for the preceding five years" means the percentage by which—

(I) the Consumer Price Index for the month of June of the calendar year preceding the adjustment; exceeds

(II) the Consumer Price Index for the month of June preceding the date on which the maximum authorized penalty was last adjusted/

15 U.S.C. 2069(a)(3), 1264(c)(6), and 1194(e)(5).

The Commission's Directorate for Economics has calculated that the cost-of-living adjustment increases the maximum civil penalty amounts to $6,608 for each violation and to $1,652,027 for any related series of violations. Rounding off these numbers in accordance with the statutory directions, the adjusted maximum amounts are $7,000 for each violation and $1,650,000 for any related series of violations.

These new amounts will apply to violations that occur after January 1, 2000.

Oswego Harbor Power LLC, Okeechobee Generating Company, Duke Energy Merchants, LLC, CMS Generation Michigan Power, L.L.C., Midwest Generation, LLC, Casco Bay Energy Company, LLC, Northbrook New York, LLC, and Bay State GPE, Inc. (hereafter, "the Applicants") filed with the Commission rate schedules in the above-captioned proceedings, respectively, under which the Applicants will engage in wholesale electric power and energy transactions at market-based rates, and for certain waivers and authorizations. In particular, certain of the Applicants may also have requested in their respective applications that the Commission grant blanket approval under 18 CFR Part 34 of all future issuances of securities and assumptions of liabilities by the Applicants. On September 15, 1999, the Commission issued an order that accepted the rate schedules for sales of capacity and energy at market-based rates (Order), in the above-docketed proceedings.

The Commission's September 15, 1999 Order granted, for those Applicants that sought such approval, their request for blanket approval under Part 34, subject to the conditions found in Appendix B in Ordering Paragraphs (2), (3), and (5):

(2) Within 30 days of the date of this order, any person desiring to be heard or to protest the Commission's blanket approval of issuances of securities or assumptions of liabilities by the Applicants should file a motion to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 888 First Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Rules 211 and 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 18 CFR 385.211 and 385.214.

(5) The Commission reserves the right to modify this order to require a further showing that neither public nor private interests will be adversely affected by continued Commission approval of the Applicants' issuances of securities or assumptions of liabilities. * * *

Notice is hereby given that the deadline for filing motions to intervene or protests, as set forth above, is October 15, 1999.

Copies of the full text of the Order are available from the Commission's Public Reference Branch, 888 First Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426. This issuance may also be viewed on the Internet at <http://www.ferc.fed.us/online/rims.htm> (call 202-208-2222 for assistance).

h. FERC Contact: Questions about this notice can be answered by Steve Hocking at (202) 219-2656 or e-mail address: steve.hocking@ferc.fed.us. The Commission cannot accept comments, recommendations, motions to intervene or protests sent by e-mail; these documents must be filed as described below.

i. Deadline for filing comments, recommendations, motions to intervene and protests: November 3, 1999.

All documents (original and eight copies) should be filed with: David P. Boergers, Secretary, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 888 First Street, NE, Washington, DC 20426.

The Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure require all intervenors filing documents with the Commission to serve a copy of that document on each person whose name appears on the official service list for the project. Further, if an intervenor files comments or documents with the Commission relating to the merits of an issue that may affect the responsibilities of a particular resource agency, they must also serve a copy of the document on that resource agency.

j. Description of the Application: Wisconsin River Power Company (Wisconsin Power) filed an application to sell 2,380 acres of project lands to the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (WDNR) to expand the existing Buckhorn State Park and Wildlife Area. Another 841 acres of non-project lands would also be sold. Collectively, these lands are known as the "Yellow River Bottoms," a complex system of meandered river channels and islands that provide excellent wildlife habitat and recreational opportunities. The lands are on the Castle Rock Flowage, south of Necedah in Juneau County, Wisconsin. Wisconsin Power does not propose changing the project boundary. The lands to be sold would remain project lands; Wisconsin Power would retain flowage easements.

Contained in Wisconsin Power's application is a request to delete four existing recreation sites from its proposed recreation plan in its application for a new license pending before the Commission. This project is undergoing relicensing and Wisconsin Power requests deleting the four sites because the sites are within the area to be sold, they would become part of the expanded Buckhorn State Park and Wildlife Area and they would be maintained and operated by the WDNR after the sale. The four sites to be deleted are: Buckhorn Causeway West, Yellow River Boat Launch, 19th Avenue Beach Access and Buckhorn Causeway East.

k. Locations of the application: A copy of the application is available for inspection and reproduction at the Commission's Public Reference Room at 888 First Street NE, Room 2A, Washington, DC 20426, or by calling (202) 208-1371. Agency Information Collection Activities: Submission for OMB Review; Comment Request, New Source Performance Standards (NSPS) for Grain Elevators

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: In compliance with the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.), this document announces that the following Information Collection Request (ICR) has been forwarded to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for review and approval: New Source Performance Standards (NSPS) Subpart DD, Grain Elevators, OMB No. 2060-0082, expires November 30, 1999. The ICR describes the nature of the information collection and its expected burden and cost; where appropriate, it includes the actual data collection instrument.

DATES: Comments must be submitted on or before October 27, 1999.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: NSPS Subpart DD (OMB Control No. 2060-0082; EPA ICR No.1130.06) expiring 11/30/99. This is a request for extension of the expiration date of a currently approved collection.

Abstract: This ICR contains recordkeeping and reporting requirements that are mandatory for compliance with 40 CFR 60.300, et seq., subpart DD, New Source Performance Standards for Grain Elevators. This information notifies EPA when a source becomes subject to the regulations, informs the Agency if a source is in compliance.

In the Administrator's judgment, particulate matter emissions from grain elevators cause or contribute to air pollution that may reasonably be anticipated to endanger public health or welfare. Therefore, NSPS were promulgated for this source category, as required under Section 111 of the Clean Air Act.

Particulate emissions from grain elevators are the result of grain drying and grain handling operations, including loading and unloading. These standards rely on the proper operation of particulate control devices such as baghouses and equipment such as shed doors and spouts designed to reduce particulate emission during grain unloading and loading.

Owners or operators of the affected facilities subject to NSPS Subpart DD must make the following one-time-only reports: notification of the date of construction or reconstruction; notification of the anticipated and actual dates of startup; notification of any physical or operational change to an existing facility that may increase the rate of emission of the regulated pollutant; notification of the date of the initial performance test; and the results of the initial performance test, including information necessary to determine the conditions of the performance test and performance test measurements and results, including particulate matter concentration and opacity.

Owners or operators are also required to maintain records of the occurrence and duration of any startup, shutdown, or malfunction in the operation of an affected facility, as well as the nature and cause of the malfunction (if known) and corrective measures taken. These notifications, reports and records are required, in general, of all sources subject to NSPS. Without such information, enforcement personnel would be unable to determine if the standards are being met.

Approximately 118 sources are currently subject to the standard. EPA estimates that three additional sources will become subject to the standard in each of the next three years.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. The OMB control numbers for EPA's regulations are listed in 40 CFR part 9 and 48 CFR Chapter 15. The Federal Register document required under 5 CFR 1320.8(d), soliciting comments on this collection of information was published on June 4, 1999 (64 FR 30011); no comments were received.

The required information consists of emissions data and other information that have been determined not to be private. However, any information submitted to the Agency for which a claim of confidentiality is made will be safeguarded according to the Agency policies set forth in Title 40, Chapter 1, Part 2, Subpart B—Confidentiality of Business Information (see 40 CFR 2; 41 FR 36902, September 1, 1976; amended by 43 FR 40000, September 8, 1978; 43 FR 42251, September 20, 1978; 44 FR 1764, March 23, 1979).

Burden Statement: The annual public reporting and recordkeeping burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 2.1 hours per response. Burden means the total time, effort, or financial resources expended by persons to generate, maintain, retain, or disclose or provide information to or for a Federal agency. This includes the time needed to review instructions; develop, acquire, install, and utilize technology and systems for the purposes of collecting, validating, and verifying information, processing and maintaining information, and disclosing and providing information; adjust the existing ways to comply with any previously applicable instructions and requirements; train personnel to be able to respond to a collection of information; search data sources; complete and review the collection of information; and transmit or otherwise disclose the information.

Respondents/Affected Entities: Entities potentially affected by this action are each truck unloading station, truck loading station, barge and ship unloading station, barge and ship loading station, railcar loading station, railcar unloading station, grain dryer, and all grain handling operations at any grain terminal elevator or any grain storage elevator subject to NSPS Subpart DD.

Abstract: The New Source Performance Standards (NSPS) for the

Petroleum Dry Cleaning industry (Subpart JJJ) were proposed on December 14, 1982 and promulgated on September 21, 1984. These standards apply to the owners or operators of petroleum dry cleaning facilities constructed, reconstructed, or modified after December 14, 1982 whose total manufacturer's rated dryer capacity is equal to or greater than 38 kilograms (84 pounds). Owners or operators of the affected facilities described must make one-time-only notifications. Agency Information Collection Activities: Submission for OMB Review; Comment Request, New Source Performance Standards (NSPS) Synthetic Fiber Production Facilities

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: In compliance with the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.), this document announces that the following Information Collection Request (ICR) has been forwarded to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for review and approval: New Source Performance Standards (NSPS) Subpart HHH Synthetic Fiber Production Facilities; OMB Control Number 2060-0059; expiration 10/31/99. The ICR describes the nature of the information collection and its expected burden and cost; where appropriate, it includes the actual data collection instrument.

DATES: Comments must be submitted on or before October 27, 1999.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Sandy Farmer at EPA by phone at (202) 260-2740, by E-Mail at Farmer.Sandy@epamail.epa.gov or download a copy of the ICR off the Internet at <http://www.epa.gov/icr> and refer to EPA ICR No. 1156.08.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: NSPS Subpart HHH Synthetic Fiber Production Facilities; OMB Control Number 2060-0059; EPA ICR No. 1156.08; expiration 10/31/99. This is a request for extension of a currently approved collection.

Abstract: The New Source Performance Standards (NSPS) for synthetic fiber production facilities (Subpart HHH) were proposed on November 23, 1982 and promulgated on April 5, 1984. These standards apply to each solvent-spun synthetic fiber process that produces more than 500 megagrams of fiber per year and that commenced construction or reconstruction after November 23, 1982. The provisions of this subpart do not apply to any facility that uses the reaction spinning process to produce spandex fiber or the viscose process to produce rayon fiber, nor to facilities that commence modification but not reconstruction after November 23, 1982. VOCs are the pollutants regulated under this Subpart.

Owners or operators of the affected facilities described must make one-time-only initial notifications and report on the results of the initial performance test. Owners or operators also are required to maintain records of the occurrence and duration of any startup, shutdown, or malfunction in the operation of an affected facility, or any period during which the monitoring system is inoperative. Monitoring requirements specific to synthetic fiber production facilities provide information on VOC emissions. Owners or operators of affected facilities are required to install, calibrate, maintain, and operate a continuous monitoring system for the measurement of makeup solvent and solvent feed. These values shall be used in calculating monthly VOC emissions. Section 60.603(b)(1) provides three options for determining solvent feed.

Each owner or operator calculates VOC emissions every month from the amount of solvent feed and makeup solvent used in each affected facility. These values are used to calculate compliance with the emission limitations on a six-month rolling average basis.

Also required are semiannual reports, and quarterly reports of instances of excess emissions. The owner or operator subject to the provisions of this part shall maintain a file of these measurements, and retain the file for at least two years following the date of such measurements. Responses to this collection of information are mandatory and are being collected to assure compliance with 40 CFR Part 60 subpart HHH. All reports are sent to the delegated State or Local authority. In the event that there is no such delegated authority, the reports are sent directly to the EPA Regional Office. These notifications, reports, and records are essential in determining compliance.

Approximately 30 sources are currently subject to the standard, and it is estimated that an additional 1 source per year will become subject to the standard in the next three years.

The required information consists of emissions data and other information that have been determined not to be private. However, any information submitted to the Agency for which a claim of confidentiality is made will be safeguarded according to the Agency policies set forth in Title 40, Chapter 1, part 2, subpart B—Confidentiality of Business Information (see 40 CFR 2; 41 FR 36902, September 1, 1976; amended by 43 FR 40000, September 8, 1978; 43 FR 42251, September 20, 1978; 44 FR 17674, March 23, 1979). An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. The OMB control numbers for EPA's regulations are listed in 40 CFR part 9 and 48 CFR Chapter 15. The Federal Register document required under 5 CFR 1320.8(d), soliciting comments on this collection of information was published on June 4, 1999 (64 FR 30011). No comments were received.

Burden Statement: The annual public reporting and recordkeeping burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 31 hours per response. Burden means the total time, effort, or financial resources expended by persons to generate, maintain, retain, or disclose or provide information to or for a Federal agency. This includes the time needed to review instructions; develop, acquire, install, and utilize technology and systems for the purposes of collecting, validating, and verifying information, processing and maintaining information, and disclosing and providing information; adjust the existing ways to comply with any previously applicable instructions and requirements; train personnel to be able to respond to a collection of information; search data sources; complete and review the collection of information; and transmit or otherwise disclose the information.

Respondents/Affected Entities: Owners/Operators of Synthetic Fiber Production Facilities.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 31.

Estimated Total Annual Hour Burden: 2,696

Estimated Total Annualized Capital, O&M Cost Burden: $228,300

Public Water System Supervision Program Revision for the State of North Carolina

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that the State of North Carolina is revising its approved Public Water System Supervision Program. North Carolina has adopted drinking water regulations establishing administrative penalty authority and defining a public water system. EPA has determined that the administrative penalty authority revisions meet all minimum federal requirements, and that the public water system definition revisions are no less stringent than the corresponding federal regulations. Therefore, EPA has tentatively decided to approve these State program revisions.

Frivolous or insubstantial requests for a hearing may be denied by the Regional Administrator. However, if a substantial request for a public hearing is made by October 27, 1999, a public hearing will be held. If no timely and appropriate request for a hearing is received and the Regional Administrator does not elect to hold a hearing on his own motion, this determination shall become final and effective on October 27, 1999. Any request for a public hearing shall include the following information: (1) The name, address, and telephone number of the individual, organization, or other entity requesting a hearing. (2) A brief statement of the requesting person's interest in the Regional Administrator's determination and of information that the requesting person intends to submit at such hearing. (3) The signature of the individual making the request; or, if the request is made on behalf of an organization or other entity, the signature of a responsible official of the organization or other entity.

Sole Source Aquifer Designation of the Islesboro Island Aquifer System, Waldo County, Maine

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency.

ACTION: Notice of final determination.

SUMMARY: The Regional Administrator of Region I of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has determined that the Islesboro Island aquifer system that underlies Islesboro Island, Maine (denominated as "Islesboro Island Aquifer System") is the sole or principal source of drinking water for this area and if the aquifer system were contaminated would create a significant hazard to public health. This determination is in response to a petition submitted by the State of Maine requesting that the Administrator of EPA make a determination under section 1424(e) of the Safe Drinking Water Act, 42 U.S.C. 300h-3(e), as amended, that the Islesboro Island Aquifer System is a sole or principal source of drinking water for the area. As a result of Sole Source Aquifer (SSA) designation, federal financially assisted projects over the designated aquifer area will be subject to EPA review to ensure that these projects are designed and constructed so that they do not contaminate this aquifer so as to create a significant hazard to public health.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This determination shall become effective October 27, 1999.

ADDRESSES: The data upon which these findings are based are available to the public and may be inspected during normal business hours at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency—Region I, Office of Ecosystem Protection, Maine State Unit (CME), One Congress St, Suite 1100, Boston, MA 02114-2023.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Edward Lavery, U.S. EPA-I at the address above or at (617) 918-1683, e-mail: lavery.ted@epa.gov.

Section 1424(e) of the Safe Drinking Water Act, 42 U.S.C. 300h-3(e), states:

If the Administrator determines, on his own initiative or petition, that an area has an aquifer which is the sole or principal drinking water source for the area and which, if contaminated, would create a significant hazard to public health, he shall publish notice of that determination in the Federal Register. After the publication of any such notice, no commitment for federal financial assistance (through a grant, contract, loan guarantee, or otherwise) may be entered into for any project which the Administrator determines may contaminate such aquifer through a recharge zone so as to create a significant hazard to public health, but a commitment for federal financial assistance may, if authorized under another provision of law, be entered into to plan or design the project to assure that it will not so contaminate the aquifer.

On June 15, 1990 EPA Region I received a petition from the State of Maine requesting the designation of the aquifer system underlying the Islesboro Island Aquifer as a sole source aquifer under section 1424(e) of the SDWA. The petition expressed several reasons for interest in a designation including the vulnerability of the bedrock aquifer due to limited capacity for attenuation of contaminants due to a thin soil cover as well as the need to assess environmental impacts possible from federally-funded projects.

A detailed review of the petition was determined to meet all criteria on January 31, 1999. The Islesboro Ground Water Protection Committee also expressed support on January 13, 1999 for completing the determination.

EPA reviewed the petition and supporting documentation and began gathering available data to make a determination. EPA opened the official public comment period on the petition on May 17, 1999 and held a public meeting on May 17, 1999 at the Islesboro Municipal Building in Islesboro, Maine. The public comment period closed on June 17, 1999.

II. Basis for Determination

Among the factors considered by the Regional Administrator as part of the review and technical verification process for designating an area under section 1424(e) were:

1. The aquifer system underlying the Islesboro Island area supplies the service area population with 50% or more of its drinking water needs.
2. There are no economical alternative drinking water source or combination of sources to supply the designated service area.
3. The EPA has found that the State of Maine Department of Environmental Protection has appropriately delineated the boundaries of the aquifer project review and service area.
4. While the quality of the area's ground water is considered to be good, it is vulnerable to contamination due to the relatively thin soil cover and rapid movement of ground water in fractured rock, coupled with increasing development and other land uses. Recharge of the water supply is by infiltration of precipitation over the entire island. There are no public water supplies on the island and all homes are supplied by individual wells.

The designated area is underlain primarily by a fractured bedrock aquifer system. The aquifer system is overlain by areas of glacial till and silt deposits.

5. Definable Aquifer Boundaries: EPA guidance allows designations to be made for entire aquifers, hydrologically connected aquifers (aquifer systems), or part of an aquifer if that portion is hydrologically separated from the rest of the aquifer. The Islesboro Island Area Aquifer System boundary is based on the mean high tide line since this marks the freshwater-salt water boundary.

III. Description of the Islesboro Island Aquifer System That Underlies Islesboro Island

The Islesboro Island Aquifer System is a 14.23 square mile island located in the mid-coastal region of Maine, approximately 10 miles southeast of Belfast, Maine. The aquifer system is comprised of an interconnected bedrock aquifer. The aquifer material consists of two primary rock types: slate and limestone. The island has a relief of 195 feet with steep cliffs on the northwestern shores and a gentle slope along the eastern and southwestern portions of the island. All residents are supplied by individual wells, either drilled or dug wells. The aquifer is, therefore, the principal source of drinking water for the island.

For the Islesboro Island Aquifer System, the boundary of the aquifer is designated by the mean high tide line. The watershed boundary is the surface water divide based on topography, which corresponds with the ground water divide. The designated area, project review area and service area are conterminous, encompassing all of Islesboro Island.

IV. Information Utilized in Determination

The information utilized in this determination includes: the petition and supporting document submitted to the EPA Region I by the State of Maine, Department of Environmental Protection, the Island Institute, letters received during the public comment period, and public comments received during the public hearing. In addition, much of the information has been derived from published literature on the hydrogeology and water resources of the region. This information is available to the public and may be inspected at the address listed above. The petition and support document and EPA's response summary to public comment are available at the Municipal Office in Islesboro, Maine.

V. Project Review

EPA Region I is working with the federal agencies most likely to provide financial assistance to projects in the project review area. Interagency procedures and Memoranda of Understanding will be developed through which EPA will be notified of proposed commitments by federal agencies to projects which could potentially impact the Islesboro Island Aquifer System. The EPA will evaluate such projects, and where necessary, conduct an in-depth review, including soliciting State and local government and public comments when appropriate. Should the Regional Administrator determine that a project may contaminate the aquifer through its recharge zone so as to create a significant hazard to public health, no commitment for federal financial assistance may be entered into for that project. However, a commitment for federal financial assistance may, if authorized under another provision of law, be entered into to plan or design the project to ensure that it will not contaminate the aquifer. Included in the review of any federal financially-assisted projects will be the coordination with state and local agencies and the project's developers. Their comments will be given full consideration and EPA's review will attempt to complement and support state and local ground water protection measures. Although the project review process cannot be delegated, EPA will rely to the maximum extent possible on any existing or future state and/or local control measures to protect the quality of ground water in the Islesboro Island Aquifer Review Area.

VI. Economic and Regulatory Impact

Pursuant to the provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA), 5 U.S.C. 605(b), I hereby certify that this designation will not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities. For purposes of this Certification, the "small entity" shall have the same meaning as given in section 601 of the RFA. This action is only applicable to projects with the potential to impact the Islesboro Island Aquifer System SSA as designated.

The only affected entities will be those businesses, organizations or governmental jurisdictions that request federal financial assistance for projects which have the potential for contaminating the Sole Source Aquifer so as to create a significant hazard to public health. EPA does not expect to be reviewing small isolated commitments of financial assistance on an individual basis, unless a cumulative impact on the aquifer is anticipated; accordingly, the number of affected small entities will be minimal.

For those small entities which are subject to review, the impact to today's action will not be significant. Most projects subject to this review will be preceded by a ground water impact assessment required pursuant to other federal laws, such as the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) as amended 42 U.S.C. 4321, et seq. Integration of those related review procedures with sole source aquifer review will allow EPA and other Federal agencies to avoid delay or duplication of effort in approving financial assistance, thus minimizing any adverse effect on those small entities which are affected. Finally, today's action does not prevent grants of federal financial assistance which may be available to any affected small entity in order to pay for the redesign of the project to assure protection of the aquifer.

Under Executive Order 12866, EPA must judge whether a regulation is "major" and therefore subject to the requirement of a Regulatory Impact Analysis. This regulation is not major because it will not have an annual effect of $100 million or more on the economy, will not cause any major increase in costs or prices and will not have significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or the ability of United States enterprises to compete in domestic or export markets. Today's action only affects the Islesboro Island Aquifer System in Islesboro, ME. It provides an additional review of ground water protection measures, incorporating state and local measures whenever possible, for only those projects which request federal financial assistance.

VII. Summary and Discussion of Public Comments

A letter of support from the Islesboro Ground Water Protection Committee in support of the designation was received. However, no additional written comments were received. No formal oral comments were received at the public meeting. However, a few questions about the project review requirements of the sole source aquifer program were raised. EPA representative, Edward Lavery explained that project review will not be concerned with small, isolated commitments of financial assistance such as Farmers Home Administration loans however, EPA may conduct reviews if a large number of such projects is of concern. For many project review environmental impacts assessed under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) will be coordinated with project reviews required under section 1424(e) of the Safe Drinking Water Act.

This determination affects only the Islesboro Island Aquifer System located in Islesboro Island, ME. As a result of this Sole Source Aquifer determination, all federal financially-assisted projects proposed in the designated area will be subject to EPA review to ensure that they do not create a significant hazard to public health.

The Yellow Book: Guide to Environmental Enforcement and Compliance at Federal Facilities

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Notice of availability.

SUMMARY: To assure that Federal agencies adhere to the requirements under various laws and Executive Orders, EPA has revised and reissued the 1988 Federal Facilities Compliance Strategy, commonly referred to as the "Yellow Book." The revised Yellow Book is titled The Yellow Book: Guide to Environmental Enforcement and Compliance at Federal Facilities. This notice is to inform the public that the revised Yellow Book is available.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Anissa M. McNeill, Environmental Protection Agency, Office of Enforcement and Compliance Assurance, Federal Facilities Enforcement Office (2261A), 401 M St., SW., Washington, DC 20460; telephone number: (202) 564-0013; fax: (202) 501-0644; e-mail: mcneill.anissa@epa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. General Information

A. Does This Notice Apply to Me?

The primary purpose of the Yellow Book is to provide field-level personnel that have environmental responsibilities at Federal facilities with a comprehensive informational tool to help them comply with environmental requirements and to understand the enforcement and compliance processes used by EPA and States at Federal facilities. The information contained in the Yellow Book may be of value to others within the environmental community such as Federal agency environmental managers, EPA Headquarters and Regional staff with Federal facility responsibilities; State, Tribal, and local environmental staff; and contractor (or subcontractor) operators of Federal facilities.

The above description is intended to provide examples of entities likely to find the Yellow Book useful. If you have any questions regarding the applicability of this announcement to you, consult the person listed under "FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT."

B. How Can I Get Additional Information or Copies of This Document?

1. Electronically. You may obtain electronic copies of this document at <http://www.epa.gov/oeca/fedfac/yellowbk/>, or by accessing the Federal Facilities Enforcement Office (FFEO) web page at <http://www.epa.gov/oeca/fedfac/fflex/html>.

2. In person or by phone. To purchase a copy of the Yellow Book, contact the U.S. Government Printing Office, 710 North Capitol St., NW., Washington, DC 20401; telephone: (202) 512-1800; fax: (202) 260-1800. Either the stock number 055-000-00624-5 or the publication number EPA 315-B-98-011 can be used when ordering the Yellow Book.

II. Background

Since its inception, EPA has relied on a strong, aggressive enforcement program as the centerpiece of its efforts to ensure compliance with national environmental laws. Federal agencies, just like private parties, are required to comply with all environmental requirements. To ensure that Federal agencies adhere to environmental requirements, EPA monitors Federal agency compliance, issues and assesses fines and penalties, and develops Federal agency enforcement and compliance policy and guidance.

In February 1999, EPA's Office of Enforcement and Compliance and Assurance, Federal Facilities and Enforcement Office revised and reissued The Yellow Book: Guide to Environmental Enforcement and Compliance at Federal Facilities, commonly referred to as the Yellow Book. The document supersedes the 1988 Yellow Book titled Federal Facilities Compliance Strategy. The Yellow Book is intended to assist Federal facility staff with achieving and maintaining compliance with environmental requirements as required by Executive Order 12088, Federal Compliance with Pollution Control Standards. In addition, by providing compliance assistance to Federal facilities, the Yellow Book will help EPA achieve its goals--of Federal facility compliance equaling or surpassing the rest of the regulated community and of Federal facilities leading the way in minimizing environmental contamination.

The Yellow Book is a comprehensive informational tool that has been developed by FFEO to help Federal agencies comply with environmental requirements. It has been developed to:

- Provide a "roadmap" for Federal agency compliance with environmental requirements.
- Explain how, and by whom, Federal facility activities are monitored and tracked.
- Explain the enforcement tools and processes used by EPA, States, American Indian Tribes, and citizens to ensure compliance.

The Yellow Book is designed to function as a user-friendly guide that contains useful and easily accessed information and as a resource for obtaining additional information on specific environmental issues. The Yellow Book is not intended to ensure compliance with all regulations.

The revised Yellow Book contains many changes from the 1988 version. For example, the new Yellow Book:

- Includes new and revised policies and procedures.
- Includes new and reauthorized laws.
- Discusses more environmental laws.
- Broadens the scope of environmental statute descriptions by: Detailing the requirements of the law; tailoring the descriptions to highlight the law's application to Federal facilities; and describing the enforcement response that can be taken when a Federal facility is in violation of a law's requirements.
- Discusses more executive orders and broadens the scope of executive order descriptions by providing more detail regarding requirements.

- Provides the reader with sources of more information for each subject discussed in the Yellow Book. The Yellow Book contains a preface, seven chapters, and seven appendices.

III. Summary of Chapters

The chapters and appendices are listed below.

Chapters I through VII

Chapter I: Identifying Federal Facilities and Tracking Federal Facility Compliance

This chapter defines Federal facilities, describes the different types of Federal facilities, and identified how EPA tracks Federal facility activity. It provides answers to the following questions: What is a Federal facility? How are Federal facilities identified and tracked?

Chapter II: Environmental Statutes and Executive Orders

This chapter summarizes key provisions of environmental statutes and executive orders with which Federal facilities must comply. It addresses the need for Federal facilities to comply not only with Federal environmental requirements, but also with those of State, Tribal, and local governments. In addition, several other laws affecting Federal facilities (e.g., the Base Closure and Realignment Act) are discussed.

Chapter III: Crosscutting Environmental Issues

This chapter discusses several crosscutting environmental issues that affect Federal facilities. Included is a discussion of pollution prevention, Federal government environmental awards and challenge programs, environmental justice, American Indian Tribes, innovative technology, the Federal Facilities Environmental Restoration Dialogue Committee, formerly used defense sites, and environmentally beneficial landscaping requirements.

Chapter IV: Monitoring Federal Facility Compliance

Chapter IV discusses why and how EPA, States, and Tribes monitor Federal facility activities. It includes a discussion of the goals and objectives of EPA's Federal facility compliance program and identifies the tools frequently employed to monitor Federal agency compliance. Specific topics discussed in Chapter IV include coordination between EPA Regions and the States on Federal facility compliance; the reporting and recordkeeping activities that are required of Federal facilities; the Code of Environmental Management Principles; Environmental Management Systems; inspections of Federal facilities by EPA, States, and/or Tribes; audits conducted by the facilities themselves; and Federal Agency Environmental Management Program Planning, commonly referred to as FEDPLAN.

Chapter V: Enforcement Response to Federal Facility Violations

Chapter V discusses EPA's Federal facility enforcement philosophy, summarizes key enforcement policies affecting Federal facilities, and provides an overview of enforcement authorities and the enforcement process. Also discussed is EPA's response to violations at Federal facilities operated by non-Federal parties (e.g., government-owned/contractor-operated facilities) and State/Tribal response to Federal facility violations. A chart depicting the EPA Federal facilities enforcement process is provided. In addition, an exhibit is presented that provides definitions for significant violators and significant noncompliers of environmental requirements.

Chapter VI: Compliance Assistance, Training, and Outreach

This chapter discusses EPA's role in providing compliance assistance to Federal facilities. Included in the discussion are training opportunities, available hotlines, and access to EPA publications.

Chapter VII: EPA Offices With Major Federal Facility Responsibilities

Chapter VII provides an overview of the major organizations and groups within EPA that are directly involved in activities affecting Federal facilities. The chapter discusses the roles and responsibilities of the Federal Facilities Enforcement Office, Federal Facilities Restoration and Reuse Office, Office of Site Remediation Enforcement, Office of Federal Activities, Federal Facilities Leadership Council, and Regional Federal Facility Coordinators.

18	Letter of Map Revision-inadvertent inclusion in V zone (218-65)
19	Letter of Map Change Revalidation.

The second listing includes map panels that FEMA physically revised and republished from January 1 through June 30, 1999. For those map panels on which the Special Flood Hazard Areas have not been changed or have been changed only to incorporate Letters of Map Change issued before the effective date, two asterisks() are shown to the right of the map panel number. For those map panels for which a Flood Insurance Rate Map is produced for the first time, resulting only in changes to flood insurance and floodplain management requirements in the affected community, three asterisks() are shown to the right of the map panel number.

ACTION: Notice of Correction.

SUMMARY: This Notice corrects the Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentages (EFMAP) for eight states as published in the January 12, 1999 Federal Register. Five states (Arkansas, Georgia, Kentucky, South Carolina and Utah) should have had an EFMAP .01% higher than the values published in January. Three states (Florida, Maine and South Dakota) should have had an EFMAP .01% lower than that published in January.

EFFECTIVE DATES: The corrected percentages will be effective for each of the 4 quarter-year periods in the period beginning October 1, 1999 and ending September 30, 2000.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Robert Stewart or Jennifer Tolbert, Office of Health Policy, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation, Room 442E Hubert H. Humphrey Building, 200 Independence Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20201, Telephone (202) 690-6870.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On January 12, 1999, the Department published in the Federal Register (PP. 1805-1808) the Federal Medical Assistance Percentages (FMAP) and the Enhanced Federal Assistance Percentages (EFMAP). The FMAP values were correct. The EFMAP values for eight states were slightly in error because of a failure to round the FMAP values from which the EFMAP values were computed. The correct EFMAP values for the eight states are:

Proposed Project

Families, Communities, and Diabetes Management Project—New—National

Center for Chronic Disease Prevention and Health Promotion (NCCDPHP), Division of Diabetes Translation. Diabetes Type 2 is a serious chronic metabolic disease with serious potential health consequences that include both psychological and physical health conditions. Diabetes care is important in the management of this disease. Previous studies examining factors that influence diabetes management have examined psychological, patient-provider relationships, family and social support, health insurance availability and utilization, dietary consumption, and levels of physical activity. Most of what is known about managing diabetes has been generated using results based on findings with predominately white audiences. Therefore, NCCDPHP, Division of Diabetes Translation, intends to conduct a longitudinal study examining complex inter-and intra-personal factors unique to African-American and Mexican-American adults living with diabetes. Also contributing to this study will be family members of these individuals. Examination of these factors will help to develop effective intervention models for these populations.

The research design will involve separate samples of African-Americans and Mexican-Americans between the ages of 40 and 64 with Type 2 Diabetes. Significant family members of these individuals will also participate.

Participating families will be divided into two groups, an intervention group that will receive the intervention at the beginning of the study, and a comparison group that will receive a modified version at the end. Both self-report via questionnaires and more objective measures (e.g., hemoglobin blood glucose levels) of self-care adherence and diabetes control will be measured. Information collected will include diabetes knowledge, community characteristics, forms of social support, patient-provider relationship, and health care coverage. The total cost is estimated at $3,707,473.00

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Panel was created on August 18, 1999. FDA is requesting nominations for members to serve on the new advisory panel.

Persons nominated for membership should have expertise in the activity of the Panel as identified below.

Functions

The functions of the medical devices panels of the Medical Devices Advisory Committee are to: (1) Review and evaluate data on the safety and effectiveness of marketed and investigational devices and make recommendations for their regulation; (2) advise the Commissioner of Food and Drugs regarding recommended classification or reclassification of these devices into one of three regulatory categories; (3) advise on any possible risks to health associated with the use of devices; (4) advise on formulation of product development protocols; (5) review premarket approval applications for medical devices; (6) review guidelines and guidance documents; (7) recommend exemption to certain devices from the application of portions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (the act); (8) advise on the necessity to ban a device; (9) respond to requests from the agency to review and make recommendations on specific issues or problems concerning the safety and effectiveness of devices; and (10) make recommendations on the quality in the design of clinical studies regarding the safety and effectiveness of marketed and investigational devices.

Specifically, the function of the Molecular and Clinical Genetics Panel is to provide advice to the Commissioner on the appropriate scientific criteria to diagnostically test for human genes. In addition to the functions of the Medical Devices Advisory Committee, this panel shall review guidance and recommend criteria and classification of tests for human genes.

Criteria for Members

Persons nominated for membership on the Panel shall have expertise in human genetics and in the clinical management of patients with genetic disorders, e.g., pediatricians, obstetricians, and neonatologists. The agency is also interested in considering candidates with training in inborn errors of metabolism, biochemical and/or molecular genetics, population genetics, epidemiology and related statistical training. Additionally, individuals with experience in genetic counseling, medical ethics as well as ancillary fields of study will be considered. The term of office is up to 4 years.

The Panel will also include technically qualified members who are identified with consumer interests and representatives of industry interests.

Nomination Procedures

Any interested person may nominate one or more qualified persons for membership on the Panel. Self-nominations are also accepted. Nominations shall include a complete curriculum vitae of each nominee, current business address and telephone number, and shall state that the nominee is aware of the nomination, is willing to serve as a member, and appears to have no conflict of interest that would preclude Panel membership. FDA will ask the potential candidates to provide detailed information concerning such matters as financial holdings, employment, and research grants and/or contracts to permit evaluation of possible sources of conflict of interest.

Criteria for Consumer-Nominated Members

Selection of members representing consumer interests is conducted through procedures that include use of a consortium of consumer organizations which has the responsibility for screening, interviewing and recommending candidates for the agency's selection. Candidates from this group, like all other candidates for membership on the Panel, should possess appropriate qualifications to understand and contribute to the Panel's work.

Industry Representatives

Regarding nominations for members representing industry interests, a letter will be sent to each person or organization that has made a nomination and to other organizations that have expressed an interest in participating in the selection process together with a complete list of all such organizations and the nominees. The letter will state that it is the responsibility of each nominator or organization that has expressed an interest in participating in the selection process to consult with the others to provide a consensus slate of possible members representing industry interests within 60 days. In the event that a slate of nominees has not been provided within 60 days, the agency will select an industry representative for each such vacancy from the entire list of industry nominees to avoid delay or disruption of the work of the Panel. The agency is particularly interested in nominees that possess the essential scientific credentials needed to participate fully and knowledgeably in the Panel's deliberations. In addition to this expertise, the agency believes that it would be an advantage to the Panel's work if the individual had special insight and direct experience into specific industrywide issues, practices, and concerns that might not otherwise be available to others not similarly situated.

This notice is issued under the Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. app. 2) and 21 CFR part 14 relating to advisory committees.

In general terms, the first scientific public workshop on December 9 and 10, 1999, is intended to focus on issues related to risk assessment and the establishment of resistance thresholds in food-producing animals. The second scientific public workshop on February 22 and 23, 2000, is intended to discuss the design of preapproval studies in food-producing animals to model the rate and extent of resistance development. FDA will consider comments received at the general public meeting in its further planning of the two scientific public workshops. Draft Guidance for Industry on Noncontraceptive Estrogen Class Labeling; Availability AGENCY: Food and Drug Administration, HHS.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is announcing the availability of a draft guidance for industry entitled "Labeling Guidance for Noncontraceptive Estrogen Drug Products—Prescribing Information for Healthcare Providers and Patient Labeling." The draft guidance is intended to serve as a template for sponsors of estrogen class drug products to ensure that such products contain uniform health care provider and patient labeling information. FDA published a notice of availability of an earlier version of this draft guidance in the Federal Register of October 15, 1998 (63 FR 55399). The agency received numerous comments. As a result, the original draft guidance was revised substantially and is being issued in draft for a second time.

DATES: Written comments on the draft guidance document may be submitted by November 26, 1999. General comments on agency guidance documents are welcome at any time.

ADDRESSES: Copies of the draft guidance for industry can be obtained on the Internet at <http://www.fda.gov/cder/guidance/index.htm>. Submit written requests for single copies of "Labeling Guidance for Noncontraceptive Estrogen Drug Products—Prescribing Information for Healthcare Providers and Patient Labeling" to the Drug Information Branch (HFD-210), Center for Drug Evaluation and Research, Food and Drug Administration, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20857. Send one self-addressed adhesive label to assist that office in processing your requests. Submit written comments on the draft guidance to the Dockets Management Branch (HFA-305), Food and Drug Administration, 5630 Fishers Lane, rm. 1061, Rockville, MD 20852.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Lana L. Pauls, Reproductive and Urologic Drug Products, Center for Drug Evaluation and Research (HFD-580), Food and Drug Administration, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20857, 301-827-4260.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: FDA is announcing the availability of a draft guidance for industry entitled "Labeling Guidance for Noncontraceptive Estrogen Drug Products—Prescribing Information for Healthcare Providers and Patient Labeling." The draft guidance is intended to serve as a template for sponsors of estrogen class drug products to ensure that such products contain uniform health care provider and patient labeling information. Once finalized, this draft guidance will replace the "Labeling Guidance for Estrogen Drug Products, Physician Labeling" and "Labeling Guidance for Estrogen Drug Products, Patient Package Insert," both of which were revised and published in August 1992.

The draft guidance outlines recommended language for the prescribing information for the health care provider and the patient package inserts. Included are black box warnings explaining the increased risk of cancer of the uterus associated with the use of estrogens. Once finalized, the recommendations in this draft guidance should be followed for all approved, pending, and future applications.

In the Federal Register of October 15, 1998 (63 FR 55399), FDA announced the availability of an earlier version of this draft guidance. The agency received numerous comments. As a result, the original draft guidance was revised substantially and is being issued in draft for a second time.

This Level 1 draft guidance is being issued consistent with FDA's good guidance practices (62 FR 8961, February 27, 1997). It represents the agency's current thinking on estrogen class labeling. It does not create or confer any rights for or on any person and does not operate to bind FDA or the public. An alternative approach may be used if such approach satisfies the requirement of the applicable statute, regulations, or both.

Interested persons may submit written comments on the draft guidance to the Dockets Management Branch (address above). Two copies of any comments are to be submitted, except that individuals may submit one copy. Comments are to be identified with the docket number found in brackets in the heading of this document. The draft guidance and received comments are available for public examination in the Dockets Management Branch between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: IID was organized in 1911 to deliver Colorado River water to lands within the Imperial Valley, California for agricultural, domestic, industrial, and other beneficial uses. Water is diverted via the All American Canal and flows through the Colorado River at Imperial Dam based upon water rights obtained prior to the beginning of this century under state law, pursuant to a 1932 water delivery contract for permanent service, for potable and irrigation purposes within the boundaries of the District, with the Secretary of the Interior under the Boulder Canyon Project Act of 1928 [45 Stat. 1057, as amended, 43 U.S.C. 617 et seq.], and pursuant to appropriations applications filed with the state between 1933 and 1936. Water flows through the Imperial Valley in a complex system of delivery canals, laterals, and drains serving over 450,000 acres of some of the most intensively farmed land in the nation. Agricultural drainage water flows into the New and Alamo Rivers and into the Salton Sea, a designated reservoir for irrigation drainage.

IID seeks to develop a long-term program for the conservation of up to 300,000 af/yr. IID proposes to transfer all or a portion of the conserved water to SDCWA and, under certain circumstances, other designees for beneficial use and to meet current and projected water supply needs. The proposed conservation program would include the participation of Imperial Valley landowners and tenants in order to implement on-farm conservation methods, such as improved or alternative water management techniques and revised irrigation methods. The program may also include system-based conservation methods implemented by IID, which improve distribution and drainage facilities.

IID intends that the transferred water will retain IID's priority among Colorado River water users and that the transfer will not affect IID's historic water rights. IID, the Department of Interior, and other potentially affected water rights holders are engaged in quantification discussions regarding Colorado River water.

On April 29, 1998, IID and SDCWA executed an Agreement for Transfer of Conserved Water (Agreement). The Agreement provides parameters for the water conservation and transfer transaction. The Agreement calls for IID to conserve and transfer an annual amount of water (the "primary" transfer) not to exceed 20,000 af in the first year. The primary transfer would increase in quantity in subsequent years until a stabilized annual primary quantity is established by IID, which shall be not less than 130,000 af/yr or more than 200,000 af/yr. After at least 10 years of primary transfers, an additional discretionary component not to exceed 100,000 af/yr may be transferred to SDCWA or, at IID's option, to the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California or Coachella Valley Water District in connection with the settlement of water rights disputes between IID and these agencies. The initial term of the project is 45 years after transfers first commence. Each party has the option to extend the term for an additional 30 years.

The Water Conservation and Transfer Project is the result of a collaboration between IID and SDCWA. The purpose and need for the proposed project is to advance objectives of both agencies, consistent with the Law of the River for the Colorado River, relating to water availability and management. IID has identified specific objectives for the proposed project. The District proposes to sell the conserved water in a market-based transaction in order to provide IID with sufficient funds to implement a water conservation program, including the cost of on-farm and system improvements, environmental mitigation costs, and other implementation costs. IID intends to implement a conservation program which includes participation of Imperial Valley landowners and tenants so that on-farm, in addition to system-based conservation methods, can be implemented efficiently. IID seeks to maintain its historic senior priority water rights in a manner consistent with state and federal law during project implementation and operation. Additional IID objectives include providing an economic stimulus to Imperial Valley's agricultural economy and the surrounding community and lessen increased demand for water for southern California from the State Water Project.

SDCWA has also identified specific project objectives. SDCWA seeks to acquire an independent, reliable alternate long-term water supply to provide drought protection and to accommodate current and projected demand for municipal, domestic, and agricultural water uses. In order to enhance the reliability of its water supply, SDCWA intends to diversify its sources of water supply and decrease its current dependence on a single source. Through the establishment of a stabilized source, SDCWA seeks to pay a fair, competitive price for its water supply and in the process lessen increased demand for water for southern California from the State Water Project.

A water transfer from IID to SDCWA is a key element of the "California 4.4 Plan" which is being developed by the Colorado River Board of California and the California State Department of Water Resources, at the request of the Secretary of the Interior and the other Colorado River basin states. This Plan is intended to address the need for California to reduce its reliance on Colorado River water to its legal entitlement of 4.4 million acre-feet of Colorado River water. California currently is diverting approximately 5.2 million acre-feet of Colorado River water per year.

Implementation of the proposed project will require certain state approvals, including approval by the State Water Resources Control Board and compliance with CEQA and the California Endangered Species Act. Implementation will also require certain federal approvals, including approval of the proposed transfer between IID and SDCWA, compliance with NEPA, the federal Endangered Species Act and other related federal environmental laws, statutes, Executive Orders, and regulations. Reclamation will act as the federal lead agency pursuant to NEPA because certain actions taken to facilitate the transfer will require approval by the Secretary of the Interior. Such actions could potentially include amendments to IID's contract with the Secretary, change in the point of diversion of Colorado River water, change in type of use, change in place of use, verification or concurrence in the amount of water conserved by this Project, and verification of beneficial use of Colorado River water. Reclamation is therefore seeking comments from the public on the scope of the issues and extent of analysis that should be evaluated in the EIR/EIS.

Additional information can be obtained from the project website at <http://www.is.ch2m.com/iidweb>.

Alternatives

The EIR/EIS will evaluate other feasible project alternatives, including a range of alternative conservation measures, water supply and transfer alternatives, and various alternative measures in addition to the No Project/No Action Alternative.

Potential water supply alternatives that will be considered in the EIR/EIS include the following:

- Additional water conservation in the San Diego service area
- Additional water repurification and recycling
- Desalination
- Additional water transfers from Northern California
- Transfer of water conserved in another agricultural region with conveyance through the State Water Project and Metropolitan Water District system

Potential Environmental Effects

The full range of environmental impacts has not been quantified temporally and spatially. Until specific conservation alternatives have been developed, potential environmental effects could include the following:

Lower Colorado River Area

- Reduction in Colorado River water flows between Parker and Imperial Dams
- Impacts to Colorado River water quality
- Impacts to wildlife, protected species and their habitats
- Cumulative impacts to water quality

San Diego County

- Growth-inducing impacts
- Salton Sea
- Effects on water levels, salinity, and water quality
- Effects on fisheries habitat
- Impacts to wildlife, protected species and their habitats
- Impacts to recreational uses

Imperial Valley

- Impacts to water flow and quality
- Effects on selenium, boron, and pesticide concentrations
- Impacts to wildlife, protected species and their habitats
- Socio-economic impacts
- Air quality impacts

The draft EIR/EIS is expected to be completed by a target date of April 3, 2000. Availability of the draft EIR/EIS for public review and comment will be announced and noticed in the local media and by a Federal Register Notice.

Dated: September 23, 1999.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

Determination

On the basis of the record¹ developed in the subject five-year review, the United States International Trade Commission determines, pursuant to section 751(c) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1675(c)) (the Act), that revocation of the antidumping duty order on anhydrous sodium metasilicate from France would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury to an industry in the United States within a reasonably foreseeable time.²

Background

The Commission instituted this review on October 1, 1998 (63 FR 52748) and determined on January 7, 1999 that it would conduct a full review (64 FR 4892, February 1, 1999). Notice of the scheduling of the Commission's review and of a public hearing to be held in connection therewith was given by posting copies of the notice in the Office of the Secretary, U.S. International Trade Commission, Washington, DC, and by publishing the notice in the Federal Register on March 3, 1999 (64 FR 10315). The hearing was held in Washington, DC, on July 21, 1999, and all persons who requested the opportunity were permitted to appear in person or by counsel.

The Commission transmitted its determination in this investigation to the Secretary of Commerce on September 20, 1999. The views of the Commission are contained in USITC Publication 3235 (September 1999), entitled Anhydrous Sodium Metasilicate from France: Investigation No. 731-TA-25 (Review).

Issued: September 21, 1999.

Certain Semiconductor Memory Devices and Products Containing Same; Notice of Commission Determination Not To Review an Initial Determination Extending the Target for Completion of the Investigation

AGENCY: U.S. International Trade Commission.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that the U.S. International Trade Commission has determined not to review the presiding administrative law judge's ("ALJ's") initial determination ("ID") extending the target date for completion of the above-captioned investigation by three months, or until March 27, 2000.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Clara Kuehn, Esq., Office of the General Counsel, U.S. International Trade Commission, 500 E Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20436, telephone (202) 205-3012. General information concerning the Commission may also be obtained by accessing its Internet server (<http://www.usitc.gov>).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Commission ordered the institution of this investigation on September 18, 1998, based on a complaint filed on behalf of Micron Technology, Inc., 8000 South Federal Way, Boise, Idaho 83707-0006 ("complainant"). The notice of investigation was published in the Federal Register on September 25, 1998, 63 FR 51372 (1998). On August 25, 1999, the ALJ issued an ID extending the target date for completion of this investigation until March 27, 2000, which is 18 months from the date of institution of the investigation. The previous target date was December 27, 1999. AGENCY: Copyright Office, Library of Congress.

ACTION: Notice with a request for comments.

SUMMARY: The Copyright Office is announcing the schedule for the Copyright Arbitration Royalty Panel which shall set rates and terms for two compulsory licenses. One license allows certain eligible nonsubscription services to perform sound recordings publicly by means of digital audio transmissions and the other allows a transmitting organization to make an ephemeral recording of a sound recording for the purpose of making a permitted public performance. The Office is also announcing the date by which a party who wishes to participate in the rate adjustment proceeding must file its Notice of Intention to Participate.

DATES: Comments and Notices of Intention to Participate are due no later than November 1, 1999.

ADDRESSES: An original and five copies of a Notice of Intention to Participate and an original and five copies of any comment shall be delivered to: Office of the General Counsel, Copyright Office, James Madison Building, Room LM-403, First and Independence Avenue, S.E. Washington, D.C. 20559-6000; or mailed to: Copyright Arbitration Royalty Panel (CARP), P.O. Box 70977, Southwest Station, Washington, D.C. 20024.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

In 1995, Congress passed the Digital Performance Right in Sound Recordings Act ("DPRA"), Public Law 104-39, 109 Stat. 336 (1995), which created for copyright owners of sound recordings an exclusive right, subject to certain limitations, to perform publicly the copyrighted work by means of a digital audio transmission. 17 U.S.C. 106(6). Among the limitations placed on the performance of the sound recording was the creation of a new compulsory license for nonexempt, noninteractive, digital subscription services. 17 U.S.C. 114. The scope of this license was expanded in 1998 with the passage of the Digital Millennium Copyright Act ("DMCA") to cover the public performance of sound recordings by means of eligible nonsubscription transmissions and transmissions by any preexisting satellite digital audio radio service which performs a sound recording by means of a digital audio transmission.

An "eligible nonsubscription transmission" is a noninteractive digital audio transmission which, as the name implies, does not require a subscription for receiving the transmission. The transmission must also be made as part of a service that provides audio programming consisting in whole or in part of performances of sound recordings the purpose of which is to provide audio or entertainment programming, but not to sell, advertise, or promote particular goods or services. A "preexisting satellite digital audio radio service" is a subscription digital audio radio service that received a satellite digital audio radio service license issued by the Federal Communications Commission on or before July 31, 1998. See 17 U.S.C. 114(j)(6) and (10). Only two known entities, CD Radio and XM Satellite Radio (formerly known as American Mobile Radio Corporation), qualify under the statutory definition as preexisting satellite digital audio radio services.

In addition to expanding the current section 114 license, the DMCA creates a new statutory license for the making of an "ephemeral recording" of a sound recording by certain transmitting organizations. The new statutory license allows entities that transmit performances of sound recordings to business establishments, pursuant to the limitations set forth in section 114(d)(1)(C)(iv), to make an ephemeral recording of a sound recording for purposes of a later transmission. The new license also provides a means by which a transmitting entity with a statutory license under section 114(f) can make more than the one phonorecord specified in section 112(a). 17 U.S.C. 112(e).

Determination of Reasonable Terms and Rates

The statutory scheme for establishing reasonable terms and rates is the same for both licenses. The terms and rates for the two new statutory licenses may be determined through a voluntary negotiation process, or if necessary, through compulsory arbitration conducted pursuant to Chapter 8 of the Copyright Act. Because the DMCA does not establish reasonable rates and terms for either the new section 112 or the expanded section 114 license, the statute requires the Librarian of Congress to initiate a voluntary negotiation period, the first phase in the rate setting process, within 30 days of enactment for the purpose of determining reasonable terms and rates for each license. See 17 U.S.C. 112(e)(4) and 114(f)(2)(A).

Accordingly, the Office announced the dates for the six-month negotiation period in the Federal Register on November 27, 1998. 63 FR 65555

(November 27, 1998).¹ The designated six-month negotiation period began on November 27, 1998, and concluded on May 27, 1999.

At this time, the parties continue to negotiate. If the affected parties are able to negotiate an industry-wide agreement, then it will not be necessary for the parties to participate in an arbitration proceeding. In such a case, the Librarian of Congress will follow current rate regulation procedures and notify the public of the proposed agreement in a notice and comment proceeding. If no party with a substantial interest and an intent to participate in an arbitration proceeding files a comment opposing the negotiated rates and terms, the Librarian will adopt the proposed terms and rates without convening a copyright arbitration royalty panel. 37 CFR 251.63(b). If, however, no industry-wide agreement is reached or only certain parties negotiate license agreements, then those copyright owners and users relying upon one or both of the statutory licenses shall be bound by the terms and rates established through the arbitration process.

Arbitration proceedings are initiated upon the filing of a petition for ratemaking with the Librarian of Congress during the 60 days immediately following the six-month negotiation period. Arbitration cannot take place, however, unless a party files a petition. 17 U.S.C. 112(e)(5) and 114(f)(2)(B).

On July 23, 1999, the Recording Industry of America, Inc. ("RIAA") filed a petition in accordance with 17 U.S.C. 112(e)(5) and 114(f)(2)(B) requesting that the Office convene a Copyright Arbitration Royalty Panel for the purpose of setting rates and terms for the expanded section 114 license and the newly created section 112 license. In addition, RIAA asks that the Office not require the filing of a Notice of Intention to Participate before October 1, 1999, nor set the commencement of the 45-day precontroversy period to begin before January 15, 2000. RIAA makes these requests based upon its belief "that more time for voluntary negotiation is likely to result in additional agreements that may avoid a CARP proceeding altogether." RIAA petition at 2.

Comments and Notices of Intention to Participate

The regulations governing rate adjustment proceedings require that, upon the filing of a petition for rate adjustment, the Office establish a date certain by which parties wishing to participate in the proceeding must file with the Librarian a Notice of Intention to Participate. 37 CFR 251.45(a). In consideration of the ongoing negotiations, the Office is setting November 1, 1999, as the date by which an interested party must file its Notice of Intention to Participate. Failure to submit a timely notice will preclude the interested party from participating in the CARP proceeding whose purpose will be to set rates and terms for: (1) certain digital audio transmissions by a service eligible to make use of the expanded section 114 license, and (2) for ephemeral recordings made in accordance with the section 112 license.

In addition, any party who wishes to comment on the RIAA petition may file a comment with the Copyright Office no later than close of business on November 1, 1999. The Librarian will consider these comments when evaluating the sufficiency of the petition. See 37 CFR 251.64.

Precontroversy Discovery Schedule

The Copyright Office is announcing the schedule for the 45-day precontroversy discovery period. Any party that files a Notice of Intention to Participate in this proceeding may participate in the precontroversy discovery period, provided that the party has submitted a written direct case with the Copyright Office and with all other parties who have filed a Notice of Intention to Participate. Each party may request of an opposing party nonprivileged documents underlying facts asserted in another party's written direct case. The precontroversy discovery period is limited to discovery of documents related to a party's written direct case and any amendment made to it during the 45-day period.

The precontroversy discovery schedule will be as follows:

Action	Deadline
Filing of written direct cases.	January 18, 2000.
Requests for underlying documents related to written direct cases.	January 26, 2000.
Responses to request for underlying documents.	February 1, 2000.
Completion of document production.	February 7, 2000.
Follow-up requests for underlying documents.	February 11, 2000.
Responses to follow-up requests.	February 16, 2000.

Action	Deadline
Motions related to document production.	February 22, 2000.
Production of documents in response to follow-up requests.	February 28, 2000.
All other motions, petitions, and objections.	March 2, 2000.

The precontroversy discovery period, as specified by § 251.45(b) of the rules, will begin on January 18, 2000, with the filing of written direct cases by each party. Each party in this proceeding who has filed a Notice of Intention to Participate must file a written direct case on the date prescribed above. Failure to submit a timely filed written direct case will result in dismissal of that party's claim. Parties must comply with the form and content of written direct cases as prescribed in 37 CFR 251.43. Each party to the proceeding must deliver a complete copy of its written direct case to each of the other parties to the proceeding, as well as file a complete copy with the Copyright Office by close of business on January 18, 2000, the first day of the 45-day period.

After the filing of the written direct cases, document production will proceed according to the above-described schedule. Each party may request underlying documents related to each of the other parties' written direct cases by January 26, 2000, and responses to those requests by February 1, 2000. Documents which are produced as a result of the requests must be exchanged by February 7, 2000. It is important to note that all initial document requests must be made by the January 26, 2000, deadline. Thus, for example, if one party asserts facts that expressly rely on the results of a particular study that was not included in the written direct case, another party desiring production of that study must make its request by January 26, 2000; otherwise, the requesting party is not entitled to production of the study.

The precontroversy discovery schedule also establishes deadlines for follow-up discovery requests. Follow-up requests are due by February 11, 2000, and responses to those requests are due by February 16, 2000. Any documentation produced as a result of a follow-up request must be exchanged by February 28, 2000. An example of a follow-up request would be as follows. In the above example, one party expressly relies on the results of a particular study which is not included in its written direct case. As noted above, a party desiring production of that study or survey must make its request by January 26, 2000. If, after receiving a copy of the study, the reviewing party determines that the study heavily relies on the results of a statistical survey, it would be appropriate for that party to make a follow-up request for production of the statistical survey by the February 11, 2000, deadline. Again, failure to make a timely follow-up request would waive the requesting party's right to request production of the survey.

In addition to the deadlines for document requests and production, there are two deadlines for the filing of precontroversy motions. Motions related to document production must be filed by February 22, 2000. Typically, these motions are motions to compel production of requested documents for failure to produce them, but they may also be motions for protective orders. Finally, all other motions, petitions and objections must be filed by March 2, 2000, the final day of the 45-day precontroversy discovery period. These motions, petitions, and objections include, for example, petitions to dispense with formal hearings under § 251.41(b).

Due to the time limitations between the procedural steps of the precontroversy discovery schedule, we are requiring that all discovery requests and responses to such requests be served by hand or fax on the party to whom such response or request is directed. Filing of requests and responses with the Copyright Office is neither encouraged nor required.

Filing and service of all precontroversy motions, petitions, objections, oppositions, and replies shall be as follows. In order to be considered properly filed with the Librarian and/or Copyright Office, all pleadings must be delivered to the Copyright Office no later than 5 p.m. of the filing deadline date. Parties may deliver the pleadings to: Office of the Register of Copyrights, Room LM-403, James Madison Memorial Building, 101 Independence Avenue, S.E., Washington, D.C. 20540; or alternatively, parties may send their pleadings by Federal Express to: Copyright Arbitration Royalty Panel (CARP), Attn: Gina Giuffreda (Tel. 202-707-8380), Federal Express, 208 Second Street, S.E., Washington, D.C. 20003, provided that the filing reaches the Copyright Office by the deadline. The Office cautions parties to use only the Federal Express address listed in this Notice, to include the telephone number of the Office, and to direct the package to the attention of the CARP Specialist, Ms. Gina Giuffreda. The Federal Express office will notify the Copyright Office upon receipt of a properly addressed package, and the Copyright Office will make arrangements to pick up the package the same day. Under no circumstances will the Office make arrangements to retrieve a package from any other Federal Express location or track a misdirected package. Each party bears the responsibility for insuring that the filings are in the Copyright Office by the deadline.

The form and content of all motions, petitions, objections, oppositions, and replies filed with the Office must be in compliance with §§ 251.44(b)–(e). As provided in § 251.45(b), oppositions to any motions or petitions must be filed with the Office no later than seven business days from the date of filing of such motion or petition. Replies are due five business days from the date of filing of such oppositions. Service of all motions, petitions, objections, oppositions, and replies must be made on counsel or the parties by means no slower than overnight express mail on the same day the pleading is filed.

Initiation of Arbitration

The 180-day arbitration period will be initiated on May 1, 2000. The schedule of the arbitration proceeding will be established by the CARP after the three arbitrators have been selected.

Future Proceedings

Sections 114(f)(2)(C) and 112(e)(7) of the Copyright Act, title 17, require the publication of a notice of the initiation of voluntary negotiation proceedings during the first week of January 2000. The purpose of these negotiations would be to set rates and terms for the public performance of sound recordings by means of eligible nonsubscription transmission services and for the making of ephemeral recordings for the period January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2003. Parties to a voluntary agreement, however, may designate an alternative schedule for setting rates and terms for the section 114 license as a provision of the settlement agreement. 17 U.S.C. 114(f)(2)(A) and (2)(C)(i)(II); 17 U.S.C. 112(e) (4) and (7).

In the event the parties to the current proceeding do not reach a settlement agreement prior to the first week of January, 2000, which includes an alternative schedule for setting rates and terms to cover the period January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2003, the Office will adhere to the statutory time frame and announce the initiation of the voluntary negotiation period for this next two-year cycle.

Dated: September 21, 1999.

David O. Carson,
General Counsel.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

AGENCY: Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

ACTION: Notice of Public Workshop and Meeting with the Nuclear Energy Institute (NEI) to Discuss the Agency's Inspection of Decommissioning Nuclear Power Plants.

SUMMARY: On October 13, 1999, at 7:00 p.m., the Nuclear Regulatory Commission staff will conduct a Public Workshop at the Ramada Inn, in Meriden, CT, to discuss the Agency's program for its inspection of decommissioning nuclear power plants. Specifically, the staff plans to provide a short presentation on the current inspection program for reactor facilities that are decommissioning, summarize the findings of the inspection program since 1997, and discuss proposed changes to the current program. Following this presentation, a forum will be provided for the public, the nuclear industry, and other regulatory agencies to discuss and inform the NRC staff of any questions or concerns regarding the Agency's inspection of permanently shutdown nuclear power plants.

On October 14, 1999, NEI has been invited to present to the NRC staff, its assessment of the NRC's inspection of decommissioning power reactors. This meeting will be open for public observation and will be held at 10:30 a.m. at the Ramada Inn, Meriden, CT.

The insights gained from the workshop and meeting will be evaluated by the staff and factored into the Agency's lessons learned and risk insights that will be used to revise and improve the procedures used to inspect permanently shutdown reactor plants. NRC management, project managers, and specialist inspectors will be in attendance at the workshop and meeting to respond individually or in concert to questions or concerns. The NRC will be represented by the NRC Regional Offices and the Offices of Nuclear Reactor Regulation (NRR) and Nuclear Materials Safety and Safeguards (NMSS).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On August 28, 1996, the Commission amended the regulations on the requirements that lead to the termination of an operating license for nuclear power reactors (FR 39278, July 29, 1996). These amended regulations were based on, in part, an Agency position that the degree of regulatory oversight required for a nuclear power reactor during its decommissioning stage is considerably less than that required for the facility during its operating stage.

NRC Inspection Manual Chapter (IMC) 2561, "Decommissioning Inspection Program," was completely revised and issued on August 8, 1997, to incorporate lessons learned from the inspection of decommissioning power plants and to, in part, implement the August 28, 1996, amended regulations, as described above. The manual chapter was written to cover all phases of decommissioning whether the facility was placed in long-term safe storage (SAFSTOR) or it was being actively decontaminated and dismantled (DECON) to support radiological release of the site and license termination. To effectively inspect all decommissioning power plants regardless of the chosen decommissioning option, a core inspection program was developed to evaluate the key functional areas of: (1) Facility management and control (organization, cost controls, safety reviews, modifications, audits, self-assessment, corrective actions, and status reviews); (2) decommissioning support activities (maintenance, surveillance, cold weather preparations, physical security, and independent spent fuel storage facilities); (3) spent fuel safety (wet and dry spent fuel storage and fuel handling); and (4) radiological safety (occupational, transportation, and radioactive waste treatment). Further, the level of inspection effort (i.e., hours of direct inspection) required by the manual chapter was scaled or graduated to a number of considerations including licensee performance, the conduct of major decommissioning activities, and the level of contamination or radiation involved in particular decommissioning activities. Thus, IMC 2561 is risk-informed and the level of NRC inspection at a permanently shutdown unit is commensurate with the status of facility decommissioning and safety.

When the 1997 revision of IMC 2561 was issued, the staff planned to review and revise the IMC and associated inspection procedures (IPs) following a period of implementation by the NRC Regional Offices. This was to (1) Ensure that the lessons learned from the four most recently shutdown operating power reactors (Haddam Neck, Millstone Unit 1, Big Rock Point, and Maine Yankee) would be factored into the IMC and IPs, and (2) allow the staff another opportunity to factor in additional risk insights gained from rulemaking activities and staff analysis of spent fuel accidents, emergency preparedness, and safeguards. This public meeting is a way the public can influence the staff's revision of the decommissioning power reactor inspection program.

DATES: October 13 and 14, 1999.

[Release No. 34-41891; File No. SR-DTC-99-10]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; The Depository Trust Company; Order Granting Approval of Proposed Rule Change Adding a New Service for the Deposit of Securities Subject to Transfer Restrictions

September 20, 1999.

On April 30, 1999, The Depository Trust Company ("DTC") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") a proposed rule change (File No. SR-DTC-99-10) pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act").¹ Notice of the proposed rule change was published in the Federal Register on July 28, 1999.² For the reasons discussed below, the Commission is approving the proposed rule change.

I. Description

DTC's Restricted Deposit Service ("RDS") allows a participant to deposit restricted securities into a participant's segregated account until the applicable restriction has been lifted and the full or partial sale of the securities is complete.³ In particular, RDS allows: (i) participants to deposit restricted securities in a participant's segregated account within DTC's existing Custody Service, (ii) the processing of a transfer of all or a portion of the securities once the restriction is lifted, (iii) the registration of the unrestricted securities (or portion thereof) in the name of Cede & Co., DTC's nominee, and (iv) if requested, the delivery of the restricted portion of the securities as directed by the depositing participant.⁴

The process is initiated when a participant enters and transmits restricted securities deposit information to DTC through the new Restricted Deposit Service by Participant ("RDSP") function on DTC's Participant Terminal System ("PTS").⁵ This information will include the CUSIP number, quantity and certificate number of each certificate to be deposited, deposit type (e.g., partial sale), the sold and unsold quantities of the securities, registration instructions for the restricted and unsold portion of the securities, and whether the issuer's opinion of counsel will accompany the deposit or will be sent directly to the transfer agent. After DTC reviews the deposit information,⁶ an RDS deposit ticket will be transmitted to the participant's PTS printer. The RDS deposit ticket and the Securities will then be delivered to DTC.

After receiving and examining the deposited securities, DTC will credit the participant's segregated account for the quantity of the deposit. DTC will use two subaccounts in the process. One subaccount will be used for the quantity of unrestricted (sold) securities and the other for the quantity of restricted (unsold) securities. At this stage, no positions in either subaccount will be available for book-entry transfer by the participant. The securities and detailed transfer instructions will then be sent to the transfer agent for processing.⁷ RDS should have no effect on the role of the transfer agent which will approve or reject the transfers using its internal transfer procedures (e.g., receipt of opinion from issuer's counsel).⁸

For deposited securities in DTC-eligible issues, the sold and unrestricted portion of the transferred securities will be registered in DTC's nominee name, Cede & Co. When the transfer is complete and the newly transferred securities are returned to DTC, the quantity of unrestricted securities registered in DTC's nominee name, Cede & Co., will be removed from the participant's segregated account and added to the participant's general free account. The quantity of restricted securities, if any, will also be removed

⁸ An inquiry option of the RDSP PTS function will enable the depositing participant to view the current status of the securities, including information DTC has received from the transfer agent as to when the transfer is expected to be completed.

⁴ DTC will charge is customary fee for restricted transfers of $45.48.

from the participant's segregated account. At the same time, the restricted portion of the securities will be sent to the destination specified by the depositing participant in its original RDSP instruction. That is, the restricted securities will either be made available for pick-up by the participant, mailed directly to the registered holder, or deposited into DTC's Custody Service for the account of the depositing participant.

Additionally, the service will accommodate certificate denomination breakdowns for restricted securities, transfer agent approval of reregistrations of restricted securities (e.g., "gifting," transactions, where the restricted security may be registered into the name of the spouse of the original owner), and reregistrations of unrestricted securities into Cede & Co's name once the restriction is lifted.

II. Discussion

Section 17A(b)(3)(F) of the Act requires that the rules of a clearing agency be designed to promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of securities transactions and to assure the safeguarding of securities and funds which are in the custody or control of the clearing agency or for which it is responsible. The Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with these obligations. The proposed rule change should facilitate the efficient processing of partial and full sale of restricted securities where the applicable restriction has been lifted by or on behalf of the issuer by streamlining the mechanics of the physical process that currently occurs outside of DTC. In addition, the Commission finds the new service is being implemented in a manner which should not affect DTC's ability to safeguard securities and funds in its custody or control or for which it is responsible.

III. Conclusion

On the basis of the foregoing, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and in particular with Section 17A of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act, that the proposed rule change (File No. SR-DTC-99-10) be and hereby is approved.

For the Commission by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.⁹

Deputy Secretary.

National Highway Traffic Safety Administration

[Docket No. NHTSA-99-6209; Notice 1]

American Transportation Corporation, Receipt of Application for Decision of Inconsequential Noncompliance

American Transportation Corporation (AmTran) has determined certain certification labels on its AmTran buses are not in full compliance with Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (FMVSS) No. 120, "Tire selection and rims for motor vehicles other than passenger cars," and 49 CFR Part 567, "Certification," and has filed an appropriate report pursuant to 49 CFR Part 573, "Defect and Noncompliance Reports." AmTran has also applied to be exempted from the notification and remedy requirements of 49 U.S.C. Chapter 301—"Motor Vehicle Safety" on the basis that the noncompliance and defect (represented by the failures to meet Part 567) are inconsequential to motor vehicle safety.

This notice of receipt of an application is published under 49 U.S.C. 30118 and 30120 and does not represent any agency decision or other exercise of judgment concerning the merits of the application.

FMVSS No. 120 paragraph S5.3 specifies that the certification label on buses include the recommended cold inflation pressure for the tires such that the sum of the load ratings of the tires on each axle is appropriate for the GAWR.

From October 27, 1991 through February 11, 1999, AmTran produced approximately 1,600 buses with an incorrect certification label. AmTran states that the tire inflation pressure, as it is currently written on the required label, can not support the weight of the vehicle. The majority of the certification labels specify an inflation pressure that is five to ten pounds below the required inflation pressure. A few certification labels specify an inflation pressure that is ten to twenty pounds below the required inflation pressure. However, if the same tires are inflated to the maximum inflation pressure that is molded on the sidewall, then the tires will support the vehicle's weight. AmTran, in effect, is asking to be excused from preparing and sending corrected labels to the vehicles' owners.

AmTran supports its application for inconsequential noncompliance by stating the following:

- Even with the incorrect cold pressure on the certification label, this bus has enough capacity for 4,090 pounds of options. Adding major options (such as: an air brakes; a larger transmission; a 21,000 pound axle; a 100 gallon gas tank; a higher head room body; extended body skirts; and a plywood floor) would increase the weight only 2,270 pounds. Therefore, this bus with these options has an additional capacity of 1,820 pounds, if the tires are inflated at the cold inflation pressure stated on the certification label.
- There have been no tire warranty claims related to low pressure.

- Most buses do not run at full GVWR and if they do, it is for a very short period of time.

- Most tires are inflated by charts used at maintenance areas and the certification document is not used as a guide.

- The difference between the specified tire pressure and the required tire pressure is not a safety issue in this case.

In addition, 49 CFR Part 567 specifies that the certification label be written to specify the Gross Vehicle Weight Rating (GVWR) in pounds. According to AmTran, all of the AmTran buses produced prior to February 11, 1999, have a certification label that correctly specifies the weight of the vehicle without identifying it as "lbs."

AmTran supports its application for inconsequential defect determination by stating the following:

- Not aware of any problems created by the missing unit identification.
- It is understood in the U.S. school bus industry that the GAWR and GVWR is listed in pounds.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments on the application described above. Comments should refer to the docket number and be submitted to: U.S. Department of Transportation, Docket Management, Room PL-401, 400 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, D.C., 20590. It is requested that two copies be submitted.

All comments received before the close of business on the closing date indicated below will be considered. The application and supporting materials, and all comments received after the closing date, will also be filed and will be considered to the extent possible. When the application is granted or denied, the notice will be published in the Federal Register pursuant to the authority indicated below.

Comment closing date: October 27, 1999.

The line traverses United States Postal Service Zip Code 45202.

NS has certified that: (1) No local traffic has moved over the line for at least 2 years; (2) there has been no overhead traffic on the line during the past 2 years and any overhead traffic could be rerouted over other lines; (3) no formal complaint filed by a user of rail service on the line (or by a state or local government entity acting on behalf of such user) regarding cessation of service over the line either is pending with the Surface Transportation Board (Board) or with any U.S. District Court or has been decided in favor of complainant within the 2-year period; and (4) the requirements at 49 CFR 1105.7 (environmental reports), 49 CFR 1105.8 (historic reports), 49 CFR 1105.11 (transmittal letter), 49 CFR 1105.12 (newspaper publication), and 49 CFR 1152.50(d)(1) (notice to governmental agencies) have been met.

As a condition to this exemption, any employee adversely affected by the abandonment shall be protected under Oregon Short Line R. Co.—Abandonment—Goshen, 360 I.C.C. 91 (1979). To address whether this condition adequately protects affected employees, a petition for partial revocation under 49 U.S.C. 10502(d) must be filed. Provided no formal expression of intent to file an offer of financial assistance (OFA) has been received, this exemption will be effective on October 27, 1999, unless stayed pending reconsideration.

Petitions to stay that do not involve environmental issues,¹ formal expressions of intent to file an OFA under 49 CFR 1152.27(c)(2),² and trail use/rail banking requests under 49 CFR 1152.29 must be filed by October 7, 1999. A copy of any petition filed with the Board should be sent to applicant's representative: James R. Paschall, General Attorney, Norfolk Southern Corporation, Three Commercial Place, Norfolk, VA 23510.

If the verified notice contains false or misleading information, the exemption is void ab initio.

NS has filed an environmental report which addresses the abandonment's effects, if any, on the environment and historic resources. The Section of Environmental Analysis (SEA) will issue an environmental assessment (EA) by October 1, 1999. Interested persons may obtain a copy of the EA by writing to SEA (Room 500, Surface Transportation Board, Washington, DC 20423) or by calling SEA, at (202) 565-1545. Comments on environmental and historic preservation matters must be filed within 15 days after the EA becomes available to the public.

Environmental, historic preservation, public use, or trail use/rail banking conditions will be imposed, where appropriate, in a subsequent decision.

Pursuant to the provisions of 49 CFR 1152.29(e)(2), NS shall file a notice of consummation with the Board to signify that it has exercised the authority granted and fully abandoned the line. If consummation has not been effected by NS's filing of a notice of consummation by September 27, 2000, and there are no legal or regulatory barriers to consummation, the authority to abandon will automatically expire.

Migratory Bird Hunting; Final Frameworks

RIN 1018-AF24

Migratory Bird Hunting; Final Frameworks for Late-Season Migratory Bird Hunting RegulationsAGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule prescribes final late-season frameworks from which States may select season dates, limits, and other options for the 1999–2000 migratory bird hunting seasons. These late seasons include most waterfowl seasons, the earliest of which generally commence on or about October 1, 1999. The effect of this final rule is to facilitate the selection of hunting seasons by the States to further the annual establishment of the late-season migratory bird hunting regulations. State selections will be published in the Federal Register as amendments to §§ 20.101 through 20.107, and § 20.109 of title 50 CFR.

DATES: This rule takes effect on September 27, 1999.

ADDRESSES: States should send their season selections to: Chief, Office of Migratory Bird Management, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, ms 634–ARLSQ, 1849 C Street, NW., Washington, DC 20240. You may inspect comments during normal business hours in room 634, Arlington Square Building, 4401 N. Fairfax Drive, Arlington, Virginia.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Regulations Schedule for 1999

On May 3, 1999, we published in the Federal Register (64 FR 23742) a proposal to amend 50 CFR part 20. The proposal dealt with the establishment of seasons, limits, and other regulations for migratory game birds under § 20.101 through 20.107, 20.109, and 20.110 of subpart K. On June 17, we published in the Federal Register (64 FR 32758) a second document providing supplemental proposals for early- and late-season migratory bird hunting regulations frameworks and the proposed regulatory alternatives for the 1999–2000 duck hunting season. The June 17 supplement also provided detailed information on the 1999–2000 regulatory schedule and announced the Service Migratory Bird Regulations Committee and Flyway Council meetings.

On June 22–23, we held meetings that reviewed information on the current status of migratory shore and upland game birds and developed 1999–2000 migratory game bird regulations recommendations for these species plus regulations for migratory game birds in Alaska, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands; special September waterfowl seasons in designated States; special sea duck seasons in the Atlantic Flyway; and extended falconry seasons. In addition, we reviewed and discussed preliminary information on the status of waterfowl as it relates to the development and selection of the regulatory packages for the 1999–2000 regular waterfowl seasons. On July 22, we published in the Federal Register (64 FR 39460) a third document specifically dealing with the proposed frameworks for early-season regulations for the 1999–2000 duck hunting season. The July 22 supplement also established the final regulatory alternatives for the 1999–2000 duck hunting season.

On August 3–4, 1999, we held meetings, as announced in the May 3 and June 17 Federal Registers, to review the status of waterfowl. On August 27, 1999, we published a fourth document (64 FR 47048) which dealt specifically with proposed frameworks for the 1999–2000 late-season migratory bird hunting regulations. On August 27, 1999, we published a fifth document (64 FR 47072) containing final frameworks for early migratory bird hunting seasons from which wildlife conservation agency officials from the States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands selected early-season hunting dates, hours, areas, and limits for the 1999–2000 season. On August 31, 1999, we published in the Federal Register (64 FR 46336) a sixth document consisting of a final rule amending subpart K of title 50 CFR part 20 to set hunting seasons, hours, areas, and limits for early seasons. This document, which establishes final frameworks for late-season migratory bird hunting regulations for the 1999–2000 season, is the seventh in the series.

Review of Flyway Council Recommendations, Public Comments, and the Service's Response. The preliminary proposed rulemaking, which appeared in the May 3 Federal Register, opened the public-comment period for late-season migratory game bird hunting regulations. The public comment period for late-season issues ended on September 7, 1999. We received recommendations from all four Flyway Councils. Written comments received through September 7, 1999, relating to the proposed late-season frameworks are summarized and discussed in the order used in the May 3 Federal Register. Only the numbered items pertaining to late seasons for which written comments were received are included.

We received recommendations from all four Flyway Councils. Some recommendations supported continuation of last year's frameworks. Due to the comprehensive nature of the annual review of the frameworks performed by the Councils, support for continuation of last year's frameworks is assumed for items for which no recommendations were received. Council recommendations for changes in the frameworks are summarized below.

General

Written Comments: The Wildlife Management Institute supported the proposals for the 1999–2000 season.

The Humane Society of the United States (HSUS) expressed concern that the general public was not well represented in the regulations-development process and requested establishment of a system directly involving the non-hunting public. In addition, they believed that all migratory bird seasons should be closed or severely restricted for those species either lacking reliable population data or which data indicates significant and sustained declines. HSUS recommended all seasons open at noon, mid-week, to reduce the large kills associated with the traditional Saturday openings and that hunting during the one-half hour before sunrise be eliminated.

Service Response: As we have stated previously, when the preliminary proposed rulemaking document was published in the Federal Register on May 6, 1999, we announced the comment periods for the early-season and late-season proposals and gave notice that the process of promulgating hunting regulations “must, by its nature, operate under time constraints.” Ample time must be given to gather and interpret survey data, consider recommendations and develop proposals, and to receive public comment. Scheduled dates are set to give the greatest possible opportunity for public input. We are obligated to, and do give serious consideration to all information received as public comment. We have long recognized the problems associated with the length of time necessary to establish the final frameworks, and in conjunction with States, Flyway Councils, and the public, and continue to seek new ways to streamline and improve the process.

As we stated in the August 27 Federal Register, our long-term objectives continue to include providing opportunities to harvest portions of certain migratory game bird populations and to limit harvests to levels compatible with each population's ability to maintain healthy, viable numbers. Annually, we evaluate the status of populations and consider the potential impacts of hunting. We believe that the hunting seasons provided herein are consistent with the current status of populations and long-term population goals and there is no evidence to suggest the frameworks provided are not appropriate.

Regarding mid-week season openings, we have previously stated in the Federal Register (58 FR 50190) that a State may choose to delay its opening date to correspond with a particular day of the week or to close earlier to maximize the number of weekends that hunting is allowed.

In regard to shooting hours, we have compiled information which demonstrates that shooting hours beginning one-half hour before sunrise do not contribute significantly to the harvest of nontarget species. Consistent with the Service's long-term strategy for shooting hours, published in the September 21, 1990, Federal Register (55 FR 38898), the frameworks herein provide for shooting hours of one-half hour before sunrise to sunset, unless otherwise specified.

1. Ducks

The categories used to discuss issues related to duck harvest management are as follows: (A) General Harvest Strategy, (B) Framework Dates, (C) Season Length, (D) Closed Seasons, (E) Bag Limits, (F) Zones and Split Seasons, and (G) Special Seasons/Species Management. Only those categories containing substantial recommendations are included below.

A. General Harvest Strategy

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic Flyway Council, the Upper-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council, the Central Flyway Council, and the Pacific Flyway Council recommended adopting the "liberal" alternative for the 1999–2000 duck hunting season.

The Upper-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended adoption of the "liberal" alternative, except that they recommend framework dates of the Saturday nearest October 1 to the Sunday nearest January 20 for all States. The Lower-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended adoption of the "liberal" alternative, except that they recommend a 60-day season for all States regardless of the framework closing date. Specific details are discussed in B. Framework Dates.

Written Comments: The Delta Waterfowl Foundation and the National Wildlife Federation supported the selection of the "liberal" alternative.

An individual from Minnesota questioned the breeding population estimate and recommended the 45-day season alternative.

Service Response: Since 1995, Adaptive Harvest Management (AHM) strategies have been based on the status of midcontinent mallards, which are defined as those breeding in the traditional survey area, and in Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Michigan. An optimal regulatory choice is based on breeding population size and prairie water conditions, and on the weights assigned to four alternative models of population dynamics. The same regulatory alternative is applied in all four Flyways, although season lengths and bag limits are Flyway-specific. The 1999 harvest strategy for midcontinent mallards is based on: (1) An objective to maximize long-term harvest and achieve a population goal of 8.7 million; (2) regulatory alternatives that are unchanged from last year; and (3) model weights that are similar to last year. Based on a breeding population size of 11.8 million mallards in the mid-continent region (traditional survey areas and Lake States) and 3.9 million ponds in Prairie Canada, the optimal regulatory choice for midcontinent mallards in 1999 is the "liberal" alternative.

Modifying the AHM protocol to account for mallards breeding eastward and westward of the midcontinent region is perhaps the most challenging technical issue facing duck harvest managers. Never before have we tried to consider the status of multiple mallard stocks in such a formal way, nor have we attempted to give all Flyways the ability to choose regulations that are tied to their particular derivation of mallards. Although progress has been significant, there are a number of outstanding technical issues. The Service and AHM working group have assigned a high priority to addressing these issues, and hope to fully integrate eastern mallards and western mallards into the AHM process in 2000 and 2001, respectively.

In the interim, we are exploring optimal harvest strategies targeted for eastern mallards. A harvest strategy has been derived based on: (1) an objective to maximize long-term harvest; (2) regulatory alternatives that are unchanged from last year; and (3) a "working model" of population dynamics. Based on a breeding population size of 1.1 million mallards and spring precipitation of 8.3 inches, the optimal regulatory choice for eastern mallards in 1999 is the "liberal" alternative. By next year, we hope to be able to prescribe Flyway-specific regulations for those cases where the optimal regulatory choice is different for midcontinent and eastern mallards.

Therefore, we agree with the Flyway Councils and are utilizing the "liberal" alternative for the 1999 duck hunting season.

B. Framework Dates

Council Recommendations: The Upper-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended adoption of the "liberal" alternative, except that they recommend framework dates of the Saturday nearest October 1 to the Sunday nearest January 20 for all States. The Lower-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended a 60-day season for all States regardless of their selected framework closing date.

Written Comments: The HSUS recommended that season openings be delayed by 2 weeks in all breeding areas in order to allow ducks time to leave natal marshes before being subjected to hunting.

Service Response: Frameworks for the 1999–2000 duck hunting season were established in the July 22 Federal Register, with the finalization of the 1999–2000 regulatory alternatives. As we indicated in our July 22 response, we continued the use of the 1998–99 regulatory alternatives published in the August 5, 1998, Federal Register, for the 1999–2000 hunting season with one exception. For the States of Alabama, Mississippi, and Tennessee, we offered the use of a 51-day season in the "liberal" alternative and a 38-day season in the "moderate" alternative with a January 31 framework closing date in both alternatives. Framework opening and closing dates for all other States are unchanged from those published in the August 5, 1998, Federal Register. For a complete discussion of this issue, you should refer to the July 22 Federal Register.

Regarding HSUS's comment on the framework opening date, the Service reiterates previous responses that the frameworks provided herein are appropriate and that there is no evidence to indicate that they have adversely impacted local populations.

F. Zones and Split Seasons

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic Flyway Council recommended the Service allow "3 zones with 2-way splits in each zones" as an additional option beginning in 2001. Further, the Council recommended that zone-split guidelines be finalized by July 2000 so that States have adequate opportunity to select their desired approach.

The Upper-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended that the Service add "3 zones with 2-way splits permitted in one or more zones" as an additional option beginning in 2001. Further, because of the public input process many States undertake, the Committee recommended that States have up to one year to choose this option prior to the 2001 regular duck season regulations process. The Lower-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended that the Service consider offering all States the option of choosing 3 zones with a split season in each zone in the year 2001.

The Pacific Flyway Council recommended the Service engage the Flyway Councils in an evaluation of the guidelines for zoning and split seasons, prior to the 2001 "open season" on regulation changes.

Written Comments: The HSUS urged the Service to discontinue all split and special seasons and recommended that any State establishing such seasons reduce the total number of hunting days by a minimum of 10 days.

Service Response: We acknowledge the recommendations from the Councils pertaining to the guidelines for selecting zone and split options for duck hunting. Accordingly, we will work with all the Flyway Councils in the next year to review the existing guidelines, and plan to finalize these guidelines during next year's (2000–01) late-season regulations process. The final guidance will then be available for use by all States in the ensuing year as they solicit public input for zone and split configurations for use during 2001–05.

In regard to the recommendation that split and special seasons be discontinued, we note that States always have the option of selecting a continuous season with no splits. Furthermore, we are not aware of any information suggesting that split and special seasons are causing detrimental impacts to populations.

G. Special Seasons/Species Management

i. Black Ducks

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic Flyway Council recommended that the individual Atlantic Flyway States continue to achieve a 42 percent reduction in their black duck harvest during the 1999–2000 season compared with the 1977–81 base-line harvest.

Written Comments: The HSUS recommended closing the season for black ducks until recovery of the population.

Service Response: We agree with the Atlantic Flyway Council's recommendation and acknowledge the Council's concern for the population status of black ducks. Black duck populations remain below the North American Wildlife Management Plan goal and while the decline seems to have halted, little increase is evident. Harvest estimates increased 16% in the U.S. (8% in the Atlantic and 36% in the Mississippi Flyways) during the 1998–99 hunting season and we reiterate our concern about the effects of longer duck seasons on black duck harvests and recommend that States maintain harvest restrictions achieved since the 1983 Environmental Assessment. Higher harvests and lower midwinter population estimates in the Mississippi Flyway in recent years are of particular concern. Although efforts are underway to develop an international harvest strategy, and possibly an AHM approach, interim harvest restriction alternatives should be considered where appropriate. Thus, we believe the harvest restrictions identified in the 1983 Environmental Assessment should be maintained until a revised harvest strategy is developed.

ii. Canvasbacks

Council Recommendations: The Lower-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council requested to know the population level at which an increase in the canvasback bag limit would be warranted.

Service Response: We continue to support the canvasback harvest strategy adopted in 1994. This strategy allows a daily bag limit of 1 bird during any open season. Seasons with a daily bag limit greater than 1 would require revision of the strategy, and we believe that more experience with the present strategy is needed before revisions are considered. Current population and habitat status suggest that a daily bag limit of 1 canvasback during the 1999–2000 season will result in a harvest within levels allowed by the strategy. However, monitoring data collected during the last 5 years suggest that harvest models have consistently predicted levels of harvest lower than those observed. For the 1999–2000 season, the strategy still prescribes an open season, even when accounting for this additional harvest. However, we believe that, beginning in the 2000–01 season, the harvest models (some of which were based on data from about 30 years ago) should be replaced with these more contemporary data. We will present the proposed harvest levels at next winter's Flyway Technical Section meetings for review.

iii. Pintails

Council Recommendations: All four Flyway Councils recommended a daily bag limit of 1 pintail in the 1999–2000 hunting season as prescribed by the Interim Pintail Harvest Strategy.

Written Comments: The Nevada Waterfowl Association requested the Service determine the sex ratio of the adult portion of the continental pintail population. They believed that there is an abnormally high percentage of males in the adult population and that these excess males could provide additional opportunity without impacting the overall population.

Service Response: We concur with the Councils' recommendations. Considering the current status of the population (3.1 million breeding birds) and the expected recruitment rate (1.00), the strategy prescribes a bag limit of 1 pintail for all Flyways under the "liberal" alternative.

iv. Scaup

In the past year, we have continued to indicate our growing concern for the status and trends of North American scaup. We distributed a status report on scaup and provided some initial guidelines concerning a scaup harvest strategy to the Flyway Councils and others for consideration in the development of recommendations for the 1999–2000 hunting season. In response to this information, all four Flyways discussed the issue at their winter meetings. Following Council comments on the initial harvest guidelines (presented in the July 22 Federal Register), we revised the harvest guidelines and developed a draft harvest strategy that was distributed to the Councils for consideration at their summer meetings.

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic Flyway Council recommended a daily bag limit of 3 scaup until adoption of a harvest strategy for lesser and greater scaup.

The Upper-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended a daily bag limit of 3 scaup. The Lower-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended no scaup restriction in the overall daily bag limit.

The Central Flyway Council recommended adoption of the draft harvest strategy with the exception of the prescription. The Council recommended a prescription for scaup bag limits based on the status of lesser scaup as follows: < 2.5 million, bag limit of 1; 2.5–3.5 million, bag limit of 2; 3.5–4.0 million, bag limit of 3; and > 4.0, the bag limit for scaup should equal the regular daily duck limit as determined by the AHM process.

The Pacific Flyway Council recommended no internal bag restrictions on scaup in the Pacific Flyway for the 1999–2000 hunting season.

Written Comments: The Nevada Waterfowl Association was concerned about a potential 2-bird daily bag limit restriction on scaup in the Pacific Flyway. They urged careful evaluation of the expected results before implementation of such a restriction.

The HSUS recommended closing the season for scaup until recovery of the population.

Service Response: We remain concerned about the status of lesser scaup. Lesser scaup populations have declined 1% per year since 1995 and 3% per year during the last 10 years. Lesser scaup harvest has varied over the years in the U.S. with lows around 100,000 in 1990 but since has increased in recent years to over 500,000. These recent increases have occurred concurrent with liberalizations in season length and bag limits with the implementation of AHM.

For the 1999–2000 season, we are establishing a bag limit of 3 scaup in the Atlantic, Mississippi, and Central Flyways, and 4 scaup in the Pacific Flyway. This action is only for one year. These bag limit reductions maintain the current differentials in the full duck bag limit that presently exist among Flyways. While we note a general feeling among the Flyway Councils that some reduction is appropriate, we acknowledge that this is not unanimous among Flyways. However, we believe that if a reduction in harvest is needed, all should participate. We will continue to work with the Flyway Councils to develop a harvest strategy to be formally adopted prior to next year's hunting season.

4. Canada Geese

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic Flyway Council recommended that a limited hunting season for AP

(Atlantic Population) Canada geese be permitted in 1999–2000 throughout AP harvest areas (those areas closed in 1998) in the Atlantic Flyway. For the Mid-Atlantic and New England AP Areas, the Council recommended a 15-day season with framework dates of November 1–January 20. The daily bag limit would be 1 Canada goose. For the Chesapeake Region AP Areas, the Council recommended a 6-day season with framework dates of November 15 to January 20. The daily bag limit would be 1 Canada goose. Additionally, in Delaware and Maryland the harvest would be limited to 2,100 and 12,200 birds, respectively, and all Canada geese must be tagged and the season limit will be the number of tags issued to each permittee. In Southern Region AP Areas, the Council recommended the season remain closed. In all open areas, the season could be split into two segments, but must run concurrent with duck seasons.

The Atlantic Flyway Council also recommended modification of the frameworks for the regular season in Erie, Butler, and Mercer Counties, and designated portions of Crawford County, in Pennsylvania. The Council recommended changing the existing 70-day season with October 1 to January 31 frameworks to a 40-day season between November 15 and January 15, with a daily bag limit of 2 geese per day. The Council also recommended modification of the framework opening date in southwestern New York to November 1 and allowing Maryland to divide their regular resident Canada goose season into 3 segments on an experimental basis for the 1999–2000 season.

The Upper-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended a number of changes in season lengths, bag limits, zones, and quotas for Canada geese in Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois, primarily to allow increased harvest of Mississippi Valley Population (MVP) Canada geese, and in Minnesota, Iowa, and Missouri, primarily to allow increased harvest of Eastern Prairie Population (EPP) Canada geese. The Lower-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council also recommended several changes in season lengths, quotas, etc., primarily to allow increased harvest of MVP Canada geese. All of these changes are based on improved population status and current management plans.

The Central Flyway Council made several recommendations. In the East Tier, the Council recommended an increase in the Canada goose (or any other goose species except light and white-fronted geese) season from 93 days to 95 days with a daily bag limit of 3. Outside framework dates would be the Saturday nearest October 1 (Oct. 2, 1999) and the Sunday nearest February 15 (Feb. 13, 2000). In the Eastern Goose Zone of Texas, the Council recommended an additional season alternative of 107 days with a 1 Canada goose daily bag limit. The framework closing date under both alternatives would be February 21. In the West Tier, the Council recommended dark goose outside framework dates of the Saturday nearest October 1 (October 2, 1999) and the Sunday nearest February 15 (February 13, 1999), with daily bag and possession limits of 5 and 10, respectively. In the Western Goose Zone of Texas, the Council recommended a daily bag limit of 5 dark geese, to include no more than 2 white-fronted geese, with a framework closing date of February 21.

The Pacific Flyway Council made several recommendations for dark geese (see also item 5. White-fronted Geese). The Council recommended the bag limit for dark geese be increased from 2 to 3 in the Rocky Mountain Population zones in Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada (except Lincoln and Clark Counties) New Mexico, and Utah. The Pacific Flyway Council also recommended that Washington and Oregon be allowed to split the dark goose season in the Dusky quota zones into 3 segments. Additionally, they recommended that the Harney, Lake, Klamath, and Malheur goose zone in Oregon be re-defined to include only Lake County. The Council also recommended that white-fronted and cackling Canada geese be allowed during the first 44 days in the Northeastern Zone of California. Finally, the Council recommended several boundary adjustments to the closure zones for dark geese in the Balance-of-the State Zone in California.

Written Comments: An individual in Alabama requested a February framework closing date for geese.

Service Response: We support the Atlantic Flyway's request to reinstate the regular season on the Atlantic Population of Canada geese in the areas described. Numbers of breeding pairs in northern Quebec increased substantially this spring from last year's estimate, which suggests this population is showing signs of recovery. An increase in nesting densities was also encouraging, although predation will likely limit nest success to "good" in the Ungava Bay area and only fair along the Hudson Bay Coast. A slight increase in the fall flight is predicted. While we remain cautious about resuming a sport harvest, we recognize that the Action Plan criteria have been triggered. For the near future, we remain optimistic about the recovery of this population, particularly with average or better production since 1997, which should continue the expansion in the number of breeding pairs.

Regarding the Central Flyway Council's recommendations, we support their request to increase the Canada goose (or any other goose species except light geese and white-fronted geese) season from 93 to 95 days with a daily bag limit of 3 for the entire East Tier. We also support the Council's recommendation for an additional season alternative of a 107-day season with a 1 Canada goose daily bag limit in the Eastern Goose Zone of Texas. Further, we support the Council's recommendation for outside framework dates and believe that all dark goose seasons in the East Tier should have consistent outside dates of the Saturday nearest October 1 (Oct. 2, 1999) and the Sunday nearest February 15 (Feb. 13, 2000). In the West Tier, we support the Council's recommendation for an increase in the aggregate dark goose bag and possession limits from 4 and 8 to 5 and 10, respectively. However, in the Western Goose Zone of Texas, we do not support an increase in the white-fronted goose daily bag restriction from 1 to 2. While we are aware that the whitefront harvest (about 5,000) in this zone is small, we are concerned about the status of white-fronted geese breeding in the Interior of Alaska, which migrate through this area. These birds clearly have lower survival rates than Mid-Continent white-fronted geese from other breeding areas, but indices of abundance and long-term trends are less certain. We also realize that harvest of these birds also occurs in Alberta, Saskatchewan, and the Mexico Highlands; however, we believe that the Management Plan serves as the appropriate mechanism to address cooperative harvest management strategies for these birds. We also do not support the recommended framework closing date of February 21 in the West Tier and believe that dark goose outside dates should be consistent with the East Tier. Thus, we are establishing framework dates of the Saturday nearest October 1 (Oct. 2, 1999) to the Sunday nearest February 15 (Feb. 13, 2000) for the entire Western Tier.

Regarding the other recommendations from the Flyway Councils: we concur with the framework modifications in Pennsylvania, New York, Maryland; changes in season lengths, bag limits, zones, and quotas for Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, and Missouri; bag limit, zone boundary, and framework modifications in Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, Washington and Oregon.

C. Special Late Seasons

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic Flyway Council recommended an experimental late season between January 15 and February 15 for Erie, Butler, and Mercer Counties, and designated portions of Crawford County, in Pennsylvania.

The Upper-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended the establishment of experimental late Canada goose seasons for Minnesota and Ohio. The Lower-Region Regulations Committee of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended that the Service work closely with the Council's Technical Section in evaluating the cumulative effects that special seasons may have on non-target populations.

Written Comments: The HSUS opposed special late seasons targeting resident geese. They believe that such hunts fail to target the populations ostensibly responsible for conflicts with humans and as such are ineffective.

Service Response: We concur with the recommended changes in the Atlantic and Mississippi Flyways and will continue to work with the Mississippi Flyway Council's Technical Section to assess the cumulative effects of special seasons.

Regarding the HSUS's comment that such hunts fail to target specific populations, we recognize the problems caused by increasing populations of resident geese and the continuing concern for the status of certain migratory flocks. However, as we have stated previously, we remain committed to focusing these special seasons on locally-breeding and/or injurious Canada goose populations. The Service and the Flyway Councils have cooperatively reviewed and structured these special seasons to accomplish that objective while protecting migratory flocks. We do not wish to increase the composition of migrants in the harvest beyond that which is currently identified in the criteria for these seasons.

5. White-fronted Geese

Council Recommendations: The Upper- and Lower-Region Regulations Committees of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended that seasons for white-fronted geese increase from 70 days and 2 geese to 86 days and 2 geese or 107 days and 1 goose, with a framework closing date of February 15, consistent with the Mid-Continent white-fronted goose plan.

The Central Flyway Council recommendations regarding dark geese in the West Tier involve white-fronted geese (see item 4. Canada Geese). For the East Tier, the Council recommended a 95-day season with framework dates of the Saturday nearest October 1 (October 2, 1999) to January 31, with a daily bag limit of 2 whitefronts. In the Eastern Goose Zone of Texas, the Council recommended a 86-day season with a daily bag limit of 2 whitefronts or an alternative 107-day season with a daily bag limit of 2 whitefronts for 44 consecutive days and 1 for the remaining 63 days. The framework closing date would be February 21.

The Pacific Flyway Council recommendations regarding dark geese also involve white-fronted geese (see item 4. Canada Geese). The Council recommended the bag limit for dark geese be increased from 2 to 3 in the Rocky Mountain Population zones in Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada (except Lincoln and Clark Counties) New Mexico, and Utah. The Pacific Flyway Council also recommended that Washington and Oregon be allowed to split the dark goose season in the Dusky quota zones into 3 segments. Additionally, they recommended that the Harney, Lake, Klamath, and Malheur goose zone in Oregon be re-defined to include only Lake County. The Council also recommended that white-fronted and cackling Canada geese be allowed during the first 44 days in the Northeastern Zone of California. Finally, the Council recommended several boundary adjustments to the closure zones for dark geese in the Balance-of-the State Zone in California. Further, the Council supported the liberal whitefront frameworks proposed by the Mississippi and Central Flyway Councils.

Service Response: As we noted above, the Central Flyway Council's recommendations for dark geese include whitefronts in the West Tier and are further addressed in item 4. Canada geese. For the East Tier, we do not support an increase in the season length and bag limit from 72 days and 2 birds, or 86 days and 1 bird, to 95 days and 2 birds with a framework closing date of January 31. For the Eastern Goose Zone of Texas, we also do not support a 107-day season alternative with a daily bag limit of 2 whitefronts for 44 consecutive days and 1 bird for the remaining 63 days with a framework closing date of February 21. We believe that the whitefront season length and daily bag limit should be 86 days and 2 birds or 107 days and 1 bird for both the Mississippi Flyway and the East Tier of the Central Flyway. We believe that equitable hunting opportunity between the Mississippi Flyway and the East Tier of the Central Flyway is appropriate because Mid-Continent white-fronted geese are managed as one population. This equitable approach is consistent with the "base regulations" identified in the cooperative management plan. Finally, in the absence of any guidance for liberalizations, we believe that this level of liberalization should be viewed as the "liberal alternative" beyond the "base regulations" identified in the management plan for these harvest areas.

Regarding framework closing dates, we do not support recommendations for a whitefront framework closing date of January 31 in the East Tier and a framework closing date of February 21 for the Eastern Goose Zone of Texas. We will utilize a dark goose framework closing date of the Sunday nearest February 15th for the entire East Tier. This date is consistent with the framework closing date for dark geese in the West Tier. We believe that the change in harvest related to this alignment of framework closing dates would be negligible, and consistent framework closing dates would facilitate the simplification of dark goose hunting regulations in the Central Flyway.

We also acknowledge the completion of the Cooperative Management Plan for Mid-Continent White-fronted geese (1998). The Plan supports the combining of Eastern and Western Segments of Mid-Continent whitefronts into one population. However, we believe that a major shortcoming of the Plan surfaced this year relating to the guidance provided for the setting of hunting regulations. Although "base regulations" are clearly defined in the Plan, no guidance is provided for liberalizations or restrictions from base regulations. This year, the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended liberalizations different than those recommended by the Central Flyway Council, although the plan calls for the same "base regulations." Further, the population objective (600,000) and associated thresholds identified in the Plan appear to have little relationship with recent population estimates derived from the fall population survey conducted since 1992. Additionally, we believe that cooperative management plans are an appropriate mechanism to address International issues related to special harvest considerations and information data needs, e.g. interior Alaska whitefronts. We are aware of the 5-year revision schedule for this plan and encourage the Central and Mississippi Flyways to work with the Pacific Flyway, Canada and Mexico to address these issues in the next plan update.

We concur with the other Flyway Council recommendations.

6. Brant

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic Flyway Council recommended an increase in the daily bag limit for brant from 2 to 4 birds.

The Upper- and Lower-Region Regulations Committees of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended seasons for brant be modified to include an option of 107 days and 1 brant in addition to the current 70 days and 2 brant. The Committees do not expect this additional option to increase brant harvest in the Flyway, but would allow states to set dark goose season dates to coincide.

Written Comments: The Atlantic Flyway Council subsequently recommended the brant daily bag limit remain at 2 birds. Their revised recommendation was based on new information from the Arctic breeding grounds indicating a strong possibility of very limited brant production this year.

Service Response: In the Atlantic Flyway, we concur with the change back to a 2-bird daily bag limit based on reports from the Baffin Island and surrounding areas that there was no appreciable production this year. Although an increase to a 4-bird daily bag would be consistent with the Atlantic Brant Hunt Plan based on the population status (171,628 in the mid-winter survey), we believe it prudent to conserve the breeding stock and not liberalize the bag limit during a year of poor production. In the Mississippi Flyway, we concur with the creation of a 107-day season option.

7. Snow and Ross' Geese

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic Flyway Council recommended allowing the use of an unlimited number of splits in the snow goose season.

The Central Flyway Council supported the late-winter light goose hunting season in the Rainwater Basin area of Nebraska per the plan agreed to by the Service and the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

Written Comments: The Delaware Division of Fish and Wildlife and the Maryland Department of Natural Resources requested that the Service allow States in the Chesapeake Bay Region (including Delaware) the ability to split their snow goose season up to 47 times. They believed this would be the most effective method for discouraging snow geese from depredating wetlands and agricultural fields. Under this scenario, the season would not have to be closed for more than one day at a time. Alternately, they requested the use of zones and the ability to split their snow goose season up to 15 times. Under this scenario, the season would be closed for 3-day periods each week. Both alternatives would be considered experimental and would be evaluated by use of farm surveys, monthly aerial surveys, biweekly snow goose surveys, and harvest surveys.

The HSUS believes that the proposed bag limits for snow geese in the Atlantic and Central Flyways are too high, devaluing the birds.

Service Response: We are sympathetic towards the depredation issues brought forward by the Atlantic Flyway Council in Delaware and Maryland where too many greater snow geese are causing extensive agricultural damage and wetland degradation during closed segments of their hunting seasons. It remains to be seen whether an increase in the number of split seasons will resolve this problem, but to provide temporary relief, we agree to explore this option further pending an evaluation. We propose that Delaware and Maryland be guided by the existing restrictions on splits for geese (3-way split season) until the end of the regular duck season. After such time, they will be permitted to hunt on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, and Saturdays, involving two splits per week until the framework closing date of March 10, 2000. This season would be experimental, limited to this year only, and requires an evaluation. We will reevaluate the effectiveness on this approach prior to next year. Both States should actively seek landowner support to reduce their crop damage problems by allowing hunter access on their fields to hunt snow geese.

At this time, we do not support the recommendation for use of unlimited splits during snow goose seasons. In 1997, we allowed an increase from 2 to 3 season segments for geese in all four Flyways. This increase resulted in a more consistent use of split-season options among all Flyways. In addition, within any established season, a State may also designate certain days as non-hunt days, if that hunt strategy is desired. The use of zoning for light geese remains a management tool that is currently not contained by specific guidelines for use by a State. We believe that the current ability to divide a 107-day season into 3 segments with the unlimited use of zones provides adequate flexibility for States to set seasons for light geese.

Regarding the hunt strategy for the Rainwater Basin, we appreciate the Central Flyway Council's support of the late-winter light goose hunting strategy for the Rainwater Basin Area of Nebraska and propose to implement the strategy this year.

Regarding snow goose bag limits, last year we changed the daily bag limit for light geese from 10 to 20 in the Atlantic Flyway and eliminated the possession limits in the Atlantic, Mississippi, and Central Flyways because it was no longer a useful management tool. At this time, we see no compelling evidence to change and will continue use of this framework for the 1999–2000 season.

8. Swans

Written Comments: The HSUS requested that the Service close swan hunting seasons in Utah, Nevada, and the Pacific Flyway portion of Montana, citing that these seasons were threatened trumpeter swan recovery and winter range expansion.

Service Response: We would refer the HSUS to our detailed response in the September 27, 1995, Federal Register (60 FR 50042) concerning the establishment of a general swan season. Enhancing Rocky Mounting Population trumpeter swan range expansion while retaining most aspects of tundra swan hunting were covered in detail in our 1995 Environmental Assessment "Proposal to Establish General Swan Seasons in Parts of the Pacific Flyway for the 1995–99 Seasons" (August 1995) which compares various alternative strategies for reconciling conflicting swan management strategies. Copies are available at the address indicated under the caption ADDRESSES.

10. Coots

Written Comments: The HSUS believes that the bag limits for coots are too high, devaluing the birds.

Service Response: Available information indicates that harvest pressure on coots is relatively light and there is no evidence to suggest the frameworks provided are not appropriate.

10. Moorhens and Gallinules

Written Comments: The HSUS believes that the bag limits for moorhens are too high, devaluing the birds.

Service Response: Available information indicates that harvest pressure on these birds is relatively light and there is no evidence to suggest the frameworks provided are not appropriate.

NEPA Consideration

NEPA considerations are covered by the programmatic document, "Final Supplemental Environmental Impact Statement: Issuance of Annual Regulations Permitting the Sport Hunting of Migratory Birds (FSES 88–14)," filed with the Environmental Protection Agency on June 9, 1988. We published a Notice of Availability in the Federal Register on June 16, 1988 (53 FR 22582). We published our Record of Decision on August 18, 1988 (53 FR 31341). Copies are available from the address indicated under the caption ADDRESSES.

Endangered Species Act Considerations

As in the past, we design hunting regulations to remove or alleviate chances of conflict between migratory game bird hunting seasons and the protection and conservation of endangered and threatened species. We conducted consultations to ensure that actions resulting from these regulatory proposals will not likely jeopardize the continued existence of endangered or threatened species or result in the destruction or adverse modification of their critical habitat. Findings from these consultations are included in a biological opinion and may have caused modification of some regulatory measures previously proposed. Final frameworks reflect any modifications. The biological opinions resulting from Section 7 consultation are public documents available for inspection in the Service's Division of Endangered Species and the Office of Migratory Bird Management, at the address indicated under the caption ADDRESSES.

Executive Order (E.O.) 12866

This rule is economically significant and was reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under E.O. 12866.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

These regulations have a significant economic impact on substantial numbers of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). We analyzed the economic impacts of the annual hunting regulations on small business entities in detail and issued a Small Entity Flexibility Analysis (Analysis) in 1998. The Analysis documented the significant beneficial economic effect. The primary source of information about hunter expenditures for migratory game bird hunting is the National Hunting and Fishing Survey, which is conducted at 5-year intervals. The Analysis was based on the 1996 National Hunting and Fishing Survey and the U.S. Department of Commerce's County Business Patterns from which it was estimated that migratory bird hunters would spend between $429 and $1,084 million at small businesses in 1998. Copies of the Analysis are available upon request.

Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act

This rule is a major rule under 5 U.S.C. 804(2), the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act. For the reasons outlined above, this rule has an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more. However, because this rule establishes hunting seasons, we do not plan to defer the effective date under the exemption contained in 5 U.S.C. 808(1).

Paperwork Reduction Act

We examined these regulations under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995. We utilize the various recordkeeping and reporting requirements imposed under regulations established in 50 CFR Part 20, Subpart K, in the formulation of migratory game bird hunting regulations. Specifically, OMB has approved the information collection requirements of the Migratory Bird Harvest Information Program and assigned clearance number 1018–0015 (expires 09/30/2001). This information is used to provide a sampling frame for voluntary national surveys to improve our harvest estimates for all migratory game birds in order to better manage these populations.

A Federal agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number.

Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

We have determined and certify in compliance with the requirements of the Unfunded Mandates Act, 2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq., that this rulemaking will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local or State government or private entities.

Civil Justice Reform—Executive Order 12988

The Department, in promulgating this rule, has determined that these regulations meet the applicable standards provided in Sections 3(a) and 3(b)(2) of Executive Order 12988.

Takings Implication Assessment

In accordance with Executive Order 12630, these rules, authorized by the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, do not have significant takings implications and do not affect any constitutionally protected property rights. These rules will not result in the physical occupancy of property, the physical invasion of property, or the regulatory taking of any property. In fact, these rules allow hunters to exercise privileges that would be otherwise unavailable; and, therefore, reduce restrictions on the use of private and public property.

Federalism Effects

Due to the migratory nature of certain species of birds, the Federal government has been given responsibility over these species by the Migratory Bird Treaty Act. We annually prescribe frameworks from which the States make selections and employs guidelines to establish special regulations on Federal Indian reservations and ceded lands. This process preserves the ability of the States and Tribes to determine which seasons meet their individual needs. Any State or Tribe may be more restrictive than the Federal frameworks at any time. The frameworks are developed in a cooperative process with the States and the Flyway Councils. This allows States to participate in the development of frameworks from which they will make selections, thereby having an influence on their own regulation. These rules do not have a substantial direct effect on fiscal capacity, change the roles or responsibilities of Federal or State governments, or intrude on State policy or administration. Therefore, in accordance with Executive Order 12612, these regulations do not have significant federalism effects and do not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

Government-to-Government Relationship With Tribes

In accordance with the President's memorandum of April 29, 1994, "Government-to-Government Relations with Native American Tribal Governments" (59 FR 22951) and 512 DM 2, we have evaluated possible effects on Federally recognized Indian tribes and have determined that there are no effects.

Regulations Promulgation

The rulemaking process for migratory game bird hunting must, by its nature, operate under severe time constraints. However, we intend that the public be given the greatest possible opportunity to comment on the regulations. Thus, when the preliminary proposed rulemaking was published, we established what we believed were the longest periods possible for public comment. In doing this, we recognized that when the comment period closed, time would be of the essence. That is, if there were a delay in the effective date of these regulations after this final rulemaking, the States would have insufficient time to select season dates and limits; to communicate those selections to us; and to establish and publicize the necessary regulations and procedures to implement their decisions. We therefore find that "good cause" exists, within the terms of 5 U.S.C. 553(d)(3) of the Administrative Procedure Act, and these frameworks will, therefore, take effect immediately upon publication.

Therefore, under authority of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act (July 3, 1918), as amended, (16 U.S.C. 703-711), we prescribe final frameworks setting forth the species to be hunted, the daily bag and possession limits, the shooting hours, the season lengths, the earliest opening and latest closing season dates, and hunting areas, from which State conservation agency officials will select hunting season dates and other options. Upon receipt of season and option selections from these officials, we will publish in the Federal Register a final rulemaking amending 50 CFR part 20 to reflect seasons, limits, and shooting hours for the conterminous United States for the 1999-2000 season.

List of Subjects in 50 CFR Part 20

Exports, Hunting, Imports, Reporting and recordkeeping requirements, Transportation, Wildlife.

The rules that eventually will be promulgated for the 1999-2000 hunting season are authorized under 16 U.S.C. 703-712 and 16 U.S.C. 742 a-j.

Season Lengths, Outside Dates, and Limits: Except as subsequently noted, 100-day seasons may be selected, with outside dates between the Saturday nearest October 1 (October 2), and the Sunday nearest January 20 (January 23), and the basic daily bag limits are 3 light geese and 4 dark geese, except in California, Oregon, and Washington, where the dark goose bag limit does not include brant.

Split Seasons: Unless otherwise specified, seasons for geese may be split into up to 3 segments. Three-way split seasons for Canada geese and white-fronted geese require Pacific Flyway Council and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service approval and a 3-year evaluation by each participating State.

Brant Season—A 16-consecutive-day season may be selected in Oregon and Washington, and a 30-consecutive-day season may be selected in California. In these States, the daily bag limit is 2 brant and is in addition to dark goose limits.

Closures: There will be no open season on Aleutian Canada geese in the Pacific Flyway. The States of California, Oregon, and Washington must include a statement on the closure for that subspecies in their respective regulations leaflet. Emergency closures may be invoked for all Canada geese should Aleutian Canada goose distribution patterns or other circumstances justify such actions.

Arizona: The daily bag limit for dark geese is 3.

California:

Northeastern Zone—White-fronted geese and cackling Canada geese may be taken only during the first 44 days of the goose season. The daily bag limit is 3 geese and may include no more than 2 dark geese; including not more than 1 cackling Canada goose.

Colorado River Zone—The seasons and limits must be the same as those selected in the adjacent portion of Arizona (South Zone).

Southern Zone—The daily bag limit for dark geese is 3 geese, including not more than 1 cackling Canada goose.

Balance-of-the-State Zone—A 79-day season may be selected. Limits may not include more than 3 geese per day and 6 in possession, of which not more than 2 daily and 4 in possession may be white-fronted geese and not more than 1 daily or 2 in possession may be cackling Canada geese. Three areas in the Balance-of-the-State Zone are restricted in the hunting of certain geese:

(1) In the Counties of Del Norte and Humboldt, there will be no open season for Canada geese, except for the Special September Canada goose hunt in Humboldt County.

(2) In the Sacramento Valley Special Management Area (West), the season on white-fronted geese must end on or before December 14, and, in the Sacramento Valley Special Management Area (East), there will be no open season for Canada geese.

(3) In the San Joaquin Valley Special Management Area, there will be no open season for Canada geese.

In this area, the daily bag limit of dark geese is 4 and may include 4 cackling Canada geese.

Wyoming: The daily bag limit is 4 dark geese.

Quota Zones: Seasons on dark geese must end upon attainment of individual quotas of dusky Canada geese allotted to the designated areas of Oregon and Washington. The September Canada goose season, the regular goose season, any special late dark goose season, and any extended falconry season, combined, must not exceed 107 days and the established quota of dusky Canada geese must not be exceeded. Hunting of dark geese in those designated areas shall only be by hunters possessing a State-issued permit authorizing them to do so. In a Service-approved investigation, the State must obtain quantitative information on hunter compliance of those regulations aimed at reducing the take of dusky Canada geese and eliminating the take of Aleutian Canada geese. In the designated areas of the Washington Quota Zone, a special late dark goose season may be held between January 22 and March 10. The daily bag limit may not include Aleutian Canada geese. In designated areas of Utah, Nevada, and the Pacific Flyway portion of Montana, an open season for taking a limited number of swans may be selected. Permits will be issued by States and will authorize each permittee to take no more than 1 swan per season. The season may open no earlier than the Saturday nearest October 1 (October 2). The States must implement a harvest-monitoring program to measure the species composition of the swan harvest. In Utah and Nevada, the harvest-monitoring program must require that all harvested swans or their species-determinant parts be examined by either State or Federal biologists for the purpose of species classification. All States should use appropriate measures to maximize hunter compliance in providing bagged swans for examination or, in the case of Montana, reporting bill-measurement and color information. All States must provide to the Service by June 30, 1998, a report covering harvest, hunter participation, reporting compliance, and monitoring of swan populations in the designated hunt areas. These seasons will be subject to the following conditions:

In Utah, no more than 2,750 permits may be issued. The season must end no later than the first Sunday in December (December 6) or upon attainment of 15 trumpeter swans in the harvest, whichever occurs earliest.

In Nevada, no more than 650 permits may be issued. The season must end no later than the Sunday following January 1 (January 2) or upon attainment of 5 trumpeter swans in the harvest, whichever occurs earliest.

In Montana, no more than 500 permits may be issued. The season must end no later than December 1.

FEDERAL HOUSING FINANCE BOARD12 CFR Chapter IX

RIN 3069-AA87

Reorganization of Federal Housing Finance Board RegulationsAGENCY: Federal Housing Finance Board.ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The Federal Housing Finance Board (Finance Board) is proposing to reorganize and renumber its regulations, to delete obsolete regulations and to amend the renumbered regulations to achieve greater consistency in terminology and greater conformity with current stylistic conventions of the Code of Federal Regulations. The reorganization is being proposed in order to implement a more logical and efficient presentation of the rules governing the Federal Home Loan Banks (Banks) and the Federal Home Loan Bank System (Bank System), as well as to prepare for the anticipated incorporation, in calendar year 2000, of new financial management and mission achievement regulations for the Banks.

DATES: Comments on this proposed rule must be received in writing on or before December 27, 1999.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be mailed to: Elaine L. Baker, Secretary to the Board, Federal Housing Finance Board, 1777 F Street, NW Washington, DC 20006. Comments will be available for public inspection at this address.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:I. Overview of Proposal

The proposed rule would reorganize and renumber the Finance Board's existing regulations, delete obsolete regulations, and amend the renumbered regulations to achieve greater consistency in terminology and greater conformity with current stylistic conventions of the Code of Federal Regulations. The reorganized regulations would reflect a more logical and efficient presentation of the rules governing the Banks and Bank System, as well as prepare for the anticipated incorporation, in calendar year 2000, of new financial management and mission achievement (FMMA) regulations for the Banks. The proposed FMMA rule (which appears as a separate rulemaking in this issue of the Federal Register), if enacted, would make many substantive changes and additions to the Finance Board's regulations. In order to minimize confusion, the Finance Board has included only technical changes to its regulations in this proposed rulemaking and has designated new parts and sections that would be added by the FMMA rule as "reserved" in this proposed rulemaking, in order to make clear where the new FMMA provisions would be located. References to regulatory amendments in the FMMA rule use the new part and section numbers that would exist if this proposed reorganization rule becomes final.

II. Analysis of Proposal

This proposed rule would delete the existing subchapter headings for the Finance Board's regulations and establish an entirely new set of subchapter headings. Within this structure, existing parts and sections would be re-ordered into logical subject-matter groupings under the subchapter headings. Generally, existing parts would remain intact and would simply be given a new part number, with each section and paragraph retaining the same designation (e.g., § 935.9(a) would become § 950.9(a); § 933.11(b)(3)(i)(A) would become § 925.11(b)(3)(i)(A), etc.) In some cases, however, longer sections covering more complex subject matter would be redesignated as parts in order to allow the material to be presented more clearly without the need for excessive sub-paragraph designations.

The following derivation table shows the origin of the material that would be contained in each of the proposed newly designated parts (or sections, as appropriate). "FMMA" is shown where a part or section would contain material that is addressed in the proposed FMMA rule:

§ 934.14	OTS assessments	Unnecessary.

With the renumbering of the Finance Board's regulations, reflected in the charts above, all cross-references to existing parts or sections within the Finance Board's regulations would become obsolete. As such, much of the amendatory instruction contained in the proposed rule addresses the revision of the hundreds of cross-references in the regulations to reflect accurately the new part and section numbers.

In addition to the above-described reorganization, the proposed rule would establish a new part 900 to contain definitions of terms that are used throughout the regulations and to establish consistent usage for these terms. This proposed amendment is meant to promote uniformity and consistency in the use of prevalent terminology throughout the Finance Board's regulations. The terms included in proposed part 900 are: Act (as the short form of Federal Home Loan Bank Act); Bank (as the short form of Federal Home Loan Bank); consolidated obligations; Finance Board (as the short form of Federal Housing Finance Board); and member (of a Bank). In the existing regulations, virtually every part contains a definition of at least one of these terms, and many parts use alternate forms of these terms that can lead to confusion (e.g., in some parts, the Federal Housing Finance Board is referred to as the "Board"; the Federal Home Loan Banks are referred to as "FHLBanks," etc.). The proposed rule would remove the definitions of these terms, and their synonyms, from the individual parts and would consolidate them into new part 900. It is anticipated that more terms may eventually be consolidated into part 900 as regulations are added, or as existing regulations undergo substantive revision in the future. Other terms requiring definition that are not used throughout the regulations would continue to be defined in the definitional provisions of the parts in which they are used.

In order to conform to the current stylistic conventions used in the Code of Federal Regulations, the proposed rule also would remove all paragraph designations from alphabetical definition sections, where feasible, in the existing regulations.

All remaining changes would merely correct typographical errors that came to the attention of the Finance Board during its review of the regulations.

As mentioned earlier, no substantive additions or revisions are included in this proposed rule. Should any part or section of the regulations require substantive amendment before this rule becomes final, such changes would be made in separate rulemakings. This rule would then be modified, in its final form, to reflect those substantive changes.

The Finance Board welcomes comments on this proposed regulatory reorganization.

III. Regulatory Flexibility Act

This proposal is a technical rule that reorganizes the Finance Board's regulations without substantive change. The rule will not impose any regulatory requirements on small entities. Thus, in accordance with the provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., the Finance Board hereby certifies that this proposed rule, if promulgated as a final rule, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. 5 U.S.C. 605(b).

IV. Paperwork Reduction Act

The proposed rule does not contain any collections of information pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995. See 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. Consequently, the Finance Board has not submitted any information to the Office of Management and Budget for review.

916.4 Incentive payments for Bank employees.

Authority: 12 U.S.C. 1422b(a), 1432(a).

§ 916.1 Definitions.

As used in this part:

Incentive payment means a direct or indirect transfer of funds by a Bank to a Bank employee, in addition to base salary, based on the employee's on-the-job performance.

Nondiscriminatory means that the plan, contract or arrangement in question applies to all employees of a Bank who meet reasonable and customary eligibility requirements applicable to all employees, such as minimum length of service requirements. A nondiscriminatory plan, contract, or arrangement may provide different benefits based only on objective criteria such as base salary, total compensation, length of service, job grade or classification, which are applied on a proportionate basis.

Payment. (1) The term payment means:

- (i) Any direct or indirect transfer of any funds or any asset;
- (ii) Any forgiveness of any debt or other obligation; and
- (iii) Any segregation of any funds or assets, the establishment or funding of any trust or the purchase of, or arrangement for, any letter of credit or other instrument for the purpose of making, or pursuant to any agreement to make, any payment on or after the date on which such funds or assets are segregated, or at the time of or after such trust is established or letter of credit or other instrument is made available, without regard to whether the obligation to make such payment is contingent on:
 - (A) The determination, after such date, of the liability for the payment of such amount; or
 - (B) The liquidation, after such date, of the amount of such payment.

(2) The term payment does not mean:

- (i) Reimbursement of an employee by the Bank for necessary and customary expenses incurred by the employee in the scope of his or her employment while carrying out the business of the Bank; or

(ii) Benefits.

Severance pay plan means a severance pay plan or arrangement as that term is defined in the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (as amended) (29 U.S.C. 1002(1)) (ERISA) and regulations thereunder which is nondiscriminatory and which provides for payment of severance benefits to all eligible employees upon involuntary termination, provided that no employee shall receive any such payment which exceeds the base compensation paid to such employee during the twelve (12) months immediately preceding termination of employment.

§ 916.2 Selection of Bank officers and employees.

(a) Bank Presidents. The board of directors of each Bank may appoint a President, who shall be the chief executive officer of the Bank, subject to the following limitations:

- (1) No appointment of a new Bank President shall be effective until approved by the Finance Board;
 - (2) A President shall serve at the pleasure of the Bank; and
 - (3) A President may be suspended or removed by the Finance Board for cause, which shall be communicated in writing to the President and the Bank.
- (b) Bank employees other than the President. Each Bank may appoint or elect officers other than the President and may hire other employees of the Bank without prior Finance Board approval.

(c) Prohibition on employment contracts. A Bank shall not enter into an employment contract with an employee.

§ 916.3 Base salaries of Bank employees.

- (a) Bank President. (1) The Finance Board annually will determine and publish by November 30 caps on the base salary paid to the Bank President for the subsequent calendar year for each of the 12 Banks.
- (2) The base salary cap for each Bank shall be based on the average base salary of a chief executive officer of a subsidiary financial institution in the Bank's primary metropolitan statistical area with an asset size comparable to that of the Bank, as of June of the prior year, reduced by five percent and rounded to the nearest $5,000.
- (3) Each Bank shall establish, on an annual basis, a reasonable base salary for its President, not to exceed 100 percent of the applicable base salary cap published by the Finance Board, except that for a Bank President whose approved base salary for the calendar year 1997 exceeds the cap published by the Finance Board for 1997, the Bank shall establish, on an annual basis, a reasonable base salary not exceeding the greater of the Bank President's approved base salary for the calendar year 1997 or the base salary cap published by the Finance Board for the year.

(4) By January 31 of each year, a Bank must report to the Finance Board the approved base salary of its President for that year.

(b) Other Bank employees. Each Bank shall establish base salaries for employees other than the President that are reasonable and comparable with the base salaries of employees of the other Banks and other similar businesses (including financial institutions) with similar duties and responsibilities.

(c) Documentation. Each Bank shall maintain documentation supporting the reasonableness and comparability of their employees' base salaries.

§ 916.4 Incentive payments for Bank employees.

(a) In general. A Bank may establish an incentive payment program or programs for its employees.

(b) Bank President. (1) The maximum incentive payment to a Bank President may not exceed the difference between that President's base annual salary approved by the Bank and 125 percent of the annual base salary cap, as published by the Finance Board.

(2) At least 50 percent of the Bank President's incentive payment shall be based on the extent to which the Bank meets reasonable numerical performance targets established by the Bank's board of directors related to the Bank's achievement of its housing finance mission, which shall include substantial consideration of innovative products directed at unmet credit needs, Community Investment Cash Advances (including Community Investment Program advances) as defined in § 950.1 of this chapter, non-advance credit support and risk management products for members, as well as advances, including long-term advances. The remaining portion of the Bank President's incentive payment shall be based on the extent to which the Bank meets reasonable numerical performance targets established by the Bank's board of directors related to achievement of goals established by the board of directors, in its discretion.

(3) Any incentive payment made to a Bank President shall be based solely upon the extent to which a Bank achieves the performance targets established by the Bank's board of directors.

(4) By January 31 of each year, the board of directors of each Bank that intends to make any incentive payment to its President for such year shall adopt a resolution establishing the performance measures and targets on which such incentive payment will be based.

(5) By March 1 of each year, the board of directors of each Bank making any incentive payment to its President for the prior year shall adopt and submit to the Finance Board a resolution showing the results for the individual performance measures and the amount of the incentive payment to the Bank President for the prior year.

(6) A Bank shall not make any incentive payment to its President if the most recent examination of the Bank by the Finance Board identified an unsafe or unsound practice or condition with regard to the Bank, provided that if the finding of an unsafe or unsound practice or condition subsequently is resolved in favor of the Bank by the Finance Board, the Bank may pay its President the incentive payment that he or she otherwise would have received.

(c) Incentive payments for other Bank employees. (1) Each Bank may make incentive payments to employees other than the President, provided that such incentive payments are reasonable and comparable with incentive payments made to employees of the other Banks and other similar businesses (including financial institutions) with similar duties and responsibilities. Each Bank shall maintain documentation supporting the reasonableness and comparability of its employees' incentive payments.

(2) The sum of annual base salary and all incentive payments received in a single calendar year by an employee other than the Bank President shall not exceed 125 percent of the annual base salary cap for the Bank President, as published by the Finance Board.

(3) An incentive payment for an employee other than the Bank President shall be based on the extent to which the employee meets objective performance targets related to performance criteria established by the Bank's board of directors under the Bank's incentive compensation program or programs.

(4) All Bank incentive compensation plans in effect on May 1, 1998, shall be submitted to the Finance Board no later than June 1, 1998. Any subsequent amendments to such plans shall not become effective until submitted to the Finance Board.

§ 916.5 Severance plans.

A Bank may make payments in the nature of severance to its President and to other Bank employees only pursuant to a severance pay plan.

§ 916.6 General limits on payments.

(a) No Bank shall make any payment to a Bank employee, except as provided in this part.

(b) The total amount of base salaries, incentive payments, and benefits paid to Bank employees shall be within the limit set forth in the Bank's approved budget. The board of directors of each Bank shall review annually the compensation for its employees, including appropriate documentation, prior to approving the Bank's annual budget.

A Bank shall not treat an employee as an independent contractor in order to avoid complying with the requirements of this part.

Authority: 12 U.S.C. 1422b(a), 1427.

As used in this part:

Average compensation per director (ACPD) means the sum of the maximum compensation for all directors serving on a Bank's board of directors, divided by the total number of directors designated by the Finance Board to serve on the Bank's board for that year.

Compensation means any payment of money or provision of any other thing of value (or the accrual of a right to receive money or a thing of value in a subsequent year) in consideration of a director's performance of official duties for the Bank, including, without limitation, retainer fees, daily meeting fees, incentive payments and fringe benefits.

Maximum compensation means the maximum total compensation that would be paid to a director in a given year under the Bank's policy on director compensation if that director attended all meetings and fulfilled all duties assigned to or otherwise expected of him or her for that year.

§ 918.2 Annual compensation.

For 1997 and each subsequent year, each Bank's board of directors shall adopt annually by resolution a written policy to provide for the payment to Bank directors of reasonable compensation for the performance of their duties as members of the Bank's board, subject to the requirements set forth in § 918.3. At a minimum, such policy shall address the activities or functions for which attendance is necessary and appropriate and may be compensated, and shall explain and justify the methodology for determining the amount of compensation to be paid to directors.

§ 918.3 Compensation policy requirements.

Payment to directors under each Bank's policy on director compensation may be based upon factors that the Bank determines to be appropriate, but each Bank's policy shall conform to the following requirements:

(a) The annual ACPD for each Bank shall not exceed the amount calculated in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section. Within this limit:

(1) The total actual compensation received by each director in a year shall reflect both the amount of time spent on official Bank business and the level of responsibility assumed by that director, such that greater or lesser attendance at board and committee meetings and greater or lesser responsibility assumed by a director during a given year will be reflected in the actual compensation received by the director for that year; and

(2) The maximum compensation for the chair of each Bank's board of directors in a given year shall not be equaled or exceeded by the maximum compensation of any other director for that year and shall not be less than 125 percent of the Bank's ACPD for that year.

(b) The limit on ACPD for each Bank shall be $28,000 for 1997. For 1998 and subsequent years, the limit on ACPD shall be adjusted annually to reflect the preceding year's change in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) for all urban consumers, as published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Federal Home Loan Bank Financial Management and Mission Achievement AGENCY: Federal Housing Finance Board.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The Federal Housing Finance Board (Finance Board) is proposing to adopt new financial management and mission achievement regulations, and amend certain existing regulations, for the Federal Home Loan Banks (Banks). The proposal would modernize policies governing the business activities of the Banks and, for the first time, would establish regulatory standards for mission achievement by the Banks and a definition of mission assets. The proposal includes a risk-based capital requirement, pursuant to which the amount of capital required to be maintained by a Bank would be based on the credit, market, and operations risks to which it is exposed. The risk-based capital regime builds upon the regulatory framework used by other financial institution and government-sponsored enterprise (GSE) regulators. The mission achievement requirement in the proposal would: codify the authority of the Banks to hold mortgage assets, including mortgage-backed securities; allow mortgage assets meeting certain regulatory requirements to be counted as mission assets; and eliminate the use of the Banks' GSE advantages in issuing debt to fund arbitrage investments. The proposal also sets forth in the regulation the responsibilities of the boards of directors and senior management of the Banks, as a means of ensuring that they fulfill their duties in operating the Banks in a safe and sound manner and in furtherance of their mission. The proposal will enable the Banks to help their members be more effective competitors in the housing finance and community lending marketplace, which in turn will assure that benefits accrue to consumers. In a separate rulemaking, the Finance Board is proposing to reorganize its regulations in a more logical arrangement and to reflect the revisions to be made by this proposal.

DATES: Comments on this proposed rule must be received in writing on or before December 27, 1999.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be mailed to: Elaine L. Baker, Secretary to the Board, Federal Housing Finance Board, 1777 F Street, NW, Washington, DC 20006. Comments will be available for public inspection at this address.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Overview of Proposal

The proposed rule would establish new financial management and mission achievement requirements for the Banks, including: (1) a capital provision that would incorporate both minimum total capital and risk-based capital elements; (2) provisions linking the GSE debt funding advantage to activities that further the mission of the Banks (as set forth in the new regulatory definition), thus eliminating GSE debt-funded arbitrage investments and authorizing the Banks to hold "member mortgage assets"; and (3) provisions defining the responsibilities—and thus the accountability—of the boards of directors and senior management of the Banks. The proposal would give the Banks greater flexibility to manage their business so as to better serve their members and fulfill their public purpose, while operating within a risk-based capital framework that ensures the safety and soundness of the Bank System.

A. Capital Requirements

Under current law, the amount of capital a Bank must hold is determined not by the risks inherent in its portfolio or business practices, but by the asset size of, or the dollar amount of advances outstanding to, its members. Specifically, a member must maintain a minimum investment in the capital stock of its Bank in an amount equal to the greater of: (1) 1 percent of the member's mortgage assets; (2) 0.3 percent of the member's total assets; or (3) 5 percent of total advances outstanding to the member (with a somewhat higher percentage for any member that is not a "qualified thrift lender"). See 12 U.S.C. 1426(b)(1), (b)(2), (b)(4); 1430(c), (e)(1), (e)(3); 12 CFR 933.20(a).

The Banks currently operate in accordance with the Finance Board's Financial Management Policy (FMP), under which risk management is accomplished principally through a list of specific restrictions and limitations on the Banks' investment practices and a leverage limit which prohibits Banks from incurring liabilities in the form of consolidated obligations (COs) or unsecured senior liabilities in an amount greater than twenty times their capital stock. See 62 FR 13146 (Mar. 19, 1997); Finance Board Res. No. 96-45 (July 3, 1996), as amended by Finance Board Res. No. 96-90 (Dec. 6, 1996), Finance Board Res. No. 97-05 (Jan. 14, 1997), and Finance Board Res. No. 97-86 (Dec. 17, 1997). Though this approach has served the purpose of ensuring the safety and soundness of the Bank System, it lacks the flexibility that would enable the Banks to fulfill their mission to the maximum extent.

To ensure that the risks taken by a Bank are adequately supported by its capital, the proposal would implement, for the first time, a risk-based capital requirement for the Banks, which builds upon the risk-based capital regimes of other federal financial institution regulators. Under the proposed rules, the amount of capital to be held by each Bank would depend, in part, on the risks—credit risk, market risk, and operations risk—to which the Bank is exposed. The credit risk capital requirement would be set according to credit ratings and the associated historical default and recovery data made available by nationally-recognized statistical rating organizations (NRSROs). This approach would improve on the broad credit risk weighting categories set forth in the Basle Accord in 1988¹ by determining the credit risk capital component based on the risk of an instrument rather than the type of instrument.

A Bank's market risk capital requirement would be equal to the market value of the Bank's portfolio at risk from changes in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, and commodity and equity prices during periods of extreme market stress, as determined in accordance with internal market risk models to be developed by each Bank. A Bank would be required to assess its market values at risk regularly through stringent stress testing of its entire portfolio, including both on-balance sheet assets and liabilities and off-balance sheet items, as well as related options. By comparison, large commercial banks are required to conduct such assessments only for their trading account and for certain other assets, leaving out much bank business from the value at risk calculation.

The operations risk capital requirement proposed would be equal to 30 percent of the combined amount of capital required for credit and market risks. This is consistent with the statutory requirement for operations risk capital imposed on the Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae) and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (Freddie Mac). See 12 U.S.C. 4611(c)(2).

In addition to the risk-based capital requirement, the proposal would establish a minimum total capital requirement that would require each Bank to maintain total capital of not less than 3.0 percent of its total assets, regardless of its risk profile, although document entitled "International Convergence of Capital Measurement and Capital Standards" (July 1988) (the Basle Accord). The Basle Accord was agreed to by the Basle Committee on Banking Supervision (BCBS) which comprises representatives of the central banks and supervisory authorities of the Group of Ten countries (Belgium, Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Netherlands, Sweden, Switzerland, United Kingdom, United States and Luxembourg). The BCBS meets at the Bank for International Settlements, Basle, Switzerland. The Basle Accord defines bank capital and sets credit risk-based capital standards for on- and off-balance sheet instruments. The Basle Accord has been amended many times with the most significant amendment entitled "Amendment to the Capital Accord to Incorporate Market Risks" (Jan. 1996) (the Amendment). The Amendment sets specific risk-based capital standards for instruments held in trading portfolios of commercial banks. For debt instruments, the specific risk is defined by the Amendment as credit and event risk. In addition, the Amendment incorporates a measure of the market risk due to interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity prices and commodity prices for instruments held in trading portfolio (trading book); and foreign exchange and commodity risks for instruments held in non-trading portfolio (banking book). The BCBS issued a consultative paper entitled "A New Capital Adequacy Framework" (June 1999) (the Framework) that introduces a new framework to replace the Basle Accord.

the Finance Board could require a greater amount in individual cases.²

B. Mission Achievement

The principal source of funding for the Banks is the COs that are issued in the global capital markets and for which the twelve Banks are jointly and severally liable. Because of the Banks' GSE status, the costs to the Banks of obtaining such funding are substantially less than the borrowing costs for comparable debt issued by other entities. The Banks pass the benefit of this funding advantage to their members through wholesale loans (called advances) priced lower than the members could otherwise obtain to provide support for housing finance, including community lending, in fulfillment of the Banks' mission.

The FMP does not expressly require the Banks to use any particular percentage of the funds obtained through the issuance of COs to provide advances to their members. In large part due to the financial burdens imposed on the Banks as a result of the savings and loan crisis, the Banks began in 1991 to use a portion of the proceeds from COs to finance investments which the Finance Board does not consider to be adequately related to their statutory mission. The level of such non-mission-related investments rose substantially in the early 1990s, but has begun to decline appreciably, as a percent of assets, in recent years, as the membership base of the Bank System and the level of advances outstanding to members have increased.

To better link the GSE advantages in the capital markets to the mission performance of the Bank System, the proposed rule would require, by January 1, 2005, that an amount equal to 100 percent of each Bank's outstanding COs be held by the Bank in core mission activities. "Core mission activities" would be defined as those activities that assist and enhance members' and eligible nonmember borrowers' financing of housing and community lending. Included in this definition are advances and also a newly authorized class of investments to be called "member mortgage assets." The transition period is intended to allow the Banks sufficient time to restructure their balance sheets as necessary to bring the level of core mission activities in line with the amount of outstanding COs.

The proposed core mission activity requirement would be subordinate to the safe and sound financial operation of the Banks, as mandated by the Federal Home Loan Bank Act (Act). See 12 U.S.C. 1422a(a)(3)(A). During any specified period in which a Bank's board of directors determines that the core mission activities requirement would be inconsistent with the safe and sound operation of the Bank, the Bank would be permitted to be out of compliance with the core mission activities requirement.

By establishing the core mission activities requirement at 100 percent of COs outstanding, the proposed rule will both permit and encourage the Banks to develop new products and business activities (such as member mortgage assets, discussed below) that: further the statutory mission of the Banks; build upon the cooperative nature of the Bank's relationship with its members; meet the core mission activities definition in the proposed rule; and are supported by appropriate levels of capital.

C. Responsibilities of Bank Boards of Directors and Senior Management

Because it allows the Banks substantially greater authority to acquire new assets and manage their risks, and to raise member capital accordingly, the proposed rule also would articulate certain minimum responsibilities of the Banks' boards of directors and senior management with regard to operating the Banks in a safe and sound manner and ensuring that the Banks achieve their statutory mission. These responsibilities include matters such as the adoption and annual review of risk management policies, periodic risk assessments, the maintenance of effective internal controls, independent audit committees, and adoption and review of and compliance with mission achievement policies.

D. Reorganization of Finance Board Regulations

Because of the comprehensive nature of the amendments that would be made by the proposal, the Finance Board separately is proposing to reorganize its regulations in order that the revised regulations will remain internally consistent and will reflect the proposed changes in a logical manner. Cross-references appearing in the text of the proposed rule are made to the new section and part numbers that would be in effect once the reorganization regulation is finalized. Where such references are to provisions that currently exist under different section or part numbers, the existing citation has been noted in this preamble. For ease of reference, this proposed reorganization regulation is also being published in this edition of the Federal Register.

E. Public Hearing

The Finance Board will hold a public hearing on this proposal. Persons interested in participating in the public discussion of the proposed rule should contact Karen H. Crosby, Director, Office of Strategic Planning, in writing at the Federal Housing Finance Board, 1777 F St. NW, Washington, DC, 20006, by the close of business October 15, 1999.

II. Statutory and Regulatory Background

A. The Bank System

The twelve Banks are instrumentalities of the United States organized under the authority of the Act. See 12 U.S.C. 1423, 1432(a). The Banks are cooperatives; only members of a Bank may own the capital stock of a Bank and only members or certain eligible nonmember borrowers (such as state housing finance agencies) may obtain access to the products provided by a Bank. See 12 U.S.C. 1426, 1430(a), 1430b. Each Bank is managed by its own board of directors and serves the public by enhancing the availability of residential mortgage and community lending credit through its members and eligible nonmembers. See 12 U.S.C. 1427. Any eligible institution (typically, an insured depository institution) may become a member of a Bank by satisfying certain criteria and by purchasing a specified amount of the Bank's capital stock. See 12 U.S.C. 1424, 1426, 1430(e)(3); 12 CFR part 933. As GSEs, the Banks are granted certain privileges that enable them to borrow funds in the capital markets on terms more favorable than could be obtained by other entities. Typically, the Bank System can borrow funds at a modest spread over the rates on U.S. Treasury securities of comparable maturity. The Banks pass along their GSE funding advantage to their members—and ultimately to consumers—by providing advances (secured loans) and other financial services at rates that would not otherwise be available to their members.

Together with the Office of Finance, the twelve Banks comprise the Bank System, which operates under the supervision of the Finance Board, an independent agency in the executive branch of the U.S. government. The primary duty of the Finance Board is to ensure that the Banks operate in a financially safe and sound manner; consistent with that duty the Finance Board is required to supervise the Banks, ensure that they carry out their housing finance mission, and ensure that they remain adequately capitalized and able to raise funds in the capital markets. 12 U.S.C. 1422a(a)(3)(A), (B).

B. The Banks' Housing Finance and Community Lending Mission

Under section 10 of the Act and part 935 of the Finance Board's regulations, the Banks have broad authority to make advances in support of housing finance, which includes community lending. See 12 U.S.C. 1430(a), (i), (j); 12 CFR part 935. The Banks also are required to offer two programs—the Affordable Housing Program (AHP) and the Community Investment Program (CIP)—to provide subsidized or at-cost advances, respectively, in support of unmet housing finance or targeted economic development credit needs. See 12 U.S.C. 1430(i), (j); 12 CFR parts 960, 970. In addition, section 10(j)(10) of the Act, as implemented by a recently issued Finance Board regulation, authorizes the Banks to establish Community Investment Cash Advance (CICA) Programs for community lending, defined as providing financing for economic development projects for targeted beneficiaries. See 12 U.S.C. 1430(j)(10); 12 CFR part 970; 63 FR 65536 (Nov. 27, 1998).

C. Investment Authority and Oversight

The Banks' investment authority is set forth primarily in sections 11(h) and 16(a) of the Act, which govern the investment of the Banks' surplus and reserve funds, respectively. See 12 U.S.C. 1431(h), 1436(a). Under both of these sections, the Banks are authorized to invest in: obligations of the United States; certain obligations of Fannie Mae, the Government National Mortgage Association (Ginnie Mae), or Freddie Mac; and in such securities in which fiduciary and trust funds may be invested under the law of the state in which the Bank is located. Section 11(h) also authorizes investments in the securities of certain small business investment companies (SBIC).

In addition to those permissive investments, the Banks are required to have liquidity reserves in an amount equal to deposits from their members invested in obligations of the United States, deposits in banks or trust companies, and certain specified short-term advances to their members. See 12 U.S.C. 1431(g).

Currently, the Finance Board regulates the Banks' investment practices through its regulations, as well as through the FMP. Section 934.1 of the regulations provides that the Banks may acquire or dispose of investments only with the prior approval of the Finance Board, or in conformity with authorizations of the Finance Board or "stated [Finance] Board policy." 12 CFR 934.1. By resolution, the Finance Board adopted the FMP, in part, as its "stated policy" regarding permissible Bank investments. The FMP generally provides a framework within which the Banks may implement their financial management strategies in a prudent and responsible manner. Specifically, the FMP identifies the types of investments that the Banks may purchase pursuant to their statutory investment authority and, therefore, by implication, prohibits any investments not specifically identified by the FMP. The FMP also includes a series of guidelines relating to the funding and hedging practices of the Banks, as well as to the management of their credit, interest rate and liquidity risks, and establishes liquidity requirements in addition to those required by statute, as noted above. See FMP sections III–VII.

The FMP evolved from a series of policies and guidelines initially adopted by the Finance Board's predecessor agency, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board (FHLBB), which had adopted guidelines comparable to the FMP in the 1970s and revised them a number of times thereafter. The Finance Board adopted the FMP in 1991, consolidating into one document the previously separate policies on funds management, hedging and interest rate swaps, and adding new guidelines on management of unsecured credit and interest rate risks. As discussed in considerably more detail below, this proposed rule would supersede the FMP as the Finance Board's means of overseeing the investment practices and mission achievement of the Banks.

III. Analysis of Proposed Rule

A. Part 917—Responsibilities of Bank Boards of Directors and Senior Management

1. Overview

Each state generally has laws of incorporation that require, among other things, a corporation to be managed by a board of directors. Consistent with this general corporate concept, the Act provides for the management of each Bank to be vested in the Bank's board of directors. See 12 U.S.C. 1427(a). The Act states that each Bank is a corporate body. See id. at 1432(a). In addition to authorizing certain enumerated corporate and banking powers, see id. at 1431, 1432, the Act grants each Bank all such incidental powers as are consistent with the provisions of the Act and customary and usual in corporations generally. See id. The Finance Board believes that, attendant to the exercise of customary and usual corporate powers, the Banks' boards of directors are subject to the same general fiduciary duties of care and loyalty to which the board of a state-chartered business or banking corporation would be subject, although this previously has not been set forth in regulation.

The duties, responsibilities and privileges of a director of a Bank derive from a source different from that of a director of a state-chartered business or banking corporation. Each Bank is created in accordance with Federal law to further public policy, and its statutory powers and purposes are not subject to change except by the Congress. A Bank's board of directors has neither the right nor the duty to alter the purpose of the Bank, whereas an ordinary corporate board of directors may approve mergers, consolidations and changes in the corporate charter that could drastically alter the objectives and nature of the business of the corporation. The directors of a Bank are responsible for managing that Bank to achieve the statutorily-mandated objectives of promoting housing finance and community lending and meeting the Bank's statutory obligations (e.g., paying a portion of the interest on obligations of the Resolution Funding Corporation (REFCORP), see id. at 1441b, and making contributions to the AHP, see id. at 1430(j)), all in a financially safe and sound manner.

All Banks are subject to the supervision of the Finance Board. Although the directors manage and control their Banks, they may act only within the parameters established by the Finance Board. The bulk of the Banks' corporate powers, duties and responsibilities are described in sections 10, 11, 12 and 16 of the Act. Id. at 1430, 1431, 1432 and 1436. Section 10 of the Act authorizes each Bank to make secured advances to its members upon collateral sufficient, in its judgment, to fully secure the advance, and to certain eligible nonmember borrowers upon statutorily specified collateral. See id. 1430(a), 1430b. The Banks may conduct correspondent services, establish reserves, make investments and pay dividends, all subject to statutory limitations. See id. at 1431, 1436. Under section 12(a) of the Act, a Bank, and hence any director of that Bank, has the power to sue and be sued. See id. at 1432(a). In addition, each Bank has adopted bylaws that address such matters as: the conduct of meetings of the board of directors; existence, composition, conduct and administration of committees of the board of directors; and indemnification.

Proposed part 917 for the first time would set forth in one place and in regulation the duties and responsibilities of a Bank's board of directors and of senior management of the Bank. It will make clear the Finance Board's belief that oversight of management by a strong and proactive board of directors is critical to the safe and successful operation of a Bank. Under proposed part 917, the board of directors of each Bank shall be responsible for: approving and periodically reviewing the significant policies of the Bank; understanding the major risks taken by the Bank, setting acceptable tolerance levels for these risks and ensuring that senior management takes the steps necessary to identify, measure, monitor and control these risks; monitoring that the Bank is in compliance with applicable statutes, regulation and policy (both of the Finance Board and the Bank); ensuring that the Bank carries out its housing finance and community lending mission; approving the organizational structure and delegations of authority; and ensuring that an adequate and effective system of internal controls is established and maintained and that senior management is monitoring the effectiveness of the internal control system.

Proposed part 917 provides that senior management of each Bank shall be responsible for implementing strategies and policies approved by the Bank's board; developing processes that identify, measure, monitor and control risks incurred by the Bank; maintaining an organizational structure that clearly assigns responsibility, authority and reporting relationships; ensuring that delegated responsibilities are effectively carried out; setting appropriate internal control policies; and monitoring the adequacy and effectiveness of the internal control system.

The proposed requirements for the Banks' boards of directors and senior management generally are based on widely accepted best corporate practices. They are intended to augment the responsibilities, independence and expertise of the boards of directors by requiring them to oversee both risk management for safety and soundness and achievement of the public purpose of supporting housing and targeted economic development. Oversight by both the boards of directors and senior management is integral to the overall business operation of the Bank. The first line of defense in ensuring safety and soundness has to be an effective corporate governance structure within the Banks themselves. Having an active, informed and engaged board of directors is the cornerstone of a well-run entity.

In addition, recognition of the importance of mission achievement must originate with the board of directors and fulfillment of mission at all levels of the Bank must be promoted and encouraged by the board. The requirements contained in the proposed rule are intended to ensure that the boards of directors of the Banks give serious consideration to these important responsibilities.

2. General Duties of Bank Boards of Directors—§ 917.2

Proposed § 917.2 provides that each Bank's board of directors shall have the general duty to direct the operations of the Bank in conformity with the requirements of the Finance Board's regulations. Proposed § 917.2 further provides that each board director shall carry out his or her duties as director in good faith, in a manner such director believes to be in the best interests of the Bank, and with such care, including reasonable inquiry, as an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would use under similar circumstances.

3. Risk Management—§ 917.3

Section 917.3 of the proposed rule sets forth the risk management responsibilities of Bank boards of directors and senior management. Proposed § 917.3(a)(1) would require that, within 180 calendar days of the adoption of the rule in final form, each Bank's board of directors shall adopt a risk management policy addressing the Bank's exposure to credit risk, market risk, liquidity risk, business risk and operations risk in a manner consistent with the substantive risk management requirements set forth in part 930 of the proposed rule. The risk limits set forth in the policy shall be consistent with the Bank's capital position and its ability to measure and manage risk. Under proposed § 917.3(a)(1), a Bank will be required to submit its initial risk management policy to the Finance Board for approval; subsequent versions of the policy or amendments would not be required to be submitted to, or approved by, the Finance Board. However, Bank risk management policies will be reviewed by the Finance Board as part of the ongoing examination process.

Proposed § 917.3(a)(2)(i) would require that the Bank's board of directors review the Bank's risk management policy on at least an annual basis. Proposed § 917.3(a)(2)(iii) provides that the board of directors also would be required to re-adopt the risk management policy, including interim amendments, not less often than every three years, as appropriate based on the board's reviews of the policy. In addition to providing consistency, this requirement is intended to ensure that, despite the turnover in board personnel that will occur over a number of years, all or most current members of a Bank's board of directors will be thoroughly familiar with the Bank's risk management policy, will have given meaningful consideration to its provisions and will have expressed an opinion regarding the adequacy of the policy through the voting process. Proposed § 917.3(a)(2)(iv) also would make clear that each Bank's board of directors has the ultimate responsibility to ensure that the Bank is in compliance at all times with the risk management policy.

Section 917.3(b) of the proposed rule sets forth several specific requirements for each Bank's risk management policy. Proposed § 917.3(b)(1) would require that each Bank's risk management policy describe how the Bank will comply with the risk-based capital standards set forth in proposed part 930. Proposed § 917.3(b)(2) would require each Bank's risk management policy to set forth tolerance levels for the market and credit risk components.

Proposed § 917.3(b)(3) requires each Bank's risk management policy to set forth standards for the Bank's management of credit, market, liquidity, business and operations risks. Credit risk is defined in proposed § 930.1 as the risk that an obligation will not be paid in full and loss will result. The Banks must assess the creditworthiness of issuers, obligors, or other counterparties prior to acquiring investments and, under proposed § 917.3(b)(3)(i), the Bank's risk management policy would be required to include the standards and criteria for such an assessment. In addition, the credit risk portion of each Bank's risk management policy also should identify the criteria for selecting brokers, dealers and other securities firms with which the Bank may execute transactions.

Market risk is defined in proposed § 930.1 as the risk of loss in value of the Bank's portfolio resulting from movements in market prices. Under proposed § 930.6, each Bank would be required to have in place a comprehensive market risk management model that allows the Bank to estimate in a timely manner the value of the portfolio at risk from changes in market prices under various stress scenarios.

Proposed § 917.3(b)(3)(ii) would require that each Bank's risk management policy establish standards for the methods and models used to measure and monitor market risk, including maximum exposure thresholds and scenarios for measuring risk exposure.

Liquidity risk is defined in proposed § 917.1 as the risk that a Bank would be unable to meet its obligations as they come due or meet the credit needs of its members and eligible nonmember borrowers in a timely and cost-efficient manner. Operational liquidity addresses day-to-day or ongoing liquidity needs under normal circumstances.

Operational liquidity needs may be either anticipated or unanticipated. Contingency liquidity addresses the same liquidity needs, but under abnormal or unusual circumstances in which a Bank's access to the capital markets is impeded. This impediment may result from a market disruption, operational failure, or real or perceived credit problems. Proposed § 917.3(b)(3)(iii) would require that each Bank's risk management policy indicate the Bank's sources of liquidity, including specific types of investments to be held for liquidity purposes, and the methodology to be used for determining the Bank's operational and contingency liquidity needs. The proposed new liquidity requirements are addressed in more detail below in the discussion of proposed § 930.10.

Operations risk is defined in proposed § 930.1 as the risk of an unexpected loss to a Bank resulting from human error, fraud, unenforceability of legal contracts, or deficiencies in internal controls or information systems. Proposed § 917.3(b)(3)(iv) would require each Bank's risk management policy to address operations risk by setting forth standards for an effective internal control system (as described in more detail below), including periodic testing and reporting.

Business risk is defined in proposed § 930.1 as the risk of an adverse impact on a Bank's profitability resulting from external factors as may occur in both the short and long run. Such factors include: continued financial services industry consolidation; declining membership base; concentration of borrowing among members; and increased inter-Bank competition. Proposed § 917.3(b)(3)(v) would require that each Bank's risk management policy identify these risks and include strategies for mitigating such risks, including contingency plans where appropriate.

In order for each Bank to create and maintain a meaningful risk management policy, it is important that the boards of directors be cognizant of the strategic risks facing the Bank. Therefore, proposed § 917.3(c) would require that senior management of each Bank perform, at least annually, a written risk assessment that identifies and evaluates all material risks, including both quantitative and qualitative aspects, that could adversely affect the achievement of the Bank's performance objectives and compliance requirements. Proposed § 917.3(c) also requires that the risk assessment be in written form and be reviewed by the Bank's board of directors promptly upon its completion.

4. Internal Control System—§ 917.4

While the existing FMP requires that management of each Bank establish internal control systems, there is no guidance provided on how to ascertain the sufficiency of the systems. There have been several instances where internal control weaknesses have been uncovered through the Finance Board's examination process. As a result, the Finance Board believes it prudent to provide more specific requirements for the internal control process that should be in place at each Bank.

In developing requirements for internal control processes for the Banks, the Finance Board reviewed the available literature on the appropriate internal control systems for financial institutions. Included in this review was the BCBS's Framework for Internal Control Systems published in September 1998 (hereinafter Basle Committee Report) and the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission's Internal Control—Integrated Framework Report published in September 1992 (hereinafter Treadway Commission). The recommendations contained in these Reports are considered to be state of the art for defining, implementing, monitoring, and evaluating internal control systems.

According to the Basle Committee Report, a system of effective internal controls is a critical component of bank management and a foundation for safe and sound operation of a banking organization. A strong system of internal controls can help a bank meet its goals and objectives, achieve long-term profitability targets, and maintain reliable financial and managerial reporting. An internal control system also can help to: (1) Ensure the bank is in compliance with laws, regulations and the bank's internal policies and procedures; (2) safeguard assets; and (3) decrease the risk of damage to the bank's reputation.

The Treadway Commission Report defines internal controls as a process, effected by the board of directors, management and other personnel, designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the achievement of objectives in the: (1) Effectiveness and efficiency of operations; (2) reliability of financial reporting; and (3) compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

Both Reports discuss basic components or principles for establishing and assessing internal control—management oversight and the control environment, risk recognition and assessment, control activities and segregation of duties, information and communication, and monitoring activities and correcting deficiencies.

The provisions of § 917.4 of the proposed rule were adapted from the basic components and principles in the Basle Committee and Treadway Commission Reports. The Finance Board believes that appropriate internal controls will be critical to successful implementation of this regulation. The proposed rule would provide the framework for an effective internal control system, and establish senior management and board of directors' responsibilities regarding internal controls.

Proposed § 917.4 addresses the requirements for a Bank's internal control systems. Proposed § 917.4(a)(1) would require each Bank to establish and maintain an effective internal control system adequate to ensure: the efficiency and effectiveness of Bank activities; the safeguarding of assets; the reliability, completeness and timely reporting of financial and management information and transparency of such information to the Bank's board of directors and to the Finance Board; and compliance with applicable laws, regulations, policies, supervisory determinations and directives of the Bank's board of directors and senior management.

Proposed § 917.4(a)(2) enumerates certain minimum ongoing internal control activities that the Finance Board considers to be necessary in order for the internal control objectives described in proposed § 917.4(a)(1) to be achieved. These activities include: top level reviews by the Bank's board of directors and senior management; activity controls, including review of standard performance and exception reports; physical controls adequate to ensure the safeguarding of assets; monitoring for compliance with the risk tolerance limits set forth in the risk management policy that would be required under proposed § 917.3(a); any required approvals and authorizations for specific activities; and any required verifications and reconciliations for specific activities.

Section 917.4(b) of the proposed rule would charge each Bank's board of directors with the responsibility of directing the establishment and maintenance of the internal control system by senior management, and overseeing senior management's implementation of the system on a continuing basis. Under proposed § 917.4(b), specific board actions necessary to fulfill these responsibilities would include: conducting periodic discussions with senior management regarding the effectiveness of the internal control system; ensuring that an effective and comprehensive internal audit of the internal control system is performed annually; ensuring that the Bank's board of directors receives reports on internal control deficiencies in a timely manner and that such deficiencies are addressed promptly; conducting a timely review of evaluations of the effectiveness of the internal control system made by auditors and Finance Board examiners; ensuring that senior management promptly and effectively addresses recommendations and concerns expressed by auditors and Finance Board examiners regarding weaknesses in the internal control system; reporting internal control deficiencies, and the corrective action taken, to the Finance Board in a timely manner; establishing, documenting and communicating an clear and effective organizational structure for the Bank; ensuring that all delegations of board authority state the extent of the authority and responsibilities delegated; and establishing reporting requirements.

Section 917.4(c) of the proposed rule would charge each Bank's senior management with the responsibility to establish, implement and maintain the internal control system under the direction of the Bank's board of directors. Under proposed § 917.4(c), specific actions on the part of senior management that would be necessary to fulfill these responsibilities include: establishing, implementing and effectively communicating to Bank personnel policies and procedures that are adequate to ensure that internal control activities necessary to maintain an effective internal control system are an integral part of the daily functions of all Bank personnel; ensuring that all Bank personnel fully understand and comply with all policies and procedures; ensuring that there is appropriate segregation of duties among Bank personnel and that personnel are not assigned conflicting responsibilities; establishing effective paths of communication throughout the organization in order to ensure that Bank personnel receive necessary and appropriate information; developing and implementing procedures that translate the major business strategies and policies established by the board of directors into operating standards; ensuring adherence to the lines of authority and responsibility established by the Bank's board of directors; overseeing the implementation and maintenance of management information and other systems; establishing and implementing an effective system to track internal control weaknesses and the actions taken to correct them; and monitoring and reporting to the Bank's board of directors the effectiveness of the internal control system on an ongoing basis.

5. Audit Committees—§ 917.5

Section 917.5 of the proposed rule addresses requirements for the establishment of an audit committee by each Bank's board of directors. Current Finance Board requirements for audit committees are contained in Finance Board Res. No. 92-568.1 (July 22, 1992) and Finance Board Advisory Bulletin 96-1 (Feb. 29, 1996).

Resolution No. 92-568.1 contains guidelines intended to be the minimum standards that should be adopted by the Banks for revisions of the respective audit charters. The guidelines require that: audit committee charters include a statement of the audit committee's responsibilities, including a statement of its purpose to assist the full board of directors in fulfillment of its fiduciary responsibilities; the audit committee shall consist of at least three board members and shall include appointed directors and elected directors; that in determining the membership of the audit committee, the board of directors should provide for continuity of service; the audit committee shall meet at least twice annually with the audit director and the audit committee shall meet in executive session with both the audit director and the external auditors at least annually; the audit committee shall oversee the selection, compensation, and performance evaluation of the audit director; written minutes shall be prepared for each meeting and a copy of such minutes forwarded to the Finance Board; and the charters of the audit director and audit committee shall be reviewed and approved at least annually by the audit committee and the board of directors, respectively.

Advisory Bulletin 96-1 communicated examination findings regarding certain Bank practices that may tend to reduce the independence of the internal audit function, specifically the processes by which Bank audit director compensation is determined and performance is evaluated. The Bulletin indicated that examiners would review measures taken by the audit committee to assure the independence from management of the internal audit function, and to fulfill its responsibility to select, set the compensation of, and evaluate the performance of the audit director, and specified that all Bank audit committees should review their current practices and revise these as appropriate.

Proposed § 917.5 codifies into regulation the Finance Board's existing policy on requiring the Banks to have audit committees and adds requirements addressing their independence and their responsibilities for oversight of Bank operations. The proposed requirements for audit committees are based on standard corporate requirements and best practices. In developing the appropriate requirements for Bank audit committees, the Finance Board reviewed the audit committee regulations of other financial institution regulatory agencies and the Report and Recommendations of the Blue Ribbon Committee on Improving the Effectiveness of Corporate Audit Committees (February 8, 1999) (hereinafter Blue Ribbon Committee Report). The Securities and Exchange Commission encouraged the New York Stock Exchange and the National Association of Securities Dealers to form a private sector body to investigate perceived problems in financial reporting. Accordingly, the Blue Ribbon Committee was formed in October 1998 to take an objective look at U.S. corporate financial reporting, specifically assessing the current mechanisms for oversight and accountability among corporate audit committees, independent auditors, and financial and senior management.

Proposed § 917.5(a) would require that each Bank's board of directors establish an audit committee. Proposed § 917.5(b) would require that each Bank's audit committee consist of five or more board directors, each of whom meets the independence criteria discussed below, and include a balance of representatives of large and small members and of appointed and elected directors of the Bank. The requirement in proposed § 917.5(b) that the audit committee comprise five or more persons differs from the recommendation of the Blue Ribbon Committee Report that the audit committee comprise a minimum of three directors. The Finance Board believes it is important that the audit committee include representatives of large and small members and appointed and elected directors of the Bank in order to prevent dominance by one particular individual or group of individuals. A minimum of five members is necessary to ensure that the audit committee will have such diverse representation.

The terms of audit committee members must be appropriately staggered to provide for continuity of service, and to avoid a complete, or substantial, turnover of the membership of the audit committee in any one year. All members of the audit committee would be required to have a working familiarity with basic finance and accounting principles, with at least one member having extensive accounting or financial management expertise. This requirement is intended to ensure that audit committee members have the ability to read and understand the Bank's balance sheet and income statement and to ask substantive questions of internal and external auditors. The Finance Board recognizes that, in some cases, a Bank's board of directors may not include enough members with expertise sufficient for the demands of service on the audit committee, considering the representation requirements. Thus, proposed § 917.5(b)(4) would require that, if such familiarity or expertise is lacking among current board directors, the board of directors shall, in the case of appointed directors, notify the Finance Board or, in the case of elected directors, include in the notice of election required under § 915.6(a) (existing § 932.6(a)), a statement describing the skills or expertise needed.

In addition, proposed § 917.5(c) would require that any board director serving on the audit committee be sufficiently independent of the Bank and its management so as to maintain the ability to make the type of objective judgments that are required of audit committee members. The proposed independence criteria were adapted from the Blue Ribbon Committee Report, which states that "common sense dictates that a director without any financial, family, or other material personal ties to management is more likely to be able to evaluate objectively the propriety of management's accounting, internal control and reporting practices." The Finance Board agrees that the independence of the directors serving on the audit committee is of great importance. Proposed § 917.5(c) describes several examples, which are not intended to include all possible examples, of relationships that would call into question the independence of an audit committee member and that, therefore, would disqualify any director having such a relationship with the Bank or its management from serving on the audit committee. The list is not intended to be exhaustive, because it is impossible to foresee all potential individual circumstances that might compromise the independence of a particular director. Thus, the Finance Board expects that the board of directors will consider all potential relationships when qualifying a director for service on the audit committee.

Proposed § 917.5(d) would require that each Bank's audit committee adopt a formal written charter setting forth the scope of the audit committee's powers and responsibilities and establishing its structure, processes and membership requirements. Both the audit committee itself and the Bank's full board of directors would be required to review the provisions of the audit committee charter annually and to adopt the charter, including amendments, not less often than every three years, as appropriate based on the board's and audit committee's reviews of the policy. Proposed § 917.5(d)(3) would require that the audit committee charter contain the following specific provisions: that the Bank's internal auditor may be removed only with the approval of the audit committee; that the internal auditor shall report directly to the audit committee on substantive matters and to the Bank President on administrative matters; that the audit committee shall be empowered to employ such outside experts as it deems necessary to carry out its functions; and that the internal and external auditors be allowed unrestricted access to the audit committee without any requirement of management knowledge or approval. The proposed requirements pertaining to the audit committee charters were adapted from the recommendations contained in the Blue Ribbon Committee Report and the current Finance Board requirements on audit committees.

Proposed § 917.5(e) sets forth the duties of each Bank's audit committee under the new regulatory structure, including the duties to: ensure that senior management maintains the reliability and integrity of the accounting policies and financial reporting and disclosure practices of the Bank; review the basis for the Bank's financial statements and the external auditor's opinion rendered with respect to such financial statements and ensure disclosure and transparency regarding the Bank's true financial performance and governance practices; oversee the internal audit function; oversee the external audit function; act as an independent, direct channel of communication between the Bank's board of directors and the internal and external auditors; conduct or authorize investigations into any matters within the audit committee's scope of responsibilities; ensure that senior management has established and is maintaining an adequate internal control system; ensure that senior management has established and is maintaining adequate policies and procedures to ensure that the Bank can assess, monitor and control compliance with its mission achievement policy as required in § 917.9(b)(1) of the proposed rule; and report periodically its findings to the Bank's board of directors.

Proposed § 917.5(e)(8) requires that the audit committee conduct not only financial audits but also audit the controls in place to ensure the Bank's compliance with its mission achievement policy. The audit committee is not required to assess the mission performance of the Bank. Review of the mission performance assessment of the Bank is the responsibility of the full board of directors, as more fully discussed in proposed § 917.9(b)(3) below.

An audit of the controls in place to ensure the Bank's compliance with its mission achievement policy is considered one type of a performance audit. In contrast to a financial audit, which is a financial statement or financial related audit, a performance audit is an objective and systematic examination of evidence for the purpose of providing an independent assessment of the performance of an organization, program, activity or function in order to provide information to improve public accountability and facilitate decision making by parties with responsibility to oversee or initiate corrective action. See U.S. General Accounting Office, Government Auditing Standards (GAO Yellow Book). Performance audits include economy and efficiency, program and compliance audits. Economy and efficiency audits evaluate whether the entity is using its resources economically and efficiently, and the causes of inefficiencies and uneconomical practices. Id. at 14. Program audits evaluate the extent to which the desired results as established by the authorized body are being achieved, and the effectiveness of organizations, programs, activities or functions. Id. Compliance audits evaluate whether the entity complied with significant laws and regulations applicable to the organization or program. Id. at 13–14.

The Finance Board requests comments on whether the duties and responsibilities of the audit committee and the internal auditor should be broadened in the proposed rule to include economy and efficiency and program audits, as well as compliance and financial related audits.

Finally, proposed § 917.5(f) would require that each Bank's audit committee prepare written minutes of each audit committee meeting.

6. Budget Preparation and Reporting Requirements—§ 917.6

Proposed § 917.6 is carried over unchanged from existing § 934.7 of the Finance Board's regulations.

7. Dividends—§ 917.7

Proposed § 917.7 retains in large part the provisions of existing § 934.17 of the Finance Board's regulations, with certain proposed amendments as discussed below. The existing dividend regulation provides that the board of directors of each Bank, with the approval of the Finance Board, may declare and pay a dividend from net earnings, including previously retained earnings, on the paid-in value of capital stock held during the dividend period. See 12 CFR 934.17. Proposed § 917.7 would devolve the dividend process to the Banks and allow the payment of dividends without prior Finance Board approval, so long as such payment will not result in a projected impairment of the par value of the capital stock of the Bank. Because, under the regulatory regime proposed in this rulemaking, the earning assets of the Banks will be either core mission activities or assets that have not been acquired through debt issued with the benefit of the Banks' GSE status, the Finance Board's concerns about the proper use of the Banks' GSE funding advantage will have been addressed, and the need for prior Finance Board approval will have been obviated.

Each Bank's board of directors would then be responsible for ensuring that the benefits stemming from membership in the Bank System would be distributed in an equitable manner to all members of that cooperatively-owned Bank. Benefits can be distributed in the form of dividends, but can also be distributed in the form of lower pricing for advances and other Bank products. Lower product pricing, however, gives greater assurance that the Bank System's benefits are passed along to American consumers through increased competition in the housing finance marketplace. The Finance Board expects the Banks, as cooperatively-owned institutions, to pass along a greater proportion of the benefits through lower product pricing (as opposed to higher dividends) than if the Banks were owned by private, third-party shareholders. The Finance Board requests comments on the reasonableness of this expectation or whether it should reconsider the need to have some mechanism to review or control the Banks' dividend decisions.

The current dividend regulation also provides that the Bank's dividend period may be quarterly, semiannual or annual periods ending on March 31, June 30, September 30 or December 31. Proposed § 917.7 would leave the determination of the dividend period to the discretion of the Banks.

Proposed § 917.7 retains without change the provisions in the current dividend regulation that dividends shall be computed without preference and only for the period the stock was outstanding during the dividend period, and that dividends may be paid in cash or in the form of stock. As discussed below under "Capital Stock Redemption Requirements—§ 930.9," the Finance Board recently published an Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (ANPRM) that requested comment on whether the Banks should be prohibited from paying dividends in the form of stock. For the reasons discussed under that section, proposed § 917.7 does not include such a prohibition. Dividend payments by the Banks also have been subject to a Finance Board Dividend Policy, see Finance Board Res. No. 90–38 (Mar. 15, 1990), which, in addition to repeating provisions from the regulation, specifies target dividend rate formulae and requires the Banks to submit dividend recommendations and a certification that the recommendation is in compliance with the Dividend Policy at least 10 days prior to the payment of any dividend. These requirements from the Dividend Policy have not been included in proposed § 917.7. Furthermore, the Finance Board anticipates that, if proposed § 917.7 is adopted as proposed, the Finance Board will rescind the Dividend Policy.

8. Approval of Bank Bylaws—§ 917.8

Proposed § 917.8 is carried over unchanged from existing § 934.16 of the Finance Board's regulations.

9. Mission Achievement—§ 917.9

Proposed § 917.9 sets forth new requirements that each Bank must meet in developing a mission achievement policy and overseeing the Bank's mission achievement. The Act establishes the Finance Board's primary responsibility for ensuring the safety and soundness of the Bank System and consistent with that duty, ensuring that the Banks fulfill their public policy mission. See 12 U.S.C. 1422a(a)(3). As with the risk management function, a Bank's board of directors must take its mission responsibilities seriously and impress the importance of mission achievement upon Bank management and staff. The Banks' boards of directors must be fully engaged so that there is a focus on mission achievement at all levels of the Bank.

Proposed § 917.9(a)(1) would require that each Bank's board of directors adopt and submit to the Finance Board for approval a mission achievement policy within 180 calendar days of the effective date of the rule in final form. This mission achievement policy would be required to detail how the Bank will comply with the core mission activity requirements set forth in proposed part 940 (discussed in more detail below), including contingent business strategies for meeting the core mission activity requirements under different assumptions about future economic and mortgage market conditions. The policy also would be required to outline a process for developing and implementing new mission-related products and services. The board should foster an environment that encourages management to be innovative and committed in developing products that provide assistance to Bank members in the financing of housing and community lending.

As with the risk management policy, proposed § 917.9(a)(2)(i) would require that the Bank's board of directors review the Bank's mission achievement policy on at least an annual basis. Proposed § 917.9(a)(2)(iii) would require a Bank's board of directors to re-adopt a mission achievement policy, including interim amendments, not less often than every three years, as appropriate based on the board's reviews of the policy. Again, as with the similar provision in proposed § 917.3(a)(2), this requirement is intended to ensure that, even given the turnover in board personnel that will occur over a number of years, all or most current members of a Bank's board of directors will be thoroughly familiar with the Bank's mission achievement policy, will have given meaningful consideration to its provisions and will have expressed their opinion regarding the adequacy of the policy through the voting process. Proposed § 917.9(a)(2)(iv) also would make clear that each Bank's board of directors has the ultimate responsibility to ensure that the Bank is in compliance at all times with the mission achievement policy.

Under proposed § 917.9(a), each Bank would be required to submit its initial mission achievement policy to the Finance Board for approval; subsequent versions of the policy adopted thereafter or amendments would not be required to be submitted to, or approved by, the Finance Board. However, as with the risk management policies, Bank mission achievement policies will be reviewed by the Finance Board as part of the ongoing examination process.

Proposed § 917.9(b) would require that each Bank's board of directors: (1) direct the establishment and maintenance, by senior management, of adequate policies and procedures to ensure that the Bank can assess, monitor and control compliance with its mission achievement policy; (2) establish a mechanism to measure and assess the Bank's performance against its mission achievement goals and objectives; and (3) require that performance assessments be conducted at least annually that evaluate the Bank's mission achievement and measure its performance against the Bank's goals and objectives and that such performance assessments be reviewed by the Bank's board of directors.

These provisions are intended to ensure that the board of directors oversees the process of assessing mission achievement, but do not require that this responsibility reside with the audit committee or the internal auditor. It is not necessary that the requirements for the audit committee, which oversees the financial audit of the Bank, be applied to the oversight of mission performance. Thus, proposed § 917.9(b) requires that the board of directors oversee mission performance, but it allows the board to determine how, and by what mechanism, it will carry out this responsibility. However, as previously discussed, the audit committee shall be responsible for ensuring that proper controls exist to ensure that an assessment of mission achievement is carried out. In any event, the mission management assessments should follow the requirements for program audits contained in the GAO Yellow Book.

B. Part 925—Members of the Banks

Existing part 933 of the Finance Board's regulations, "Members of the Banks," has been proposed to be redesignated as new part 925 in the Finance Board's proposed rule to reorganize all of the Finance Board's regulations published separately in this issue of the Federal Register. Part 925 of the proposed reorganization rule retains in large part the provisions of existing part 933. Certain proposed amendments, which consist primarily of cross-references to sections of this proposed financial management and mission achievement regulation, are included in this rulemaking and discussed here.

Specifically, §§ 933.14, 933.22, and 933.24 through 933.28 of the Finance Board's existing membership regulations have been redesignated as §§ 925.14, 925.22, and 925.24 through 925.28 in the proposed reorganization regulation. Each of these sections contains provisions regarding the treatment of outstanding advances and Bank stock in different events: conditional membership approvals of de novo insured depository institution applicants deemed void (§ 925.14); ownership of excess shares of capital stock (§ 925.22); consolidations of members (§ 925.24); consolidations involving nonmembers (§ 925.25); member withdrawals (§ 925.26); removal of members (§ 925.27); and automatic termination of members placed in receivership (§ 925.28). In each of these situations, where applicable, liquidation of outstanding indebtedness owed to the Bank (mainly advances) in which membership has ceased is proposed to be handled in accordance with newly designated § 925.29. The redemption of stock in each circumstance described in these sections is proposed to be conducted pursuant to new § 930.9 (capital stock redemption requirements), proposed in this rulemaking.

C. Part 930—Risk Management and Capital Standards

1. Overview

As discussed previously, the Banks' current capital requirements are determined according to a statutory formula, which uses either the asset size of a member or the amount of its borrowings from a Bank to determine the amount of stock the member must purchase from its Bank. See 12 U.S.C. 1426(b)(1), (b)(2), (b)(4); 1430(c), (e)(1), (e)(3). The Banks' risk management and investment practices are governed by the FMP. This proposal would create a modern risk-based capital system for the Banks. The Banks would be allowed greater flexibility to set their own risk tolerances, subject to the requirement that they hold sufficient capital to support the risks they chose to accept. The proposed rule also would allow for a more efficient and effective use of the Banks' capital than is currently possible.

The risk-based capital requirement, together with other provisions of this capital proposal, would replace the FMP, which the Finance Board currently uses to address the risks inherent in the financial management practices of the Banks. Given the advent of the Basle Accord, the practices of the other bank regulatory agencies, and the Finance Board's proposal for the Banks to become more mission oriented, the Finance Board has determined that the development of risk-based capital standards for the Banks should be an integral part of any comprehensive risk management system for overseeing the Banks. The FMP is a prescriptive risk control system with a series of detailed business and operating guidelines. It is based on policies originally adopted by the FHLBB, the predecessor agency to the Finance Board, and has been revised a number of times over the years. The FMP is a product of its history and reflects a now outmoded approach that emphasizes in considerable detail what is, and what is not, a permissible practice for the Banks. It is composed of a series of lists, which address matters such as allowable and prohibited assets, reserve requirements, funding guidelines, and hedging, credit, and interest rate risk guidelines. Federal banking regulation now focuses more on the adequacy of the audit and control systems, as well as risk management systems and managerial capability. The Finance Board is proposing to adopt a modern approach to overseeing the Banks, which would require the Banks to implement a comprehensive risk management system (including regulatory capital requirements) and would require the Finance Board to verify the integrity of those internal systems.

The bank regulatory authorities in the United States and in other industrialized countries have adopted some form of risk-based capital structure for the financial institutions they oversee. The basis for all of those risk-based capital systems is the Basle Accord, which was adopted in July 1988 and which measures credit risk through a system of risk-weight categories. As a matter of practice, the Basle Accord has been applied to all banks and thrifts in the United States and has become the global benchmark for credit risk capital standards.

The Basle Accord is based principally on a standardized system of risk weights, under which the book value of an on-balance sheet asset is assigned a particular risk weight based on the relative level of credit risk associated with that category of asset. The same method is used with respect to off-balance sheet items, which are converted to "credit equivalent amounts" and assigned to the appropriate risk weight category. The risk weight categories range from zero percent, for items such as cash and Treasury obligations, to 100 percent, which includes claims on private obligors. The Basle Accord credit risk capital regime is based on an 8 percent benchmark, i.e., that an institution must maintain total capital in an amount equal to 8 percent of the book value of any asset that is in the 100 percent risk weight category. Assets in lower risk-weight categories would carry a correspondingly lower capital requirement, such that an asset in the 50 percent category would require capital equal to 4 percent of its book value and an asset in the zero percent risk weight category would require no capital for credit risk. Because the Basle Accord made no explicit provision for market risk in the risk weight categorizations, the required capital percentage serves as protection against both credit and market risk.

The Finance Board, and other commentators, believe that the Basle Accord has a number of shortcomings. For example, for instruments within the same risk weight category, the Basle Accord does not distinguish between those instruments with different credit quality (i.e., those with different credit ratings), which would, in fact, have markedly different credit risks. The Basle Accord also does not take into consideration how differences in the maturities of two instruments would affect their relative credit risk, nor does it distinguish between immediate exposure and possible future credit exposures, or between the credit risks associated with a diversified portfolio compared to those associated with a concentrated portfolio.

Under the 1996 amendment to the Basle Accord (the Amendment), debt instruments held in the trading portfolios of large banks are exempt from the risk-based capital requirements of the Basle Accord. The Amendment remedies some of the shortcomings of the 1988 Basle Accord discussed above and offers two alternatives for calculating the credit risk capital requirements for debt instruments held in the trading portfolios of large banks. These alternatives are based on publicly available credit ratings, or credit ratings that are internally generated by large banks. The first alternative for large banks is to use internal credit risk models to calculate value at risk due to credit risk on debt instruments held in trading portfolio. A second alternative for large banks lacking satisfactory internal models is to use standardized credit risk capital percentage requirements specified in the Amendment. These percentage requirements are significantly lower than the risk-based capital requirements for the non-trading portfolio (banking book) and are related to the maturities of the investment grade instruments. The smaller percentage requirements mainly reflect the fact that holding periods, commonly referred to as default horizons, for debt instruments held in trading portfolios are generally shorter than the holding periods for the banking book.

Principally to address some shortcomings of the Basle Accord with respect to the banking book, the BCBS recently published the Framework, which proposes a system to better correlate regulatory solvency to the economic-capital needs of a bank, as well as with the risks and returns of their lending activities.⁴ The Framework would base risk-based capital requirements more closely on the underlying credit risks, and would recognize the improvements in risk measurement and control that have occurred in recent years. The Framework would allow for the use of internal credit ratings and credit risk models to better assess a bank's capital requirement in relation to its risk profile. The BCBS also issued a separate paper on internal credit risk modeling, and invited comments on the issue of using a portfolio-based approach to calculating an overall capital requirement.⁵ Portfolio credit risk modeling is a long-term project for the BCBS; ultimately, it is anticipated that sophisticated banking institutions would employ a comprehensive portfolio risk modeling approach, under which regulatory capital requirements would be based entirely on internal models. This proposed regulation addresses many of the concerns raised in the recent BCBS papers, by closely tying regulatory capital requirements to each Bank's level of credit risk.

As discussed above, the drive to incorporate a measure of general market risk into the Basle Accord has been spearheaded by the BCBS. The Basle Accord addressed credit risk but did not include a requirement for market risk. However, as depository institutions' involvement in both on- and off-balance sheet instruments containing structured and exotic features as well as complex options grew, the BCBS became concerned with the market risk aspect of the risk-based capital standards. This led to the Amendment which, in addition to credit risk, addressed market risk from interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity prices and commodity prices within the trading book and foreign exchange and commodity risks in the banking book. The Amendment is limited in that it essentially applies to large commercial banks; banking book interest rate risk is still not addressed. However, the BCBS has published a separate proposal providing guidance for the management of overall interest rate risk in a banking organization, including interest rate risk within the banking book.⁶ In the recently published Framework, the BCBS has proposed to develop a specific capital requirement for interest rate risk in the banking book for banks where interest rates risks are significantly above average. The bank regulatory authorities in the United States and in other industrialized countries have adopted the Amendment to incorporate general market risk into the risk-based capital standards.

2. Requirements for Bank System and Individual Bank Credit Ratings—§ 930.2

Proposed § 930.2 addresses credit ratings for Bank System COs and for the overall capacity of individual Banks to meet their obligations. Section 930.2(a)(1) would require that the Banks, collectively, obtain from a NRSRO, and at all times maintain, a current credit rating on the Banks' COs. Under § 930.1 of the proposed rule, an NRSRO would be defined to include those credit rating organizations recognized as NRSROs by the SEC. To date, the SEC regards five credit rating organizations as NRSROs: Standard & Poor's; Moody's; Fitch IBCA; Duff & Phelps; and (for certain financial institutions) Thompson BankWatch, Inc. See 62 FR 68018-24 (Dec. 30, 1997).

The Banks' COs currently are rated by both Moody's and Standard & Poor's and have received the highest credit rating from both NRSROs, based upon the conservative management policies and consistent profitability of the Banks, both as a group and individually, and the status of the Banks as GSEs. Proposed § 930.2(a)(2) would require that each Bank operate in such a manner and take any actions necessary to ensure that the Banks' COs receive and continue to receive the highest credit rating from any NRSRO by which the COs have been then rated (e.g., triple-A).

⁶ See BCBS, Principles for the Management of Interest Rate Risk (Jan. 1997).

Regardless of whether any actual downgrade were to occur, a Bank still would be considered to be in violation of proposed § 930.2(a)(2) if that Bank were to take any action, or were to create a situation through a failure to act, that potentially could lead any NRSRO to downgrade the rating for COs to a level below that NRSRO's highest investment grade.

In addition to the requirements pertaining to the rating of the Banks' COs, § 930.2(b) of the proposed rule would require each Bank, individually, to operate in such a manner and take any actions necessary to ensure that the Bank has and maintains an individual issuer credit rating of not lower than the second highest credit rating from any NRSRO by which the Bank is rated (e.g. double-A), where the NRSRO states that the rating is a meaningful measure of the Bank's financial strength and stability apart from the GSE status of the Bank System. The latter requirement is intended to ensure that the Banks' boards of directors and senior management focus upon the business practices necessary to maintain not lower than the second highest credit rating on an individual basis without regard to the GSE status of the Bank System.

Proposed § 930.2(c) would require each Bank to obtain an individual issuer credit rating from an NRSRO within one year of the effective date of new part 930. In addition, under proposed § 930.2(b)(3), each Bank would be required to update its individual issuer credit rating on an annual basis, or more frequently, as required by the Finance Board. Eleven of the Banks already have obtained an individual credit rating from at least one NRSRO and all eleven have received the highest long-term credit rating from the NRSROs by which they have been rated.

In order to facilitate the Banks' fulfillment of the core mission activities requirements set forth in part 940 of the proposed rule, discussed below, the proposed rule would authorize the Banks to make a wider range of investments, and to offer their members and eligible nonmember borrowers a wider range of products and services, than is currently authorized in the absence of specific prior Finance Board approval. The risk-based capital requirements set forth in proposed part 930, also discussed below, are intended to require the Banks to manage effectively the increased risks that could accompany the broadened investment and programmatic authority that the Banks would enjoy under the proposed rule. As provided for under proposed § 930.2, it is of vital importance that the Banks' COs continue to receive the highest possible credit rating so as to ensure that the Banks remain able to access to the capital markets at the lowest possible cost of funds and, consequently, to fund activities that safely and soundly further the Banks' housing finance and community lending mission.

At the same time, the Finance Board finds it appropriate to permit the Banks to maintain individual issuer credit ratings of at least the second highest credit rating given by any NRSRO from which a rating has been received, rather than continuing to require the highest credit rating, as individual Banks are required to maintain under the FMP. In meetings with Finance Board staff, representatives of both Moody's and Standard & Poor's indicated that the Bank's COs could continue to receive the highest credit rating, even if all of the Banks were to receive only the second highest issuer credit rating on an individual basis. Both NRSROs confirmed to Finance Board staff that the GSE status of the Banks plays a key role in the rating of the Banks' COs. While both NRSROs indicated that any significant changes to the Banks' management policies and profitability potentially could adversely affect the credit rating of the COs, both also stated that the proposed new regulatory structure does not give rise to any serious concern that the COs will not continue to receive the highest credit rating from both organizations.

3. Minimum Total Capital Requirement—§ 930.3

a. Background. Capital serves as a barrier against insolvency. Its purpose is to absorb the risks inherent in business endeavors, and to provide market discipline to limit risk-taking by management. To be effective, capital must be available to offset losses if economic conditions are unfavorable.

The capital requirements in the proposed rule represent a change in philosophy from the FMP. Rather than prohibiting certain types of investments, and establishing limits on Bank behavior towards risk such as duration of equity limits, the proposed rule would allow the Banks wide latitude to engage in mission-related activities, so long as they hold sufficient capital to cover the risks entailed by such activities.

The rule proposes two capital-based standards for the Banks. The first standard is a requirement that total outstanding Bank capital stock must equal at least 3.0 percent of the Bank's total assets. The second standard is a requirement generally that the Banks must hold the most permanent forms of capital, referred to as risk-based capital, against the risks measured in the Bank's portfolio. The risk-based capital requirement is discussed further below under § 930.4.

b. Minimum total capital requirement. Section 930.3(a) of the proposed rule provides that each Bank shall have and maintain at all times total capital in an amount equal to at least 3.0 percent of the Bank's total assets. Total capital is defined in proposed § 930.1 as the sum of a Bank's retained earnings and total capital stock outstanding, less the Bank's unrealized net losses on available-for-sale securities. The minimum total capital requirement serves to limit the size of a Bank's balance sheet for a given quantity of capital.

As discussed above in the Overview of Proposal section, the Act sets forth minimum capital requirements for the Banks. See 12 U.S.C. 1426(b)(1), (b)(2), (b)(4); 1430(c), (e)(1), (e)(3); 12 CFR 933.20(a). Among these provisions is a requirement that members hold stock equal to at least 5 percent of their advances. Currently, the FMP limits the holding of mortgage-backed securities by the Banks to three times capital. Taken together, these two provisions limit advances plus mortgage-backed securities to no more than 23 times capital, as advances can be no more than 20 times capital, and mortgage-backed securities can be no more than 3 times capital. Thus the ratio of capital to advances plus mortgage-backed securities must be at least one twenty-third, or 4.35 percent.⁷

The numerically operative and, therefore, more important constraint contained in current regulations is a leverage limit, such that the ratio of COs plus unsecured senior liabilities for a Bank can be no more than 20 times capital. See FMP section IV.C. Because assets equal capital plus COs plus unsecured senior liabilities, a Bank's assets cannot exceed 21 times its capital or, inversely, capital must be at least 4.76 percent of assets. The Bank System had an average capital-to-assets ratio of 5.4 percent during 1998.

The proposed 3.0 percent minimum total capital requirement for the Banks would be more conservative than the 2.5 percent minimum total capital requirement imposed by statute on the on-balance sheet assets of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac.⁸ Also, the proposed minimum total capital requirement of 3.0 percent for the Banks is consistent with the minimum total capital requirements imposed by other financial institution regulators for the strongest financial institutions without supervisory concerns.

⁷ To the extent that a Bank chooses to accumulate retained earnings, its assets may be limited to something less than 23 times capital. This is because the capital held to support advances can, by statute, only be in the form of capital stock, while the capital held to support mortgage-backed securities (MBS) holdings can be either capital stock or retained earnings. Retained earnings are a small percentage of total capital for the Banks.

Section 930.3(b) of the proposed rule provides that, for reasons of safety and soundness, the Finance Board may require an individual Bank to have and maintain a higher minimum capital ratio than 3.0 percent.

4. Minimum Total Risk-Based Capital Requirement—§ 930.4

a. General requirement. Section 930.4(a) of the proposed rule provides that each Bank shall have and maintain at all times total risk-based capital in an amount at least equal to the sum of its credit risk capital requirement, its market risk capital requirement, and its operations risk capital requirement, calculated in accordance with §§ 930.5, 930.6 and 930.7, respectively. As discussed above under the Overview of Proposal section, the proposed rule would implement, for the first time, a risk-based capital requirement for the Banks related to the risks inherent in the Banks' portfolios and business practices. The three separate capital components are discussed further below under their respective sections.

b. Definition of Total Risk-Based Capital. In order to serve as the primary barrier against insolvency, risk-based capital must be permanent in nature, i.e., available to cover losses which may occur under adverse conditions without being subject to redemption by members. Proposed § 930.1 contains a definition of total risk-based capital for a Bank, the elements of which are discussed below.

The first element of total risk-based capital under the definition in proposed § 930.1 is retained earnings, less unrealized net losses on available-for-sale securities. Retained earnings clearly are permanent in nature because they are not subject to withdrawal at the request of individual member shareholders.

The second element of total risk-based capital under the definition in proposed § 930.1 is any outstanding non-redeemable capital stock of the Bank. The Finance Board has authority under the Act to allow the Banks to create additional classes of stock if the Banks wish to include such other classes of stock as a part of their capital structure. Any non-redeemable outstanding capital stock that a Bank may be authorized to issue would be permanent by its non-redeemable nature.

The third element of total risk-based capital under the definition in proposed § 930.1 is all outstanding capital stock satisfying the minimum capital stock purchase requirement for membership under sections 6(b)(1) and 10(e)(3) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1426(b)(1), 1430(e)(3)) for all mandatory members. Outstanding capital stock of mandatory members has permanent features, because a mandatory member may have its stock redeemed only if it changes its charter to a form that would make the member a voluntary member and withdraws from membership in the Bank System. Charter conversions generally are not effected by a member solely for the purpose of withdrawing from Bank membership and redeeming Bank stock. A charter conversion would have a serious impact on all aspects of an institution's business operations, and would require a significant amount of time and cost to complete. Mandatory members that convert to voluntary status also may be discouraged from withdrawing from the Bank System because the Act prohibits withdrawing members from rejoining the Bank System for ten years. See 12 U.S.C. 1426(h).

The fourth element of total risk-based capital under the definition in proposed § 930.1 is a percentage of the minimum capital stock purchase requirement for membership under sections 6(b)(1) and 10(e)(3) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1426(b)(1), 1430(e)(3)) for all voluntary members. Each Bank may designate a percentage, not to exceed 50 percent, of the minimum capital stock of voluntary members as risk-based capital. The required capital stock of voluntary members is less permanent than the required capital stock of mandatory members, but is more permanent than stock which supports member borrowing. Although the ten-year prohibition on rejoining the Bank System after withdrawing may discourage voluntary members from withdrawing from the Bank System and redeeming their capital, they may, if they decide to withdraw, have their capital stock redeemed at par, provided that the Finance Board finds no impairment or likely impairment of the Bank's capital. See 12 U.S.C. 1426(e). This capital stock, therefore, has more limited use as a loss absorber than the other forms of capital stock discussed above. However, a Bank may need more than its retained earnings and outstanding minimum capital stock of mandatory members in order to meet its risk-based capital requirement. Therefore, a percentage not to exceed 50 percent of minimum required voluntary member stock may serve as an element of total risk-based capital only if the Bank is willing to subject its redemption to Finance Board approval.

The fifth and final element of total risk-based capital under the definition in proposed § 930.1 is a percentage of the remaining capital stock of mandatory and voluntary members. Each Bank may designate a percentage, not to exceed 50 percent, of the remaining capital stock of mandatory and voluntary members as risk-based capital only if the Bank is willing to subject its redemption to Finance Board approval. The Act provides that a Bank has discretion, unless prohibited by the Finance Board, to determine whether to redeem a mandatory or voluntary member's capital stock that exceeds its statutory minimum capital stock purchase requirement. See 12 U.S.C. 1426(b)(1). Because a Bank can decline to redeem excess capital stock of members, such stock can serve as a permanent capital loss absorber.

The proposed definition allows each Bank to designate different percentages of stock as elements of total risk-based capital under the fourth and fifth elements of the definition (that is, up to 50 percent of the membership stock of voluntary members, and up to 50 percent of all remaining outstanding capital stock of mandatory and voluntary members). Therefore, some Banks may choose to designate a larger percentage of the minimum capital stock of voluntary members as risk-based capital stock, as this stock has a greater degree of permanence. This would allow a smaller percentage of capital stock which supports advance borrowing to be designated as an element of total risk-based capital, so that the use of advances by members would not be discouraged.

c. Transition provisions. The transition provisions in the proposed rule ensure that the Banks will continue to operate in a safe and sound manner, under proven standards, until such time as they have demonstrated the capacity to operate under the more flexible proposed regulation. Specifically, each Bank must demonstrate to the Finance Board that it has risk management policies and internal controls in place which are sufficient to manage its credit, market, and operations risk. Each ⁸ A leverage requirement is imposed on Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac such that their capital must be at least 2.5 percent of their on-balance sheet assets. 12 U.S.C. 4612(a). Generally, they must also hold capital equal to at least .45 percent of their off-balance sheet obligations. Unlike the Banks, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have substantial volumes of guarantees and other off-balance sheet items.

Bank must also have an internal market risk model approved by the Finance Board. Finally, each Bank must have sufficient capital to meet the capital requirements in the proposed rule. Until these conditions are met by a Bank, the current rules as contained in the FMP will apply. See proposed §§ 930.4(b)(1) and 930.4(b)(2).

5. Credit Risk Capital Requirement—§ 930.5

a. Background. Unlike commercial banks and savings associations, the Banks currently are not subject to statutory or regulatory risk-based capital requirements. As discussed previously, the Banks' capital requirements are determined according to a statutory formula, which uses either the asset size of a member or the amount of its borrowings from a Bank to determine the amount of stock the member must purchase from its Bank. The risk-based capital requirement for the Banks established in this proposal would include as one component a separate capital requirement to address the credit risk to which a Bank is exposed. The credit risk component of the capital requirement would encompass the credit risks associated with both on-balance sheet assets and off-balance sheet items of each Bank.

The objective of the Finance Board in proposing this credit risk capital standard for Banks is to provide a regulatory framework that would: (i) assess capital charges based on the extent of the underlying credit exposure; (ii) address on-and off-balance sheet exposures consistently; (iii) allow for changes to the portfolios of the Banks, as well as in the markets; and (iv) reflect improvements in risk measurement and control systems, as they develop and become available for use by the Banks. To the extent the proposed rule achieves these objectives, it would improve upon the Basle Accord.

b. Finance Board determination of specific credit risk percentage requirements. Proposed § 930.5(b) provides that for an on-balance sheet asset, the credit risk capital requirement would be equal to the book value of the asset multiplied by the "credit risk percentage requirement" to which the asset is assigned. Proposed § 930.5(c) provides that for off-balance sheet items, the credit risk capital requirement would be the "credit equivalent amount" of the item, multiplied by the specific credit risk percentage requirement to which the item is assigned.

Proposed § 930.5(d) provides that the Finance Board shall determine initially, and update periodically, credit risk percentage requirements for various categories of credit risk for on-balance sheet assets and off-balance sheet items, using data from NRSROs and any other relevant sources to calculate estimates of credit losses associated with the particular categories. The estimates of credit risk are required to represent the credit losses that could be expected to occur on the particular categories of instruments during periods of extreme credit stress, based on historical data that reflect the longer-term nature of credit cycles and span multiple credit cycles. The periodic updates to initial credit risk percentage requirements will be implemented by the Finance Board as amendments to § 930.5(d)(3).

The proposal includes, in Table 1 of proposed § 930.5(d)(3), the percentages to be applied to the book value of on-balance sheet assets, or the credit equivalent amounts of off-balance sheet items, in determining a Bank's credit risk capital requirement. Cash and government securities are assigned to the zero percent category, meaning that they are deemed not to present any credit risk to the Bank. The proposal assigns increasing percentages (0.3, 0.6, 1.0, and 1.3) to each of the four levels of investment grade ratings assigned by an NRSRO (i.e., triple-A, double-A, single-A, triple-B), and treats credit risk from advances as equivalent to credit risk associated with the highest category of investment grade credit ratings. The proposal also includes a credit risk percentage for a Bank's tangible assets, "Premises, Plant and Equipment," to be set at 8.0 percent, which is consistent with the Basle Accord. Investments that are downgraded below investment grade after being acquired by a Bank would be assigned higher credit risk percentages: 12.0 percent for assets with the highest rating below investment grade; 50.0 percent for assets with the second highest rating below investment grade; and 100 percent for all other assets downgraded below investment grade.

In assigning only cash and direct obligations of the U.S. government to the zero credit risk category, the proposal is more restrictive than the Basle Accord, which assesses zero credit risk capital for all Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) government obligations, although proposed revisions to the Basle Accord would treat all triple-A and double-A rated sovereign obligations as free of credit risk. The proposal would treat Bank advances as a triple-A rated credit exposure. The assignment of advances to a triple-A credit risk category is based on factors such as the historical credit loss record for Bank advances (no credit losses have been incurred on the advance portfolio), the conservative lending and collateral management policies of each Bank (all classes of collateral are discounted based on risk), the blanket lien arrangements that some Banks employ with certain members over all of the assets of that member, the statutory priority lien, which gives the Banks priority over other secured creditors (so long as those secured interests are not perfected, see 12 U.S.C. 1430(e)), and a statutory stock purchase requirement that requires a member to maintain an investment in the Bank at least equal to 5 percent of its outstanding advances. See id.

The Finance Board considered treating advances as cash or direct obligations of the U.S. government and assigning a zero credit risk capital requirement. However, two credit rating agencies expressed their opinion that such treatment is not appropriate for advances—i.e., that advances should not be treated as equivalent to credit risk free investments. The two rating agencies expressed their preference for advances being treated as triple-A rated assets. Based on the historical (over 60 years) experience of zero credit losses for advances versus rating downgrades leading to eventual credit losses on triple-A rated corporate securities, an argument can be made that advances are a better credit than triple-A rated assets. As a result, advances may be treated as assets that pose credit risk somewhere between U.S. government securities and triple-A rated corporate securities. At this time, the Finance Board is proposing to treat advances as triple-A rated assets and is requesting comments from interested parties as to whether a satisfactory analytical framework exists that can be used to determine a more appropriate capital charge for the credit risk of advances.

Based on data obtained from Moody's, the worst default frequency over a two-year horizon for triple-A rated corporate debt is 0.0. In fact, a triple-A rated security has never defaulted at the time it was still rated triple-A. Given a sufficiently long period of time, however, even triple-A rated corporate credits will default following rating downgrades.⁹ In fact, some triple-A rated credits have been downgraded within a year after receiving the triple-A rating. In addition, the market credit spreads for triple-A rated securities can widen without any change in credit ratings.¹⁰ Credit deterioration and spread widening can lead to losses in market value for triple-A rated securities within a relatively short time after such securities are assigned a triple-A rating. Because such risks exist and the holding periods associated with long-term held-to-maturity securities are relatively long, the proposal adopts a conservative approach and requires 0.3 percent capital to be maintained for triple-A rated credit exposures. This number is a linear interpolation of the estimated credit losses for U.S. government securities and double-A rated debt. Moreover, this requirement is consistent with the results from an internal models-based estimate for credit risk capital for triple-A rated corporate bonds held in a diversified trading portfolio of a large commercial bank, which is 0.26 percent.¹¹

Credit risk capital requirements for double-A, single-A, triple-B and double-B rated credit exposures in the proposal are generally equal to the worst default rate observed over two-years by Moody's in data collected from 1970–1998. To preserve consistency between credit ratings and capital requirements, the proposed requirement for a single-A rated credit exposure is set equal to the average of the capital requirements for double-A and triple-B rated instruments.¹² Also, a conservative zero recovery rate in default has been assumed for purposes of calculating the credit risk capital requirements. Defaulted bond price data from Moody's provides support for the zero recovery rate assumption under extreme credit stress conditions.¹³

¹² This is because over a 2 year horizon, the worst single-A rated default rate is lower than the corresponding double-A rated default rate.

Under proposed § 955.3(a)(3), the Banks would not be authorized to invest in debt instruments rated below investment grade. If an investment were to be downgraded after acquisition by a Bank to the second highest rating below investment grade (single-B rating), the proposal would assign it to the 50 percent credit risk percentage, which the Finance Board believes to be a conservative level for such an exposure. Any credit exposures rated at triple-C or below would be placed in the 100 percent credit risk capital category.

Under proposed §§ 940.3(e) and 955.2(e), a Bank may make equity investments in the stock of a SBIC, in government-aided economic development entities, and in certain entities that are permissible investments for national banks, that are not rated but are defined in this proposal as core mission activities of the Banks. The proposal would assign investments in these types of entities to the 8.0 percent credit risk percentage category. This requirement is based upon, and is consistent with, the risk-based capital requirements for investments in such entities by national banks established by the OCC. For SBICs, the 8 percent requirement is likely conservative given changes to the SBIC program implemented in 1994. In addition, consistent with the public purpose of GSEs, the Finance Board wants to encourage the Banks to give every consideration to investments that will provide targeted assistance to people in underserved low and moderate-income communities.

CREDIT RISK CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS
FOR BANKS

Credit risk category	Percent of on-balance sheet equivalent value
Authorized Investments
Cash and U.S. Government Securities	0.0
Advances	0.3
Highest Investment Grade—triple-A	0.3
Second Highest Investment Grade—double-A	0.6
Third Highest Investment Grade—single-A	1.0
Fourth Highest Investment Grade—triple-B	1.3
Premises, Plant, and Equipment	8.0
Core Mission Equity Investments Under § 940.3(e)	8.0

Credit risk category	Percent of on-balance sheet equivalent value
Investments Downgraded to Below Investment Grade After Acquisition by a Bank
Highest Below Investment Grade—double-B	12.0
Second Highest Below Investment Grade—single-B	50.0
All Other Below Investment Grade—At or Below triple-C	100.0

The Finance Board expects that the above capital requirements may change as comments on proposed § 930.5(d)(3) are received and further research is undertaken before a final rule is published. Even after a final rule is adopted, the Finance Board anticipates that it will periodically amend the capital requirements reflected in the chart above as additional data is available and new methodologies become feasible.

One of the limitations of the Basle Accord was its failure to consider the term structure of credit risk, such that an overnight exposure would receive the same capital charge as a 2 or a 10 year exposure. However, under the Amendment, the term structure of credit risk can be fully recognized for trading portfolios of large banks with satisfactory internal models and is partially recognized for others through a standardized table. In addition, the recently proposed Framework addresses this limitation in the Basle Accord by according limited recognition to the term structure of credit risk. The Farm Credit Administration similarly accords limited recognition to the term structure of credit risk in their risk-based capital requirements for the farm credit banks. In proposed § 930.5(d)(3), there is no such recognition given to the term structure of credit risk. However, the Finance Board realizes that a significant proportion of the Banks' assets have maturities within 1 month and, therefore, intends to undertake further research on incorporating term structure of credit risk into § 930.5(d)(3). At this time, the Finance Board requests comments on the treatment of term structure of credit risk.

c. Bank determination of specific credit risk percentage requirements. Section 930.5(d)(4)(i) of the proposed rule would require each Bank to determine the credit risk capital requirement for each asset and item first by determining its type and its credit rating (if any), then by determining its appropriate risk category and applying the applicable credit risk percentage for that risk category under Table 1. The proposal includes guidance for the Banks on how to determine the credit rating for a particular asset or item. If an asset or item is directly rated by an NRSRO, the Banks must use that rating. If an asset or item is not rated directly by an NRSRO, but its issuer or guarantor is so rated or the asset or item is backed by collateral that is so rated, then a Bank may use the highest rating given to the issuer, guarantor, or collateral, to the extent that the issuer, guarantor, or collateral supports the asset or item held by the Bank. If the asset or item is not fully backed by a rated issuer, guarantor, or collateral, then only the portion to which such rated support applies may receive the highest rating noted above; the portion of the asset or item that is not so supported must be assigned to the category that would be appropriate for such an asset on a stand alone basis. For example, if up to 25 percent of a triple-B asset is guaranteed by a triple-A-rated entity, then 25 percent of the value of the asset may be assigned to the highest investment grade category with a capital requirement of 0.3 percent and the remaining 75 percent of the value of the asset will be assigned to the fourth highest investment grade category with a capital requirement of 1.3 percent.

The proposal further provides that the Banks shall disregard modifiers attached to a particular credit rating. Thus, an asset with an A+ rating and an asset with an A- rating would both be placed in the A category for risk-based capital purposes. NRSROs generally assign rating modifiers such as "1", "2" and "3" or "+" and "-" along with letter grades. Such modifiers are provided to further distinguish among credit risks that are assigned identical letter grades. Consequently, historical samples containing default activity for each modified letter grade are smaller than what they would be if modifiers were ignored. The smaller sample size makes it difficult to calculate credit risk capital requirements corresponding to modified ratings with some degree of statistical precision and confidence. Therefore, the Finance Board is proposing to disregard rating modifiers. This is consistent with the treatment specified for investment grade credit exposures under the Amendment and the Framework.

The proposal also provides that where a particular asset or item has been rated multiple times by the same NRSRO, the Bank must use the most recent rating from that NRSRO, and that if an asset or item has received ratings from multiple NRSROs, the Bank must use the lowest of those ratings. If an asset is not rated by an NRSRO and does not fall within one of the categories in Table 1, the proposal would require a Bank to determine its own credit rating for the asset or item or relevant portion thereof using credit rating standards available from an NRSRO or other similar standards.

As a general matter, collateral may be used to enhance the creditworthiness of a particular asset or item, which can result in a lower credit risk capital requirement for a Bank. The BCBS has recognized that the Basle Accord did not provide sufficient incentive for banks to reduce their credit risk by taking an interest in other collateral, and recently has proposed to extend the scope of collateral recognition to all financial assets—not just marketable securities. The Finance Board proposal would allow a Bank to look through to the collateral supporting a given asset or instrument for risk-based capital purposes if certain conditions are met. In order to recognize such collateral for capital purposes, the collateral must be held by the Bank (which could include being held by a third party custodian or by the member), must be legally available to absorb losses (i.e., the Bank must have a legal right to liquidate the collateral), must have a readily determinable value at which it can be liquidated, and must be held in conformance with the Bank's collateral management policy. This would include arrangements under which a third-party custodian holds collateral from a Bank's counterparty and may not return the collateral to the counterparty without the express permission of the Bank. In using collateral to reduce the credit risk capital requirement, a bank must make appropriate allowance for haircuts or overcollateralization reflecting the market risk underlying the collateral.

With respect to third-party guarantees, the proposal would recognize all third-party guarantees provided by any counterparty with an investment grade rating. This is consistent with that aspect of the proposal that would limit investments by the Banks to those with an investment grade rating. See proposed § 955.3(a)(3).

The proposed rule would allow on-balance sheet assets (underlying assets) that are hedged with credit derivatives to be assigned to the zero risk category under three scenarios specified in the rule. Even if the credit risk capital requirement for the underlying asset is decreased through the use of a credit derivative, the applicable credit risk capital required for the derivative contract still would apply.

Within an internal credit risk model in which credit risks are marked-to-market, recognition of offsets, or credit hedges, whether perfect or imperfect, can be readily accommodated. Large commercial banks have accomplished this as part of their credit risk, value at risk models for trading portfolios. Under the proposed rule, some of the offsets will be recognized. If the offset is perfect (i.e., the two positions are of identical remaining maturity and relate to exactly the same instrument) it is straightforward to reduce the credit risk capital requirement for the underlying asset to zero (i.e., to grant full capital relief). For example, if a Bank purchases a triple-B rated corporate bond with a maturity of 5 years and at the same time enters into a 5-year credit default option contract based on the same bond (reference asset), the credit risk capital requirement for the underlying asset will be zero. The net credit risk capital requirement for the pair will equal the counterparty risk capital for credit exposure on the derivative contract.

If the underlying asset and the referenced asset of a credit derivative are identical, but the remaining maturities are different, the capital relief in the proposed rule would depend on a maturity comparison between the two. If the same triple-B rated 5-year corporate bond was hedged with a credit derivative with a remaining maturity of 2-years or longer, there would be no credit risk on the underlying asset within the Finance Board's proposed default horizon, which is 2 years. Therefore, such a hedge would be fully recognized and the capital requirement on the underlying asset would be zero. However, if the derivative maturity were less than 2 years, no capital relief would be granted under the proposal. In all cases, there will be a counterparty risk capital requirement for credit exposure on the derivative contract. This issue will continue to be researched by the Finance Board during the comment period.

If the remaining maturities of the underlying asset and a credit derivative are the same, but the underlying asset is different from the asset referenced in the credit derivative, capital relief for the underlying asset may or may not be granted. It is proposed that the capital requirement on the underlying asset be reduced to zero only if the referenced and the underlying assets have been issued by the same obligor, the referenced asset ranks pari passu to or more junior than the underlying asset, and cross-default clauses are in effect.

If the remaining maturities of the two assets are identical but the underlying asset and the referenced asset have been issued by different obligors, the proposed rule does not provide any capital relief for the underlying asset. For example, a Bank may invest in a triple-B rated bond issued by corporate entity X, but hedge the credit risk with a derivative based on triple-B rated bond issued by corporate entity Y, and where X and Y belong to the same industry. The Finance Board recognizes that such a hedge may provide significant credit protection to the Bank as there may be a high degree of default correlation between X and Y, and that capital relief for such hedges can be accommodated under an internal portfolio credit risk model. Thus, the Finance Board requests comments on whether to allow affected Banks to petition the Finance Board for capital relief on a case by case basis, provided the petition is accompanied by adequate data and analysis.

d. Credit risk percentage requirements for off-balance sheet items. Off-balance sheet items may expose a Bank to credit risks similar to those associated with on-balance sheet assets. The Finance Board is proposing to apply the credit risk capital framework consistently to all on- and off-balance sheet instruments. Under proposed §§ 930.5 (e) and (f), the Banks are required to convert all off-balance sheet credit exposures into equivalent on-balance-sheet credit exposures (credit equivalent amounts) and then apply the ratings-based framework in Table 1 to estimate the credit risk capital requirement. The Finance Board would allow the Banks to use Finance Board approved internal models to convert some or all off-balance sheet credit exposures into equivalent on-balance-sheet credit exposures. For Banks that lack appropriate internal models, the Finance Board is proposing to adopt the Basle Accord treatment for such instruments as used by the other federal bank regulatory agencies to convert an off-balance sheet credit exposure into an equivalent on-balance-sheet exposure.

Under the Basle Accord as incorporated by the federal bank regulatory agencies, off-balance sheet instruments, other than derivative contracts, that are substitutes for loans (e.g., standby letters of credit serving as financial guarantees for loans and securities) have the same credit risk as an on-balance sheet direct loan. For some off-balance sheet instruments, the full face value, or notional amount, is not exposed to credit risk. This means that a dollar of off-balance sheet exposure may be equivalent to less than a dollar of on-balance sheet exposure. The following table (Table 2 in proposed § 930.5(e)), which includes the same categories as are used by the federal bank regulatory agencies and those proposed under the Framework, presents credit exposure conversion factors that are to be multiplied by the face amount of an off-balance sheet instrument other than a derivative contract.

CREDIT CONVERSION FACTORS FOR OFF-BALANCE SHEET ITEMS OTHER THAN DERIVATIVE CONTRACTS

Instrument	Credit conversion factor (in percent)
Standby letters of credit	100
Asset sales with recourse, where credit risk remains with the Bank
Sale and repurchase agreements
Forward asset purchases
Commitments to make advances or other loans with certain drawdown ¹
Other commitments with original maturity of over one year	50
Other commitments with original maturity of one year or less	20

¹ I.e., where it is known during the pendency of the commitment that the advance or loan funds definitely will be drawn in full.

The credit conversion factor would be zero for Other Commitments that are unconditionally cancelable, or that effectively provide for automatic cancellation, due to deterioration in a borrower's creditworthiness, at any time by the Bank without prior notice. The Finance Board would allow the Banks to use Finance Board approved internal models to calculate credit conversion factors instead of those specified in Table 2. These factors were developed by the BCBS and adopted by other federal bank regulatory agencies. Under the Basle Accord, a 100 percent conversion factor is assigned to an off-balance sheet instrument where the instrument is a direct credit substitute and the credit risk is equivalent to that of an on-balance sheet exposure to the same counterparty. A 50 percent conversion factor is assigned to an off-balance sheet instrument where there is a significant credit risk but mitigating circumstances exist which suggest less than full credit risk. A 20 percent conversion factor is assigned to an off-balance sheet instrument where there is a small credit risk but not one which can be ignored. The Finance Board intends to undertake further research on the magnitude and appropriateness of the credit conversion factors set forth in proposed § 930.5(e) and may revise them before a final rule is published.

e. Credit risk percentage requirements for derivative contracts. Proposed § 930.5(f) provides that for market driven instruments (over-the-counter derivative contracts such as swaps, forwards, options, etc.) subject to counterparty default, the credit risk capital requirement will be based on both current and potential credit exposures. In recognizing collateral, the haircuts requirement under proposed § 930.5(d)(4)(iv) to reflect the market risk embedded in the collateral would apply. The derivatives contracts may be based on underlying market interest rates or prices and may include credit-linked contracts. The credit equivalent amount for a derivative contract is equal to the sum of: the current credit exposure (sometimes referred to as the replacement cost) of the contract; and the potential future credit exposure (sometimes referred to as the potential future replacement cost) of the contract.

Proposed § 930.5(f)(1) provides that the current credit exposure is equal to the maximum of the mark-to-market value of the contract and zero, as contracts with negative mark-to-market values do not create any current credit exposure for a Bank.

Proposed § 930.5(f)(2) provides that the potential future credit exposure (PFE) of a contract shall be determined by using an internal market risk model approved by the Finance Board or, in the case of Banks that lack appropriate internal models to calculate PFE, using the Basle Accord's standardized approach set forth in Table 3 of the proposed rule.¹⁴ Under this approach, the PFE of a contract, including a contract with a negative mark-to-market value, is estimated by multiplying the effective notional principal amount of the contract by a credit conversion factor for the underlying market risk as specified in Table 3, as follows:

CREDIT CONVERSION FACTORS FOR POTENTIAL FUTURE CREDIT EXPOSURE DERIVATIVE CONTRACTS
[In percent]

Residual maturity	Underlying market rate or price
	Interest rate	Foreign exchange and gold	Equity	Precious metals except gold	Other commodities
One year or less	0	1	6	7	10
Over 1 year to five years5	5	8	7	12
Over five years	1.5	7.5	10	8	15

Under the proposed rule, forwards, swaps, purchased options and similar derivative contracts that are not included in the Interest Rate, Foreign Exchange and Gold, Equity, or Precious Metals except Gold categories shall be treated as Other Commodities for purposes of Table 3. If a Bank determines not to use an internal model for single currency interest rate swaps in which payments are made based upon two floating indices (floating/floating or basis swaps), the PFE for such swaps shall be zero. If a Bank determines to use Table 3 for credit derivative contracts, the credit conversion factors applicable to Interest Rate Contracts under Table 3 shall apply.¹⁵ If a Bank determines to use an internal model for a particular type of derivative contract, the Bank shall use the same model for all other similar types of contracts. However, the Bank may use an internal model for one type of derivative contract and Table 3 for another type of derivative contract. In other words, within each category of market risks, a Bank would not be allowed to arbitrage between capital requirements based on Table 3 and internal models.¹⁶

The proposed rule does not contain any specific means to account for portfolio diversification effects. Consequently, the proposal would require the same regulatory capital charge for two portfolios that are of the same credit quality, but where the credit risk of one is significantly more concentrated than that of the other. However, as noted by the BCBS, this limitation may be effectively addressed in a portfolio-based internal credit risk capital framework. Portfolio credit risk modeling is a long-term project for the BCBS; ultimately, it is anticipated that sophisticated banking institutions would employ a comprehensive portfolio risk modeling approach under which regulatory capital requirements would be based entirely on internal models. Similarly, the Finance Board will encourage the Banks to develop internal credit risk models. Building such an internal model should not be a formidable task for the Banks, given that their portfolios largely consist of credit exposures that may be rated and almost all the Banks' counterparties are financial institutions. The remaining unrated exposures are insignificant and may be dealt with outside a credit risk model.

Proposed § 930.5(g) sets forth the requirements for calculation of credit equivalent amounts for multiple derivative contracts subject to a qualifying bilateral netting contract. The provisions in the proposal are consistent with the requirements set forth in the risk-based capital guidelines of the federal bank regulatory agencies.

6. Market Risk Capital Requirement—§ 930.6

a. Background. Section 930.6(a) of the proposed rule provides that a Bank's market risk capital requirement shall equal the market value of the Bank's portfolio at risk from movements in market prices, i.e., interest rates, foreign exchange rates, commodity prices and equity prices, as could occur during periods of extreme market stress, as determined using the Bank's internal market risk model approved by the Finance Board.

Market risk may be defined as the risk that the market value of a Bank's portfolio will decline as a result of changes in the general level of interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity and commodity prices.

The Banks engage in activities that carry complex on- and off-balance sheet market risks. For example, CO issuances, for which the Banks are jointly and severally liable, include: structured notes having embedded options and exotic features; callable, puttable and index amortizing bonds; bonds that amortize based on a particular mortgage pool; bonds denominated in foreign currencies; and bonds linked to equity prices or foreign interest rates. To hedge the market risk on such complex instruments, the Banks enter into off-balance sheet derivative contracts that reflect the risks embedded in those bonds.

The Banks also make advances on a simple fixed or floating rate basis, as well as callable, puttable/convertible and amortizing advances. The Banks also have invested in agency bonds with callable and structured features, mortgage and mortgage-backed instruments with embedded options, and collateralized mortgage obligations.

Given that the Banks undertake transactions that carry market risks similar to the risks incurred by large banks or securities dealers, the Finance Board believes that the capital regime for the Banks' market risks should be similar to the market risk capital requirements established or recommended by the Basle Committee and other financial institution regulatory agencies, but broader in scope.

As previously discussed, the drive to institute a risk-based capital system for general market risk has been spearheaded by the BCBS. Following the BCBS's lead, the federal bank regulatory agencies (Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC), Federal Reserve Board (FRB) and Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC)) issued a joint final rule in September 1996 (12 CFR parts 3, 208, 225 and 325) to incorporate a measure for market risk, effective as of January 1, 1998 (Joint Rule). Institutions whose trading activity (defined in the Joint Rule as total assets plus total liabilities in the trading portfolio) equals 10 percent or more of their total assets, or whose trading activity equals $1 billion or more, must use an internal model (with standardized parameters as set in the Joint Rule) to calculate the capital they must hold to support their exposure to general market risk. Positions covered by the rule include: (i) all positions in an institution's trading account; and (ii) foreign exchange and commodity positions whether or not in the trading account.

¹⁵ The BCBS has yet to determine conversion factors for credit derivatives. Given that fluctuations in investment grade credit spreads are generally of a smaller magnitude than shifts in the level of interest rates, it appears that the potential future changes in the market value of credit-linked contracts should not generally exceed potential shifts in the market value of interest rate linked contracts. The Finance Board plans to examine any credit derivative contracts that the Banks may enter into and require larger conversion factors for credit derivatives, if necessary.

¹⁶ A Bank that uses an internal model for simple interest rate contracts may utilize Table 3 for interest rate contracts with embedded options, stand-alone interest rate options or other complex/structured contracts. The reverse may not be allowed as a Bank that is capable of internally calculating PFE for complex/structured contracts must use such internal model for simple contracts.

Overall, the Joint Rule implements market risk based capital requirements that are based on actual risks undertaken by large banks. This is the only market risk capital framework that has been both agreed to internationally and implemented in a number of countries. Under the Joint Rule, large banks in the United States generally have adopted a simulation-based approach that is capable of capturing market risks from holding a wide range of simple, exotic and structured instruments—with or without options and based on mortgages or other types of transactions.

Financial institutions regulated by the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS) (12 CFR 567.5) and the Farm Credit Administration (12 CFR 615.5205, 615.5210) currently are subject to the Basle Accord's credit risk capital requirements that contain no market risk capital components (consistent with the small bank regulatory capital framework). However, the Office of Federal Housing Enterprise Oversight (OFHEO) recently published a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking including its regulatory model for calculating risk-based capital for Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac; that model does account for both interest rate risk and credit risk. See 12 CFR part 1750. The OFHEO interest rate risk based capital rule is based on the Federal Housing Enterprise Financial Safety and Soundness Act of 1992 (1992 Act), which requires that capital requirements account for market risks. The market risk capital requirement is determined by a stress test, which examines the effects of two specified interest rate shocks. See 12 U.S.C. 4611(a)(2).

Currently, the Banks are not subject to any market risk capital requirements. The FMP requires that the Banks limit their interest rate risk based on a methodology that uses interest rate shocks similar to those proposed but never adopted by the three U.S. bank regulatory agencies (the OCC, the FRB and the FDIC) and the OTS. The FMP requires the Banks to limit interest rate risk by maintaining the duration of their equity to within ± 5 years. The FMP also requires the Banks to maintain the duration of their equity to ± 7 years under an assumed change in interest rates of ± 200 basis points.

The Finance Board does not believe that the FMP interest rate risk methodology is sufficiently flexible to continue to capture the market risks undertaken by the Banks in line with the developments in market risk measurement and management. Accordingly, this proposed rule sets forth market risk measures consistent with the value at risk (VAR) framework for calculation of market risk capital adopted by the BCBS and other financial institution regulators, an approach that can be implemented with commercially available models, is practical, and is sufficiently rigorous.

b. Measurement of market value at risk under Bank internal market risk model. Section 930.6(b)(1) of the proposed rule requires each Bank to measure, as the market risk component of its risk-based capital requirement, the market value at risk using an internal VAR model, subject to the parameters in the proposed rule. The VAR must be calculated for interest rate, foreign exchange rate, equity price, and commodity price risks undertaken by the Bank, including related options. Currently, the Banks are required by the FMP to hedge risk associated with foreign exchange rates, equity prices, and commodity prices with matching derivative contracts. Therefore, the bulk of the proposed market risk capital requirement will reflect interest rate and related options risks. Although the Banks will have to consistently apply the VAR framework to instruments linked to foreign exchange rates, equity prices, and commodity prices, these other market risks currently pose a smaller amount of risk, relative to interest rate risk.

Under proposed § 930.6(b)(1), each Bank must use an internal market risk model that measures the market value of its portfolio at risk during periods of extreme market stress arising from all sources of market risks based on the Bank's holdings of on-balance sheet assets and liabilities and off-balance sheet items, including risks associated with related options. Proposed § 930.6(b)(2) provides that the Bank's internal market risk model may use any generally accepted measurement technique, such as variance-covariance models, historical simulations, or Monte Carlo simulations, for estimating the market value of the Bank's portfolio at risk, provided that any measurement technique used must cover the Bank's material risks. Proposed § 930.6(b)(3) provides that the Bank's internal market risk model must measure the risks arising from the non-linear price characteristics of options and the sensitivity of the market value of options to changes in the volatility of the option's underlying rates or prices. For example, a variance-covariance methodology may be sufficient for instruments that contain no optionality, while it would be essential to use a simulation technique for instruments with options characteristics.

Section 930.6(b)(4) of the proposed rule provides that the Bank's internal market risk model must use interest rate and market price scenarios for estimating the market value of the Bank's portfolio at risk, but must at a minimum include: (i) Monthly estimates of the market value of the Bank's portfolio at risk so that the probability of a loss greater than that estimated shall be no more than 1 percent; (ii) scenarios that reflect changes in rates and market prices equivalent to those that have been observed over 90-business day periods of extreme market stress¹⁷ (for interest rates, the relevant historical observation period specified in § 930.6(b)(4) is to start from the end of the previous month and go back to the beginning of 1978 and the VAR measure may incorporate empirical correlations among interest rates, subject to a Finance Board determination that the model's system for measuring such correlations is sound); and (iii) the two interest rate scenarios required to be used by OFHEO to determine the risk-based capital requirements for Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, pursuant to 12 U.S.C. 4611(a)(2).

Proposed § 930.6(b)(5) provides that if a Bank participates in COs denominated in a currency other than U.S. Dollars or linked to equity or commodity prices, and these instruments have been hedged for foreign exchange, equity and commodity risks, the Bank's internal market risk model must be used to calculate the market value of its portfolio at risk due to these market risks and using the qualitative and quantitative requirements specified in the proposed rule, i.e., the probability of a loss greater than that estimated must not exceed 1 percent and must include scenarios that reflect changes in rates and market prices that have been observed over 90-business day periods of extreme market stress. This requirement reflects the conservative approach adopted by the Finance Board with respect to the Banks' safety and soundness and the comprehensive measurement of all market risks throughout each Bank.

The market valuations for COs may differ from valuations for matching hedging instruments in the derivative market because of different assumptions concerning the underlying discount curves, volatilities and correlations. Prices in the two markets may not be the same and may fail to move in perfect correlation over time. Therefore, some measure of market risk remains even if the foreign exchange, equity or commodity risks are hedged with matching derivative contracts. The Finance Board believes foreign exchange rates, equity prices, and commodity prices pose a relatively small amount of market risk to the Banks at this time. For calculation of value at risk due to foreign exchange rates, equity and commodity prices, historical observation data from an appropriate period satisfactory to the Finance Board must be used. The value at risk measure may incorporate empirical correlations within foreign exchange rates, equity prices, and commodity prices, but not among the three risk categories, subject to a Finance Board determination that the model's system for measuring such correlations is sound.

Proposed § 930.6(b)(5)(iv) provides that if there is a default on the part of a counterparty to a derivative contract linked to foreign exchange rates, equity prices or commodity prices, the Bank must enter into a replacement contract in a timely manner and as soon as market conditions permit. Besides strengthening safety and soundness, this requirement formalizes the long standing practice at the Banks under which the Banks have not assumed an open (unhedged) foreign exchange, equity or commodity position and is consistent with the requirement in proposed § 955.3(b) that the Banks shall not engage in an open foreign exchange, equity and commodity position.

c. Independent validation of Bank internal market risk model. Section 930.6(c) of the proposed rule provides that each Bank shall conduct an independent validation of its internal market risk model within the Bank or obtain independent validation by an outside party qualified to make such determinations, on an annual basis, or more frequently as required by the Finance Board. In order for validations conducted within the Bank to be considered independent, the validation must be carried out by personnel not reporting to the business line responsible for conducting business transactions for the Bank. Such validation may include periodic comparisons, such as on a quarterly basis, of model generated mark-to-market values with values obtained from dealers/markets and periodic comparisons, such as on an annual basis, of model generated VAR values with values obtained from an independent third-party source. A Bank may use a representative sample of its on- and off-balance sheet instruments for this source. An integral part of this process is the necessity to validate key assumptions and associated parameters underlying the Bank's market risk models. For example, a Bank must periodically determine the impact on VAR of shifts in key parameters such as correlations or regime shifts in volatility parameters. The results of such validations must be reviewed by the Bank's board of directors and provided to the Finance Board.

d. Finance Board approval of Bank internal market risk model. Section 930.6(d)(1) of the proposed rule provides that each Bank must obtain approval from the Finance Board of its internal market risk model, including subsequent material adjustments to the model made by the Bank, prior to the model's use. A Bank must make any subsequent adjustments to its model that may be directed by the Finance Board.

e. Basis risk. Banks are exposed to basis risk, which is the risk that rates or prices of different instruments on the two sides of the balance sheet (after taking associated off-balance instruments into account) do not change in perfect correlation over time. The BCBS has emphasized the importance of basis risk as part of a comprehensive process for the management of interest rate risk.¹⁸ In the final rule, the Finance Board may require the Banks to submit a monthly report identifying the relevant interest rate or price indices along with related basis risk exposures. Based on an analysis of such reports and with the help of other relevant data, an assessment will be made as to the necessity of developing a basis risk measure to incorporate into the market risk capital requirement as an amendment to the final regulation. At this time, the Finance Board is requesting comments on the treatment of basis risk.

f. Transition provision. Section 930.6(d)(2) of the proposed rule would require each Bank to submit its initial internal market risk model to the Finance Board for approval within one calendar year of the effective date of the final rule.

7. Operations Risk Capital Requirement—§ 930.7

Proposed § 930.7 provides that each Bank's operations risk capital requirement shall at any time equal 30 percent of the sum of the Bank's credit risk capital requirement and market risk capital requirement at such time. Operations risk is defined in proposed § 930.1 as the risk of an unexpected loss to a Bank resulting from human error, fraud, unenforceability of legal contracts, or deficiencies in internal controls or information systems. There is currently no generally accepted methodology for measuring the magnitude of operations risk. Therefore, the proposed rule adopts the same requirement imposed by statute on Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. See 12 U.S.C. 4611(c)(2).

8. Reporting Requirements—§ 930.8

Proposed § 930.8 provides that each Bank shall report to the Finance Board by the 15th day of each month its minimum total risk-based capital requirement, by component amounts (credit risk capital, market risk capital, and operations risk capital), and its actual total capital amount and risk-based capital calculated as of the last day of the preceding month, or more frequently as may be required by the Finance Board.

9. Capital Stock Redemption Requirements—§ 930.9

a. General. The Act establishes minimum stock purchase requirements for members for purposes of membership, see 12 U.S.C. 1426(b)(1), 1430(e)(3), and for purposes of taking advances. Id. at 1430 (c), (e)(1). For a variety of reasons, such as a member's anticipation of a seasonal increase in advance borrowing, many members of the Bank System currently hold stock in a Bank in excess of the statutory minimum requirements.

Pursuant to proposed § 930.1 (definition of "total risk-based capital for a Bank"), a Bank may allocate a percentage not exceeding 50 percent of all outstanding capital stock satisfying the minimum capital stock purchase requirements for membership under sections 6(b)(1) and 10(e)(3) of the Act of all voluntary members, and a percentage not exceeding 50 percent of all other outstanding capital stock, towards meeting the Bank's total risk-based capital requirement.

Proposed § 930.9(a) provides that the capital stock designated by a Bank to meet the Bank's total risk-based capital can only be redeemed by the Bank with the approval of the Finance Board. This would be true even for institutions withdrawing from membership in the Bank System pursuant to section 6(e) of the Act. Id. at 1426(e). Proposed § 930.9(b) provides that a Bank may at any time redeem any portion of a member's capital stock not included in or allocated by the Bank to the Bank's total risk-based capital, provided that the member's minimum capital stock purchase requirement for membership in the Bank System under sections 6(b)(1) and 10(e)(3) of the Act, id. at 1426(b)(1), 1430(e)(3), is maintained. The Bank may subject such redemptions to the six-month notice provision in section 6(e) of the Act, id. at 1426(e), or may shorten or waive the six-month notice provision.

The Finance Board's current regulations allow a Bank, after providing 15 calendar days advance written notice to a member, to conduct mandatory, unilateral redemption of excess stock, provided that the minimum stock requirements for membership under the Act are maintained. See 12 CFR 935.15(b)(1). This provision is retained in the proposed rule as § 930.9(b)(3). Section 935.15(b)(2) of the Finance Board's current regulations, 12 CFR 935.15(b)(2), provides that a Bank may not impose on or accept from a member a fee in lieu of the mandatory redemption of the member's capital stock. This provision also is being retained in the proposed rule as § 930.9(b)(4).

The redemption scheme in the proposed rule is designed to maintain a level of permanence in the Bank's capital within the flexible overall risk-based capital framework of the proposal. In this way, the most permanent forms of capital are measured and used as a limitation on risk-taking activity. The permanent capital of each Bank, retained earnings and the minimum stock requirement of mandatory members, may be supplemented by less permanent capital only to the extent that each Bank designates it as risk-based and imposes on its members the risk that capital impairment will impede its redemption.

b. Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking; Interim Final Rule. The Finance Board recently published an ANPRM requesting comment on whether each Bank should be required to unilaterally redeem its members' excess Bank capital stock to help achieve the goal of reducing the excess capital stock in each Bank and thereby to reduce each Bank's arbitrage of its GSE status in non-core mission assets. See 64 FR 16792 (Apr. 6, 1999). Each of the Banks today holds investments that would not be core mission assets under the proposed rule. Banks with relatively high amounts of such investments also tend to have relatively high levels of excess capital stock. See id. at 16793–94.

As discussed in the ANPRM, the Finance Board believes that the Banks' arbitrage activities for the purpose of generating sufficient earnings to pay adequate dividends on excess capital stock detract from the mission of the Banks to promote housing finance and community lending, by encouraging activities not related to the Banks' mission and thereby detracting from the financial incentive to engage in mission-related activity. See id. at 16794. A reduction in the amount of excess capital stock would reduce the amount of capital stock on which dividends must be paid, thereby reducing the level of arbitrage activities conducted in order to generate earnings to pay dividends on such capital stock. See id. Accordingly, the ANPRM requested comment on whether the Banks should be required to unilaterally redeem members' excess capital stock as a way to reduce excess capital stock in the Bank System and thereby reduce arbitrage activities in non-core mission assets by the Banks. See id. at 16795.

For the reasons discussed above, the Finance Board also adopted an interim final rule amending § 935.15(b) of its Advances Regulation to prohibit the Banks from imposing or accepting a fee in lieu of redeeming a member's excess capital stock. See 64 FR 16788 (Apr. 6, 1999) (to be codified in 12 CFR 935.15(b)(2)).

The Finance Board received 68 comment letters on the ANPRM, mostly opposing requiring the Banks to unilaterally redeem members' excess capital stock, for reasons including that it would adversely impact the Banks' financial management, daily operations, long-term customer relationships and flexibility in responding to market needs. The Finance Board received 4 comment letters on the interim final rule, with two commenters supporting and two commenters opposing the rule. The concerns about a Bank's arbitrage of its GSE status with non-core mission assets that the ANPRM and interim final rule attempted to address through mandatory reduction of excess capital stock, are addressed in a different fashion under the financial management and mission achievement provisions of this proposed rule. Accordingly, the Finance Board does not intend to pursue at this time the proposals raised for comment in the ANPRM, but is retaining § 935.15(b)(2) of its Advances Regulation regarding the fee in lieu prohibition (as proposed § 930.9(b)(4)).

10. Minimum Liquidity Requirements—§ 930.10

Liquidity risk is defined in proposed § 917.1 as the risk that a Bank would be unable to meet its obligations as they come due or meet the credit needs of its members and eligible nonmember borrowers in a timely and cost-efficient manner. In general, the liquidity needs of the Banks may be classified as: (1) operational liquidity; and (2) contingency liquidity. Operational liquidity addresses day-to-day or ongoing liquidity needs under normal circumstances, and may be either anticipated or unanticipated. Contingency liquidity addresses liquidity needs under abnormal or unusual circumstances in which a Bank's access to the capital markets is temporarily impeded. Under such unusual circumstances, a Bank may still need funds to meet all of its obligations that are due or to meet some of the credit needs of its members and eligible nonmember borrowers.

Currently, the Banks operate under two general liquidity requirements. Both are easily met by the Banks. However, neither is structured to meet the Banks' liquidity needs should their access to the capital markets be limited for any reason. The first requirement is statutory and requires the Banks to maintain an amount equal to total deposits invested in either obligations of the United States, deposits in banks or trusts, or advances to members that mature in 5 years or less. See 12 U.S.C. 1421(g). The second liquidity requirement is in the FMP. It requires each Bank to maintain a daily average liquidity level each month in an amount not less than 20 percent of the sum of the Bank's daily average demand and overnight deposits and other overnight borrowings during the month, plus 10 percent of the sum of the Bank's daily average term deposits, COs, and other borrowings that mature within one year. See FMP section III.C.

The proposed rule specifies a contingency liquidity requirement, but does not specify an operational liquidity requirement. However, proposed § 917.3(b)(3)(iii) would require that each Bank's risk management policy indicate the Bank's sources of liquidity, including specific types of investments to be held for liquidity purposes, and the methodology to be used for determining the Bank's operational liquidity needs.

Section 930.10 of the proposed rule provides that the Banks must meet not only the statutory liquidity requirements contained in section 11(g) of the Act, 12 U.S.C. 1431(g), but also each Bank shall hold contingency liquidity in an amount sufficient to enable the Bank to cover its liquidity risk, assuming a period of not less than seven calendar days of inability to borrow in debt markets. Contingency liquidity may be provided through Banks: (1) selling liquid assets; (2) pledging government, agency and mortgage-backed securities as collateral for repurchase agreements; and (3) borrowing in the federal funds market. Consequently, contingency liquidity is defined in proposed § 930.1 as: (1) marketable assets with a maturity of one year or less; (2) self-liquidating assets with a maturity of seven days or less; and (3) assets that are generally accepted as collateral in the repurchase agreement market. Proposed § 930.10 provides that an asset that has been pledged under a repurchase agreement cannot be used to satisfy the contingency liquidity requirement, since such an asset will not be available to provide liquidity should a contingency arise.

The proposed seven-day contingency liquidity requirement would help to ensure that the Banks maintain sufficient liquidity to meet their funding needs should their access to the capital markets be temporarily limited by occurrences such as: (1) a power outage at the Bank System's Office of Finance (OF); (2) a natural disaster; or (3) a real or perceived credit problem. This requirement was calculated using daily data on CO redemptions during 1998. The Finance Board found that the 99th percentile of the 5-business day CO redemption distribution resulted in liquidity requirements that ranged from about 5 percent to 17 percent of each Bank's total assets.

It is expected that the contingency liquidity requirement and the Banks' operational liquidity needs can be met within the core mission activities requirement in proposed § 940.4. The Banks' capital and deposits are available to fund liquidity assets, and some core mission assets may also serve as liquidity assets. In addition, the Finance Board expects that the Banks' liquidity requirements will generally decline as they restructure their balance sheets to comply with the core mission activities requirements in proposed § 940.4.

The seven-day requirement may be viewed as conservative when examined in the context of events which could impair the normal operations of the OF. The likelihood that there would be no access to the capital markets for as long as five business days is extremely remote, given OF contingency plans to be back in operation within the same business day following a disaster. The OF contingency plans include back-up power sources and two back-up facilities, plus procedures to back-up their databases at both their main location as well as the primary alternative site. A back-up data tape from OF's main location is sent and stored off-site on a daily basis.

Real or perceived concerns about creditworthiness of the Bank System could lead to a widening of the spreads to U.S. Treasury securities at which the Bank System COs are issued. Depending on the size of the increase in credit spreads, such an event could substantially impair the Banks' ability to carry out their mission. Two such episodes affecting other GSEs took place in the 1980s. In both cases, the interest rate spread narrowed back to normal levels only after the GSEs received assistance from the federal government.¹⁹ In the first instance, the spread to comparable U.S. Treasury securities for a Farm Credit System issue increased approximately 80 basis points within a 6 month period during 1985 as the Farm Credit System ran into financial difficulty and started posting losses. Fannie Mae underwent a similar episode in which its debt spread widened substantially.

The likelihood that such an event could take place with respect to the Banks is remote and, in any event, would need to be addressed with resources beyond those dedicated to the contingency liquidity requirement. The seven-day contingency liquidity requirement provides policy makers with some time to address the underlying problem. Further, should a crisis arise affecting liquidity at all financial institutions, assistance would be needed from the Federal Reserve System, the U.S. Treasury, or the Congress.

Other regulators also recognize the importance of adequate levels of liquidity but, for the most part, have not imposed liquidity requirements with the degree of specificity contained in the proposed rule. Specifically, depository institution regulators have not implemented any numeric ratios or other quantitative requirements with respect to liquidity. However, the importance of liquidity is reflected in the fact that it is one of the six components of the Uniform Financial Institutions Rating System (UFIRS) that was adopted by the Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council (FFIEC) on November 13, 1979 and revised as of January 1, 1997. The UFIRS has been used as an internal supervisory tool for evaluating the soundness of financial institutions and for identifying those institutions requiring special attention or concern. Under 12 CFR 615.5134, each banking institution regulated by the Farm Credit Administration is required to maintain a minimum liquidity reserve. This liquidity reserve requirement ensures that Farm Credit System banks have a pool of liquid investments to fund their operations for approximately 15 days should their access to the capital markets become impeded. OFHEO has not published any regulation concerning liquidity requirements for Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac.

Rating agencies also consider adequate liquidity an important component in a financial institution's rating. Liquid investments held by the Banks are stated by Moody's as one of the reasons behind the triple-A rating for the Banks.²⁰ a. Limits on unsecured extensions of credit. Section 930.11(a) of the proposed rule establishes maximum capital exposure limits for unsecured extensions of credit by a Bank to a single counterparty or to affiliated counterparties. Section 930.11(b) of the proposed rule establishes reporting requirements for total unsecured extensions of credit and total secured and unsecured extensions of credit to single counterparties and affiliated counterparties that exceed certain thresholds.

Concentrations of unsecured credit by a Bank with a limited number of counterparties or group of affiliated counterparties raise safety and soundness concerns. Unlike Bank advances, which must be secured, unsecured credit extensions are more likely to result in limited recoveries in the event of default. Thus, significant credit exposures to a few counterparties increase the probability that a Bank may experience a catastrophic loss in the event of default by one of the counterparties. In contrast, holding small credit exposures in a large number of counterparties, while making a small loss more likely, reduces the probability of a catastrophic loss to a Bank.

Safety and soundness concerns also arise where a Bank's credit extensions are concentrated in a single counterparty whose debt, in turn, is concentrated in one or a few lenders. The fact that the counterparty's debt is concentrated may suggest that other lenders have declined to lend to such counterparty due to concerns about the counterparty's ability to repay a loan. The Bank's concentration of credit in such a counterparty may put the Bank's extensions of credit more at risk.

In addition, where a Bank's extensions of credit to a single counterparty are in jeopardy of nonpayment, the Bank may be reluctant to take appropriate actions to reduce losses, such as declaring a default, or selling the loans, which could depress their price. Further, a Bank may even be tempted to lend additional funds to the counterparty to keep the counterparty in business, if that Bank has a significant credit exposure to the counterparty.

Affiliated counterparties generally share aspects of common ownership, control or management. Thus, if one member of a group of affiliates defaults, the likelihood is high that other members of the affiliated group also are under financial stress. A Bank's unsecured extensions of credit to a group of affiliated counterparties thus should be aggregated in considering the Bank's unsecured credit exposure to any one counterparty in the affiliated group.

Concentrations of credit by multiple Banks in a few counterparties also may raise safety and soundness concerns at the Bank System level. Several Banks in recent years have had unsecured credit exposures to affiliated counterparties that exceeded 20 percent of each Bank's capital. These credit exposures were to counterparties ranked at the second highest investment grade. A few counterparties have spread their exposure among several Banks. Such credit concentrations may result in large aggregate credit exposures for the Bank System, raising concerns regarding the liquidity of such debt in the event of adverse information regarding a counterparty.

The risk-based capital requirements in the proposed rule do not take into account the increase in credit risk associated with concentrations of unsecured credit. Therefore, the Finance Board believes that it is necessary, for safety and soundness reasons, to impose separate limits on unsecured extensions of credit by a Bank to single counterparties and to affiliated counterparties. This is consistent with the regulatory approaches of other financial institution regulators. See, e.g., 12 CFR 32 (OCC's loans-to-one-borrower limit is generally 15 percent of a national bank's capital and surplus).

Currently, the FMP limits Bank unsecured extensions of credit to a single counterparty based on the credit rating of the counterparty. See FMP section VI. Under the FMP, the lower the credit rating of the counterparty, the lower the maximum permissible credit exposure limit, because the probability of default increases as the counterparty's rating decreases. The FMP does not impose limits on unsecured lending to affiliated counterparties, but does require the Banks to monitor such lending and impose limits if necessary. As of December 31, 1998, five Banks had adopted explicit unsecured credit exposure limits to affiliated counterparties.

Consistent with the general approach of the FMP, § 930.11(a)(1)(i) of the proposed rule provides that unsecured extensions of credit by a Bank to a single counterparty that arise from authorized Bank investments or hedging transactions shall be limited to the maximum capital exposure percent limit applicable to such counterparty, as set forth in Table 4 of the proposed rule, multiplied by the lesser of: (i) the Bank's total capital; or (ii) the counterparty's Tier 1 capital, or total capital if Tier 1 capital is not available. The maximum capital exposure percent limits applicable to specific counterparties in Table 4 range from a high of 15 percent for counterparties with the highest investment grade rating, to a low of 1 percent for counterparties with a below investment grade rating. These limits are consistent with those established internally by large lenders.

Section 930.11(a)(1)(ii)(D) of the proposed rule provides that where a counterparty has received different credit ratings for its transactions with short-term and long-term maturities: (i) the higher credit rating shall apply for purposes of determining the allowable maximum capital exposure limit under Table 4 applicable to the total amount of unsecured credit extended by the Bank to such counterparty; and (ii) the lower credit rating shall apply for purposes of determining the allowable maximum capital exposure limit under Table 4 applicable to the amount of unsecured credit extended by the Bank to such counterparty for the transactions with maturities governed by that rating. For example, if a counterparty has received a lower rating on its long-term debt than its short-term debt, the Bank will be more severely limited in the amount of the counterparty's long-term debt that it can hold. If the Bank wishes to hold any more of this counterparty's debt, it will be limited to holding the higher rated short term debt, up to a total amount of credit exposure governed by proposed § 930.11(a)(1)(ii)(D)(I).

Section 930.11(a)(1)(ii)(E) of the proposed rule provides that if a counterparty is placed on a credit watch for a potential downgrade by an NRSRO, the Bank shall determine its remaining available credit line for unsecured credit exposures under Table 4 by assuming a rating from that NRSRO at the next lower grade.

Section 930.11(a)(2) of the proposed rule provides that the total amount of unsecured extensions of credit by a Bank to all affiliated counterparties may not exceed: (i) the maximum capital exposure limit applicable under Table 4 based on the highest credit rating of the affiliated counterparties; (ii) multiplied by the lesser of: (A) the Bank's total capital; or (B) the combined Tier 1 capital, or total capital if Tier 1 capital is not available, of all of the affiliated counterparties.

b. Reporting requirement for total unsecured credit concentrations. Currently, there is no centralized mechanism for maintaining and measuring aggregate unsecured credit concentration exposure data at the Bank System level. As discussed above, Bank unsecured credit concentrations raise safety and soundness concerns at the Bank System level, as well as at the individual Bank level. The FMP does not establish maximum unsecured credit exposure limits or reporting requirements for aggregate unsecured credit concentrations at the Bank System level.

Accordingly, § 930.11(b)(1) of the proposed rule requires each Bank to report monthly to the Finance Board the amount of the Bank's total unsecured extensions of credit to any single counterparty or group of affiliated counterparties that exceeds 5 percent of: (i) the Bank's total capital; or (ii) the counterparty's Tier 1 capital (or total capital if Tier 1 capital is not available), or in the case of affiliated counterparties, the combined Tier 1 capital (or total capital if Tier 1 capital is not available) of all of the affiliated counterparties.

The Finance Board will be considering limits on aggregate unsecured credit concentration exposures at the Bank System level for the final rule. The Finance Board specifically requests comments on whether such limits should be imposed and what the size and form of such limits should be.

c. Reporting requirement for total secured and unsecured credit concentrations. Bank concentrations of secured credit, primarily advances, to a single counterparty or group of affiliated counterparties also may present safety and soundness concerns for individual Banks and the Bank System. Other financial institution regulators impose loans-to-one-borrower limits for secured as well as unsecured extensions of credit, with exceptions for loans secured by high-quality collateral. See, e.g., 12 CFR 932. There may be reasons to exclude concentrations of advances from such limits, given the extent of their overcollateralization, their statutory superlien protection and core mission activity status.

Accordingly, § 930.11(b)(2) of the proposed rule requires each Bank to report monthly to the Finance Board the amount of the Bank's total secured and unsecured extensions of credit to any single counterparty or group of affiliated counterparties that exceeds 5 percent of the Bank's total assets. Because secured credit is supported by collateral, not capital, in the first instance, the Finance Board believes that exposures as a percent of assets rather than of capital is a more appropriate measure of the size of the exposure.

The Finance Board will be considering limits on total secured and unsecured credit concentration exposures applicable to the Banks or the Bank System for the final rule. The Finance Board specifically requests comments on whether such limits should be imposed and what the size and form of such limits should be.

D. Part 940—Core Mission Activities Requirements

1. Bank Investment Practices

By virtue of their GSE status, the Banks enjoy two major advantages over non-GSE borrowers in the capital markets: (1) the ability to borrow in the capital markets at rates only slightly above U.S. Department of the Treasury borrowing rates; and (2) the ability to issue large amounts of debt, including debt with complex structures. Given its duty under the Act to ensure that the Banks carry out their housing finance mission, the Finance Board has been concerned for some time that the Banks have used substantial amounts of the proceeds of their GSE borrowings to finance arbitrage investments.

Prior to the thrift crisis of the late 1980s and the enactment of the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act of 1989 (FIRREA), Pub. L. 101-73, 103 Stat. 183 (1989), the Banks' assets were primarily advances to thrift members for the purpose of funding home mortgage loans. The Banks' balance sheets expanded and contracted with thrift member demand for advances, and thus, generally reflected the cyclical nature of the housing and credit markets. During this period, the Banks maintained relatively small portfolios of investments in assets other than advances, generally for liquidity purposes. For the period from 1980 through 1988, advances represented, on average, about 84 percent of Bank System total assets, while total investments other than advances represented about 14 percent of Bank System total assets. Over the same time period, advances averaged 118 percent of COs, indicating that the Banks funded advances not only with COs, but also with a portion of deposits and capital. As a result of using all COs issued to fund advances, the Banks were using their GSE funding advantage only to enhance the availability of housing finance.

Significant and rapid changes in the structure of the Bank System's balance sheet and its profitability occurred following the enactment of FIRREA. Among other things, the results of FIRREA included: (1) the liquidation of hundreds of failed thrift institutions, and the concomitant advance prepayments and stock redemptions; (2) the imposition of new and higher statutory capital requirements for thrifts that caused many Bank System thrift members to either reduce their asset size and prepay advances or to stop growing and reduce their demand for new advances during the early 1990s; (3) the transfer of $2.5 billion in Bank System retained earnings to the Resolution Funding Corporation (REFCorp) to help pay for the cost of thrift resolutions (in addition to the Banks' payment of $700 million in retained earnings to defease the Financing Corporation bonds as required under the Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987); (4) the requirement that the Bank System make a $300 million annual payment of interest on the REFCorp bonds; and (5) the requirement that the Bank System make a payment, beginning in 1990, of the greater of five percent of net income or $50 million, and increasing by steps to the greater of ten percent of net income or $100 million in 1995 and thereafter, to fund the newly-required Affordable Housing Program (AHP). One other important provision of FIRREA allowed federally-insured commercial banks with at least ten percent of their assets in residential mortgage loans to join the Bank System.

After the enactment of FIRREA, the Banks needed to generate a level of income sufficient to cover the decline in earnings associated with the transfer of over $3 billion in retained earnings to other government agencies, the statutorily mandated annual fixed REFCorp obligation of $300 million, contributions to the AHP and the prepayment of advances as a result of resolutions of insolvent members, while still providing dividends and benefits, primarily in the form of advances priced to reflect the Banks' GSE funding advantage, that would attract and retain member institutions. Reduced spreads on earning assets and a lower interest rate environment also contributed to the decline in System net income during the early 1990s. For these reasons, Bank investments in assets bearing little or no relation to the Banks' public purpose (primarily money market investments and mortgage backed securities (MBS)) increased during the years following the enactment of FIRREA. Of these two investment options, MBS have been appreciably more profitable per dollar invested.

Therefore, to assist the Banks during this time, the Finance Board increased the Banks' MBS investment authority from 50 percent to 200 percent of capital when it adopted the FMP in 1991. See Finance Board Res. No. 91-214 (June 25, 1991). In December 1993, the Finance Board again raised the Banks' MBS investment authority from 200 percent to 300 percent of capital based on continuing concerns about the Banks' ability to generate income. See Finance Board Res. No. 93-133 (Dec. 15, 1993). The Finance Board also increased the Bank System's regulatory leverage limit during this period. See Finance Board Res. No. 93-074 (Sept. 22, 1993).

The Finance Board initially limited MBS investment, as described above, in part because of concern about the Banks' ability to manage the interest rate and options risk associated with these assets. However, now that the Banks have developed more effective techniques for hedging these risks, and there are policy limits in place constraining the Banks' interest rate risk exposure, the MBS limit can be viewed less as a safety and soundness constraint and more as a means to restrain a non-mission related activity. Although MBS are housing-related, the extent to which these investments support the Banks' housing finance mission is debatable. MBS generally are traded in large, well-established and liquid markets. The Banks' presence in these markets may not result in increased availability of funds for housing, or in lower cost of funds. Moreover, and perhaps most importantly for the Finance Board, the Banks' MBS investments generally do not involve the Banks working with or through Bank System members and thus do not contribute to the cooperative nature of the Bank System as advances do.

Another major change in the Bank System following the enactment of FIRREA was the growth of commercial bank membership. Until 1989, Bank System membership consisted almost exclusively of thrift institutions. Bank System membership declined from 1989 to 1990 due to the closing of failed institutions, but rose rapidly thereafter as commercial banks joined the Bank System. Total Bank System membership increased from 2,855 at year-end 1990 to 6,884 at year-end 1998. Voluntary members, primarily commercial banks, represented over 86 percent of total membership at December 31, 1998. Voluntary members held $143 billion in advances, representing almost 50 percent of total advances, and held $13 billion (59 percent) of the capital stock of the Bank System as of December 31, 1998. Given the large increase in voluntary members since 1989, maintaining dividends and membership benefits to retain voluntary members has been considered necessary for ensuring a stable Bank System.

The increase in investments not directly related to the Banks' public purpose was a rational response to the sharp fall-off in Bank System advances and net income that occurred during the period following the enactment of FIRREA. However, Bank System earnings and advances are now at record levels. Outstanding advances, surpassing the previous all time high of $167 billion in the second quarter of 1997, reached $288 billion at year end 1998. Net income has steadily increased to $1.8 billion in 1998 after dropping to a low of $850 million in 1992.

In addition, although the Banks initially grew investments as a substitute for advances, Bank investments generally have increased since 1992 along with advances. Investments grew 73 percent between 1992 and 1998, increasing from $79 billion to $137 billion over the period. To some extent, this growth was because of lower spreads on advances due to increased funding competition from other sources. At the end of 1998, advances represented 66 percent of Bank System total assets while investments represented 32 percent of Bank System total assets. Bank System liabilities also increased over this period to fund the growth in investments and advances. Bank System COs outstanding increased over 225 percent between 1992 and 1998, growing from $115 billion at year end 1992 to $377 billion

Once the Banks' ability to generate income had demonstrably improved, the Finance Board initiated steps to address the Bank System-wide growth of non-mission related investments. A first step was to recognize that, while the detailed list of restrictions and limits placed on the Banks' investment authority by the FMP successfully ensured safety and soundness, it provided little, if any, flexibility and incentive for the Banks to seek out and develop new assets and activities that are permissible under the Act and that are consistent with the mission of the Bank System.

Therefore, to address the lack of flexibility in developing mission related investments, the Finance Board amended the FMP in 1996 to permit the Banks, among other things, to engage in new activities designed in part to add higher yielding and more mission-related assets to their balance sheets that would also preserve and promote the cooperative nature of the Bank System. See FMP section II.B.12. These activities were first approved on a pilot program basis in 1996 and 1997 and have been in operation since then. The Finance Board has determined, based on the experience of these programs, that certain mortgage assets, as further discussed below, can be acquired by the Banks from their members while preserving and promoting the cooperative nature of the Bank System and providing for greater mission achievement. It is anticipated that expansion of these activities will permit the Banks to reduce their holdings of money market investments and MBS.

In May 1998, the Finance Board held a public hearing on Bank investment practices in response to concerns about the growth of money market investments and MBS. In preparation for the hearing, the Finance Board published a staff paper on the implications of Bank investment practices for Finance Board investment policy which discussed several options for limiting money market and MBS investments, including limiting money market investments to the amount of deposits and capital held by the Banks. See 63 FR 16505-37 (Apr. 3, 1998).

A second major step taken by the Finance Board to address concerns about the Bank System-wide growth of non-mission related investments is the proposed rule, which provides the Banks even greater flexibility, as well as an incentive, to acquire mission related assets compared to what now exists in the FMP. Greater flexibility is provided in proposed § 955.2, as limited by proposed § 955.3 discussed below, which, among other things, expands the allowable credit rating for authorized investments from primarily triple-A in the FMP to triple-B. Incentive to acquire mission related assets is provided in proposed § 940.4, discussed below, which requires that 100 percent of Bank System COs must be used to finance mission related activities. The Finance Board has determined that this requirement is appropriate in view of the improved financial condition of the Bank System. The process for implementing this requirement is discussed below.

2. Mission of the Banks—§ 940.2

Part 940 of the proposed rule sets forth the core mission activities (CMA) requirements that would apply to the Banks under the proposed new regulatory regime. Proposed § 940.2 defines the mission of the Banks as providing to members and eligible nonmember borrowers, i.e., entities that have been approved as a nonmember mortgagee pursuant to subpart B of part 950 of the Finance Board's regulations, financial products and services, including but not limited to advances, that assist and enhance such members' and eligible nonmember borrowers' financing of: (a) housing in the broadest sense including single-family and multi-family housing serving consumers at all income levels, and (b) community lending as defined in § 953.3 of the Finance Board's regulations. This statement of mission and the regulatory provisions that would implement it are intended to ensure maximum use of the cooperative structure of the Bank System to provide funds for housing finance and community lending.

3. Core Mission Activities—§ 940.3

Proposed § 940.3 lists those Bank activities that would qualify as CMA. Under proposed § 940.3(a)(1), all Bank advances and commitments to make advances with certain drawdown to members or eligible nonmember borrowers with assets of $500 million or less would qualify as CMA. There were 6,207 members, representing 89 percent of all members, with assets of $500 million or less as of March 31, 1999.

Under proposed § 940.3(a)(2), advances and commitments to make advances with certain drawdown to members or eligible nonmember borrowers with assets greater than $500 million would qualify as CMA in an amount up to the total book value of certain assets held by such member or eligible nonmember borrower. These assets are: (1) housing-related whole loans; (2) loans and investments that are generated by community lending (as that term is used in the Finance Board's CICA regulation, see 12 CFR 970); and (3) MBS that comprise the types of loans falling into either of the preceding two asset categories and that are originated by the member or eligible nonmember borrower. The term "housing-related whole loans" is defined in proposed § 940.1 to include all whole loans, or participation interests in whole loans (excluding mortgage backed-securities), secured by one-to-four family property, multifamily property, or manufactured housing. The definition mentions loans for the construction, purchase, improvement, rehabilitation, or refinancing of housing as a non-exclusive list of loans that would be considered housing-related under the proposed rule. This broad definition corresponds with the mission of the Banks, stated in proposed § 940.2, to finance housing in the broadest sense.

Thus, if a member with over $500 million in assets were to have on its books such loans and investments in an amount equal to or exceeding that member's total advances outstanding, the Bank would be able to count all advances to that member as CMA. On the other hand, if the member were to have on its books such loans and investments in an amount less than its total advances outstanding, the Bank would be able to count as CMA only those advances to that member equal to the amount of such loans and investments. A review of members with assets greater than $500 million shows that, as of June 30, 1999, only 54 members had advances outstanding that exceeded their holdings of residential mortgage loans (as defined in existing 12 CFR 933.1(bb), but excluding MBS), a narrower group of assets than allowed under proposed § 940.3(a)(2). Excess advances over residential mortgage loans were only $14 billion or 4 percent of total advances outstanding as of June 30, 1999.

The purpose of proposed § 940.3(a)(1) and (2) is to ensure that those advances that will count as CMA are, at the very least, aligned with housing and community lending assets held by the member. The provision allows all advances to members with assets of $500 million or less to qualify as CMA so that the CMA designation does not result in any restrictions or limits being imposed on the access of smaller institutions to advances from the Banks. This provision recognizes that smaller banks face substantial hurdles in obtaining funds because they lack access on their own to the capital markets and have been subjected to a prolonged decline in deposits. This provision also is consistent with provisions of H.R. 10, passed by the House of Representatives on July 1, 1999, and S. 900, passed by the U.S. Senate on May 6, 1999, each of which provides substantially greater latitude to Bank members with assets equal to or less than $500 million with respect to how they can use the proceeds of Bank advances.

The methodology proposed for institutions with assets of over $500 million is necessary since it is not possible to track advances to specific member loans. Limiting the advances that such members may count as CMA to the amount that can be supported by specific types of loans and securities, mitigates against including advances that support large commercial and business loans that do not otherwise qualify as community lending under the CICA regulation, and securities supported by such loans, as CMA. It is likely that such loans are not related to community lending in the community where the large member is located. The Finance Board requests comments on the practicality of this provision and suggestions for any alternative methodology.

Under proposed §§ 940.3(b) and 940.4(c), standby letters of credit (SLOCs) would count as CMA at a partial value of their face amount, to be gradually phased out over the transition period. Following the transition period, SLOCs would qualify as CMA valued at the fee charged to members for issuance or confirmation of the SLOC (see discussion below of § 940.4(c)).

Under proposed § 940.3(c), intermediary derivative contracts (primarily interest rate swaps) valued at the fee charged to members would qualify as CMA because the fee represents the value of a risk-management related service provided by the Banks to the members.

Three general types of equity investments also would count as CMA under proposed § 940.3(e). First, equity investments that primarily benefit low- or moderate-income individuals, or areas, or other areas targeted for redevelopment by local, state, tribal or Federal government, would be considered to be CMA if the investment provides or supports: affordable housing; community services; permanent jobs for low- or moderate-income individuals; or area revitalization or stabilization. This type of equity investment is included within the definition of CMA based on the regulatory definition of equity investments that are permitted to national banks. See 12 CFR 24.3(a). Second, investments in the stock of SBICs formed pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 681(d) would qualify as CMA to the extent that the investment is structured to be matched by an investment in the same SBIC by a member or eligible nonmember borrower of the Bank making the investment in SBIC stock. This is also explicitly authorized under section 11(h) of the Act. See 12 U.S.C. 1431(h). The member matching requirement will satisfy the statutory requirement that Bank investments in SBICs be for the purpose of aiding members. Third, equity investments in governmentally-aided economic development entities structured similarly to SBICs, and where the investment primarily benefits low- or moderate-income individuals or areas, would qualify as CMA.

Three other specific investments would be considered CMA under proposed §§ 940.3 (f), (g), and (h): the short-term tranche of SBIC securities guaranteed by the Small Business Administration (SBA); Section 108 Interim Notes and Participation Certificates guaranteed by HUD pursuant to section 108 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1994 (as amended); and investments and obligations for housing and community development issued or guaranteed under Title VI of the Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act of 1996 (NAHASDA). These investments are all related to housing and community lending and supported by various government programs at the federal level. The Finance Board proposes to treat these special equity investments as CMA because of their potential to move the private markets to better assist low- and moderate-income communities to become more prosperous. By treating these investments as CMA, the Board is intentionally creating a greater incentive for the Banks to make these investments.

The Finance Board specifically requests comment on whether any other investment instruments, which are products of federal programs designed to support housing and community lending programs, should also be included.

Proposed § 940.3(i) includes as CMA certain assets previously acquired, or authorized to be acquired, under the FMP. Assets acquired under section II.B.11 of the FMP, primarily state and local housing finance agency (HFA) bonds acquired from out-of-district HFAs that may or may not be eligible nonmember borrowers, would be considered to be CMA if acquired before the effective date of the final rule. Any new investments in state and local HFA bonds would need to meet the requirements for MMA under proposed part 954, as discussed below, to continue to qualify as CMA. This means that only state and local HFA bonds acquired from in-district eligible nonmember borrowers, or from or through another Bank that acquired such bonds from eligible nonmember borrowers in its district, would be considered to be MMA under part 954 of the proposed rule and, therefore, would qualify as CMA.

Assets authorized by the Finance Board, by resolution or otherwise, to be acquired or held pursuant to Finance Board approval under section II.B.12 of the FMP will be considered to be CMA up to the greater of: (1) the amount permitted under the authorization; or (2) the amount acquired prior to the effective date of this section. Pilot programs approved under section II.B.12 may continue to operate under their authorizing resolutions until the dollar cap prescribed in the applicable resolution is reached. Any subsequent transactions would need to meet the requirements for MMA under proposed part 954 in order to qualify as CMA.

4. CMA Requirement—§ 940.4

Proposed § 940.4(a) provides that, following a transition period that ends on January 1, 2005, each Bank must maintain an annual average ratio of at least 100 percent of CMA to the book value of the Bank's total outstanding COs. For purposes of this calculation, on-balance sheet CMA (i.e., certain advances, MMA, certain equity investments, the short-term tranche of SBIC securities guaranteed by SBA, Section 108 Interim Notes and Participation Certificates guaranteed by HUD, investments and obligations for housing and community development issued or guaranteed under Title VI of NAHASDA, and grandfathered assets acquired under sections II.B.11 and II.B.12 of the FMP) would be counted at book value. Off-balance sheet CMA (i.e., SLOCs, intermediary derivative contracts and commitments to make advances with certain drawdown) would be counted at an amount prescribed in the off-balance sheet conversion factor chart contained in proposed § 940.4(c) discussed below. This ratio would be calculated based on a 12-month moving average. Proposed § 940.4(b) would require that each Bank report to the Finance Board its actual CMA ratio as of the last day of each calendar quarter, based on the preceding 12 months. A Bank would be free to undertake authorized activities that do not qualify as CMA, so long as the ratio of its CMA to its total COs outstanding meets the requirement of proposed § 940.4(b).

While it is unrealistic to expect a return to the pre-FIRREA ratios of advances to COs for a number of reasons, the Finance Board considers the 100 percent CMA ratio requirement to be both appropriate public policy and economically feasible. The primary source of funds for the Banks is the issuance of COs in the capital markets at rates reflecting the Banks' GSE funding advantage. Therefore, as a matter of public policy, the Finance Board believes that 100 percent of the assets funded with COs should be mission-related. In developing the CMA requirement, the Finance Board generated simulations that applied a CMA requirement, i.e., a stated percentage of COs invested in CMA, to each Bank's average balance sheet for the first six months of 1999. For these simulations, capital, deposits, and advances were held constant. Further, the simulations did not incorporate any behavioral responses on the part of the Banks. Thus, while the results should not be considered predictions of what will happen as a result of the proposed rule, they should be considered an indication of the magnitude and feasibility of the Banks' required balance sheet adjustments. The simulation results were evaluated based on the aggregate balance sheet and aggregate earnings for the Bank System as a whole. The CMA requirement, however, would be imposed separately on each Bank. As the proposed rule allows Banks to buy and sell CMA among each other, Banks with CMA ratios below the required CMA ratio would be permitted to purchase CMA from Banks with CMA ratios above the required CMA ratio. For this reason simulations at the Bank System level are appropriate.

Based on analysis of empirical data and discussions with Bank staff, spreads over the CO rate for money market instruments (MMI) were assumed to be approximately one-seventh that assumed for MBS, and spreads for MMA, which are discussed in connection with proposed part 954 below, were assumed to be roughly comparable to those for MBS, based on their similar risk characteristics. The low return on MMI relative to MMA would allow the Banks to roll-off substantial amounts of MMI, which could be replaced with relatively smaller amounts of MMA, while earning the same net income.

A simulation imposing the 100 percent CMA requirement indicates that the Bank System could continue to pay a dividend comparable to the annualized dividend for the first half of 1999 and achieve the 100 percent CMA requirement. To do so would require the Banks to reduce MMI by $43 billion and increase MMA by $65 billion.²¹

Currently, the Banks' ratios of advances to COs, a more conservative measurement than total CMA to COs, range from 50 percent to 85 percent. The Finance Board believes it is reasonable and necessary that there should be a graduated phase-in of the 100 percent CMA requirement to allow the Banks time to restructure their balance sheets to include more profitable CMA and to accomplish the transition in such a manner as to ensure the continued safety and soundness of the Banks. A simulation of the transition period indicates that by reducing MMI by $43 billion (a reduction of almost 50 percent from current levels) so that the level of MMI would equal the sum of deposits and capital for the Bank System, and increasing MMA by $10 billion,²² the Bank System could continue to pay a dividend comparable to the annualized dividend for the first half of 1999 while raising the ratio of CMA to COs from its current level of 75 percent to the 85 percent transition target for January 1, 2002, as set forth in § 940.4(d) of the proposed rule discussed below.

If the level of advances or deposits were to increase over the transition period, then the target CMA to CO ratios could be achieved with smaller increases in MMA than indicated in the above simulations. In both the transition and the final simulations, capital substantially exceeds 3 percent of Bank System assets. Therefore, Bank System assets and earnings could expand substantially beyond the amounts in the simulation without the need to attract more total capital.²³

²³ Bank System assets growth may be constrained by risk-based capital. As both the risk-based capital requirement and the level of risk-based capital would be determined by decisions made by each Bank under the proposed rule, the Finance Board

The Finance Board expects, however, that in order to comply with the CMA requirement, the Banks will need to adjust the management of their operational liquidity in some way, perhaps by acquiring assets that qualify as CMA and also contribute to operational liquidity. The Banks also may need to adjust their balance sheets by acquiring assets that qualify as CMA and also meet liquidity requirements to ensure continued compliance with the contingency liquidity requirements in proposed § 930.10. For example, certain GNMA securities would qualify as CMA and could also meet operational and contingency liquidity needs. The Finance Board requests comment on how the CMA requirement is likely to impact the ability of the Banks to achieve their liquidity needs.

In addition, the Finance Board requests comment and empirically-based analyses regarding the potential impact of the CMA ratio requirement on the Banks' earnings, dividends and membership benefits in the form of the pricing of advances, and whether there might be an effect on voluntary members' decisions to join, remain in, or leave the Bank System. The Finance Board also requests comment and empirically-based analyses on whether there will be an impact on the level of funding for the Bank System's AHP, and if so, whether the Bank System's contribution to the AHP should be maintained, at a minimum, at 1998 levels, either by voluntary agreement by the Banks or by Finance Board regulation.

The Finance Board also requests comments on whether all types of CMA should receive equal weight in calculating a CMA total book value. Imposing different weights could serve as an incentive for the Banks to pursue classes of CMA, particularly CMA that might be targeted to harder-to-serve needs or populations, but in which the Banks might otherwise hesitate to invest because such classes of CMA may be less profitable or more risky. However, weighting could undermine the meaningfulness of a 100 percent CMA target, as the 100 percent target would no longer represent a true maximum with respect to the allocation of CO funding to CMA.

5. Conversion of Off-Balance Sheet Items—§ 940.4(c)

Proposed § 940.4(c) sets forth conversion factors in Table 1 for the conversion of off-balance sheet items to on-balance sheet value equivalents for inclusion in the overall CMA ratio calculation required under proposed § 940.4(a). Intermediary derivative contracts would count in the CMA calculation at 100 percent of the value of the fee charged to members on such transactions. This fee is an objective measure of value to the members for these instruments given that the Banks do not need to fund these transactions. Advance commitments with certain drawdown will count in the CMA calculation at 100 percent of the value of the contractual commitment, given that a Bank would be likely to fund the commitment with COs ahead of the commitment date.

During the transition, SLOCs would count at the current year's CMA ratio requirement (expressed as a percentage) subtracted from 100 percent, then multiplied by the face amount of the SLOC. Thus, for SLOCs, the conversion factor would be 20 percent or 0.20 in the first year of the rule's effectiveness (100 percent or 1.00 minus CMA ratio requirement of 80 percent or 0.80) and would shrink to zero by the end of the transition period (100 percent minus CMA ratio requirement of 100 percent). The intent of this conversion provision is to ensure that the financial nature of the transaction, rather than its regulatory treatment, determines whether a Bank issues an SLOC or an advance. The conversion factor leaves a Bank indifferent in terms of financial opportunity as to whether it issues an advance or SLOC, because either instrument would then have the same impact on the ratio of CMA to COs. An alternative weighting mechanism could create an incentive for the Bank to distort the prices of advances and SLOCs such that the nature of the transaction might no longer guide the choice of instrument. When the transition period ends, SLOCs would be valued at the fee charged to members to make this off-balance sheet item consistent with the treatment of intermediary derivative contracts.

6. Transition Period—§ 940.4(d)

Proposed § 940.4(d) sets forth the transition period that would apply to the CMA ratio requirement. Beginning on January 1, 2001, each Bank would be required to have a CMA in an amount equal to at least 80 percent of the average book value of the Bank's total outstanding COs. The CMA ratio requirement would increase by five percentage points on January 1 of every year until the full 100 percent requirement would take effect on January 1, 2005.

7. Transfers of CMA to Another Bank—§ 940.5

Section 940.5 of the proposed rule makes clear that a CMA of a Bank, if transferred to another Bank, retains its status as a CMA with respect to the transferee Bank. This provision allows the Banks to improve the diversification of the various risks associated with the CMA by redirecting CMA from one Bank district to another Bank district.

8. Safe Harbor for Anticipated Noncompliance—§ 940.6

Under § 940.6(a) of the proposed rule, if a Bank's board of directors determines that the Bank cannot meet the CMA ratio requirement for a specified future period without jeopardizing the safety and soundness of the Bank, the Bank would not be considered to be out of compliance with the rule for the time period specified. In order for a Bank to qualify for this safe harbor, the board of directors' determination would need to be based upon an objective finding that the Bank: (1) would likely be unable to meet the liquidity requirement of proposed § 930.10, or any other regulatory requirement related to safety and soundness of its financial operation; or (2) would likely be unable to provide a return on equity sufficient to retain members intending to make use of such Bank's products and services. The decision-making process of the Bank's board of directors and the bases for its conclusions, including justification for the time period that the Bank anticipates being out of compliance, would need to be fully documented. In addition, the Bank's board of directors would be required to adopt a plan to achieve compliance with the CMA ratio requirement at the earliest feasible and prudent date.

The Finance Board believes that proposed § 940.6(a) will provide regulatory flexibility when business conditions are not amenable to achieving CMA compliance consistent with the safe and sound operation of the Bank. However, this safe harbor provision is not intended to provide regulatory immunity for lack of effort on the part of Bank management or for reaching such conclusions based on analysis found by the Finance Board through the examination process to be inadequate as to substance or documentation.

9. Waivers—§ 940.6(b)

Proposed § 940.6(b) would make explicit that, under circumstances that do not meet the safe harbor requirements of proposed § 940.6(a), a Bank may request a waiver of the requirements in part 940, pursuant to the regulatory waiver provisions of the Finance Board's regulations that would appear at 12 CFR part 907 (existing part 903).

E. Part 950—Advances

The proposed rule would delete existing § 935.2 of the Finance Board's Advances regulation, which states the primary credit mission of the Banks and how the Banks must fulfill such mission. Section 940.2 of the proposed rule, as discussed above, defines the mission of the Banks, and no separate or duplicative statements or definitions would be necessary under the new regulatory structure.

Proposed § 950.1 would amend the definition of "long-term advance" in existing § 935.1 of the Finance Board's Advances regulation from advances with maturity terms over five years to advances with maturity terms of greater than one year. The Act provides that all long-term advances shall only be made for the purpose of providing funds for residential housing finance. See 12 U.S.C. 1430(a). This provision is implemented by existing § 935.14, which provides that prior to approving an application for a long-term advance, a Bank shall determine that the principal amount of all long-term advances currently held by the member does not exceed the total value of residential housing finance assets held by such member. See 12 CFR 935.14(b)(1).

F. Part 954—Member Mortgage Assets

1. Definition of MMA—§ 954.2

Part 954 of the proposed rule addresses MMA, that is, generally mortgages and interests in mortgages that a Bank may acquire from its members or eligible nonmember borrowers in a transaction that is in purpose and economic substance functionally equivalent to the business of making advances in that: (1) it allows the member or eligible nonmember borrower to use its mortgage assets to access liquidity for further mortgage lending; and (2) all or a material portion of the credit risk attached to the mortgage asset is being borne by the member or eligible nonmember borrower.

Proposed § 954.2 authorizes a Bank to hold MMA acquired from or through its members or eligible nonmember borrowers, either by purchasing MMA from the member or eligible nonmember borrower, or funding the loan through the member or eligible nonmember borrower. Proposed § 954.2 sets forth a three-part test to be used in determining which assets qualify as MMA. First, under proposed § 954.2(a), an asset must fall within one of the following categories of assets: (1) mortgages, or interests in mortgages, excluding one-to-four family mortgages where the loan amounts exceed the conforming loan limits that apply to Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, see 12 U.S.C. 1717(b)(2), but including community lending mortgages; (2) loans, or interests in loans, secured by manufactured housing, even if the manufactured housing is considered to be personal property in the state in which the home is located; or (3) state and local HFA bonds.

Second, under proposed § 954.2(b), a connection of the asset with the member or eligible nonmember borrower from whom the asset is acquired must exist, i.e., there must be a member or eligible nonmember borrower nexus. Specifically, the asset must be either: (1) originated, if a loan, or issued, if bonds, by or through the member or eligible nonmember borrower; or (2) held for a valid business purpose by the member or eligible nonmember borrower prior to acquisition by the Bank. Assets held for a valid business purpose would not include, for example, loans that are passed from a nonmember through a member to a Bank with the intended purpose of extending the benefits of membership to the nonmember. The valid business purpose requirement is intended to acknowledge that a member may acquire loans from a nonmember and then sell them to a Bank.

Third, under proposed § 954.2(c), the member or eligible nonmember borrower must bear a material portion of the credit risk attached to the mortgage asset. Through this requirement, MMA activities would serve to promote and preserve the basic business relationship between the Banks and their members that has been established and maintained throughout the history of the Bank System through advance transactions. The Bank would manage the interest rate risk while the member would bear all or a material portion of the credit risk. This requirement emphasizes the cooperative nature of the Bank System by ensuring that the member or eligible nonmember borrower shares with the Bank the financial benefits and responsibilities of the asset. Furthermore, it does so in a rational manner because such shares are allocated between the Bank and the member or eligible nonmember borrower in a way that best employs their respective core competencies in managing risk.

An asset will be considered to fulfill this requirement if it meets the "credit risk-sharing" test set forth in proposed § 954.2(c). First, under proposed § 954.2(c)(1), the member or eligible nonmember borrower must bear the amount of credit risk necessary to raise the asset or pools of assets to the fourth highest credit rating category (e.g., triple-B), which is the minimum credit rating for any asset that may be acquired by a Bank under the safety and soundness provisions of proposed § 955.3(a)(3). Second, under proposed § 954.2(c)(2), to the extent that the Bank requires, either at the time of acquisition or subsequently, that the assets or pools of assets have a credit rating higher than the fourth highest credit rating category, the member or eligible nonmember borrower must bear at least 50 percent of any credit risk necessary to raise the assets or pools of assets from the fourth highest credit rating category to such higher credit rating category, up to the second highest credit rating category (e.g., double-A.). Third, under proposed § 954.2(c)(3), notwithstanding the first two parts of the credit risk-sharing test, the member or eligible nonmember borrower must bear a material portion of any credit risk up to the second highest credit rating. This provision is intended to ensure that the member or eligible nonmember borrower does bear enough credit risk to share in the financial consequences of the asset quality no matter what transaction structure might be devised with a consequence of mitigating the credit risk-sharing requirement of the first two parts.

Under proposed § 954.2(c)(4), to the extent that the U.S. government has insured or guaranteed the credit risk of the asset or pool of assets, the member or eligible nonmember borrower may rely upon that insurance or guarantee to meet all or part of the above-mentioned credit risk-sharing requirements. For example, loans that are fully insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA), and GNMA securities, which are fully guaranteed by the U.S. government, would be considered to meet the credit risk-sharing requirement. Such loans and securities, however, also would have to meet the member or eligible nonmember borrower nexus requirement in proposed § 954.2(b) in order to qualify as MMA. To the extent that the U.S. government insurance or guarantee is insufficient or incomplete to cover the member's or eligible nonmember borrower's credit risk-sharing requirement, that portion of the requirement not so covered must be borne by the member or eligible nonmember borrower. This provision allows that the federal government, alone, may substitute for the member or eligible nonmember borrower in meeting the credit risk-sharing requirement.

The Finance Board specifically requests comment on whether authorizing the Banks to acquire federally-insured or guaranteed mortgages or mortgage pools without any such member or eligible nonmember borrower nexus would enhance the liquidity of the marketplace for investments that promote housing and targeted economic development sufficiently to justify any diminution in the cooperative nature of the Bank System that may result. The Finance Board also seeks comment on whether loans originated by municipalities, pursuant to section 108 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (amended in 1994), or by tribes pursuant to Title VI of NAHASDA, where the municipalities or tribes are not eligible nonmember borrowers, should be authorized to be acquired by the Banks because of the enhancement to the liquidity of the marketplace for such housing, notwithstanding any diminution in the cooperative nature of the Bank System that might result.

The MMA tests set forth in proposed part 954 are intended to allow the Banks and their members and eligible nonmember borrowers the freedom to employ a variety of transactional structures so long as the transaction involves a qualifying asset or pool of assets, is acquired by a Bank pursuant to a transaction with a member or eligible nonmember borrower, and satisfies the credit risk-sharing requirement. Examples of two types of purchases that would meet the requirements are: (1) the Bank originates a loan or pool of loans and gets the needed credit enhancement from the member (i.e., the member provides a direct credit substitute); or (2) the member or eligible nonmember borrower sells the loan to the Bank with recourse.

2. MPF

The purchase by a Bank of one-to-four family mortgages that fall within the conforming loan limits applicable to the secondary market GSEs was approved by the Finance Board under section II.B.12 of the FMP in December 1996. See Finance Board Res. No. 96-111 (Dec. 23, 1996). At that time, the Finance Board approved a pilot program proposed by the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago (Chicago Bank), known as the Mortgage Partnership Finance program (MPF), to fund one-to-four family residential mortgage loans originated by member institutions. The objective of the pilot program was to unbundle the risks associated with home mortgage lending and allocate the individual risk components between the Chicago Bank and its members in a manner that best employs their respective core competencies. That is, the members would continue to manage the customer relationship and the credit risk, while the Chicago Bank would retain the liquidity, interest rate and options risks—the risks that the Banks have the most expertise in managing.

MPF transactions are functionally equivalent to, though technically more sophisticated than, advances transactions authorized under section 10(a) of the Act. The Finance Board considered the two transactions to be functionally equivalent because, in both cases, the Bank takes an interest in mortgages originated by its member or eligible nonmember borrower and, in return, provides that member or eligible nonmember borrower with liquidity for further mortgage lending. In both cases, the member or eligible nonmember borrower bears all or a significant portion of the credit risk: in the case of advances, because the member or eligible nonmember borrower still owns the mortgage; in the case of MPF, because the member or eligible nonmember borrower provides a credit enhancement when selling the mortgage to, or funding the mortgage through, the Bank. Although, under the MPF program, the Bank acquires an ownership interest in the mortgage loans—as opposed to a mere security interest, as it would in the case of an advance transaction—the Finance Board found this structure to be permissible because the Banks may invest in mortgages pursuant to their statutory investment powers.

Based on the experience with the MPF program to date, the Finance Board has concluded that this line of business could constitute a major business activity for the Banks that, along with their more traditional advances business, is consistent with the cooperative structure of the Banks—i.e., that does not cause the Banks to compete with members and, in fact, makes members participating in the program more competitive. As a result, mortgage acquisition activities by the Banks that meet the requirements of proposed part 954 will no longer be treated as pilot activities.

The proposed rule will thus encourage the Banks to purchase more MMA, with the anticipated consequence of increasing competition in the home mortgage markets and thus lowering home prices for consumers. The Finance Board requests comment on whether this anticipated benefit to consumers is a reasonable expectation.

The Finance Board also specifically requests comment on whether all MBS should be counted in whole or in some limited amount as CMA, and how counting such MBS could be reconciled with the member or eligible nonmember borrower nexus and credit risk-sharing requirements of MMA.

Once the Banks have developed more experience in acquiring MMA, the Finance Board intends to set housing targets for MMA similar to those that HUD is required by statute to set for Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. The Federal Housing Enterprises Financial Safety and Soundness Act of 1992 directed HUD to establish housing goals for the GSEs' mortgage purchases in three specific areas: (1) housing for low- and moderate-income families; (2) housing located in central cities, rural areas, and other underserved areas; and (3) special affordable housing to meet unaddressed needs of low-income families in low-income areas and very-low-income families. See 12 U.S.C. 4541 et seq. The purpose of subjecting the Banks to such targets would be to assure that all GSE-funded mortgage originators have similar incentives and pressures to reach underserved markets. This is an element of creating a level playing field among the housing GSEs.

G. Part 955—Bank investments

1. Authorized Investments—§ 955.2

As previously discussed, the Banks' investment authority is derived from sections 11(g), 11(h) and 16(a) of the Act. 12 U.S.C. 1431(g), 1431(h), 1436(a). Section 934.1 of the Finance Board's current regulations limits the Banks' investment authority by requiring Finance Board approval for investments not already authorized by stated policy or otherwise. See 12 CFR 934.1(a). The Finance Board adopted the FMP as its stated investment policy pursuant to the regulation. The FMP restricts Bank investments to those listed in the FMP. Sections 955.2 and 955.3 of the proposed rule would establish the parameters of the Banks' investment authority under the proposed new regulatory structure.

Proposed § 955.2 would authorize the Banks to invest in all instruments in which they are permitted to invest under the Act (with the exception of Fannie Mae common stock), see 12 U.S.C. 1431(g), 1431(h), 1436(a), subject to the restrictions set forth in proposed § 955.3. These investments include: (a) obligations of the United States, see 12 U.S.C. 1431(g), 1431(h) and 1436(a); (b) deposits in banks or trust companies (as defined in proposed § 955.1), see id. at 1431(g); (c) obligations, participations or other instruments of, or issued by, Fannie Mae or Ginnie Mae, see id. at 1431(h), 1436(a); (d) mortgages, obligations, or other securities that are, or ever have been sold by Freddie Mac, see id. at 1431(h), 1436(a); (e) stock, obligations, or other securities of any SBIC formed pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 681(d) (to the extent such investment is made for purposes of aiding Bank members),²⁴ see 12 U.S.C. 1431(h); and (f) instruments that the Bank has determined are permissible investments for fiduciary and trust funds under the laws of the state in which the Bank is located, see id. at 1431(h), 1436(a).

The Banks' investment authority under the proposed rule essentially tracks the parameters of that which may be permitted under the Act. Because several different provisions of the Act address the investment powers of the Banks, the Finance Board has consolidated and restated the substance of these investment authorities in proposed § 955.2. The only investment that is explicitly mentioned in the Act that is not permitted under proposed § 955.2 is investment in the stock of Fannie Mae. As discussed in more detail below, proposed § 955.3(a)(1) would restrict equity investments to those that qualify as CMA under proposed part 940. Because the Finance Board does not believe that Fannie Mae stock could under any circumstances qualify as a CMA, and because Fannie Mae stock is not an authorized investment under the FMP and is not currently held as an investment by any Bank, it has simply been omitted from the list of authorized investments in proposed § 955.2 in order to avoid confusion.

Both sections 11(h) and 16(a) of the Act state that the Banks may be authorized to invest in "such securities as fiduciary and trust funds may be invested in under the laws of the state in which the . . . Bank is located." See id. at 1431(h), 1436(a). In restating this authority in § 955.2(f) of the proposed rule, the word "instruments" has been substituted for the word "securities" to reflect in the rule the Finance Board's construction of the term "securities" as it is used in sections 11(h) and 16(a) of the Act to encompass the broad range of financial investment instruments and not merely those instruments that are within the technical definition of "securities" set forth in the federal securities laws. See 15 U.S.C 77b(1).

2. Prohibited Investments and Prudential Rules—§ 955.3

The broad investment authority established under proposed § 955.2 would be limited by a number of safety and soundness- and mission-related restrictions set forth in proposed § 955.3. Proposed § 955.3(a)(1) would prohibit the Banks from making any investment in instruments that would provide an ownership interest in an entity (e.g., common or preferred stock, rights, warrants or convertible bonds), other than those investments that would qualify as CMA under proposed § 940.3, as discussed more fully above. Thus, under the proposed rule, the actual equity investment powers of the Banks will be quite narrow and focused upon core mission activities.

Proposed § 955.3(a)(2) would prohibit the Banks from investing in instruments issued by foreign entities, except United States branches and agency offices of foreign commercial banks. Such instruments conceivably could qualify as permissible investments for fiduciary and trust funds and, therefore, would be permissible Bank investment unless specifically prohibited. This is consistent with the current prohibition in the FMP. See Finance Board Res. No. 97-05 (Jan. 14, 1997).

Proposed § 955.3(a)(3) would prohibit the Banks from investing in debt instruments that are not rated as investment grade (i.e., one of the four highest rating categories given by an NRSRO). Despite the risk management provisions in the proposed rule under which the Banks are expected to manage whatever risks they might incur as part of their business operations, the Finance Board is imposing this specific prohibition on the acquisition of non-investment grade debt as a further safety and soundness measure. Under proposed § 955.3(a)(3), the Banks would not be required to divest themselves of debt instruments that are downgraded to below investment grade after they already have been acquired by the Bank. Any additional risk that would arise from such a scenario would be managed through the application of the higher credit risk capital requirement applicable to the downgraded instrument. See proposed § 930.4(d)(3).

Finally, proposed § 955.3(a)(4) would prohibit the Banks from acquiring whole mortgages or other whole loans, or interests in mortgages or loans, except for: (i) MMA, as defined under part 954 of the proposed rule; (ii) MBS that would meet the definition of "securities" in the Securities Act of 1933, 15 U.S.C. 77b(a)(1); and (iii) loans held or acquired pursuant to section 12(b) of the Act, 12 U.S.C. 1432(b). As described in detail above, proposed part 954 establishes parameters regarding the types of mortgages and loans, or interests in mortgages and loans, that the Banks may acquire and the nature of the transactions through which such assets may be acquired. Proposed § 955.3(a)(4) is designed to prohibit the holding, purchase or acquisition of jumbo mortgages and whole mortgages other than MMA, and otherwise prevent the Banks from circumventing the requirements of part 954. However, the Banks are not prohibited from holding, purchasing and acquiring MBS that would meet the definition of that term under the federal securities laws.

The reference in proposed § 955.3(a)(4)(ii) to the definition of securities in the Securities Act of 1933 is consistent with the Finance Board's analysis of the term securities as it is used in the Bank investment authority provisions of the Act. See discussion above of proposed § 955.2. As discussed above, for purposes of the Bank's investment authority generally, the Finance Board has construed the term "securities" as it is used in sections 11(h) and 16(a) of the Act, 12 U.S.C. 1431(h), 1436(a), to encompass the broad range of financial investment instruments in a common business sense, and not merely to mean those instruments that are within the technical definition of "securities" in the federal securities laws. However, for purposes of proposed § 955.3, the Finance Board has proposed limitations and restrictions on otherwise-authorized investments, which it is explicitly authorized to do under sections 11(h) and 16(a) of the Act. Limiting investments in mortgage-backed securities to those that would meet a narrower definition of the term "securities" than is contemplated under the investment authority provisions of the Act only serves to emphasize the differences in the use of the term under the different statutes and to bolster the Finance Board's construction of the term under the Act.

Proposed § 955.3(b) would prohibit a Bank from taking a position in any commodity or foreign currency. Proposed § 955.3(b) also provides that, in the event that a Bank becomes exposed to currency, commodity or equity risks through participation in COs that are linked to a foreign currency or to equity or commodity prices, such risks must be hedged. The Banks currently do not have expertise in these areas and the Finance Board can discern no reason for the Banks to have or develop expertise in managing the risks ²⁴ The Finance Board has determined that the phrase "for the purpose of aiding members of the . . . Bank System" relates not just to the formation of the SBIC but also to the nature and purpose of the investment.

Section 955.3(c) of the proposed rule prohibits a Bank from making investments that are not permitted under the FMP as to such Bank until the Bank: (1) has received Finance Board approval of its initial internal market risk model; (2) demonstrates to the Finance Board that it has sufficient risk-based capital to meet the minimum total risk-based capital requirement under proposed § 930.4(b) for its then-current portfolio; and (3) demonstrates to the Finance Board adequate credit risk assessment and procedures and controls sufficient to show control over credit, market and operations risks.

As discussed above, one of the reasons that the Finance Board is proposing to allow the Banks broadened investment authority is because, under the proposed rule, the Banks will have risk-based capital and other risk management requirements to counterbalance any increased risk that might be associated with new investments. Therefore, until a Bank has sufficient risk-based capital in place to support its current portfolio, and until the Bank demonstrates to the Finance Board that it has adequate risk management capabilities, the Finance Board finds it necessary, as a safety and soundness measure, to continue to require the Banks to operate within the existing FMP framework.

Although proposed § 955.3 would impose several safety and soundness- and mission-related restrictions upon the Banks' general investment authority set forth in proposed § 955.2, the overall effect of these proposed investment provisions would be to allow the Banks considerably more freedom in making investment decisions within the statutory parameters than is currently permitted. Under the FMP, the Banks are authorized to invest in a list of specific investments that is narrower than that in which the Banks may invest under the parameters set by the Act. Under the FMP, Banks wishing to make investments that may be permissible under the statute, but that are not specifically enumerated in the FMP, must obtain the permission of the Finance Board before making the investment.

The approach to Bank investment authorizations reflected in the FMP allows for little discretion on the part of Banks' senior management and boards of directors in determining the appropriate investments and optimal risk/return strategy for their Banks. This approach was designed to limit the Banks' exposure to risk because the Banks do not currently operate under a risk-based capital structure, which would allow the Banks to assume more investment risk, provided that there is sufficient capital in place to support that risk. Because, under the proposed rule, the Banks would operate under such a risk-based capital structure, it would no longer be necessary to impose such stringent limits on the investment authority for safety and soundness purposes.

Some of the limits on the investment authority reflected in the FMP also were intended, to some extent, to focus the Banks' investments on mission-related activities. As more fully described above, under proposed part 940, each Bank would be required to invest 100 percent of the proceeds from its share of the COs in CMA. This requirement would eliminate the need to focus the Banks' investments upon mission activities through the use of a specific list of authorized investments and specific limits on certain types of investments. In addition, a specific list intended to include all authorized investments would not provide the Banks with the flexibility to adapt to new developments in the marketplace and would stifle the development of new types of mission-related activities and investments.

Under the proposed rule, the Banks would be permitted to make any authorized investment with sources of funds other than those provided by the COs. Consistent with the Finance Board's ongoing devolution of management and governance functions to the Banks, the Finance Board believes that the selection of appropriate investments to be made with that portion of a Bank's funds that are not obtained through use of the capital market funding advantage that arises from the Banks' status as GSEs is an area more appropriate for oversight by the Banks' boards of directors (subject to safety and soundness constraints imposed by the proposed rule) than by their regulator. Nonetheless, it is expected that the Banks' boards of directors would establish appropriate guidelines for investments when adopting the risk management policy required under this proposed rule.

3. Use of Hedging Instruments—§ 955.4

Section 955.4 of the proposed rule addresses the Banks' use of hedging instruments. Proposed § 955.4(a) would prohibit the Banks from making speculative use of hedging instruments. This is not an activity that is appropriate for the Banks to enter, as it would do nothing to further the mission of the Banks, while posing risks to the safety and soundness of the Banks.

Section 955.4(b) of the proposed rule would subject all Bank hedge transactions to the hedge requirements set forth in Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) and statements promulgated by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB). Because GAAP prescribes extensive rules for hedging transactions that are followed by most market participants, the Finance Board finds it prudent to subject the Banks to these same requirements, rather than attempting to establish separate rules over such a complex subject.

Section 955.4(c) of the proposed rule would govern the documentation that each Bank must have and maintain during the life of each hedge. Proposed § 955.4(c)(1) would require that each Bank's hedging strategies be explicitly documented at the time of the execution of the hedge, and adequate documentation of the hedge must be maintained for the life of the hedge. Proposed § 955.4(c)(2) would require that transactions with a single counterparty be governed by a single master agreement when practicable. Proposed § 955.4(c)(3) would govern Bank agreements with counterparties for over-the-counter derivative contracts by requiring each agreement to include: (i) a requirement that market value determinations and subsequent adjustments of collateral be made on at least a monthly basis; (ii) a statement that failure of a counterparty to meet a collateral call will result in an early termination event; (iii) a description of early termination pricing and methodology; and (iv) a requirement that the Bank's consent be obtained prior to the transfer of an agreement or contract by a counterparty.

All of these requirements are carried over from the FMP. The requirements are intended to ensure that the Banks monitor and manage their exposure to counterparties and that the agreements in place with counterparties provide adequate legal protection to the Banks. Because the risk-based capital requirements contained in the proposed rule do not directly alter or replace the need to address these issues, the Finance Board finds it appropriate to continue to impose these requirements on Bank hedge transactions.

Under the FMP, the Banks' use of hedging instruments is limited to a specific list of hedging instruments. The use of the various hedging instruments by the Banks is permitted provided they assist the Bank in achieving its interest rate and/or basis risk management objectives. Like the FMP's Investment Guidelines, the Hedge Transaction Guidelines of the FMP contain some detailed requirements that are no longer necessary. The unsecured credit concentration limits set forth in proposed § 930.11 and the credit risk-based capital requirements set forth in proposed § 930.5 would eliminate the need for provisions addressing unsecured credit exposure and collateralization. In addition, because the Finance Board is removing the restrictions on certain types of investments, it would be inconsistent to continue to restrict swaps with characteristics similar to those investments.

H. Part 958—Off-Balance Sheet Items

Proposed § 958.2(a) authorizes the Banks to enter into the following types of off-balance sheet transactions: SLOCs; derivative contracts; forward asset purchases and sales; and commitments to make advances or other loans. This authorization essentially codifies the types of off-balance transactions that already have been authorized by the Finance Board. The Finance Board specifically requests comment on whether there are additional types of off-balance sheet transactions that it should consider authorizing.

Proposed § 958.2(b) prohibits the Banks from making speculative use of derivative contracts. As previously discussed in the general context of hedging instruments, speculating with derivatives contracts is not an activity that would be appropriate for the Banks to enter, as it would do nothing to further the mission of the Banks, while posing risks to the safety and soundness of the Banks.

I. Part 965—Sources of Funds

Proposed § 965.2 sets forth the types of liabilities authorized for Bank business operations. The Funding Guidelines section of the FMP sets forth the parameters for the use of alternative funding sources and structures by the Banks in funding their activities. The guidelines differentiate between Bank specific liabilities and COs, which are the joint and several liabilities of the Banks. See FMP sections IV.B. and C.

Under the FMP, authorized Bank specific liabilities generally include: (1) deposits from members, from any institution for which a Bank is providing correspondent services, from another Bank, and from other instrumentalities of the United States; (2) federal funds purchased from any financial institution that participates in the federal funds market; and (3) repurchase agreements, with the provision that those requiring the delivery of collateral by a Bank may be only with Federal Reserve Banks, U.S.

Government Sponsored Agencies and Instrumentalities, primary dealers recognized by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, eligible financial institutions,²⁵ and states and municipalities with a Moody's Investment Grade rating of 1 or 2.

Under the FMP, a Bank is authorized to participate in the proceeds from COs, so long as entering into such transactions will not cause the Bank's total COs and unsecured senior liabilities to exceed 20 times its capital. See id. at IV.C. The FMP authorizes a Bank to participate in certain types of standard and non-standard debt issues. See id. Specifically, the FMP requires that Banks participating in non-standard debt issues must enter into a contemporaneous hedging arrangement that allows the interest rate and/or basis risk to be passed through to the hedge counterparty unless the Bank is able to document that the debt will: (a) be used to fund mirror-image assets in an amount equal to the debt; or (b) offset or reduce interest rate or basis risk in the Bank's portfolio, or otherwise assist the Bank in achieving its interest rate and/or basis risk management objectives. If a Bank participates in debt denominated in a currency other than U.S. Dollars, it is required to hedge the currency exchange risk. See id. at IV.C.3.

The FMP also prohibits a Bank from directly placing COs with another Bank. See id. at IV.C.4.

Proposed § 965.2(a) sets forth each Bank's authority to act as joint and several obligor with other Banks on COs, as authorized under proposed part 966. The proposed rule does not draw the distinction between standard and non-standard debt issues contained in the FMP. Instead, proposed § 955.3(b) requires that some types of debt issues previously defined as non-standard be hedged. The types of debt issues that must be hedged under the proposed rule are those linked to equity or commodity prices or those denominated in foreign currencies. Other types of debt issues previously defined as non-standard need not be hedged, but these debt issues will be included in the market risk calculation in the proposed rule. The proposed rule does not include the 20 to 1 leverage limit from § 910.1(b) of the Finance Board's existing regulations, or the 20 to 1 leverage limit on each Bank contained in the FMP. Instead, the proposed rule requires each Bank to have total capital in an amount equal to at least 3 percent of total assets, and requires each Bank to hold risk-based capital to meet a risk-based capital requirement. See proposed §§ 930.3(a) and 930.4(a).

Proposed § 965.2(b) continues the existing prohibition on directly placing COs with another Bank. It is the opinion of the Finance Board that such placements do not further the mission of the Bank System.

COs have been the traditional source for most of the funds required for Bank operations. The remaining sources of funds have been deposits and member capital. As discussed above under proposed part 940, once the rule is fully phased in, 100 percent of COs would be required to be invested in CMA. The Banks, therefore, still would be able to invest deposits and member capital in any assets authorized under the proposed rule. Growing sophistication in the creation of off-balance sheet instruments could lead to efforts to circumvent the CMA requirement. For example, it may be possible to create tradeable deposits, which would be more similar to bonds than to deposits as the term is traditionally understood. The Banks also could use repurchase agreements to leverage deposits or capital. COs used to finance MBS may be replaced with repurchase agreements, using the MBS as collateral. In this way, the letter of the CMA requirement, but not the substance of the requirement—a shift in the composition of the balance sheet towards CMA—might be met. A Bank could hold non-CMA assets, including MBS, equal to several times its level of deposits plus capital.

Therefore, proposed § 965.2(b) continues each Bank's authority to accept deposits from members, other Banks and instrumentalities of the United States, but provides that the deposit transaction may not be conducted in such a way as to result in the offer or sale of a security in a public offering as those terms are used in 15 U.S.C. 77b(3). In addition, recognizing the importance of federal funds and repurchase agreements for the Banks' liquidity management, proposed § 965.2(c) allows a Bank to purchase federal funds and enter into repurchase agreements, but only in order to satisfy the Banks' short-term liquidity needs.

Proposed § 965.3 would require each Bank to invest an amount equal to current deposits received from members in: (1) Obligations of the United States; (2) deposits in banks or trust companies; and (3) advances with a maturity of five years or less made to members in conformity with the advances provisions of the Finance Board regulations (existing part 935; redesignated part 950).

Section 11(g) of the Act, 12 U.S.C. 1431(g), requires each Bank to maintain deposit reserves in: (1) obligations of the United States; (2) deposits in banks or trust companies; (3) advances with a maturity of five years or less made to members, upon such terms and conditions as the Finance Board may prescribe; or (4) unsecured advances with a maturity of not to exceed five years which are made to members whose creditor liabilities do not exceed five percent of their net assets. Proposed § 965.3 is intended to implement this statutory requirement and to clarify the types of advances that count toward the deposit reserve requirement (the Banks currently are not permitted to make unsecured advances). The definition of the term "deposits in banks or trust companies" contained in proposed § 965.1 is identical to the definition of that term set forth in existing § 934.4.

J. Part 966—Consolidated Obligations and Debentures

Existing part 910 of the Finance Board's regulations, "Consolidated Bonds and Debentures," has been proposed to be redesignated as new part 966 in the proposed reorganization regulation. Part 966 of this proposed rule retains in large part the provisions of existing part 910, with certain proposed amendments, which are included in this rulemaking and discussed here.

Specifically, §§ 910.0 through 910.6 of the Finance Board's existing regulations, would be redesignated as §§ 966.1 through 966.7 and existing § 910.1(b) (which imposes a 20-to-1 COs and unsecured senior liabilities to capital stock leverage limit on the Bank System) would be deleted. Proposed § 966.7 has been revised from existing § 910.6 to: delete references to the leverage limit; clarify and simplify the provision whereby the Finance Board may implement changes to the negative pledge requirement²⁶ in § 966.2(b) if the principal and interest on outstanding senior bonds have been fully defeased; and delete current § 910.6(b)(2), which purports to impose limitations on the Finance Board's ability to change the leverage limit provision in current § 910.1(b). In connection with these proposed amendments, it is the intention of the Finance Board to preserve the existence of the special asset accounts at the Banks established when the leverage limit in current part 910 was raised in 1992 from 12-to-1 to 20-to-1. See Finance Board Res. No. 92-751 (Dec. 21, 1992). Current § 910.6(b)(2) provides that current § 910.1(b) may be changed by the Finance Board if the Finance Board receives either: (i) written evidence from at least one major nationally recognized securities rating agency that the proposed change will not result in the lowering of that rating agency's then-current rating or assessment on senior bonds outstanding or next to be issued; or (ii) a written opinion from an investment banking firm that the proposed change would not have a materially adverse effect on the creditworthiness of senior bonds outstanding or next to be issued. The Finance Board has consulted with the ratings agencies in developing this proposed rule. The proposal requires that the Banks maintain the triple-A rating of Bank System COs.

K. Part 980—New Business Activities

The proposed changes to the Banks' authorized investment authority would create opportunities for the Banks to undertake new business activities that they have not undertaken in the past and, therefore, could expose the Banks to risks that they have not had to manage in the past. In order to ensure that entering into new types of business activities will not create safety and soundness concerns, § 980.2 of the proposed rule would require each Bank to provide 30 days notice to the Finance Board of any new business activity that the Bank wishes to undertake—including investing in new types of instruments—so that the Finance Board may disapprove or restrict such activities, as necessary, on a case-by-case basis. Proposed § 980.1 defines a "new business activity" as meaning, with respect to a particular Bank's activities: (1) an activity that was not previously undertaken by that Bank, or was undertaken under materially different terms and conditions; (2) an activity that entails risks not previously and regularly managed by that Bank or its members; or (3) an activity that introduces operations not substantially equivalent to operations currently managed by that Bank. The test of what constitutes a new activity for a particular Bank is intended to focus attention on worthy new activities. The prior notice requirement would apply to any Bank desiring to pursue a new activity, even if another Bank has already undertaken the same activity.

IV. Regulatory Flexibility Act

The proposed rule applies only to the Banks, which do not come within the meaning of "small entities," as defined in the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA). See 5 U.S.C. 601(6). Therefore, in accordance with section 605(b) of the RFA, see id. at 605(b), the Finance Board hereby certifies that this proposed rule, if promulgated as a final rule, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

V. Paperwork Reduction Act

This proposed rule does not contain any collections of information pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995. See 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. Therefore, the Finance Board has not submitted any information to the Office of Management and Budget for review.

(2) Ensuring that all Bank personnel fully understand and comply with all policies and procedures;

(3) Ensuring that there is appropriate segregation of duties among Bank personnel and that personnel are not assigned conflicting responsibilities;

(4) Establishing effective paths of communication upward, downward and across the organization in order to ensure that Bank personnel receive necessary and appropriate information, including:

(7) Overseeing the implementation and maintenance of management information and other systems;

(8) Establishing and implementing an effective system to track internal control weaknesses and the actions taken to correct them; and

(9) Monitoring and reporting to the Bank's board of directors the effectiveness of the internal control system on an ongoing basis.

§ 917.5 Audit committees.

(a) Establishment. The board of directors of each Bank shall establish an audit committee, consistent with the requirements set forth in this section.

(3) The terms of audit committee members shall be appropriately staggered so as to provide for continuity of service.

(4) All members of the audit committee shall have a working familiarity with basic finance and accounting practices, and at least one member of the audit committee shall have extensive accounting or financial management expertise. If the board of directors determines that there are not a sufficient number of board directors possessing the necessary skills and expertise to qualify for service on the audit committee (considering the representation requirements of paragraph (b)(2) of this section), the board of directors shall:

(i) In the case of audit committee representation of appointive directors, provide written notification to the Finance Board for consideration when appointing directors; and

(ii) In the case of audit committee representation of elective directors, include in the Election Announcement required under § 915.6(a) of this chapter, a statement describing the skills or expertise needed.

(c) Independence. Any member of the Bank's board of directors shall be considered to be sufficiently independent to serve as a member of the audit committee if that director does not have a disqualifying relationship with the Bank or its management that would interfere with the exercise of that director's independent judgment. Such disqualifying relationships shall include, but shall not be limited to:

(1) Being employed by the Bank in the current year or any of the past five years;

(2) Accepting any compensation from the Bank other than compensation for service as a board director;

(3) Serving or having served in any of the past five years as a consultant, advisor, promoter, underwriter, or legal counsel of or to the Bank; or

(4) Being an immediate family member of an individual who is, or has been in any of the past five years, employed by the Bank.

(d) Charter. (1) The audit committee of each Bank shall adopt, and the Bank's board of directors shall approve, a formal written charter that specifies the scope of the audit committee's powers and responsibilities, as well as the audit committee's structure, processes and membership requirements.

(2) The audit committee and the board of directors of each Bank shall:

(i) Review the Bank's audit committee charter on an annual basis; and

(ii) Have the authority to adopt and approve, respectively, amendments to the audit committee charter at any time; and

(iii) Re-adopt and re-approve, respectively, the Bank's audit committee charter not less often than every three years.

(3) Each Bank's audit committee charter shall:

(i) Provide that the internal auditor may be removed only with the approval of the audit committee;

(ii) Provide that the internal auditor shall report directly to the audit committee on substantive matters and to the Bank President on administrative matters;

(iii) Empower the audit committee to retain outside counsel, independent accountants, or other outside consultants; and

(iv) Provide that both the internal auditor and the external auditor shall have unrestricted access to the audit committee without the need for any prior management knowledge or approval.

(e) Duties. Each Bank's audit committee shall have the duty to:

(1) Ensure that senior management maintains the reliability and integrity of the accounting policies and financial reporting and disclosure practices of the Bank;

(2) Review the basis for the Bank's financial statements and the external auditor's opinion rendered with respect to such financial statements (including the nature and extent of any significant changes in accounting principles or the application therein) and ensure disclosure and transparency regarding the Bank's true financial performance and governance practices;

(3) Oversee the internal audit function by:

(i) Reviewing the scope of audit services required, significant accounting policies, significant risks and exposures, audit activities and audit findings;

(ii) Assessing the performance, and determining the compensation, of the internal auditor; and

(iii) Reviewing and approving the internal auditor's work plan;

(4) Oversee the external audit function by:

(i) Approving the external auditor's annual engagement letter;

(ii) Reviewing the performance of the external auditor; and

(iii) Making recommendations to the Bank's board of directors regarding the appointment, renewal, or termination of the external auditor;

(5) Provide an independent, direct channel of communication between the Bank's board of directors and the internal and external auditors;

(6) Conduct or authorize investigations into any matters within the audit committee's scope of responsibilities;

(7) Ensure that senior management has established and is maintaining an adequate internal control system within the Bank by:

(i) Reviewing the adequacy of the Bank's internal control system and the resolution of identified material weaknesses and reportable conditions in the internal control system, including the prevention or detection of management override or compromise of the internal control system; and

(ii) Reviewing the programs and policies of the Bank designed to ensure compliance with applicable laws, regulations and policies and monitoring the results of these compliance efforts;

(8) Ensure that senior management has established and is maintaining adequate policies and procedures to ensure that the Bank can assess, monitor and control compliance with its mission achievement policy; and

(9) Report periodically its findings to the Bank's board of directors.

(f) Meetings. The audit committee shall prepare written minutes of each audit committee meeting.

§ 917.6 Budget preparation and reporting requirements.

(a) Adoption of annual Bank budgets. (1) Each Bank's board of directors shall be responsible for the adoption of an annual operating expense budget and a capital expenditures budget for the Bank, and any subsequent amendments thereto, consistent with the requirements of the Act, this section, other regulations and policies of the Finance Board, and with the Bank's responsibility to protect both its members and the public interest by keeping its costs to an efficient and effective minimum.

(2) Pursuant to the requirement of section 12(a) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1432(a)), a Bank must obtain prior approval of the Finance Board before purchasing or erecting, or leasing for a term of more than 10 years, a building to house the Bank.

(3) A Bank's board of directors may not delegate the authority to approve the Bank's annual budgets, or any subsequent amendments thereto, to Bank officers or other Bank employees.

(4) A Bank's annual budgets shall be prepared based upon an interest rate scenario as determined by the Bank.

(5) A Bank may not exceed its total annual operating expense budget or its total annual capital expenditures budget without prior approval by the Bank's board of directors of an amendment to such budget.

(b) Budget reports. Each Bank shall submit to the Finance Board, by January 31 of each year, in a format and as further prescribed by the Finance Board, such Bank budgets and other financial information as the Finance Board shall require, including the following:

(1) Balance sheet projections;

(2) Income statement projections, including operating expense budget data and staffing levels;

(3) Capital expenditures budget data;

(4) Management discussion of expected financial performance;

(5) Strategic or business plan;

(6) Interest rate assumptions; and

(7) A copy of the Bank's board of directors resolution adopting the Bank's annual operating expense budget and capital expenditures budget.

(c) Report on amendments to total annual budgets. A Bank shall submit promptly to the Finance Board a copy of the Bank's board of directors resolution adopting any amendment increasing a Bank's total annual operating expense budget or total annual capital expenditures budget above originally-approved budget limits.

(d) Mid-year reforecasting report. Each Bank shall submit to the Finance Board, by July 31 of each year, in a format and as further prescribed by the Finance Board, a report containing a balance sheet and income statement setting forth reforecasted projections for the year relative to the budget projections for that year as originally approved or amended, including a management discussion explaining any significant changes in the reforecasted projections from the budget projections as originally approved or amended.

(e) Annual actual performance results report. Each Bank shall submit to the Finance Board, by January 31 of each year, in a format and as further prescribed by the Finance Board, a report containing a balance sheet and income statement setting forth the actual performance results for the prior year relative to the budget projections for that year as originally approved or amended, including a management discussion explaining any significant changes in the actual performance results from the budget projections as originally approved or amended.

§ 917.7 Dividends.

The board of directors of each Bank may, without the Finance Board's prior approval, declare and pay a dividend from net earnings, including previously retained earnings, on the paid-in value of capital stock held during the dividend period, as determined by the Bank, so long as such payment will not result in a projected impairment of the par value of the capital stock of the Bank. Dividends on such stock shall be computed without preference and only for the period such stock was outstanding during the dividend period. Dividends may be paid in cash or in the form of stock.

§ 917.8 Approval of Bank bylaws.

The board of directors of a Bank may prescribe, amend, or repeal bylaws governing the manner in which the Bank administers its affairs without the Finance Board's prior approval, provided that the bylaws or amendments are consistent with applicable statutes, regulations and Finance Board policies.

§ 930.2 Bank System and individual Bank credit ratings.

(a) Bank System credit rating. (1) The Banks, collectively, shall obtain from an NRSRO, and at all times maintain, a current credit rating on the Banks' consolidated obligations.

(2) Each Bank shall operate in such a manner and take any actions necessary to ensure that the Banks' consolidated obligations receive and continue to receive the highest credit rating from any NRSRO by which the consolidated obligations have been then rated.

(b) Individual Bank credit rating. Each Bank shall operate in such a manner and take any actions necessary to ensure that the Bank has and maintains an individual issuer credit rating of at least the second highest credit rating from any NRSRO providing a rating, where such rating is:

(1) A meaningful measure of the individual Bank's financial strength and stability, apart from the GSE status of the Bank System;

(2) Obtained from an NRSRO that states in writing to the Bank that its rating conforms with paragraph (b)(1) of this section; and

(3) Updated at least annually, or more frequently as required by the Finance Board to reflect any material changes in the condition of the Bank.

(c) Transition provision. Each Bank shall obtain the credit rating from an NRSRO required under paragraph (b) of this section within one calendar year of the effective date of this part.

§ 930.3 Minimum total capital requirement.

(b) Safety and soundness exception. For reasons of safety and soundness, the Finance Board may require an individual Bank to have and maintain a higher minimum capital ratio than the ratio set forth in paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 930.4 Minimum total risk-based capital requirement.

(a) General. Each Bank shall have and maintain at all times total risk-based capital in an amount at least equal to the sum of its credit risk capital requirement, its market risk capital requirement, and its operations risk capital requirement, calculated in accordance with §§ 930.5, 930.6 and 930.7, respectively.

(b) Transition provisions. (1) Each Bank shall be required to meet its minimum total risk-based capital requirement under paragraph (a) of this section within 90 calendar days after the Finance Board's approval of the Bank's internal market risk model.

(2) No Bank shall be governed by the capital requirements of this part, and each Bank shall continue to be governed by the Financial Management Policy, until:

(i) The Bank has received Finance Board approval of the Bank's internal market risk model and the Bank's risk management policy;

(ii) The Bank demonstrates to the Finance Board that it has sufficient risk-based capital to meet the minimum total risk-based capital requirement under paragraph (a) of this section for its then-current portfolio; and

(iii) The Bank demonstrates to the Finance Board, in its risk management policy or otherwise, risk assessment procedures and controls sufficient to

§ 930.5 Credit risk capital requirement.

(a) General requirement. A Bank's credit risk capital requirement equals the sum of the Bank's credit risk capital requirements for all on-balance sheet assets and off-balance sheet items.

(b) Credit risk capital requirements for on-balance sheet assets. A Bank's credit risk capital requirement for a specific on-balance sheet asset shall be equal to the book value of the asset multiplied by the specific credit risk percentage requirement assigned to that category of credit risk pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section.

(c) Credit risk capital requirement for off-balance sheet items. A Bank's credit risk capital requirement for a specific off-balance sheet item shall be equal to the credit equivalent amount of such item, as determined pursuant to paragraphs (e), (f), or (g) of this section, as applicable, multiplied by the specific credit risk percentage requirement assigned to that category of credit risk pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) Determination of specific credit risk percentage requirements—(1) Finance Board determination of specific credit risk percentage requirements. The Finance Board shall determine, and update periodically, specific credit risk percentage requirements for particular credit risk categories applicable to on-balance sheet assets and off-balance sheet items, based on the type of asset or item and its credit rating, if any, as set forth in paragraph (d)(3) of this section.

(2) Finance Board underlying methodology. (i) In determining the specific credit risk percentage requirements, the Finance Board shall use data made available by NRSROs and other relevant sources to derive estimates of credit risk (or, "credit losses") corresponding to particular categories of credit risks.

(ii) The estimates of credit risk shall represent credit losses as could occur during periods of extreme credit stress. Historical data used in deriving estimates of credit losses shall reflect the longer-term nature of credit cycles and span multiple credit cycles. Estimates of credit losses shall be equal to the product of extreme values of the distributions of both the default frequency and the recovery rate in default for each credit risk category.

(3) Specific credit risk capital requirements by credit risk category. The specific credit risk percentage requirements applicable to a Bank's on-balance sheet assets and off-balance

TABLE 1.—CREDIT RISK CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS BY CREDIT RISK CATEGORY

Credit risk category	Percent of on-balance sheet equivalent value
(i) Authorized Investments
(A) Cash; Government Securities	0.0
(B) Advances	0.3
(C) Highest Investment Grade	0.3
(D) Second Highest Investment Grade	0.6
(E) Third Highest Investment Grade	1.0
(F) Fourth Highest Investment Grade	1.3
(G) Premises, Plant, and Equipment	8.0
(H) Core Mission Equity Investments Under § 940.3(e)	8.0
(ii) Investments Downgraded to Below Investment Grade After Acquisition By Bank
(A) Highest Below Investment Grade	12.0
(B) Second Highest Below Investment Grade	50.0
(C) All Other Below Investment Grade	100.0

(4) Bank determination of specific credit risk percentage requirements. (i) General requirement. Each Bank shall determine the credit risk capital requirement for each on-balance sheet asset and off-balance sheet item by determining the type of asset or item and its credit rating, if any (as provided in paragraph (d)(4)(ii) of this section) determining the applicable credit risk category for such asset or item as set forth in Table 1 of paragraph (d)(3) of this section, and applying the applicable credit risk percentage requirement for such credit risk category contained in Table 1.

(ii) Bank determination of credit rating. (A) For assets or items that are rated directly by an NRSRO, the credit rating that shall apply for purposes of determining the applicable credit risk category under Table 1 shall be the credit rating of the asset or item, respectively.

(B) For an asset or item, or relevant portion of an asset or item, that is not rated directly by an NRSRO, but for which an NRSRO rating has been assigned to any of the corresponding obligor counterparty, third party guarantor or underlying collateral, the credit rating that shall apply to the asset or item or portion of the asset or item corresponding to a particular rating, for purposes of determining the applicable credit risk category under Table 1, shall be the highest of the credit ratings corresponding to such asset or item or portion or such asset or item.

(C) Where a credit rating has a modifier, e.g., A+ or A-, the credit rating is deemed to be the credit rating without the modifier, e.g., A+ or A- = A.

(D) In determining the applicable credit risk category under Table 1 for a specific asset or item that has received more than one credit rating from a given NRSRO, the most recent credit rating shall be used.

(E) If a specific asset or item has received credit ratings from more than one NRSRO, the lowest credit rating shall be used in determining the applicable credit risk category for such asset or item under Table 1.

(F) If an asset or item, or relevant portion of an asset or item, does not meet the requirements of paragraphs (d)(4)(ii)(A) or (B) of this section, and does not fall within the credit risk categories of Cash, Government Securities, Advances, Premises, Plant, Equipment, or Core Mission Equity Investments, for purposes of determining the applicable credit risk category under Table 1, the Bank shall determine its own credit rating for the asset or item or relevant portion of the asset or item using credit rating standards available from an NRSRO or other similar standards.

(iii) Recognition of collateral. Assets or items shall be deemed to be backed by collateral for purposes of this paragraph (d)(4)(iii) if the collateral is:

(A) Actually held by the Bank or an independent, third-party custodian, or by the Bank's member or eligible nonmember borrower if permitted under the Bank's collateral agreement with such party;

(B) Legally available to absorb losses;

(C) Has a readily determinable value at which it can be liquidated by the Bank; and

(D) Is held in accordance with the provisions of the Bank's collateral management policy.

(iv) Collateral haircut. In recognizing collateral, appropriate allowance for haircuts (over collateralization) reflecting the market risk underlying the collateral must be made.

(5) Specific credit risk capital requirements for on-balance sheet assets hedged with credit derivatives.

(i) If a credit derivative is used to lower (hedge) the credit risk on an asset, the credit derivative and such underlying asset are of identical remaining maturity, and the asset being referenced in the credit derivative (reference asset) is identical to the underlying asset, the credit risk capital requirement for the underlying asset shall be zero.

(ii) If the underlying asset and the reference asset are identical, but their remaining maturities are different, the credit risk capital requirement for the underlying asset shall be zero, provided the remaining maturity of the credit derivative is two years or more.

(iii) If the remaining maturities of the underlying asset and the credit derivative are identical, but the underlying asset is different from the asset referenced in the credit derivative, the credit risk capital requirement for the underlying asset shall be zero, provided that the reference asset and the underlying asset have been issued by the same obligor, the reference asset ranks pari passu to or more junior than the underlying asset, and cross-default clauses apply.

(iv) If the credit risk capital requirement for the underlying asset is decreased in recognition of a credit derivative, the credit risk capital requirement for the derivative contract pursuant to paragraphs (f) and (g) of this section shall still apply.

(e) Calculation of credit equivalent amount for off-balance sheet items other than derivative contracts. The credit equivalent amount for an off-balance sheet item other than a derivative contract shall be determined by a Finance Board approved model or equal to the face amount of the instrument multiplied by the credit conversion factor assigned to such risk category of instruments provided in the following Table 2:

TABLE 2.—CREDIT CONVERSION FACTORS FOR OFF-BALANCE SHEET ITEMS OTHER THAN DERIVATIVE CONTRACTS

Instrument	Credit conversion factor (in percent)
(1) Standby letters of credit	100
(2) Asset sales with recourse where the credit risk remains with the Bank	100
(3) Sale and repurchase agreements	100
(4) Forward asset purchases ...	100
(5) Commitments to make advances, or other loans, with certain drawdown	100
(6) Other commitments with original maturity of over one year	150
(7) Other commitments with original maturity of one year or less	120

¹ The credit conversion factor would be zero for other commitments that are unconditionally cancelable, or that effectively provide for automatic cancellation, due to the deterioration in a borrower's creditworthiness, at any time by the Bank without prior notice.

(f) Calculation of credit equivalent amount for single derivative contracts. The credit equivalent amount for a derivative contract that is not subject to a qualifying bilateral netting contract (single derivative contract) shall be the sum of the current credit exposure (replacement cost) and the potential future credit exposure of the derivative contract.

(1) Current credit exposure. If the mark-to-market value of the contract is positive, the current credit exposure shall equal that mark-to-market value. If the mark-to-market value of the contract is zero or negative, the current credit exposure shall be zero.

(2) Potential future credit exposure. (i) The potential future credit exposure for a single derivative contract, including a derivative contract with a negative mark-to-market value, shall be calculated using an internal model approved by the Finance Board or, in the alternative, by multiplying the effective notional principal of the derivative contract by one of the assigned credit conversion factors for the appropriate category as provided in the following Table 3:

(A) One year or less	0	1	6	7	10

(In percent)

Residual maturity ²	Interest rate	Foreign exchange and gold	Equity	Precious metals except gold	Other commodities
(B) Over 1 year to five years5	5	8	7	12
(C) Over five years	1.5	7.5	10	8	15

² For derivative contracts that automatically reset to zero value following a payment, the residual maturity equals the time until the next payment. However, interest rate contracts with remaining maturities of greater than one year shall be subject to a minimum conversion factor of 0.5 percent.

(ii) If a Bank determines to use an internal model for a particular type of derivative contract, the Bank shall use the same model for all other similar types of contracts. However, the Bank may use an internal model for one type of derivative contract and Table 3 for another type of derivative contract.

(iii) Forwards, swaps, purchased options and similar derivative contracts not included in the Interest Rate, Foreign Exchange and Gold, Equity, or Precious Metals Except Gold categories shall be treated as Other Commodities contracts for purposes of Table 3.

(iv) If a Bank determines to use Table 3 for credit derivatives contracts, the credit conversion factors applicable to Interest Rate contracts under Table 3 shall apply to such credit derivative contracts.

(v) If a Bank determines not to use an internal model for single currency interest rate swaps in which payments are made based upon two floating indices (floating/floating or basis swaps), the potential future credit exposure for such swaps shall be zero.

(g) Calculation of credit equivalent amount for multiple derivative contracts subject to a qualifying bilateral netting contract.—(1) Netting calculation. The credit equivalent amount for multiple derivative contracts executed with a single counterparty and subject to a qualifying bilateral netting contract described in paragraph (g)(2) of this section, shall be calculated by adding the net current credit exposure and the adjusted sum of the potential future credit exposure for all derivative contracts subject to the qualifying bilateral netting contract.

(i) Net current credit exposure. The net current credit exposure shall be the net sum of all positive and negative mark-to-market values of the individual derivative contracts subject to a qualifying bilateral netting contract. If the net sum of the mark-to-market value is positive, then the net current credit exposure shall equal that net sum of the mark-to-market value. If the net sum of the mark-to-market value is zero or negative, then the net current credit exposure shall be zero.

(ii) Adjusted sum of the potential future credit exposure. (A) The adjusted sum of the potential future credit exposure (A_{net}) shall be calculated as follows:

$$A_{net} = 0.4 \times A_{gross} + (0.6 \times NGR \times A_{gross}).$$

(B) A_{gross} is the gross potential future credit exposure, i.e., the sum of the potential future credit exposure for each individual derivative contract subject to the qualifying bilateral netting contract. NGR is the net to gross ratio, i.e., the ratio of the net current credit exposure to the gross current credit exposure. The gross current credit exposure equals the sum of the positive current credit exposures of all individual derivative contracts subject to the qualifying bilateral netting contract.

(2) Qualifying bilateral netting contract. A bilateral netting contract shall be considered a qualifying bilateral netting contract if the following conditions are met:

(i) The netting contract is in writing;
(ii) The netting contract is not subject to a “walkaway” clause;
(iii) The netting contract provides that the Bank would have a single legal claim or obligation either to receive or to pay only the net amount of the sum of the positive and negative mark-to-market values on the individual derivative contracts covered by the netting contract in the event that a counterparty, or a counterparty to whom the netting contract has been assigned, fails to perform due to default, insolvency, bankruptcy, or other similar circumstance;

(iv) The Bank obtains a written and reasoned legal opinion that represents, with a high degree of certainty, that in the event of a legal challenge, including one resulting from default, insolvency, bankruptcy, or similar circumstances, the relevant court and administrative authorities would find the Bank’s exposure to be the net amount under:

(A) The law of the jurisdiction by which the counterparty is chartered or the equivalent location in the case of noncorporate entities, and if a branch of the counterparty is involved, then also under the law of the jurisdiction in which the branch is located;

(B) The law of the jurisdiction that governs the individual derivative contracts covered by the netting contract; and

(C) The law of the jurisdiction that governs the netting contract;

(v) The Bank establishes and maintains procedures to monitor possible changes in relevant law and to ensure that the netting contract continues to satisfy the requirements of this section; and

(vi) The Bank maintains in its files documentation adequate to support the netting of a derivative contract.

(h) Exceptions. The following derivative contracts are not included in the credit risk capital requirement:

(1) An exchange rate contract with an original maturity of 14 calendar days or less (gold contracts do not qualify for this exception); and

(2) A derivative contract that is traded on an exchange requiring the daily payment of any variations in the market value of the contract.

§ 930.6 Market risk capital requirement.

(a) General requirement. A Bank’s market risk capital requirement shall equal the market value of the Bank’s portfolio at risk from movements in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, commodity prices and equity prices as could occur during periods of extreme market stress, as determined using the Bank’s internal market risk model approved by the Finance Board.

(b) Measurement of market value at risk under Bank internal market risk model. (1) Each Bank shall use an internal market risk model that measures the market value at risk, from all sources of the Bank’s market risks, of its holdings of on-balance sheet assets and liabilities and of off-balance sheet items, including related options.

(2) The Bank's internal market risk model may use any generally accepted measurement technique, such as variance-covariance models, historical simulations, or Monte Carlo simulations, for estimating the market value of the Bank's portfolio at risk, provided that any measurement technique used must cover the Bank's material risks.

(3) The value at risk measures shall include the risks arising from the non-linear price characteristics of options and the sensitivity of the market value of options to changes in the volatility of the option's underlying rates or prices.

(4) The Bank's internal market risk model shall use interest rate and market price scenarios for estimating the market value of the Bank's portfolio at risk, but must at a minimum include the following:

(i) Monthly estimates of the market value of the Bank's portfolio at risk so that the probability of a loss greater than that estimated shall be no more than 1 percent;

(ii) Scenarios that reflect changes in rates and market prices equivalent to those that have been observed over 90-business day periods of extreme market stress. For interest rates, the relevant historical observation period is to start from the end of the previous month and go back to the beginning of 1978;

(iii) The value at risk measure may incorporate empirical correlations among interest rates, subject to a Finance Board determination that the model's system for measuring such correlations is sound; and

(iv) The two interest rate scenarios required to be used by OFHEO to determine the risk-based capital requirements for the Federal National Mortgage Association and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, pursuant to 12 U.S.C. 4611(a)(2).

(5) If the Bank participates in consolidated obligations denominated in a currency other than U.S. Dollars or linked to equity or commodity prices, and these instruments have been hedged for foreign exchange, equity and commodity risks:

(i) The Bank's internal market risk model must calculate the market value of its portfolio at risk due to these market risks and using the qualitative and quantitative requirements specified in this section, i.e., the probability of a loss greater than that estimated must not exceed 1 percent and must include scenarios that reflect changes in rates and market prices that have been observed over 90-business day periods of extreme market stress.

(ii) The historical data from an appropriate period and satisfactory to the Finance Board must be used.

(iii) The value at risk measure may incorporate empirical correlations within foreign exchange rates, equity prices, and commodity prices, but not among the three risk categories, subject to a Finance Board determination that the model's system for measuring such correlations is sound.

(iv) If there is a default on the part of a counterparty to a derivative (hedging) contract linked to foreign exchange rates, equity prices or commodity prices, the Bank must enter into a replacement contract in a timely manner and as soon as market conditions permit.

(c) Independent validation of Bank internal market risk model. (1) Each Bank shall conduct an independent validation of its internal market risk model within the Bank that is carried out by personnel not reporting to the business line responsible for conducting business transactions for the Bank, or obtain independent validation by an outside party qualified to make such determinations, on an annual basis, or more frequently as required by the Finance Board.

(2) The results of such independent validations shall be reviewed by the Bank's board of directors and provided promptly to the Finance Board.

(d) Finance Board approval of Bank internal market risk model. (1) General. Each Bank shall obtain approval from the Finance Board of its internal market risk model, including subsequent material adjustments to the model made by the Bank prior to its use. A Bank shall make any subsequent adjustments to its model that may be directed by the Finance Board.

(2) Transition provision. Each Bank shall submit its initial internal market risk model required to be adopted under paragraph (d)(1) of this section to the Finance Board for approval within one calendar year of the effective date of this section.

§ 930.7 Operations risk capital requirement.

A Bank's operations risk capital requirement shall at any time equal 30 percent of the sum of the Bank's credit risk capital requirement and market risk capital requirement at such time.

§ 930.8 Reporting requirements.

Each Bank shall report to the Finance Board by the 15th day of each month its minimum total risk-based capital requirement by component amounts (credit risk capital, market risk capital, and operations risk capital), and its actual total capital amount and risk-based capital amounts calculated as of the last day of the preceding month, or more frequently as may be required by the Finance Board.

§ 930.9 Capital stock redemption requirements.

(a) Redemption with Finance Board approval. A Bank may redeem that portion of a member's capital stock allocated by the Bank to the Bank's total risk-based capital pursuant to § 930.1 only if the Finance Board has approved such redemption.

(b) Redemption without Finance Board approval. (1) A Bank may at any time redeem any portion of a member's capital stock not included in or allocated by the Bank to the Bank's total risk-based capital pursuant to § 930.1, provided that the member's minimum capital stock purchase requirement under sections 6(b)(1) and 10(e)(3) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1426(b)(1), 1430(e)(3)) is maintained.

(2) A Bank may subject redemptions under paragraph (b)(1) of this section to the six-month notice provision in section 6(e) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1426(e)), or may shorten or waive such six-month notice provision.

(3) A Bank, after providing 15 calendar days advance written notice to a member, may require redemptions under paragraph (b)(1) of this section, provided the minimum capital stock requirement under sections 6(b)(1) and 10(e)(3) of the Act (12 U.S.C. sections 1426(b)(1), 1430(e)(3)) is maintained. The Bank's implementation of such unilateral redemption policy shall be consistent with the requirement of section 7(j) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1427(j)) that the affairs of the Bank shall be administered fairly and impartially and without discrimination in favor of or against any member borrower.

(4) A Bank may not impose on or accept from a member a fee in lieu of redeeming the member's capital stock under paragraph (b)(3) of this section.

§ 930.10 Minimum liquidity requirements.

In addition to meeting the deposit liquidity requirements contained in § 965.3 of this chapter, each Bank shall hold contingency liquidity in an amount sufficient to enable the Bank to meet its liquidity needs, which shall, at a minimum, cover seven calendar days of inability to access the consolidated obligation debt markets. An asset that has been pledged under a repurchase agreement cannot be used to satisfy minimum liquidity requirements.

§ 930.11 Limits on unsecured extensions of credit to one counterparty or affiliated counterparties; reporting requirements for total extensions of credit to one counterparty or affiliated counterparties.

(a) Maximum capital exposure limits—(1) Unsecured extensions of credit to a single counterparty—(i) General requirement. Unsecured extensions of credit by a Bank to a single counterparty that arise from authorized Bank on- and off-balance sheet transactions shall be limited to the maximum capital exposure limit applicable to such counterparty, as set forth in Table 4 of this paragraph (a), multiplied by the lesser of:

(A) The Bank's total capital; or
(B) The counterparty's Tier 1 capital, or total capital if Tier 1 capital is not available.

(ii) Bank determination of credit ratings and applicable maximum exposure limits. (A) The applicable maximum capital exposure limits for specific counterparties are specific maximum percentage limits assigned to such counterparties based on the credit rating of the counterparty, as provided in the following Table 4:

TABLE 4.—MAXIMUM LIMITS ON UNSECURED EXTENSIONS OF CREDIT TO A SINGLE COUNTERPARTY BY COUNTERPARTY CREDIT RATING CATEGORY

Credit rating of counterparty category	Maximum capital exposure limit (in percent)
(1) Highest Investment Grade	15
(2) Second Highest Investment Grade	12
(3) Third Highest Investment Grade	6
(4) Fourth Highest Investment Grade	1.5
(5) Below Investment Grade or Other	1

(B) In determining the applicable credit rating category under Table 4 for a specific counterparty that has received more than one rating from a given NRSRO, the most recent credit rating shall be used.

(C) If a specific counterparty has received credit ratings from more than one NRSRO, the lowest credit rating shall be used in determining the applicable credit rating category for such counterparty under Table 4.

(D) In the event a counterparty has received different credit ratings for its transactions with short-term and long-term maturities:

(1) The higher credit rating shall apply for purposes of determining the allowable maximum capital exposure limit under Table 4 applicable to the total amount of unsecured credit extended by the Bank to such counterparty;

(2) The lower credit rating shall apply for purposes of determining the allowable maximum capital exposure limit under Table 4 applicable to the amount of unsecured credit extended by the Bank to such counterparty for the transactions with maturities governed by that rating.

(E) If a counterparty is placed on a credit watch for a potential downgrade by an NRSRO, the Bank shall determine its remaining available credit line for unsecured credit concentration exposures under Table 4 by assuming a credit rating from that NRSRO at the next lower grade.

(2) Unsecured extensions of credit to affiliated counterparties. The total amount of unsecured extensions of credit by a Bank to all affiliated counterparties may not exceed:

(i) The maximum capital exposure limit applicable under Table 4 based on the highest credit rating of the affiliated counterparties;

(ii) Multiplied by the lesser of:
(A) The Bank's total capital; or
(B) The combined Tier 1 capital, or total capital if Tier 1 capital is not available, of all of the affiliated counterparties.

(b) Reporting requirements—(1) Total unsecured extensions of credit. Each Bank shall report monthly to the Finance Board the amount of the Bank's total unsecured extensions of credit to any single counterparty or group of affiliated counterparties that exceeds 5 percent of:

(i) The Bank's total capital; or
(ii) The counterparty's, or affiliated counterparties' combined, Tier 1 capital, or total capital if Tier 1 capital is not available.

(2) Total secured and unsecured extensions of credit. Each Bank shall report monthly to the Finance Board the amount of the Bank's total secured and unsecured extensions of credit to any single counterparty or group of affiliated counterparties that exceeds 5 percent of the Bank's total assets.
